Each standing committee of the Senate created at a general session is hereby authorized to study and analyze all facts relating to the subjects which would fall within its jurisdiction as indicated by Rule 12 of the Standing Rules of the Senate, including, but not limited to, a needed revision of the laws relating to that subject, and for such purpose shall constitute an investigating committee with power to act during the sessions of the Legislature, including any recess, and after final adjournment, and until the commencement of the next regular general session, with authority to file its report not later than the thirtieth day of said general session.

Each such committee shall have all of the powers conferred upon investigating committees by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly, the provisions of which are incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

No such committee shall exercise the authority herein conferred except when, and to the extent, it is authorized so to do in writing by the Committee on Rules. The Committee on Rules may allocate any money made available to said committee for expenditure on behalf of the committees herein created, and the members thereof, in such manner as the Committee on Rules shall prescribe.

Committee on Rules

13. The Committee on Rules is charged with the general responsibility for the administrative functioning of the Senate. The committee shall have general charge of the books, documents and other papers and property of the Senate and shall see that the same are properly kept, cared for, filed, or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law and the rules applicable thereto. The committee shall also have the duty of making studies and recommendations designed to promote, improve, and expedite the business and procedure of the Senate and of the committees thereof, including investigating committees consisting wholly or in part of Members of the Senate, and of proposing any amendments to the rules deemed necessary to accomplish such purposes.

The Committee on Rules shall continue in existence during any recess of the Legislature and after final adjournment and until the convening of the next regular general session and shall have the same powers and duties as while the Senate is in session. The committee shall have authority to fill vacancies in any Senate committee or in the Senate membership of any joint committee.

In dealing with any matter within its jurisdiction the committee and its members shall have and exercise all of the rights, duties, and powers conferred upon investigating committees and their members by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly as they are adopted and amended from time to time, which provisions are incorporated herein and made applicable to the Committee on Rules and its members.

The committee may make available to any Senate or joint committee or any Member of the Senate such assistance in connection with the duties of the committee or other legislative matters as the personnel under the direction of the committee or its other facilities permit.

The committee shall make available to and shall furnish to the Senate investigating committees created at this regular session and to each of the members thereof such secretarial and stenographic help as may be reasonably necessary for such committees and each of the members thereof to make and carry on the studies and investigations required by or of them by the resolutions creating such committees, and for such purpose, in addition to any other power or authority, the Committee on Rules may employ such additional stenographic and secretarial assistants as may be necessary, assign and reassign such assistants, prescribe the amounts, times and methods of payment of their compensation, and provide for the auditing of any and all records and accounts in respect thereto.

No warrant shall be drawn in payment of any claim for expenses until the approval of the Committee on Rules, or its authorized representative, has been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this Rule.

The Committee on Rules may adopt rules and regulations limiting the amount, time, and place of expenses and allowances, exclusive of salary, to be paid to employees of Senate interim investigating committees. Copies of all rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this Rule shall be distributed to the chairman of every such investigating committee.

13.2. Pursuant to the powers vested in the Senate Committee on Rules, and during such times as the Senate is not in session, the committee is authorized and directed to incur and pay such expenses of the Senate not otherwise provided for as the committee determines are reasonably necessary, including the repair, alteration, improvement and equipping of the Senate Chamber and the offices provided for the Senate in the State Capitol.

In order to avoid unanticipated reversions of appropriations for contingent expenses, the Senate Committee on Rules may designate the appropriation from which payment shall be made pursuant to allocations to interim committees or for other purposes. If there should be insufficient money available in any such appropriation to pay all claims pursuant to allocations charged against it, the committee shall designate another appropriation from which such allocations shall be paid.

13.3. The Senate Committee on Rules is responsible for the safekeeping of Senate property after adjournment of each session until the Senate shall reconvene again. The Chief of the Bureau of Buildings and Grounds is directed to leave the Senate Chamber and all the committee rooms and other rooms used by the Senators and officers of the Senate in such condition that they will be available for use of the Senate at any time; and it is further directed that no persons other than the Members, officers and attaches of the Senate be permitted to occupy or use the offices, committee rooms and other rooms now occupied by the Senate without permission as hereinafter provided, and that the desks, furniture, and other equipment of the Senate be at the disposal of the Senate Committee on Rules upon adjournment of each session and until the Senate shall reconvene, and that no person except Members of the Senate be permitted to occupy any of the Senate's offices or make use of Senate equipment without permission of the committee or its authorized representative.

The adoption of the Standing Rules for any budget session or special session shall not be construed as modifying or rescinding the Standing Rules of the Senate for the preceding general session, nor as affecting in any way the status or powers of the interim committees created by those rules.

Schedule of Committee Meetings

14. The Committee on Rules shall propose to the Senate such schedules for regular meetings of the standing committees as will permit a full attendance of their members without conflict of committee engagements.

The committee may also propose such special committee meetings or special schedules of committee meetings as will facilitate the business of

Quorum of Standing Committees—Vote

15. Each standing committee shall determine (a) its own quorum, and (b) the number of votes necessary to take any action upon any bill, resolution, or other matter referred to it, but at least a majority of all members constituting such committee shall be required to report a bill out of committee.

The vote by the number of ayes and noes on each bill reported back on all committee reports shall be noted in such reports and recorded in the Journal.

In the exercise of the power granted by this Rule, each committee may appoint a secretary and adopt such rules as may appear necessary and proper to carry out the powers granted and duties imposed under this Rule. It may employ such clerical, legal and technical assistants as may appear necessary when money has been made available therefor by the Senate.

Each standing committee is authorized and empowered to summon and subpena witnesses, require the production of papers, books, accounts, reports, documents, records and papers of every kind and description, to issue subpenas and to take all necessary means to compel the attendance of witnesses and to procure testimony, oral and documentary.

The members of such committees are, and each of them is, authorized and empowered to administer oaths, and all of the provisions of Chapter 4 of Part 1, Division 2, Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to the attendance and examination of witnesses before the Legislature and the committees thereof, shall apply to such committees.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, or other person designated by the Sergeant-at-Arms or by the committee, shall serve any and all subpenas, orders and other process that may be issued by the committee, when directed to do so upon a vote of the majority of the membership of the committee.

Each standing committee may meet at the State Capitol and do any and all things necessary or convenient to enable it to exercise the powers and perform the duties herein granted to it and may expend such money as may be made available by the Senate for such purpose; but no committee shall incur any indebtedness unless money shall have been first made available therefor.

Unless otherwise directed by the resolution any committee so authorized shall be appointed within 20 days after the adoption of the resolution.

The chairman or vice chairman of said Committee on Rules or any Member of the Senate designated by either of said officers may incur such expense as may be necessary for the purchase on behalf of the Senate of suitable floral pieces for any such funeral.

All expenses incurred pursuant to this resolution are hereby ordered to be paid out of the money allocated from the Contingent Fund of the Senate to the said Senate Committee on Rules and disbursed, after certification by the chairman or vice chairman of the committee, or by the committee's disbursing officer appointed and designated therefor by the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

A rule requiring a two-thirds vote on any question may be amended only by a two-thirds vote on one day's notice, and a rule requiring a two-thirds vote may be temporarily suspended only by a two-thirds vote.

All proposed amendments to these rules shall, upon presentation, be referred to the Committee on Rules without debate.

The provisions of Rule 12 referring to the assignment of bills are intended as a guide to the committee but are not binding upon the committee.

Under the order of Introduction of Bills, the Secretary shall assign a number to each Senate bill, shall read it the first time, shall read the name of the committee to which the bill has been assigned by the Committee on Rules, and unless otherwise ordered by the Senate without debate the assignment of the bill shall then be complete and after printing the Secretary shall deliver the bills to the committee so designated.

Bills may be carried on the inactive file by author and bill number without setting forth the title.

Bills may be transferred from the inactive file to the second reading file on motion, and after being read the second time such bills will take their place regularly on third reading file and be available for consideration and passage.

Engrossing Bills

32. All Senate bills, constitutional amendments and joint or concurrent resolutions shall be engrossed before final action is taken on them in the Senate. An enrolled copy of every such bill, amendment or resolution shall be printed and examined to ascertain that it is a true and accurate copy of the measure as it was passed. It shall then be authenticated by the signatures of the President or President pro Tempore of the Senate and the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the Senate and by the corresponding officers of the Assembly and transmitted without delay to the Governor.

Debate

Statement of Motion

34. No motion shall be debated until the same be distinctly announced by the President; and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking

35. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate, he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak through the public address system.

2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.

3. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.

4. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except through the presiding officer.

5. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

Right to Address the Senate

37. No person other than a Member of the Senate or the President thereof, shall address the Senate while it is in session but the Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole and while sitting as such committee may be addressed by persons other than members.

Questions and Motions

Amendments to Bills

38. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee or offered from the floor, such amendments shall be submitted in triplicate.

Adoption of amendments to any bill in the Senate prior to third reading, other than by roll call, shall not preclude subsequent consideration in committee or on the third reading of the bill, of such amendments or any part thereof, by the Senate.

Motion to Lay on the Table

39. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

Division of a Question

40. If a question in debate contains more than one distinct proposition, any Senator may have the same divided.

The Previous Question

41. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall require a majority vote of the Senators present; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendment shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote.

Call of the Senate

42. Upon a motion being carried for a call of the Senate, the President shall immediately order the doors to be closed, and shall direct the Secretary to call the names of the absentees as disclosed by the last previous roll call. Thereupon, no members shall be permitted to leave the Senate Chamber except by written permission of the President pro Tempore or in his absence of the presiding officer. Those members who are found to be absent and for whom no excuse or insufficient excuses are made, may, by order of those present, be taken into custody, as they appear, or may be sent for and then taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms wherever found, or by special messenger to be appointed for that purpose. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the members present may order a roll call of the Senate and compel the attendance of absentees in the manner above provided.

A call of the Senate may be ordered after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote.

No recess can be taken during a call of the Senate. During a call, the Senate may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had during a call of the Senate, except that during a call which was ordered for the purpose of procuring sufficient attendance for the conduct of business of the Senate in general and not for any other purpose, such call may be made to apply also to not more than one item of business by motion made and adopted by a majority vote of the members present after the roll has been called and prior to the announcement of the vote on such item of business. Under such circumstances, when the call of the Senate is dispensed with as to the item of business to which it is so applied it shall be deemed dispensed with as to the purpose for which it was originally made. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the announcement of the vote upon the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business, the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Reconsideration

43. On the day on which a vote has been taken on any question a motion to reconsider the vote may be made by any member.

The motion may be considered on the day made or on the succeeding legislative day but may not be further postponed without the concurrence of 27 members.

No vote on a Senate bill may be reconsidered on or after the last day fixed for the consideration of Senate bills prior to adjournment and no vote may be reconsidered on the last day of the session.

When reconsideration of the vote by which any bill was passed has been demanded the Secretary shall not transmit it to the Assembly until the demand has been disposed of or the time for reconsideration has expired, but if the bill has already been transmitted to the Assembly the demand for reconsideration shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the bill. This motion shall be put to a vote immediately without debate and if not adopted shall preclude a demand for reconsideration.

A demand to reconsider the vote on any debatable question opens the main question to debate and the vote on the reconsideration shall be on the merits of such main question.

Voting by Senate

Voting on Roll Call

44. Whenever a roll call is required by the Constitution or Rules, or is ordered by the Senate or demanded by three members, every member within the Senate shall without debate answer "Aye" or "No" when his name is called.

No Senator shall be permitted to vote or change his vote after the announcement of the vote by the presiding officer.

Excused From Voting

advocates, and all the rights and powers of legislative investigating committees as provided by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

The committee shall study and analyze all facts relating to legislative representation and the regulation thereof, and shall report thereon to the Legislature at each general session and from time to time as the committee deems necessary, including in the reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

The committee shall consist of five Members of the Senate to be selected by majority vote of the Senate at this session and at each general session of the Legislature. No more than three members of the committee shall be from any one political party. The committee shall select its own chairman.

Any vacancy occurring between general sessions shall be filled by the Committee on Rules, and the Senators appointed shall hold over until their successors are regularly selected.

Senate Resolution No. 5

Creating the Senate Legislative Process Committee and defining its powers and duties

WHEREAS, Many of the legislative proposals involve problems within the jurisdiction of more than one standing committee of the Senate, and the adequate consideration of such measures requires the cooperation of such several committees in order to avoid duplicating the work of one such committee by another, and much delay in the legislative process could be avoided if it were possible to eliminate such duplication of effort and provide a means for expediting the consideration of such measures; and

WHEREAS, There is need of a committee equipped to ascertain facts and secure facts and secure information upon assigned topics from time to time during the session, a committee acting in aid of and in collaboration with the several standing committees of the Senate; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, as follows:

Until the adoption of Joint Rules at this session, the Joint Rules of the last preceding regular session are incorporated herein and made applicable to this committee and its members.

5. The committee has the following additional powers and duties:

(a) To select a vice chairman from its membership.

(b) To contract with such other agencies, public or private, as it deems necessary for the rendition and affording of such services, facilities, studies and reports to the committee as will best assist it to carry out the purposes for which it is created.

6. The sum of eighty-five thousand dollars ($85,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Senate for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said contingent fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

ADDRESS BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Warren then proceeded to address the Joint Convention as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Lieutenant Governor Knight, President pro Tempore Powers, Speaker pro Tempore Maloney, Mr. Chief Justice, and Members of the Legislature:

Today we start a new administration and a new century of statehood.

The conditions which face us are not what we had hoped they would be. I am sure that as we celebrated our centennial, all of us were looking forward with the keenest anticipation to the opportunity of devoting our time and energy to the peaceful development of our State.

But that pleasant approach to our duties has been denied us. We must take conditions as we find them.

Those conditions make an ominous picture, and compel us to meet in a solemn mood under the shadow not just of a possible but a probable third world war.

Eight years ago, when I addressed you at the start of my first term, our Nation was in one of the darkest hours of World War II. Our thinking throughout the Session of 1943 was cast in a serious mold, and the legislation it developed was geared to enabling the State of California and its people to make an outstanding contribution to victory and peace.

Four years later, when I again took the oath of office, we met in an atmosphere of hope. The military victory had been achieved. Our fighting men were returning home. The organization of the United Nations, representing the aspirations of the peace-loving peoples of the world, had been established. We were able, in such an atmosphere, to give our full attention to measures necessary for the continued progress of California and the integration of millions of new citizens.

I recall how concerned I was eight years ago, and four years ago, about our duty in keeping our State abreast of the needs of the people. Today I must say to you that I have never been more concerned—I have never had a deeper sense of responsibility for my obligations—I have never approached my job with greater seriousness than I do at this moment. I have never felt more keenly the need for complete cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of our State Government. I have never been more eager to set aside every personal and private consideration in order to attend to what must be done to safeguard our people, and to make possible a wholesome and rewarding life experience for them under all circumstances.

If World War III comes, it will be the war that was envisioned and threatened by the communist conspiracy many years ago, and which has only awaited the ability of that conspiracy to strike effectively. The zero hour may be rapidly approaching. Already, a third of the people of the world are behind the iron curtain. Another third do not know from the beginning of any day until its end, when they will be subjected to aggression on the part of Russia or her satellites like that suffered by Korea.

We can take little comfort from the fact that we are not on the periphery of the iron curtain, or that great oceans physically set our continent apart. We can take little comfort from the fact that war has not been formally declared against us. Already more than 50,000 Americans have been killed or wounded, or are missing in action, in Korea.

In any appraisal of the present global situation, it must be borne in mind that World War II was started with a slow fuse. The fuse was lighted by the fascists on September 1, 1939, and burned until June 15, 1940, when the so-called "phony" war ended in the frightful explosion of the blitzkrieg.

It may be that another such time fuse is burning at this moment. How much longer or shorter it will be cannot be predicted, but we can be sure of this—that if and when World War III explodes, it will exceed in violence and destruction anything that has occurred in the history of mankind. No human being on the face of this earth will be safe from its repercussions. Certainly no one in America will be safe, because, as the sole remaining force capable of preventing this world involvement, we are the main object of the wrath of communism.

I do not predict World War III. I hope and pray it will never come. I believe that if we marshal our full military and spiritual force; if we dedicate our Nation to the well-being of the human race; if we demonstrate our willingness to make individual as well as collective sacrifices; if we work together as a united people—our Nation will be so strong and will be able to give such leadership to the remainder of the friendly world that even power-mad, hate-consumed totalitarians will have the caution not to precipitate the awful event.

These aims must be the goal of every American at this critical hour. The necessities of the situation are great—far greater than they appear on the surface. Only Divine guidance can supply the strength and the vision for those of us who have been elected to act for the people. Human capabilities will not suffice.

These are the considerations uppermost in my mind today as we start this new administration. I speak of them, not as a matter of preachment to you, but as a matter of self-dedication for me.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Throughout the session, I want to exchange views with you on the needs of our State. Today, in accordance with the mandate of our Constitution, I desire to express myself concerning some of the matters that appear to me to be of paramount importance.

First and foremost is our preparation for civil defense. If the lives of the people are not protected, and if the cities they have been building for a hundred years are not preserved from fire and brimstone, all our other efforts will be of very little consequence.

I am aware that there are those who still believe "it can't happen here." I know that others hold civil defense preparations to be unnecessary until an overt act against our Country is committed. However, you and I have already acted upon the warning of the National Government—including its military establishment—that any future war against America will start with a bolt out of the blue; that the attack will be directed against civilians and our war production centers; and that it will be of such intensity as to make the blitzkrieg seem a sham battle by comparison.

We have such production centers in California. They are among the most vital in America, and they will be greatly expanded in the months to come. They are prime targets, and we are the farthest western continental outpost of the Nation. In such circumstances, ordinary prudence demands that we make civil defense our major objective—today, tomorrow, and until the "all clear" signal comes; and with it the opportunity to concentrate once more upon the pursuits of peaceful men.

At the special session last September, you created the Office of Civil Defense. As its director, I appointed Major General Walter M. Robertson, U. S. Army, Retired—a brilliant fighting man of World War II and a distinguished executive. He has recruited an administrative staff in accordance with the plan of organization developed by our Civil Defense Planning Board, and with the splendid cooperation of Lieutenant General Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of the Sixth Army.

California's program is developing. It is abreast of the federal civil defense directives in all respects, and in advance of them in some. Local government is cooperating. We can and will continue to build upon this foundation at least as speedily as the National Government may direct.

We do not know what propositions the program may assume, but every level of government will have a responsibility. This includes financial responsibility. Congress last week passed, and the President signed, a bill establishing the national policy for civil defense. This legislation authorized a three billion dollar program, its cost to be borne by federal, state, and local government. Congress has yet to appropriate the federal share, and to determine the rules under which it will be administered in the states. It is estimated it will be necessary for the State of California and its subdivisions to contribute an aggregate of $140,000,000 to $150,000,000 to the program. The proportion in which this burden must be shared by the State and local government will have to be determined by the Legislature. As far as the operating expenses of our civil defense program as presently conceived are concerned, we believe it will be possible to finance these within current revenues.

At all events, we should condition ourselves here and now to the necessity of doing on a cooperative basis promptly and without equivocation everything our Federal Government advises us is essential for the protection of our people. Halfway measures will not suffice. Unless our program is made fully effective, it will be worse than useless, because a mere gesture would only mislead our people into a false sense of security.

Every department of State Government must help, and every employee of the State must consider himself a part of the civil defense establishment. They have already qualified by taking the oath of allegiance recommended by the President of the United States and required by you at the special session last September. They have given every indication of their willingness to be helpful, and I have no doubt that they will all respond loyally and enthusiastically to any call to duty.

We are also working with city and county governments on a cooperative basis and in a manner that indicates that an integrated defense program can be developed within the framework and in accordance with our traditional relationships between State and local governments.

HIGHWAY PATROL RESERVE

As an integral part of the civil defense program, it will be necessary to establish volunteer reserve components for our fire, police and other services. These will give all Californians the opportunity to participate personally in the defense of their State. It will give sinews to the program.

These preparations will necessarily include an expansion of the California State Highway Patrol, which will have the tremendous responsibility of keeping traffic moving on our highways in any emergency. In part, this expansion can be accomplished by the establishment of a Highway Patrol Reserve. The commissioner of the patrol advises me that such a reserve would be invaluable in coping with the severe emergencies which must be anticipated in our calculations. It may also be of great assistance to him in meeting the problem of withdrawals from the ranks of the highway patrol for duty in the armed services. You considered such a measure at the special session in September. I recommend its enactment at this time.

RAINY DAY FUND

At the special session, you authorized, until the end of this fiscal year, the use of the $75,000,000 "rainy day" fund for disaster relief—when the Legislature is not in session—upon order of the Governor with the approval of the State Disaster Council, the Controller and the Director of Finance. Because of the increasing and continuing danger of disaster, I recommend that the provisions of this law be extended from June 30, 1951, to June 30, 1952. In case of disaster it would indeed be a rainy day fund.

VETERANS BENEFITS

I would like to have our men fighting in Korea or awaiting other assignment to know that we are serious about civil defense and that, as a State, we are willing if necessary to make the same sacrifices we are asking of them. I would like them to know, also, that we are thinking already of the day they will return to us. It is not too early to recognize their service, and to provide at this session of our Legislature that they and their dependents shall be made eligible for all the state benfits that have been provided for their comrades of World War II.

In addition to the statutory amendments which this suggestion involves, I recommend that you authorize the submission to the people, when present funds have been committed, of a new bond issue for financing veterans' farm and home purchase loans. These bonds, as you know, are entirely self-liquidating. They do not represent a financial burden upon the State, yet they ease the burden on thousands of veterans in the purchase of their own homes.

CHILD CARE CENTERS

Many of our men-in-arms left behind them wives and small children with the necessity of the wives seeking employment. Unless these wives have a place where their children can receive care and protection during working hours, the opportunity to supplement their government allotments is denied them. We are told by the government that at least 6,000,000 more people must be brought into the work force of our Country during the coming months. Many of them must be women. Thus there is both personal and national economic necessity for continuing our child care centers, which originated as a federal program during World War II and have been subsidized since 1946 by the State. These centers are also socially desirable in the present circumstances because neglected children of working mothers are likely to become community problems. I therefore recommend that legislation continuing child care centers be enacted, and that this be considered as an urgency matter because the present authorization expires on February 15th.

LABOR RELATIONS

Inherent in any defense production program is the effective utilization of civilian manpower. To accomplish this, the cooperation and mutual good-will of business and industrial management, labor and agriculture is extremely important. I have evidence, based on conferences with these groups and on reports of the Departments of Employment and Industrial Relations, that a highly cooperative spirit now exists. If that spirit is fostered, it can contribute magnificently to the defense effort of California.

Throughout World War II, with my hearty approval, you followed the policy of not enacting legislation that would irritate labor-management relations. In consequence, California was comparatively free from economic dislocations from that cause, and its loss of man-days was far below the national average. If your legislative policy paid dividends then, it will pay dividends now. I commend it to you again.

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC EQUALITY

The population of our State represents every ancestral heritage on earth. Each contributes to the economic and cultural life of California. None should be subjected to differences of treatment—either thoughtless or deliberate—that might diminish its ability to make the fullest contribution of which it is capable. I have previously called your attention to the desirability of continuous, objective reporting of any instances of racial discrimination that may occur within our borders. This is a proper job for State Government, and public harmony will be promoted if it is undertaken. It is a job that should be performed by a commission of fair-minded, representative citizens. I am firmly of the opinion that enlightenment on the subject will enrich that spirit of tolerance among groups which, throughout the life of our State, has been one of California's richest traditions and greatest assets. I recommend that a Commission on Political and Economic Equality be created at this Session of the Legislature.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION—UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

The sense of security that enables men and women who work for wages to do their best, will also be enhanced if they know that adequate provision has been made for them under the workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance programs. I urge you to examine these systems to determine whether they are fully serving the humanitarian purposes for which they were established.

AGRICULTURAL LABOR

In the field of labor relations and the well-being of those who toil, there are some special situations that merit your attention. One of these has to do with the status of seasonal agricultural workers, without whose help it would be impossible to produce the tremendous quantities of foods and fibers which the Nation needs from California.

Because of the numbers involved and because so many of them wind up the harvest season there, the problem of these workers has been particularly acute in the San Joaquin Valley. Their situation has put our State in a bad light throughout the Nation. Both the conditions and the publicity can be changed for the better—not by drastic action but by working at the problem and making progress along sound lines.

With this in view, and at the suggestion of the Central Valley Empire Association and the San Joaquin Valley Supervisors Association, I appointed a committee last spring to study the problem. In the interests of time, the committee particularized its survey in the San Joaquin Valley, but its conclusions, of course, relate to the problem state-wide.

The committee represented employer and employee groups, education, social welfare, and the general public. Its report, which was submitted on December 15th, was unanimous in its findings, and I commend it to your consideration. It points the way to sensible and needed changes in the laws governing the operations of labor contractors and the inspection of farm labor housing. It deals with the welfare, health and educational aspects of the problem. I am sure you will be able to use it as the basis for correcting many of the undesirable conditions. A satisfactory remedying of these conditions might also result in increasing the availability of an efficient farm labor force.

I agree with many of the committee's recommendations, but I would go farther in the matter of unemployment insurance. I believe that we should include in our state unemployment insurance system now at least those workers who were covered by social security legislation passed by the Congress last year—without waiting for federal action on the whole problem.

The matter of finding enough workers for our harvests has already given indications of developing into a major manpower problem. It is apparent that farmers will be hard put to find replacements for their workers leaving for war industry and the armed forces, and to handle the increasing crops. It may well be that assistance such as that given during World War II by the Farm Production Council will be needed, and I suggest that you give the matter your earnest attention.

WATER

Both farmers and the public generally have been troubled in recent weeks by another very serious problem. For those in the south, it has been a deficiency of water. In the area north of the Tehachapi, floods have struck and caused great damage.

The floods in Northern California emphasize the need of completing at the earliest possible date all the flood-control projects that Congress has previously authorized to the United States Army Corps of Engineers, and the multiple-purpose projects of that agency and the United States Bureau of Reclamation. I have worked on this problem. So has the State Water Resources Board. I urge that you also exercise your influence on behalf of the speedy completion of these projects. Meanwhile I suggest that $2,000,000 be made available for assisting local jurisdictions, and as it may be needed, in repairing flood damage. You have approved this as state policy in the past under similar circumstances.

In Southern California, the prolonged drought emphasizes the need for a solution of our controversy with our neighboring State of Arizona involving the waters of the Colorado River. If we could have a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States confirming the amount of water each state is entitled to, both could plan for the future and determine how their additional needs for water might be filled.

RAIN-MAKING

In desperate efforts to obtain additional water for the millions who reside in Southern California, many communities and private interests have endeavored to produce rain artificially by "seeding" the rain clouds. The possibilities of both good and evil are inherent in these efforts. Our State Water Resources Board is of the opinion that unless the process is carefully understood, great injury can be done. It therefore recommends that all who engage in the business be placed under a licensing and reporting system. I recommend such action to you.

SMOG

An associated problem has to do with the air pollution condition commonly known as "smog," particularly in the Los Angeles metropolitan area. The control of these conditions is by state law vested in county and regional air pollution control districts. The Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District administers the program in Los Angeles County. Without interfering with this arrangement, I believe there is a responsibility upon the State to determine what effect smog has upon the health of the millions who reside there and the others who come there from other parts of the State and Nation. Recently there have been dire forebodings of the effect smog has upon the health of those who are subjected to it, and many lurid statements have appeared in the news. The fact is that very little is known about it because there has been no comprehensive study. On the other hand there have been detached studies made by universities and public health departments. In the absence of a complete study by the Federal Government, I believe our State is in a better position to correlate, supplement, and evaluate these endeavors than any other agency; and, inasmuch as it bears directly upon the health of so many millions of our people, I believe the State has a responsibility to do something about it. I therefore recommend that an adequate appropriation be made to the State Department of Public Health to determine the effect of smog upon the health of the people.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Although our major attention at this session will have a direct relationship to the world crisis, we must not lose sight of the fact that a society can go forward, but it is impossible for it to come to a full stop; the only alternative to progress is retrogression. We must continue to make progress in California. If, in this emergency, the states of the Union generally were to abandon their plans for the improvement of life in America, they would only aid and abet the purpose of the communists to supplant their way for ours. With such unwitting help, they could seriously weaken us without ever having fired a shot.

I ask you, therefore, to do whatever is necessary to keep our laws in tune with progress.

AID TO PERMANENTLY DISABLED

In the field of social welfare, I recommend specifically that you create the category of aid to the permanently and totally disabled which was included in H. R. 6000 by Congress last year; an action you deferred in September in order to take more time to consider it. This is a particularly deserving group and could well have been the first category of public aid to be established. They should no longer be slighted.

UNIFORM SUPPORT OF DEPENDENTS LAW

I recommend, as I did at the budget session last March, the enactment of a uniform support of dependents law, which is needed to enforce the support of dependents by defaulting husbands and fathers who cross state lines in an attempt to evade their responsibilities. I am sure that none of you has the slightest sympathy for such recreant persons, and I believe in the proposed legislation the questions asked by some of your members last year have been disposed of satisfactorily.

CARE OF THE SENILE

I recommend that we modernize and humanize our program for the care of the senile. These aged people, when they are not mentally ill, are the responsibility of the counties. When they are mentally ill, the State has the responsibility. But because often it is difficult to determine the border line between senility and mental illness, and because the county hospitals have been crowded beyond capacity, many of them have been sent to state hospitals when they were not mentally ill and when they would have been much happier and better off near their homes. The conference held at Sacramento on this problem last September came to the conclusion that "additional and more appropriate public facilities" should be constructed and operated by the counties, with the cost to be shared by the State. I believe the State should accept that conclusion, and I recommend that you make construction funds available on a matching basis. Old age assistance payments, which can be made to persons confined to medical institutions but not to those declared to be mentally ill, will help the counties to meet operating costs. This can be both a humanitarian and an economic program.

MENTALLY ILL IN COUNTY HOSPITALS

In 1949, you enacted a measure permitting the commitment of acute mentally ill persons to county psychopathic hospitals for 90-day periods. There are many cases of mental disorder that could be cleared up within this space of time. Some relief from the pressure on state hospital facilities would result. To encourage the counties to utilize this provision of the law, I recommend a subsidy plan similar to the tuberculosis subsidy.

ALCOHOLIC CLINICS

California has the unenviable distinction of a high rate of chronic alcoholism. During the past two years, your interim committees have been studying a proposal to establish a research center with out-patient clinical facilities in Northern California, and another in Southern California, each involving a capital expenditure of $2,220,000. I recommend your favorable action on this proposal at the present session.

HEALTH INSURANCE

As you know, I have been interested for years in a system of prepaid medical care that would make all the benefits of modern medicine accessible to people of modest incomes. At each session of the Legislature, I have sponsored a bill to accomplish this result. I am still of the opinion that this is one of the major problems of American life, and that a way must be found to solve it.

Although the nature of this session is such that I believe it would not be purposeful for me to resubmit the legislation I sponsored in former years, I believe the Legislature should give its attention to the problem.

If the medical profession, the insurance industry, and other interested groups will give it their cooperative efforts, I am convinced that a substantial contribution can be made to the cause at this time.

EDUCATION

Regardless of defense or war conditions, our Public School System must be the object of our concern. It is one of the cornerstones of our society. The schools have had many problems since the period preceding World War II when the migration of millions of Americans to California started. The tide has never stopped, and there is no reason to expect it to subside now.

New communities are springing up overnight, and established communities are growing phenomenally. The result has been an unprecedented increase in public school enrollment. Some school boards can have no conception at the end of one year what their school population will be the next year. State support funds to the schools are now apportioned on the basis of the previous year's attendance. This is a handicap to school administrators in preparing their budgets, and works a particular financial hardship on schools in war production centers where enrollment goes up by leaps and bounds in a single year. The apportionment formula should include the factor of current growth, and I recommend legislation to this effect. The cost for the current year would be between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000.

I also recommend an increase in the state subsidy for bus transportation to assist rural and poorer districts and to encourage the consolidation of districts wherever this can result in a saving of money and a raising of educational standards.

YOUTH

In this period of stress, when families are being separated by war and war industry, and when thousands of parents will be working long hours and perhaps all parents will be preoccupied with war conditions, it becomes more than ever incumbent upon us to give careful attention to our programs for youth and recreation. We must enable our children to lead as nearly a normal life as possible in a world that has been thrown out of kilter by our generation.

CRIME

We must not permit them, through neglect and indifference, to be subjected to an environment that will encourage delinquency and crime.

In the past few months our Country has been treated to a sordid story of organized crime that has been a stench in the nostrils of law-abiding citizens. Our own State has received its share of the notoriety. I believe there would have been much more to report if it had not been for our own Commission on Organized Crime, whose findings were in the main verified by the testimony before the United States Senate committee. It is my belief that because of all this publicity, there will be a reshuffling of criminal elements and possibly migration to those parts of the country where there is any apparent let-down in public vigilance. There should be no such let-down in California. I therefore recommend that a new Commission on Organized Crime to be set up under existing law be financed for one year.

I do not believe we should have a permanent commission of this character, nor do I seek any law enforcement powers, which are vested in the local law enforcement officers and the Attorney General as the chief law enforcement officer of the State. I do believe, however, that a citizens' appraisal of crime conditions in the State could be a wholesome thing and could be helpful to the enforcement officials in informing the public of some of the difficult conditions they face. It is in that spirit that I suggest another Crime Commission for this limited period.

One way to discourage organized crime is to take the profit out of it, and I suggest that our state income tax laws be amended to accomplish this result. Both state and federal income tax laws were written primarily to apply to honest taxpayers. Little consideration was given to the taxation of professional criminals. Provision was made for the deduction of legitimate expenses of doing business, but there can be no legitimate expenses of criminal business. I therefore suggest that our income tax law be amended to prohibit any deduction in a criminal business.

The efficacy of this suggestion would be greatly enhanced if the Federal Government were also to deny deductions to illegal enterprises. You will recall that after California outlawed slot machines the government prohibited their movement in interstate commerce. The thieving institution of the one-armed bandit is on the way out, and another prop of organized crime is lost to the underworld. It is very likely that the government will take cognizance of any action we take to amend our income tax laws for the same purpose. It could be a body blow to organized crime.

Our Franchise Tax Board is hampered at the present time by the lack of financial provision for an intelligence agency such as the Intelligence Unit of the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue. The failure to collect just taxes from racketeers and professional criminals is a tremendous stimulus to their activities. As an approach to the problem, I recommend an appropriation for the investigation and prosecution of fraud cases by the Franchise Tax Board.

GOVERNMENTAL REORGANIZATION

The requirements of the present emergency demand that now more than ever before we devote our national resources of manpower, material and wealth to the purposes of defense and security. Just as our citizens will be called upon to make sacrifices and to pay increasingly heavy federal taxes to support this great national effort, so it is incumbent upon us who have governmental responsibilities to analyze our governmental operations for the purpose of eliminating overlapping and achieving a maximum of efficiency with a minimum of manpower and expense to the taxpayers. Any reduction of manpower requirements or curtailment of our state expenditures will enable our taxpayers better to support the heavy demands of the Federal Government for the national defense. Such an undertaking surely represents one of our primary obligations at this time.

It is not an easy task, but in times of crisis and great danger, prudent men put their house in order. I am convinced that we should face the problem at this session of the Legislature and make effective provision for that substantial reorganization of our State Government and improvement of its administrative operations which the requirements of the national emergency make necessary for government at all levels —federal, state and local.

I therefore recommend the establishment of a Commission on Reorganization of the State Government, such commission to include members of the legislative and executive branches, and private citizens. The scope of the commission should be sufficiently broad, and the funds at its disposal should be sufficient to permit a thoroughgoing, comprehensive result.

TAX COMMISSION

Akin to this problem is the tax problem. Through the years, many proposals have been made for a study of the tax structure of our State. There has never been a time when taxes loomed so large in the economic life of our State, or imposed a heavier financial burden on the taxpayers. New and higher federal taxes have been levied, and still higher rates are under consideration. Here again the requirements of national defense and security make it imperative that we re-examine our state and local tax structures in order to be sure they represent the best possible, the soundest, and the most equitable system for the needs of both state and local government. It is high time that we consolidate and supplement the findings of the legislative committees that have worked on the subject.

This job should all be done at one time, because all taxes come out of the same pocket. The tax dollar is now divided between state and local governments, but nobody knows if the division is fair, or whether the different classes of taxpayers are shouldering a fair share of the financial burden. I therefore recommend the establishment of a state tax commission composed of legislators, state and local administrators, and taxpayers.

There are, among those who have studied the problem of governmental reorganization and taxation, those who believe that the two are so inseparably connected that they should both be studied by the same commission. If, after consideration of the matter, the Legislature is of the opinion that this should be the procedure, I would gladly join in this approach. Either way, we will be attacking two aspects of a problem that is of major importance in this time of national emergency.

PLANNING

During World War II, you created the Reconstruction and Re-employment Commission for the specific purpose of preparing California to adjust its economy to postwar conditions. In the process, the State Planning Commission was absorbed, and when the Reconstruction and Re-employment Commission was terminated in 1947, we became one of the few states of the Union without a planning agency.

California is too big a State, too important a State, to allow itself to drift in this fashion. We cannot afford to close our minds to the problems of the future. I therefore recommend and offer my cooperation in the establishment of a state planning agency. Other states are using this means to strengthen their economy. Our planning agency should be put to work as soon as possible.

This and the Commission on Political and Economic Equality are the only permanent new agencies of State Government that I am recommending to you. I believe they both can contribute greatly to the effectiveness of any defense program, and to the success of our efforts in the reconversion period that will follow.

You have been very patient. I appreciate the attention you have given my message. I want you to know that I will be equally interested in your views on any subject vital to the protection or welfare of our people.

Working together in this manner, we can make this first administration in California's second century of statehood constructive and worthy of the critical times we are living in.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Lieutenant Governor-elect Goodwin J. Knight then took and subscribed to the following oath administered by Hon. Phil S. Gibson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court:

I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the Office of Lieutenant Governor of the State of California, according to the best of my ability, so help me God.

INTRODUCTION OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Hon. Sam L. Collins, Speaker of the Assembly, then presented Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight to the Joint Convention.

ADDRESS BY LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Lieutenant Governor Knight then proceeded to address the Joint Convention as follows:

Four years ago at inauguration ceremonies for Governor Earl Warren and myself, Governor Warren spoke about California during the war years. He advised concerning a future for our State deeply concerned with a vast and ever-increasing population. We were reconciled that the problems created for us by this great influx of people, which was even then continuing at the rate of 25,000 a month and has not yet slowed down, would remain our chief concern for decades to come.

I recall that I said, "The Federal Union and all of the states, including our own, are striving today to return to orderly peacetime living."

On that January day in 1947 following our Country's triumph in the second World War, we foresaw a future of peace and reconstruction. Under the United Nations, born in our own San Francisco, we looked forward to the rule of justice and international decency among all nations and peoples.

Now, the whole scene has changed. Through no fault of this state administration nor our people we gather here, under war tensions, with mixed emotions. Apprehension that humanity may be scourged with another war and determination to resist threats of communistic domination.

We regret that many social and political improvements in our own State's business will bear the burden of delay while our concentration will be leveled at civilian defense and the dislocations of military drafts and material and manpower shortages.

Our choked streets, our uncompleted highways, our housing problems, our overcrowded schools, prisons and asylums, our public transportation system, all are manifest proof of the problem's magnitude that faced us then and faces us now.

For it was beyond the imagination of rational men in 1947, to dream we would again approach the brink of war, but four short years later.

And yet we have. Governor Warren has set the tenor of this session. He has said it is to be primarily concerned with defense. And in that he is right. It should be.

For no matter how crying is the need for progress within our State, unless we maintain the freedom of our Country, and so our State, all this that we need, plus all that which we have gained, will go down under the heel of the tyrant.

In that we must divert ourselves to defense instead of progress, our meeting here today is tragic. Yet there is not one of us who would reverse the order of business as laid out by the Governor: First, the defense of our California and our Country; and, second, the peaceful progress of our State.

At another inaugural, four years from now, the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor again will address you. I earnestly hope that they can, then, direct their remarks toward the things we of this session cannot afford.

We have entered the second half of the Twentieth Century and the second century of California's statehood. During the past half century we have enjoyed the many fruits of inventors and scientists who have given us a standard of living greater than that of any other nation.

We have seen the horse and buggy replaced by the automobile, coal oil lamps replaced by electric lights, the advent of radio and television, the transportation field drastically altered by the airplane—all of these changes plus great advances in the field of medicine and the exact sciences have unfolded for us a new world and a new way of life.

There are those who would like to convince us that the future is black and that the United States has reached its apex of power. Such people lack faith and courage and vision. With able leadership and the help of the Divine Providence which has guided our destinies, we can and will go forward to finer achievements.

With the advent of each new year it is customary to review the past and plan for the future. A few gloomy people are telling each other that we have no future, that we shall be lucky to escape complete annihilation. There is very little that the average citizen can do about world conditions but we do know that every patriotic citizen in California and its sister states stands ready to fight to maintain the civilization we now enjoy. Daniel Webster told us 117 years ago that "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always willing to guard and defend it."

Now, it becomes my good fortune to commence another term as Lieutenant Governor. I look back upon four years in public office enriched by wonderful friendships, by generous help of many fine people.

I am deeply grateful for the confidence and good will which has been extended to me. They are a challenge inspiring increased devotion to the welfare of our own California.

ADJOURNMENT OF JOINT CONVENTION

At 2.20 p.m., there being no further business, the Speaker of the Assembly declared the Joint Convention adjourned sine die.

REASSEMBLED

At 2.30 p.m., the Senate reconvened.

Hon. Harold J. Powers, President pro Tempore of the Senate, presiding.

Secretary J. A. Beek at the Desk.

We, the undersigned, registered, qualified electors of the State of California, residents of _____, County (or City and County) of _____, present this petition to you and request that you transmit to the next regular session of the Legislature of the State of California, as soon as it convenes and organizes, the proposed law hereinafter set forth in full for enactment or rejection without change or amendment by the Legislature; and we further petition and request that if the Legislature rejects said proposed law or takes no action thereon within forty days from the time it is received by the Legislature you submit said proposed law to the people for their approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election, or at any prior special election that may be called for such purpose or as provided by law, pursuant to Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of California:

The title and full text of said proposed law is as follows:

An act to amend Sections 2011, 2020, 2025, 2141, 2163, and 2180 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to repeal Sections 2021, 2164, 2165, 2165a, 2181, 2181.01, 2186, 2186.1, 2187, 2188, 2200, 2201, and 2224 thereof, and to add Sections 2000.3, 2000.5, 2004.5, 2020.03, 2020.04, 2021, 2163.8, 2164, 2181, 2186, 2200, 2201, 2231, and 2232 thereto, all relating to old age security, providing for direct State administration and financing thereof, the disposition of property used in the administration thereof, increases in the amount thereof, and health and funeral expense benefits for recipients thereof, modifying the property qualifications for eligibility therefor, abolishing relatives' responsibility, and making an appropriation.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 2000.3 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

2000.3. Adequate and uniform provision for the needs of the aged of California is a matter of state-wide concern. It is therefore the duty and just obligation of the State to administer the provisions of the Old Age Security Law directly, and to pay the costs of old age security from State rather than local funds.

It is the purpose of this chapter to make old age security available to the needy aged of the State in such manner that all needs of each eligible applicant and recipient shall be met, without discrimination between those who have income or resources insufficient to meet their full needs and those who are without any other income or resources whatever, in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution of the State of California and of the Federal Social Security Act.

Section 2. Section 2000.5 is added to said code, to read:

2000.5. All benefits paid or payable to individuals under this chapter shall be known and referred to as "old age security." Wherever in this chapter reference is made to "aid" to individuals, such reference shall be construed to refer to old age security under this chapter.

Section 3. Section 2004.5 is added to said code, to read:

2004.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, old age security under this chapter shall be administered by the State Department of Social Welfare, and the full cost of such security, including the cost of administration and disbursement thereof, shall be paid by the State.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, and unless the context otherwise requires, wherever in any provision of this chapter which vests any power or function in, grants any right to, or imposes any duty upon, any county or any county board of supervisors, except Sections 2024, 2160.7, 2201, 2227, 2228, and 2230, reference is made to the county, or to the county board of supervisors, such reference shall be deemed and construed to refer to the State, acting through the State Department of Social Welfare, and wherever in any such provision reference is made to any other county officer or agency, such reference shall be deemed and construed to refer to the State officer or State agency authorized to exercise powers and functions and to perform duties substantially corresponding to those of the county officer or agency to which reference is made, as the case may be.

Wherever in this chapter any person is permitted to make application to the county board of supervisors, such application may be made to the State Department of Social Welfare at the local office of the department nearest to the residence of the applicant. Wherever in this chapter notice is required to be given or information disclosed to the county board of supervisors, such notice shall be given or such information disclosed to the State Department of Social Welfare at the local office of the department nearest to the residence of the person required to give the notice or to disclose the information.

Section 4. If it is impossible for the State to assume the full administration of old age security in any county by the time Section 2004.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as added thereto by this act, becomes both effective and operative, the State may contract with any county, and any county may contract with the State, for the exercise of any power or function or the performance of any duty granted to or imposed on the State or any state officer or agency by the Old Age Security Law until such time as the State is able to exercise the power or function or to perform the duty but not longer than six months after Section 2004.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code becomes operative. Any such contract may be made by the State, through the Director of the State Department of Social Welfare or through the State Controller, with the approval of the State Department of Finance, and any county, through the county board of supervisors. Every such contract shall include provision for full reimbursement of the county by the State for all expenses incurred under the contract by the county in the administration of old age security, whether for the direct cost of old age security or for the cost of administration thereof, including the cost of disbursement. The State Department of Finance shall by rule establish procedures for such reimbursement, and may authorize payments to be advanced to the contracting counties, upon the basis of estimates submitted by the counties to the State Department of Social Welfare or to the State Controller, and approved by the State Department of Finance.

Section 5. Section 2011 of said code is amended to read:

2011. No officer or employee of the State shall make any demand upon any person to contribute to the support of any applicant for or recipient of old age security or to agree so to contribute, or shall threaten any person with any legal action against him, or with any penalty whatsoever, unless he agrees so to contribute.

Nothing in this chapter imposes any responsibility or liability upon any relative of any applicant for or recipient of old age security to contribute to the support of the applicant or recipient, or to reimburse the State or any public agency for old age security paid to any recipient. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent any applicant or recipient from exercising any right to sue for support which he may have under any other provision of law, but security shall not be withheld unless he exercises such right.

Section 6. Section 2020 of said code is amended to read:

2020. (a) Subject to the provisions of Subdivision (b) of this section the amount of security to which any applicant shall be entitled shall be, when added to the income (including the value of currently used resources, but excepting casual income and inconsequential resources) of the applicant from all other sources, seventy-five dollars ($75) per month. If, however, in any case it is found the actual need of an applicant exceeds seventy-five dollars ($75) per month, such applicant shall be entitled to receive security in an amount, not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75) per month, which when added to his income (including the value of currently used resources, but excepting casual income and inconsequential resources) from all other sources, shall equal his actual need.

(b) Within thirty (30) days after this subdivision becomes operative, the State Department of Social Welfare shall determine the average of the latest "Consumers Price Index for Moderate Income Families in San Francisco—All Items" issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor and the comparable Index of the same date for Los Angeles.

If this average of the two index numbers exceeds the average of the comparable index numbers for San Francisco and Los Angeles for March 15, 1950, by one full point or more, then the monthly old age security allowance to each recipient shall be increased in the amount of fifty cents ($0.50) for each full point by which the latest average index exceeds the average index for March 15, 1950. Such adjustment allowances shall become effective on the first of the month following the determination.

During each January and July thereafter, the State Department of Social Welfare shall similarly determine the average of the latest index for San Francisco and the comparable index of the same date for Los Angeles. The monthly old age security allowance to each recipient shall then be adjusted upward or downward in the amount of fifty cents ($0.50) for each full point of change upward or downward occurring subsequent to the last determination of the average index. In any such periodic adjustment there shall be taken into account the unapplied portion of the change in the average index which occurred in the preceding adjustment, of less than one full point, which was not used in the calculation of the amount of such preceding change in the monthly payment as provided in this subdivision.

If at any such adjustment date, the variation in such average price Index, taking into account the unapplied portion of the change which occurred in the average Index in the preceding adjustment, is less than one full point from the average Index figure used in making the adjustment for the period immediately next preceding the period in question, then the amount of security payable shall remain at the amount established at such preceding date. In any such periodic adjustment any increase in the said average Index greater than 50 points above the average Index figure determined for March 15, 1950, and any decrease therein which would bring the monthly old age security allowance to less than seventy-five dollars ($75) shall be ignored. Each such adjustment shall become effective as of the first day of the second calendar month next succeeding the month of adjustment.

If the Bureau of Labor Statistics ceases to issue Consumers' Price Index from the base Index figure of 100, as established from average consumers' statistics for the years 1935 through 1939 inclusive, as determined by such Bureau, and the same or a substantially similar index reflecting the same base is issued by any other bureau, department, or agency of the Federal Government, then the latter index shall thereafter be used by the State Department of Social Welfare in making the periodic adjustments in security as provided in this subdivision.

In the event that such a cost of living index is not compiled by any bureau, department, or agency of the United States Government for a period in excess of six months, then the State Department of Social Welfare shall compile and publish a similar index semiannually, and the cost of living so determined shall be the basis for computing increases and decreases in the cost of living for the purposes of this section, in lieu of the cost of living index prepared by the United States Department of Labor or other Federal bureau, department, or agency.

Section 7. Section 2020.03 is added to said code, to read:

2020.03. In addition to security granted under Section 2020, each recipient of old age security shall be entitled to receive any or all of the following services and items necessary to preserve or restore his health or his normal physical functions:

(a) Medical or dental care by practitioners of any of the healing arts licensed or recognized by this State, from practitioners selected by the recipient.

(b) Nursing care in the recipient's home, ambulance service, and hospital care, all as prescribed by the practitioner of the healing arts attending the recipient.

(c) Medicine, drugs, medical and pharmaceutical supplies; eyeglasses, optical supplies, hearing airs; artificial limbs and other prosthetic devices and appliances; all as prescribed by the practitioner of the healing arts attending the recipient.

Payment for such services and items shall be made by the State Department of Social Welfare directly to the person rendering the service or supplying the items.

Until such time as Federal assistance is made available to this State for such necessary health services and other items, the amount of services and other items provided to any recipient under this section shall not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25) a month. When and if Federal assistance is made available to the States for such health services and other items, or any of them, it shall be the duty of this State to accept such Federal assistance. During such time as Federal assistance therefor is available to and received by this State, the maximum amount of services and items to which any recipient in need thereof shall be entitled under this section shall be increased by the maximum amount of Federal assistance received by this State in respect to such services and items for each recipient.

This section shall not apply to any health services or other items necessary for a recipient who has earnings or income not taken into account in determining the amount of his grant of security under Section 2020, nor to any health services or other items included in the monthly budget of a recipient whose needs exceed the maximum amount of security to which he is entitled under Section 2020 and whose grant of security is determined on the basis of his excess need.

Section 8. Section 2020.04 is added to said code, to read:

2020.04. Upon the death of a person who was receiving old age security at the time of his death, the State Department of Social Welfare shall pay his actual and necessary funeral expenses, including the expenses of final disposition of his remains whether by burial or otherwise, to a maximum of one hundred fifty dollars ($150). Such funeral expenses shall be paid by the State Department of Social Welfare only in the event and to the extent that specific provision for them has not been made by burial or other insurance or contract rights of the decedent and that his estate does not include sufficient cash or marketable securities to pay them. Nothing in this section limits the freedom of any person authorized by law to make arrangements for the funeral of any such decedent in the selection of a funeral director or in the selection of any lawful mode of disposition of the remains of the decedent, nor shall the freedom of any such person to make any such selection be limited by rule or regulation of the State Department of Social Welfare.

Section 9. Section 2021 of said code is repealed.

Section 10. Section 2021 is added to said code, to read:

2021. Out of any money in the General Fund there is hereby appropriated each month such sum as is necessary to pay the full amount of old age security, as provided in Sections 2020, 2020.03, 2020.04, and 2025, in respect to each aged person eligible therefor under this chapter, after deducting therefrom the amount of any sum received from the United States Government as old-age assistance in respect to such aged person.

Section 11. Section 2025 of said code is amended to read:

2025. If, when, and during such times as the United States Government increases or decreases its contributions in assistance of the aged in this State above or below the amount being paid on January 1, 1950, or above or below the amount payable as a result of any such increase or decrease, the amount of the grant of security provided for in this article shall be increased or decreased by an amount equal to such increase or decrease by the United States Government, but in no event shall the total security granted under this chapter be less than seventy-five dollars ($75) per month. It is the intent of the Legislature that any change in contributions by the United States Government, whether increase or decrease, shall result in a corresponding change in the amount of this grant, within the limits established by this section.

Section 12. Section 2141 of said code is amended to read:

2141. The State Department of Social Welfare shall administer old age security under this chapter and provide for the care of needy aged citizens, to the end that they shall receive suitable care and that there shall be throughout the State a uniform standard of records and method of treatment of aged persons based upon their individual needs and circumstances.

Section 13. Section 2163 of said code is amended to read:

2163. No old age security shall be granted or paid to any person who owns personal property, the value of which, less all encumbrances of record, exceeds one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

For the purpose of this section no life insurance policy shall be valued at more than its present surrender value to the applicant or recipient. Premiums paid on life insurance policies shall not be deemed income or resources of the applicant or recipient, whether or not the person by whom the premiums are paid is a relative of the applicant or recipient, and no deduction therefor shall be made from the amount of security granted to the recipient.

Section 14. Section 2163.8 is added to said code, to read:

2163.8. For the purposes of this chapter the value of a motor vehicle of moderate value used for essential transportation of an applicant or recipient shall be excluded in determining the amount of personal property as provided in Section 2163.

Section 15. Sections 2164, 2165, and 2165a of said code are repealed.

Section 16. Section 2164 is added to said code, to read:

2164. Ownership of real property shall not render any person ineligible to receive old age security if the real property is occupied as a home by the applicant or recipient or is otherwise being used to meet the current or future identifiable needs of the applicant or recipient.

If the Federal Security Administrator requires this State to specify a maximum amount of real property which may be owned by an applicant for or recipient of old age security without loss of eligibility therefor, in order that the State plan for old age security shall conform to the requirements of the Federal Social Security Act, the State Social Welfare Board shall by rule prescribe the maximum amount of real property which may be so owned; and in so doing the State Social Welfare Board shall specify the largest amount recognized by the Federal Security Administrator as the amount of real property which an individual may own without ceasing to be a needy person.

Section 17. Section 2180 of said code is amended to read:

2180. Application for security under this chapter shall be made to the State Department of Social Welfare at the local office of the department nearest to the residence of the applicant. An applicant shall apply in person unless he is physically unable to do so, in which event the application may be made by his authorized representative in his behalf. This application may be made in writing or reduced to writing upon the standard form prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare, and a copy of his application shall be furnished to each applicant at the time of application. The form shall contain questions, the answers to which will provide the information necessary to establish eligibility for security under this chapter. All statements in the application shall be verified, under oath, by the applicant. Employees of the State Department of Social Welfare, when authorized by the director, may administer such oaths.

Section 18. Sections 2181, 2181.01, and 2224 of said code are repealed.

Section 19. Section 2181 is added to said code, to read:

2181. The Board of Supervisors, directly or through an authorized investigator, shall upon receipt of an application for old age security promptly, without any unnecessary delay, and with all diligence, make the necessary investigation. Such investigation shall be completed within 60 days after receipt of the application.

Section 20. Sections 2186, 2186.1, 2187, and 2188 of said code are repealed.

Section 21. Section 2186 is added to said code, to read:

2186. Old age security allowances under this chapter shall be paid by Controller's warrants against the Social Welfare Disbursement Fund.

The State Department of Social Welfare shall, prior to the beginning of each month, certify to the State Controller the names and addresses of persons who will be entitled to receive old age security allowances under Section 2020 for that month or who are entitled to receive and have not been paid such allowances for any prior period of time together with the amount of the grant each such person will be or is entitled to receive. The State Controller shall draw and issue the necessary warrants to the persons and in the amounts so certified, and the warrants shall be paid by the State Treasurer.

Old age security benefits payable under Section 2020.03 and 2020.04 shall be paid by the State Department of Social Welfare in the same manner that other expenses of the department are paid.

Section 22. Sections 2200 and 2201 of said code are repealed.

Section 23. Section 2200 is added to said code, to read:

2200. If a recipient of old age security changes his home from one place to another place within the State, such change shall not cause any forfeiture or interruption of the old age security previously awarded him. If the place to which the recipient has moved is nearer to a different local office of the State Department of Social Welfare than it is to the local office of the department in which his application was filed, within 90 days after the department receives notice of the change of home, it shall transfer the case, together with the application for security and all documents and records pertaining to the eligibility of the recipient, to the local office of the department nearest to the new home of the recipient.

Section 24. Section 2201 is added to said code, to read:

2201. Every recipient of old age security shall be entitled to necessary medical and hospital care from the county in which he is living. If the recipient has not resided for at least one year in the county in which he is living, but does have one year's residence in another county, the county providing the necessary medical or hospital care, or both, may demand payment of the county in which the recipient has one year's residence in an amount not in excess of the cost thereof, and it shall be a proper charge and the duty of the county in which the recipient has one year's residence to pay such medical or hospital charges, or both.

For the purposes of this section, it is presumed that the period of time for the acquisition of one year's residence in the county in which a recipient is living started to run upon the date of his removal from the county in which he previously had one year's residence. Any county residence once acquired is presumed to continue unless terminated by a subsequent act of the recipient. If a recipient returns to a county in which he had one year's residence, after an absence of less than one year, he shall not be deemed to have lost his residence therein.

Section 25. Section 2231 is added to said code, to read:

2231. To insure the continued receipt of Federal assistance to this State for old age security, any provision of this chapter which is found to be in conflict with any requirement of the Federal Social Security Act or of the rules and regulations of the Federal Security Agency for the approval of the state plan for old age assistance shall, to the extent of such conflict, cease to be operative so long as such conflict exists.

Any provision of this chapter shall be deemed to have been found in conflict with a requirement of the Federal Social Security Act or of the rules and regulations of the Federal Security Agency for the approval of the state plan for old age assistance, within the meaning of this section, whenever the Social Welfare Board certifies to the Governor that the State Department of Social Welfare has received written notice from the Federal Security Agency, or any authorized representative thereof, that the continued operation of that provision will render the plan of this State for old age security out of conformity with such federal requirements, so that further payment of Federal assistance to this State for old age security will not be made, or that the State plan will not be approved. The Governor shall thereupon issue a proclamation declaring that the provision has become inoperative as of the date of the proclamation.

If any provision of this chapter is declared inoperative under this section, such declaration shall not affect the operation or validity of any other provision of this chapter.

Section 26. Section 2232 is added to said code, to read:

2232. If any provision of this chapter, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held unconstitutional, the remainder of the chapter, or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Section 27. The Legislature shall have power to amend or repeal any section of the Welfare and Institutions Code added or amended by this act, and to increase the benefits provided to recipients of old age security, or to reduce the terms and conditions of eligibility therefor, or otherwise to vary the provisions of the Old Age Security Law; except that the Legislature shall not have power to reduce the benefits provided to recipients of old age security, nor to provide for the administration of old age security other than by the State Department of Social Welfare or a similar State agency, nor to require the payment of the direct and administrative costs of old age security from any funds other than State funds, nor to impose on any relative of any recipient of old age security any responsibility or liability to reimburse the State for old age security granted to the recipient in accordance with the provisions of the Old Age Security Law.

Section 28. Thirty days prior to the date on which Section 3 of this act becomes operative, the State Department of Social Welfare shall succeed and be entitled to the possession of all county records, books, and papers pertaining to the administration of the Old Age Security Law. At the same time, the State Department of Social Welfare shall succeed and be entitled to the possession of so much of the furniture, equipment, and other personal property used by each county exclusively or primarily for the administration of the Old Age Security Law on the date this act takes effect as does not exceed in value the aggregate of the respective Federal and State interests in such property due to financial contributions by the United States Government and by the State toward the administrative costs of old age security in the county prior to the effective date of this act, or due to the expenditure of State funds for the acquisition of such property prior to transfer of the property to the county by the State.

The Legislature shall have power to supplement or amend this section, and to provide for such allocation between the State and each county of the furniture, equipment, and other personal property heretofore used by the county for the administration of the Old Age Security Law as the Legislature deems just.

Section 29. If this act is enacted by the Legislature without the necessity of approval by the people, Sections 2, 4, 5, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19, 25, 26, 27, 28, and 29 of this act shall become operative on the date this act takes effect, and the remaining sections of this act shall become operative on the first day of the second calendar month following the calendar month in which this act takes effect.

If this act is submitted to and approved by the people, Sections 2, 4, 11, 25, 26, 27, 28, and 29 of this act shall become operative on the date this act takes effect, and the remaining sections of this act shall become operative on the first day of the third calendar month following the calendar month in which this act takes effect.

Each section of the Welfare and Institutions Code amended or repealed by this act shall remain operative, as in effect and operation on the effective date of this act, until the section of this act by which it is amended or repealed becomes operative.

Subject: Senate Resolution No. 28

DEAR MR. BEEK: A copy of Senate Resolution No. 28, which was introduced by Senator Way of the California Senate, has been received at this office.

I have long been interested in the general welfare of the residents of California and other states in the United States of Indian parentage. I know of no other segment of our population who have been left more to the mercy of an unfriendly economic system than have the American Indians. I, therefore, desire to be listed among those who have given their approval to the intent expressed in Senate Resolution No. 28.

With kind regards and best wishes, I am

Very truly yours,

BERKELEY 4, CALIFORNIA, December 2, 1950

MY DEAR MR. BEEK: I have delayed acknowledgment of your letter of September 26th last in which you transmitted copy of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5 of the last extraordinary session of the California Legislature, until I could have time to confer with some of my associates and lay plans for pursuit of the studies of beet leafhoppers and their natural enemies which this resolution requests the College of Agriculture to undertake.

I now report:

1. That our entomological authorities after a careful review of the evidence and consultation with similar authorities elsewhere are in general agreement with the conclusion that has been recently reached by others that the beet leafhopper Circulifer tenuellus is not native to the Western Hemisphere but is in fact Eurasian in origin and that it may have been introduced here without the natural enemies which may hold it in check in the Near East.

2. For these reasons my associates believe it would be distinctly worthwhile, and so recommend, that a competent student of this group of insects be sent to the Near East to make a survey of the status of this insect in that region, including is distribution, habitat, host plants, natural enemies, etc. Such a survey would afford the basic information to determine the desirability and justification of a study and collection of natural enemies of this insect for introduction and distribution in the beet leafhopper's habitat in California.

3. Our negotiations with the Director of Agriculture, as further recommended in this resolution, appear to indicate that there may remain in the Department of Agriculture's latest appropriation for the control of this insect, sufficient funds to enable this college to initiate the proposed survey during the current fiscal year.

I should add that if the survey were to be initiated during fiscal 1950-51, provision for financing its continuance until completed should be made in fiscal 1951-52.

Very sincerely yours,

DEAR MR. BEEK: We are in receipt of your letter of September 26th addressed to the late Dr. P. N. Annand, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, in which you transmit a copy of the California Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 with regard to the reestablishment of a laboratory in California on the investigation of the beet leafhopper. We will give this data careful consideration and as soon as we have come to some decision in the matter we will write you accordingly.

At this time, however, we wish to call attention to that part of the resolution which we feel gives the impression that the work on the California project was transferred in 1943 to beet leafhopper projects in other western states. Our records show that because of reduction in funds it was necessary for the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine to curtail some of its activities on the beet leafhopper project during this period. The work in California, with headquarters at Modesto, was closed out in October, 1943, and some of the personnel engaged on the problem were transferred to projects which did not involve beet leafhopper investigations. We feel that you would like to have this information as a matter of record.

We are giving this resolution careful consideration. It is understood that the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine has written you that the work in California was discontinued some years ago because of a reduction in funds. It is believed to be unlikely that the bureau could find the funds to resume this work at this time. However, we are glad to have this expression of the interest on the part of the California State Legislature on this subject.

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD, December 2, 1950

The Honorable Earl Warren, The Governor of California
and
Members of the Senate and The Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: We are submitting to you, in accordance with Section 18712 of the Government Code,[1] a report on the salaries of the employees of the State of California.

The following recommendations apply only to adjustments of salaries for civil service employees, both monthly and hourly paid. The final figures would have to be adjusted to provide for similar increases if needed for exempt employees and for employees of the University of California.

These adjustments are recommended so that salaries of state employees will be maintained according to the basic policy established by the Legislature (Government Code Section 18850) which requires that salaries be set in line with "prevailing rates for comparable service in other public employment and in private business." Such a policy is fair to employees and is necessary for the State in order that it may secure and retain competent employees.

Summary of Recommendations

A. Salary Increases Recommended for the 1950-51 Fiscal Year

1. In order that the salaries of state employees may be brought in line with those paid by governmental jurisdictions and private industry in the first half of 1950, increases should have been granted to some classes by October, 1950. An appropriation of $190,000 from the General Fund is needed to finance these special salary adjustments from October 1, 1950, to June 30, 1951. The total annual cost of proposed adjustments will be:

General Fund	$280,000
Special Funds	280,000
Prevailing Rate Employees	194,000
Total	$754,000 (See pages 74 and 75)

2. The salary increases in private and public employment which have been made since the outbreak of the war in Korea warrant an increase of at least 5 percent to practically all state employees effective January 1, 1951. This will require an appropriation from the General Fund of $2,135,000 to finance such an adjustment for the last six months of the current fiscal year. The total annual cost to all funds will be:

General Fund	$4,270,000
Special Funds	4,303,000
Total	$8,573,000 (See pages 75 to 77)

3. The existing provision in the Budget Act which limits salary increases to $150,000 on an annual basis should be modified to permit the use of such appropriations.

B. Salary Increase Funds Recommended for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year

1. For special salary adjustments, when needed, for monthly salaried employees, the board recommends an appropriation of $360,000 from the General Fund. The estimated annual cost to General and Special Funds of such salary adjustments is $1,000,000 (See pages 76 and 77).

2. Wage adjustments for hourly-paid craft employees will involve an annual cost of $260,000 to all funds and will require an additional appropriation from the General Fund of $20,000.

[1] Section 18712: "* * * the board shall annually file a separate report with the Governor and each house of the Legislature on matters under the jurisdiction of the Personnel Board pertaining to and affecting the salaries, wages, hours of work, conditions of work and other matters relating to the civil service personnel of the State of California. Such report shall be filed with the Governor at least 30 days prior to the opening day of the Legislature each year and shall be filed with each house of the Legislature within five days after the opening day of the Legislature in each year."

3. All of the preceding recommendations are conservative. They are based on the actual situation before the Korean War, and on the minimum increases granted by private and public employers since then. The Fiscal Year 1951-52 should be faced realistically. The trend which started last August would have to continue but a little further to warrant another widespread adjustment of state salaries to keep them in harmony with the long standing policy of the Legislature. The board, therefore, recommends a further appropriation for 1951-52 of $4,500,000 from the General Fund. This would enable the board to make increases averaging 5 percent when and if they are justified by the results of future surveys. The total annual cost of such an adjustment would be:

General Fund	$4,500,000
Special Funds	4,518,000
Total	$9,018,000

(See pages 76 and 77)

REPORT ON THE SALARIES OF STATE EMPLOYEES

In establishing and adjusting salary ranges, the State Personnel Board follows the policies established by the Legislature in Government Code Section 18850

> * * * The salary range shall be based on the principle that like salaries shall be paid for comparable duties and responsibilities. In establishing or changing such ranges consideration shall be given to the prevailing rates for comparable service in other public employment and in private business. The board shall make no adjustments which require expenditures in excess of existing appropriations which may be used for salary increase purposes * * *

During the current fiscal year, the board has been limited by the special provision in the Budget Act which provided a total of $100,000 from the General Fund for salary increases for civil service and technical service employees and which contained the further limitation of $150,000 in salary increases on an annual basis from all funds listed in the Budget Act.

This report deals primarily with the salaries of civil service employees, who numbered approximately 49,800 as of July 1, 1950. It is the salaries of these employees which are determined by the State Personnel Board. It should be realized that the Legislature determines directly the salaries of approximately 150 elective and appointive officers and of many more members of part-time boards and commissions. The Director of Finance sets the salaries of approximately 3,350 exempt employees. Salaries of another 10,600 employees at the University of California are determined by the Board of Regents.

A. Historical Review of Adjustments to State Salaries

The Legislature has consistently provided sufficient funds to maintain its basic policy that the salaries of state employees should be approximately equal to the salaries of persons doing comparable work for other governmental jurisdictions and for private industry. These legislative appropriations have been especially marked during the rapid increase of wages and salaries during the war and postwar years. The adjustments beginning in 1947 are summarized below. While the figures quoted are confined to civil service employees, comparable adjustments have been made by other salary fixing authorities.

1. On April 1, 1947, practically all civil service employees received an adjustment averaging $22 a month. The minimum increase granted was $15 a month. The annual cost of this increase was $8,050,000 for civil service employees alone.

2. During the 1947-48 Fiscal Year, no general adjustment was required. As a result of special salary studies made for specific classes, increases were approved for 5,500 employees in 540 classes. The annual cost of these adjustments was approximately $1,600,000.

3. During the 1948-49 Fiscal Year widespread adjustments occurred in other governmental jurisdictions and in private industry. As a result, it was necessary to give an increase to 37,430 employees, or approximately 90 percent of all civil service employees. The annual cost of these increases was $5,586,000.

4. The relative stability in prevailing rates during 1949-50 resulted in a need for salary increases to be granted to only 2,315 employees. The annual cost to all funds for these adjustments was $727,000.

B. Analysis of Salary Changes in Industry and Governmental Agencies During 1950

In its report to the Governor and the Legislature at the 1950 Budget Session, the State Personnel Board estimated that the need for adjustments in 1950-51 would approximate those in the preceding year, 1949-50. The Governor's budget included an item of $500,000 from the General Fund for salary increase purposes for the 1950-51 Fiscal Year. This fund was reduced from $500,000 to $100,000 in the Budget Act as passed by the Legislature, with the additional restriction that the annual cost of all increases to positions financed from allocations in the Budget Act, 1950, should not exceed $150,000.

The recommendation of the State Personnel Board was based on the assumption that wages and salaries would be somewhat stabilized during the current fiscal year. The nature of the recommendation of the board can be seen in perspective only by comparing the $500,000 requested from the General Fund with the total of $95,313,000 of salaries paid from the General Fund.

The Legislature's decision to appropriate only $100,000 was also based on a forecast of stability in the economic system. In addition, many Members of the Legislature recognized the fact that there would be another session in January, 1951, at which time unusual situations could be met. Neither the State Personnel Board nor the Legislature could foresee the Korean situation and its resulting impact upon business and industry in general, and upon wages and salaries, specifically.

The decisions and recommendations of the State Personnel Board are based upon a substantial body of facts and data. Information concerning wages and salaries paid by private industry and by governmental jurisdictions is obtained periodically from surveys conducted throughout the State. At the present time, the board has the following data available.

In February and March, 1950, surveys were conducted in the metropolitan areas of San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Diego. These data were rechecked against the results of subsequent surveys in the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas in June and July, 1950. During August, 1950, data were obtained by the board from 159 private firms in the metropolitan areas for 59 representative jobs in specialized employments for which adequate data were not available from other surveys.

Since many state employees work outside the metropolitan areas, and since the board must set a state-wide salary, special wage surveys were conducted by the board in January and August, 1950, in 64 cities and towns with less than 25,000 population. The communities included in this survey covered the State from Redding to El Centro.

In addition to the wage and salary data from private industry in all parts of the State, the board has secured comparable information from other governmental jurisdictions. Again, these data include salaries paid by small cities and counties as well as those paid by Los Angeles, San Francisco, and the Federal Government.

The board recognizes that these facts must be available for the making of reasonable decisions. The board also recognizes that the facts themselves do not make decisions, but that the decisions involve the application of judgment to the facts so that proper conclusions may be drawn.

Since July, 1950, salary increases have been approved for 884 monthly-paid employees and 255 hourly-paid craft employees. With the limitations imposed by the Legislature, no further increases can be granted.

The available funds were not sufficient to grant all of the increases warranted by the facts. The rates prevailing in private industry and in governmental jurisdictions in the summer of 1950 justify further increases as of October 1, 1950. This requires an additional appropriation of $190,000 from the General Fund and involves an annual cost to all funds of $754,000.

As its first recommendation, therefore, the board proposes that the Legislature appropriate $190,000 from the General Fund to finance special salary adjustments from October 1, 1950, to June 30, 1951.

C. Adjustments in Prevailing Wages and Salaries During the Summer and Fall, 1950

Under ordinary circumstances, the adjustments outlined above would bring salaries of state employees in line with those prevailing in other governmental jurisdictions and in private industry for the balance of the current fiscal year. It should be noted that the adjustments recommended above are based entirely upon data collected in August or in preceding months and, in general, cover rates paid during the first half of 1950.

With the outbreak of hostilities in Korea in June and with the fear that there would be a quick freezing of wages and prices, many companies began making some adjustments. In the latter part of August, a wave of increases started. The first development was a 5-cent an hour cost-of-living adjustment granted by General Motors Corporation under its new contract in all of its plants including four in California. This increase was effective September 1st. Within a matter of days other automobile companies gave special increases to their employees in California and elsewhere. Although the increases applied primarily to factory employees, corresponding increases were also given to clerical and office employees. Between August and the end of November, numerous companies, both large and small, in many different industries, granted fairly substantial wage and salary increases.

To illustrate these increases, attention is called to the following list, which shows what has happened in a variety of industries in California and is not a complete listing of the hundreds of adjustments which have been reported:

Company	Amount of adjustment	Date of adjustment
Armour & Company (L. A. and S. F.)	11¢	August
North American Aircraft	9¢-14¢	September
Standard Oil Company of California	6%	September
Pacific Gas and Electric Company	4%	September-January
Lockheed Aircraft Corporation	6%	October
Aluminum Company of America	10%	October
Department Stores (S. F.)	$2 a week	October
U. S. Rubber Company (L. A.)	13½¢	October
Anglo-California National Bank	8%	October
Pacific Maritime Association	6.38%	October
Pacific Coast Pulp and Paper Mfg's	4%	November
U. S. Steel Corporation	(on top of 7¢ in May) 12¢-28¢, avg. 16¢	December

Many governmental agencies already have felt this impact of increases in prevailing rates in public industry and have granted increases after the start of the current fiscal year. Again there are listed only a few specific illustrations of the general increases granted recently by governmental agencies in California:

Agency	Amount of adjustment	Effective date of adjustment
East Bay Municipal Utilities District	3%	August
City of Fresno	5%	September
Colusa County	7%	October
City of Glendale	5.7%	October
City of Burbank	5.7%	October
L. A. Department of Water and Power	5%	October
San Mateo County	6%	November
Tulare County	5%	December
City of Pasadena	6%	December

Although it is difficult to cite any pattern, and although some public and private employers have not yet granted such increases, the board believes that by January 1, 1951, so many increases will have been made that it is both appropriate and necessary for the State of California to make a general adjustment in salaries.

In adjusting salaries, the board has long felt that it is both unnecessary and impossible to recognize minute differences. Since April, 1947, the State has had a fairly simple salary schedule, with salaries at approximately 5 percent steps. The board does not feel that it can measure differences between jobs or changes in prevailing rates in smaller amounts. Most of the increases reported have been eight cents an hour or more. These represent more than 5 percent increases. The board recommends that as of January 1, 1951, salaries should be increased, with a few exceptions at the higher levels, by one step in the existing salary structure which is approximately 5 percent.

In order to make it possible for the board to grant this increase for the period January 1 to June 30, 1951, an appropriation of $2,135,000 from the General Fund is required. This involves a total annual increase of $8,573,000 from general and special funds.

The existing provision in the Budget Act which limits salary increases to $150,000 on an annual basis should be modified to permit the use of such appropriations.

D. Estimate of Needs for Salary Increase Fund for Fiscal Year 1951-52

As in the past, the board may be faced with two types of salary adjustments during the Fiscal Year 1951-52. In the event that the Federal Government does impose price and wage controls in the near future, there will still be some need for a few specific salary adjustments to solve particular situations. The problem of wages and salaries is a dynamic one at all times, and there must be some provision for flexibility to meet specific salary needs. To enable the State to meet these minor changes, the board recommends that $360,000 be appropriated from the General Fund to provide, when they are found to be necessary, salary increases for civil service employees. This is the minimum amount which has been required in the past to finance such adjustments. Probable increases in the construction, marine, railroad, and printing trades will necessitate an additional appropriation of $20,000 from the General Fund and will involve an annual cost to all funds of $260,000 for corresponding increases for hourly-paid craft employees.

The board must, however, call attention to further facts which indicate that an additional reserve fund for salary increases should be established. The preceding recommendation for a one-step salary increase effective January 1, 1951, is conservative. There is some evidence to support an increase of 7½ percent as of that date. This suggests that when future surveys are made there may be clear evidence to grant further increases in the next fiscal year.

There is a further element to which the board calls special attention. Many large companies with branches in California are now setting wages and salaries through two types of adjustments. One adjustment makes quarterly changes in accordance with changes in the cost of living. It has already been announced that a further increase of 3 cents an hour will be made December 1, 1950, in some of these companies.

In addition to the automatic cost-of-living adjustments, more than one hundred companies including some with plants in California have agreed to what is known as "an annual improvement factor." This means that every year, usually for a five-year period, employees of these companies will receive, for example, 4 cents an hour increase in addition to any cost-of-living adjustments. Recognition must be given to the fact, therefore, that there already exist in private industry definite commitments for further wage and salary increases. These, in turn, will undoubtedly affect the wages and salaries paid by other private employers who do not have such contracts. It is inevitable that such increases in prevailing rates in private industry will affect salaries paid by governmental jurisdictions and must be recognized by the State of California.

The board, therefore, recommends that a further appropriation from the General Fund of $4,500,000 be provided. This will involve a total annual increase to the General and Special Funds of $9,018,000. This is necessary so that the basic policy of the Legislature to set salaries of state employees in line with those paid by governmental jurisdictions and by private industry may be accomplished during the ensuing fiscal year.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

INTERIM COMMITTEE ON INITIATIVE LEGISLATION
FOR LICENSING GAMBLING FOR SUPPORT OF PENSIONS
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 6, 1951

To the Senate of the State of California:

Your Interim Committee on Initiative Legislation for Licensing Gambling for Support of Pensions transmits herewith its final report of activities and recommendations, copies of which, together with copies of the testimony taken by the committee, have been filed with the Legislative Auditor.

The financial support for the measure came from the gamblers, but strange as it may seem, a large number of our old age pensioners were deceived into the belief that they would receive additional pensions and therefore made substantial contributions in work or money.

The scheme was just another of those which has been, from time to time, proposed by various groups to provide a means for little easy money for the proponents. Under this and other plans which have been proposed and which perhaps may again be proposed, the proponents are the financial beneficiaries, though the measure be defeated.

It is indeed unfortunate that under our law such schemes can be foisted upon the people. In our formal report, the committee makes the following recommendations:

1. The statements of receipts and expenditures of campaign funds should be required to be made by a person having actual knowledge of such facts.

2. That the law be clarified as to whether the report must be itemized as to purpose of expenditure and if so, it should indicate the degree of such itemization.

3. The penal provisions of the law relating to bribery and similar election crimes should be amended to specifically include the elections upon measures submitted to the people upon the ballot, instead of being limited to voting for candidates for office.

Respectfully,

SENATOR RALPH E. SWING, Chairman

COMMUNICATIONS

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES, DIVISION OF FISH AND GAME
SAN FRANCISCO 11, CALIFORNIA, December 14, 1950

The Honorable Goodwin J. Knight
President of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR GOVERNOR KNIGHT: Pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 151 of the 1949 Session of the Legislature, which requested the Fish and Game Commission to continue their investigations of a dam at Iron Gate on the Klamath River, including the probable cost and the advantages to be derived, and to render a supplementary report of such investigation to the Senate, we transmit to you herewith a concise report on the additional information obtained and a re-estimate as to the cost of the proposed dam based on current construction costs.

The work during the past year has been largely concerned with improvement in the methods used to determine the loss of fish resulting from the artificial fluctuations of the river. It has now been determined that stranded salmonids (steelhead and salmon) are found as far as 96 miles down the river from Copco Dam. Since small fish if stranded may soon be picked up by birds or animals or dried by the sun, it follows that only a small portion of the shore line of the river can be effectively searched at any one time. It is therefore necessary to work out as accurately as possible sampling methods whereby calculations can be made as to the number of fish lost as a result of the fluctuations during each month of the year.

During portions of the previous years of 1945-47-48-49 the methods used were described in a previous report. In those computations a strip 26 feet wide and 75 miles in length was considered as exposed and for 1948-49 the estimated loss was 3,776,600 salmonids. It was pointed out that the number stranded might vary from year to year depending on the success of spawning and the resulting number of young fish in the river.

Stream Section in Which Stranding Occurs

In 1950, searches for stranded fish were extended downstream to Mile 96, below Copco. At Mile 96 on the morning of July 3, 500 square feet of exposed river bed were searched and one stranded steelhead fingerling and numerous small suckers and dace were found. On the morning of July 12, 1,500 square feet of river bed were searched and seven stranded steelhead fingerlings were found. Road flares had been set out to frighten away predators which might have taken fish during the night of July 11-12.

These findings indicate that salmonids were stranded throughout the 96 miles below Copco. Therefore in this year's calculations we are using 96 miles instead of 75 in computing the area on which salmonids were stranded. We have assumed, although upon slender evidence, that fish are stranded in equal number throughout this entire section of the river.

Measurement of River Bed Exposed

It was also deemed advisable to obtain a great many more actual measurements of the river bed exposed by the fluctuations. Accordingly two seasonal aids were assigned to this work and during the period of May 3-26, 1950 they made 1,064 measurements from Fall Creek to a point 11 miles below Seiad Valley, which is a distance of 75 miles. These measurements were made from the high-water to the low-water mark during a period of the year when the river fluctuations were occurring at random, the stations being selected entirely on the basis of distance from the starting point, and therefore are selected without regard to the area of exposed river bed. The measurements were taken on both sides of the river. From these figures it was determined that in this section of 75 miles the average width of the exposed bed is 10.1 feet on each side of the river, making a total exposed width of 20.2 feet. Measurements were not possible between Mile 75 below Copco to Mile 96, and it was therefore necessary to assume that the exposed area was similar in that area farther downstream. With an average width of exposed bed of 20.2 feet for 96 miles, the total area of exposed river bottom is 10,238,976 square feet. These measurements are based on an average discharge at Copco of 300 c.f.s.

Number of Water Fluctuations per Year

There is a great deal of variation in the operation of the Copco power plants. Some days there is more than one sharp drop in water flow, while on others there may be none. It is therefore not correct to assume that there is one fluctuation per day. Copies of the river flow records taken at the measuring station on the Klamath River just below the mouth of Fall Creek and about one mile below Copco No. 2 Plant were obtained from the U. S. Geological Survey. This continuous flow record was secured for the same period as that for which searches for stranded fish had been made (June 1, 1948-May 31, 1949).

From this record the number of harmful water fluctuations for each month was obtained. Then from the records of the number of stranded fish found during each of these months, the loss per month was computed. In making this calculation the average number of fish found per 1,000 square feet of river bed searched was multiplied by the total number of square feet exposed per fluctuation in the 96 miles at each serious low water period.

It was necessary to arrive at some means whereby the number of serious fluctuations each month could be determined. An examination of the continuous flow records showed a large number of fluctuations each day. It was therefore necessary to define those which might cause appreciable stranding of fish. Reductions in flow can be made in such a way that few fish will be stranded. Frequently the drops in flow actually are made slowly enough so that little loss occurs. Also it may happen that a drop in flow is quickly followed by a recovery in flow, and stranded fish may survive in some pockets of water and be released when the river rises.

In view of these facts, we have set forth certain specifications to define a serious drop, that is, one which will cause appreciable stranding of fish. These specifications are as follows:

1. Only those drops in flow are counted when 50 percent or more of the drops occurs above a flow of 1,350 c.f.s.

Drops which occur while the river is already low are not as dangerous as those occurring at higher levels. The configuration of the river bed is such that most of the bars and side channels are exposed by the first one-foot drop in vertical measurement at the U. S. Geological Survey station near Copco. When the river surface drops from four feet to three feet on this staff gauge, the flow varies from 3,000 to 1,350 c.f.s. Below a level of 1,350 c.f.s. the river banks drop rapidly, and fewer fish are found in that portion.

2. Only drops of six inches or more in vertical measurement at the Copco U. S. Geological Survey staff gauge are counted.

3. Drops occurring at a rate of 0.10 foot per minute, or greater, are only those considered harmful.

If drops are made slowly enough the fish will escape stranding in large part. Therefore only the more rapid fluctuations are considered.

4. If two serious drops occur in succession they must be separated by a period of one hour or more if they are both to be counted.

It is believed that a drop will cause fish to move out away from shore and thus if a second drop occurs soon after the first, few fish will be stranded. On the other hand, if a long period of level water occurs after the first drop, the fish may have had time to move back and be in a position for subsequent stranding.

In Table I we have shown the calculation of the total salmonids lost in the Klamath River due to fluctuations in the flow during the period June 1, 1948-May 31, 1949. The number of fluctuations per month is indicated and estimated total monthly loss is also shown.

In Table II salmonids lost are shown for each month during the same period, and by species and age group. Again, it should be pointed out that the number of fish lost per year and by species is dependent in great degree upon the number of young fish of each species present in the river as well as on the type and number of fluctuations.

It was also requested that we report on the cost of a regulatory dam. The Division of Fish and Game does not have an engineering staff and must therefore depend upon data derived from other sources. The Public Utilities Commission in response to House Resolution No. 162, 1947 Session, issued a report on December 10, 1947, entitled, Reduction of Klamath River Fluctuations at the Copco Plants. This was their Study No. S-605.

On pages 50, 51, and 52 of the foregoing report data were presented indicating that an 85-foot dam with 9,000 kw. power was the most economical method of regulation by a dam. The construction cost of such a dam based on 1947 cost levels was estimated to be $1,261,000.

In November, 1947, the cost index for construction in California with 1913 as 100 was reported to be 429.3. In November, 1950, this same index had risen to 527.9, an increase of 23 percent. On this basis the 85-foot dam with power plant would cost $1,551,000 as of November, 1950.

Recommendations

On June 19, 1950, the Fish and Game Commission brought suit against the California Oregon Power Company. The purpose of this suit is to enjoin the company from interfering with the continual and normal flow of the Klamath River in such manner or to such an extent that fish are killed or destroyed due to stranding or in such manner to endanger the public health, safety, or welfare, or in such manner to obstruct the free use of the river in the customary manner by the people. The defendant has filed a demurrer which has been set for hearing in Yreka on January 19th. In view of this suit we do not feel it advisable at this time to make recommendations as to the manner in which correction of the present conditions could or should be made.

Yours respectfully,

THE FISH AND GAME COMMISSION

BUDGET MESSAGE

By GOVERNOR EARL WARREN

1951-1952 Budget

To the Senate and Assembly of the State Legislature of California:

In conformity with Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution, I submit herewith the Budget for the State of California for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952.

This budget, in view of the national emergency, has been held to bare essentials. It calls for no additional taxes. It proposes a reduction in total expenditures despite substantial increases in fixed charges. The total expenditures for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year are estimated at $1,016,883,002, which is $75,828,248 less than the revised estimates * for the current, 1950-51, year.

No New Taxes

I am glad to present to you another budget which is within our present means and which requires neither new revenue measures nor increases in tax rates.

Revenues have been estimated on a middle ground, conservative basis. Yields from the principal sources, taxes measured by sales and income, obviously vary with the volume of business activity, corporation and personal income, and wage rates and prices. Our estimates are on the assumption that there will be a continued expansion of the Nation's economy as the defense program proceeds, but that runaway inflation will be prevented.

Expenditures Curtailed Wherever Possible

As you know, a large part of our state budget is not subject to executive or even legislative control. Outlays for the Public School System and welfare programs are determined by continuing legislatin. As school attendance and welfare case loads increase, expenditures increase automatically. Expenditures for highways are determined by the amount of special revenues for that purpose.

Much of the remainder of the budget inevitably increases as the State's population continues to grow. Wage and price advances add to our costs, too, as in all enterprises.

Despite these difficulties we have cut budget requests wherever possible and have especially curtailed the outlays which would take manpower and materials needed for national defense. Particularly is this true of capital outlays, as will be seen from an examination of that section of the budget.

Three Sections: State Operations, Capital Outlay, and Local Assistance

The budget again is presented in three sections, each largely independent of the others: State Operations, Capital Outlay, and Local Assistance.

STATE OPERATIONS

Few expansions of services are proposed under State Operations. Provision is made for heavier work loads where they were clearly demonstrated. A lump sum is recommended for augmenting the individual budgets for price increases which have occurred since July, 1950, with a moderate allowance for highly probable further advances. Similarly, a lump sum is included for salary increases.

* See reconciliation page A-18 with the total as submitted in the 1950-51 Budget.

As you have observed from the annual report of the Personnel Board the salaries of state employees have lagged behind those paid by other employers. The last general increase in state pay was in October, 1948. You have wisely adopted in the civil service law the policy of paying state employees at rates equivalent to those of comparable employment in private industry and other public jurisdictions. The Personnel Board has found from its studies that on a conservative basis a general increase of one step (approximately 5 percent) is required now to bring the pay in the state service up to the present level of other employment. Accordingly provision is made in a special item in this budget for the recommended one-step increase to be effective January 1, 1951. The Personnel Board report further points out the strong likelihood, if present trends continue, of the need for an additional one-step advance in the coming fiscal year, and allowance is made in this budget for such an adjustment should conditions requiring it materialize.

Principal Items

You will find detailed explanations of the expenditures proposed for each department and institution. Let me direct your attention especially to some of the more important items:

Civil Defense: The new Office of Civil Defense will require $1,738,953 in 1951-52 to continue for a full year the civil defense program authorized during the September special session. This is for the planning, coordinating and training work to be performed at the state level in line with the national plan for civil defense. There is also the need for a moderate augmentation of the amount, which was on a purely estimated basis, appropriated for the current fiscal year. Recent national legislation will provide financing in part of equipment and other outlays for civil defense operations in possible target areas. The amount which the State may be required to make available for any such extraordinary outlays cannot be determined until Congress makes appropriations and federal policies are clarified. If extraordinary expenditures, capital or otherwise, are required, I will communicate both the needs and my views on financing them to you.

At the September special session you made the $75,000,000 so called "Rainy Day Fund" available for emergency disaster relief until June 30, 1951. I recommend that you continue this emergency measure in force for an additional year.

Corrections: A moderate increase is required for the Department of Corrections to put into operation the much needed new inmate quarters at Soledad, Chino, and Terminal Island—permitting considerable relief from the badly overcrowded conditions at San Quentin.

Education: Provision is made for heavier enrollments, possible because of added facilities, at the state colleges and at the School for the Deaf. A small increase is allowed also for added work load in the State Superintendent's office. Allowance is made too for expansion in vocational rehabilitation work.

University of California: The University of California will require an increase of approximately $1,400,000 in spite of a drop in enrollment, for two main reasons: (1) most of the veterans have completed their university work, with a consequent drop in revenues from the United States Veterans Administration; (2) new graduate schools principally in Los Angeles, which were authorized in recent years, are coming into operation, requiring substantial additional outlays for faculty and other costs.

Highway Patrol: I am recommending a further step towards an adequate manning of our Highway Patrol. A study of our traffic patrol requirements indicates that the uniformed personnel of 1,364 should be increased by more than 900 men. This budget recommends 100 additional patrolmen with the required complements of supervisory and clerical personnel. I would have recommended a larger number under normal conditions, but I believe this smaller increment represents the number of qualified men who can be recruited and trained during this coming year.

Mental Hygiene: In spite of shortages in facilities and personnel, good progress is being made in improving the care and treatment of the mentally ill. A further step in an orderly program of improvements in standards is proposed in this budget. Our aim is to restore the greatest possible number of patients to normal lives in the shortest possible time. This is not only a matter of reducing human suffering; it is good sound economy.

Military Affairs: Our State Militia is in a period of uncertainty. About half the California National Guard has been called to active federal service and we are in the process of recruiting the State Defense and Security Corps to serve the home front in its absence. The recruiting expenses for the corps will continue during the coming fiscal year. The remaining half of the National Guard is still under state jurisdiction. It is more costly to maintain a militia which is half National Guard and half State Defense and Security Corps than if it were wholly one or the other. Perhaps Washington will clarify the situation before you have completed your consideration of the budget. Some reduction should be possible if the remainder of the National Guard is called out and we need provide only for the Defense and Security Corps.

CAPITAL OUTLAY

The postwar building program is nearing completion. By the end of next year more than $400,000,000 in construction work will have been finished or under contract since 1946.

Even with this accomplishment we still have a heavy backlog of building requirements. The $400,000,000 program barely met the lag in construction which occurred during the depression and World War II. It made little headway in meeting the new needs resulting from the tremendous increase in the State's population.

A careful survey shows that we should, were it not for the defense emergency, undertake urgently needed outlays next year amounting to over $85,000,000. The greater part of this must give way to the mobilization for defense. I am recommending major construction outlays for 1951-52 of $24,318,000 which represents the imperative projects which cannot possibly be deferred. I feel certain federal authorities will approve these projects even in this period, when defense requirements have priority over all but the most urgent essentials.

I wish to call your attention especially to two important items. First are more facilities for the mentally defective. We cannot longer continue adding to waiting lists and aggravating the tragedy of inadequate provision for the mentally defective children. Second is the provision for increased capacity in our Youth Authority schools. Here again a delay means continuing an intolerable situation, with delinquent youths who need proper care and rehabilitation being either held in jails or allowed to get into further trouble. You will find the other items in the recommendations also to be of very great urgency.

The survey indicates needs amounting to more than $300,000,000 which should be met in the next five years. We must add to the capacities of our hospitals and correctional institutions. The present greatly increased grade school attendance will in a very few years mean similar increases in university and college enrollments. These represent the largest requirements. Needs for other facilities expand also as the State grows.

While all but emergency projects must be deferred until more settled times, the State's fiscal affairs will not be on a firm basis until a definite means of financing capital outlay needs is provided. The State of California cannot ignore the requirements for keeping up its physical plant any more than can an industrial enterprise. We must have an orderly means of financing replacements of worn out structures and construction of additions demanded by increased population. I recommend the creation of a committee to make a careful study of this problem with the objective of a sound, long-term plan.

Local Assistance

Again the expenditures for local assistance comprise more than half the total budget and are made up almost entirely of fixed charges over which neither the Legislature nor the executive has control. State support of the public schools, the largest item of local assistance, will require more than $220,000,000 under existing law for the budget year.

Provision is made in the budget for continuing child care centers through the current year and the 1951-52 Fiscal Year. I am sure the need to carry on this activity is now clearly apparent in view of our manpower shortages and the much greater need for employing women in defense work.

Substantial increases will be required for aid to the aged, to the blind, and to needy children, as you will see from the analysis. The crippled children program has also increased because of more complete state-wide participation at the county level.

Flood Damage

The State Engineer is making a survey of the damage to local public works caused by the recent heavy floods in Northern and Central California. Some funds are already available for state assistance in repairing the flood damage. Fortunately in 1946 we set aside a special reserve for flood control work. A part of this money, which is not immediately required for the longer term flood control projects, can be made available to assist the local units in repairing the damage. I recommend that $2,000,000 of this reserve be earmarked as an Emergency Fund for flood damage repair.

A Balanced Budget

As will be seen from Schedule I, after providing for the estimated expenditures for purposes now authorized, there will remain as of June 30, 1952, an unbudgeted surplus in the General Fund estimated at $20,736,277.

I am again recommending your favorable action on a program of aid to the needy totally and permanently disabled in conformity with a recent amendment to the Federal Social Security Act which makes federal grants available for this purpose. The great majority of states have already taken steps to participate in this program. Certainly no group of needy persons requires our help more than those with such complete and permanent handicaps. This broadening of the Federal Social Security Law affords both an opportunity for a more adequate program of aid to this group of needy persons and a means of assisting counties through federal and state sharing of the cost. A carefully prepared bill with strict eligibility requirements will be presented for your consideration. For the portion of the 1951-52 Fiscal Year during which it would be operative it is estimated the State's share of costs would be $6,122,000.

There will be sufficient resources in the General Fund to finance the following recommendations which I have made in the message delivered to you Monday:

Place school apportionments on a current basis and increase support for transportation; assist counties to provide facilities for senile patients, for maintenance of clinics for alcoholics and for psychiatric hospitals; "smog" research; administrative expenses of Commissions on Economic and Political Equality, Organized Crime, Taxes, and Reorganization of Government, and a Planning Agency.

Any substantial additional expenditures for new services or for increased subventions will require additional taxes. I know you are as conscious as I am of the present heavy tax burden and of the impending further increases in federal taxes. True, our basic general state tax rates have not been increased for many years. Actually state taxes take a smaller portion of our people's income today than they did 10 years ago.* In 1940 the average Californian paid $5.29 in state taxes for each $100 of income. In 1950, state taxes took $5.11 from each $100 of income. Nevertheless we at the state level must consider the burden imposed at the federal and local levels. The time has long since passed when any one unit of government could go its own way with no regard for what other units were doing in respect to the same body of taxpayers.

A comprehensive re-examination of our state and local tax structures is imperative if we are to arrive at the soundest and most equitable means of meeting the needs of both the state and local governments. Such a study, together with the work of a Commission on Reorganization of the State Government to provide the most effective reorganization and improvements of administrative operations, offers the best assurance of giving our people the greatest possible returns for their tax dollars.

In this budget, revenues have been estimated on a realistic basis, anticipating moderate further inflation. Drastic controls might shrink them below the estimates, and cause us to draw on the Revenue Deficiency Fund. If controls fail, however, and much greater inflation occurs, revenues would exceed our estimates, but we should not authorize permanent new expanded expenditures on the hope of temporarily inflated revenues. To do so is to invite financial disaster when we revert to normal levels of income.

It should be a matter of extreme urgency indeed, clearly vital to the state welfare, which would impel adding new state taxes at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, September 22, 1950

ANALYSIS OF THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION—NO. 2532

The Resolution

The Special Senate Committee on Legislative Representation was created by Senate Resolution No. 6 of the 1950 Third Extraordinary Session of the Legislature, which added a new rule numbered 57 to the Standing Rules of the Senate. This rule reads as follows:

> "57. In addition to any other committee provided for by these rules, there shall be a committee to be known as and called the Special Senate Committee on Legislative Representation, which is hereby declared to be a continuing body authorized to act both during and between sessions of the Legislature.

"The committee shall have the rights, powers and duties prescribed in Section 9909 of the Government Code, specifically including but not limited to the authority to grant certificates of registration as legislative advocates, and all the rights and powers of legislative investigating committees as provided by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

"The committee shall study and analyze all facts relating to legislative representation and the regulation thereof, and shall report thereon to the Legislature at each general session from time to time as the committee deems necessary, including in the reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

"The committee shall consist of five Members of the Senate to be selected by majority vote of the Senate at this session and at each general session of the Legislature. No more than three members of the committee shall be from any one political party. The committee shall select its own chairman.

"Any vacancy occurring between general sessions shall be filled by the Committee on Rules, and the senators appointed shall hold over until their successors are regularly selected."

The above resolution was adopted pursuant to Section 9909 of the Government Code, enacted at the 1950 Second Extraordinary Session of the Legislature. Section 9909 provides for the establishment of a committee in each house of the Legislature to perform certain functions relating to the statute regulating legislative representation (Sections 9900 to 9911, inclusive, of the Government Code, comprising Chapter 8 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 2 thereof).

The resolution gives the committee all the rights, powers, and duties prescribed in Section 9909 and all the rights and powers of legislative investigating committees as provided by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly (Rule 36). The committee is a continuing body authorized to function during and between sessions of the Legislature as an interim committee.

In addition to the specific rights, powers, and duties of the committee as prescribed in Section 9909 (which are discussed below), the committee is required to study and analyze all facts relating to legislative representation and the regulation thereof, and to report thereon to the Legislature at each general session and at other times the committee deems necessary, including recommendations for needed legislation.

The Statute

Section 9909 of the Government Code gives to the committee the power and imposes upon it the duty and responsibility to perform the functions enumerated and discussed below.

A. Granting Certificates

Under subparagraph 1 of Section 9909 the committee shall grant certificates of registration as legislative advocate [1] to all persons registering and supplying the information as required by Section 9906 who, after such investigation and submission of proof as the committee deems proper, have been found to be of good moral character, particularly as evidenced by never having been found guilty of conduct proscribed by Section 9910, especially subparagraphs 2, 3, 4, 6, and 8 of that section, and who have filed the written authorization required by Section 9906.

[1] "Legislative advocate" as used in Sections 9909 and 9910 is defined by Section 9911 to include any person registered or required to be registered under Section 9906. It thus means those persons who engage themselves for pay or other consideration for the purpose of influencing legislation.

Comment: Section 9906 requires registration of legislative advocates with the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, and at the time of registration the filing under oath of the advocate's name and business address, the name and address of the person by whom he is employed and in whose interest he appears or works, the duration of such employment, how much he is paid and is to receive, by whom he is paid or is to be paid, how much he is to be paid for expenses, and what expenses are to be included. He must also at the time of registering submit to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the Assembly a written authorization from each person by whom he is employed to act as a legislative advocate. Thereafter he must file monthly statements of receipts and expenditures in carrying on his work.

Under Section 9910, a legislative advocate has the following obligations, the violation of which constitutes cause for revocation or suspension of his certificate of registration, but which shall not unless otherwise provided by law subject the advocate to any other civil or criminal liability:[2]

"1. Not to engage in any activity as a legislative advocate unless he be registered as a legislative advocate, and not to accept compensation for acting as a legislative advocate except upon condition that he forthwith register as a legislative advocate.

"2. To abstain from doing any act with the express purpose and intent of placing any Member of the Legislature under personal obligation to him or to his employer.

"3. Never to deceive or attempt to deceive any Member of the Legislature of any material fact pertinent to any pending or proposed legislation.

"4. Never to cause or influence the introduction of any bill or amendment thereto for the purpose of thereafter being employed to secure its passage or defeat.

"5. To abstain from soliciting any employment as a legislative advocate except on the basis of his experience, or knowledge of the business or field of activity in which his proposed employer is engaged or is interested.

"6. To abstain from any attempt to create a fictitious appearance of public favor or disfavor of any legislative proposal or to cause any communication to be sent to any Member of the Legislature, the Lieutenant Governor, or the Governor, in the name of any fictitious person or in the name of any real person, except with the consent of such real person.

"7. Not to encourage the activities of or to have any business dealings relating to legislation or the Legislature with any person whose registration to act as a legislative advocate has been suspended or revoked.

[2] We are aware of no provision of law imposing any other civil or criminal liability upon an advocate who violates Section 9910, therefore the committee itself determines whether there has been a violation in any given case.

"8. Not to represent, either directly or indirectly, through word of mouth or otherwise, that he can control or obtain the vote or action of any member or committee of the Legislature, or the approval or veto of any legislation by the Governor of California.

"9. Not to represent an interest adverse to his employer nor to represent employers whose interests are known to him to be adverse.

"10. To retail all books, papers, and documents necessary to substantiate the financial reports required to be made under this chapter for a period of two years."

B. Revoking Certificates

Under subparagraph 2 of Section 9909 the committee shall revoke or suspend the certificate of registration of any legislative advocate who has been convicted of violating any provisions of the chapter [1] or who, after a hearing has been found by either house of the Legislature or an authorized committee thereof to have violated any provisions of the chapter or to have wilfully failed to perform the obligations [2] of a legislative advocate as set forth in the chapter.

C. Investigating Activities of Advocates

Under subparagraph 3 of Section 9909 the committee shall on its own motion, or on the verified complaint of a Member of the Legislature, or on the verified complaint of any other person, investigate or cause an investigation of the activities of any legislative advocate or of any person who the committee has reason to believe or who it is alleged is or has been acting as a legislative advocate.

D. Requiring Explanation of Advocate Failing to Register

Under subparagraph 5 of Section 9909 the committee shall require any person who attends any session of the Legislature for any considerable period of time and communicates with members but who fails to register, or any person, who if registered, regularly fails to appear at committee meetings at which legislation affecting his employer is considered, to appear before either house of the Legislature or an authorized committee thereof and explain his purpose in attending upon the legislative session and the interests for whom he acts and the methods he employs in attempting to influence legislation.

E. Recommending Legislation

Under subparagraph 6 of Section 9909 the committee shall recommend from time to time amendments to the chapter or other proposals the committee deems would be conducive to the proper conduct of legislative business without infringing upon the right of all persons to present to the Legislature their views through agents or agencies of their own choosing.

[1] Violation of any provisions of Sections 9900 to 9907, inclusive, is made a crime by Section 9908.
[2] "Obligations" refers to those obligations set forth in Section 9910 and quoted above.

F. Reporting Violations of Law

Under subparagraph 7 of Section 9909 the committee shall report to the appropriate law enforcement officers any violation of the chapter or of Section 35 of Article IV of the California Constitution [1] or of Sections 85 and 86 of the Penal Code [2] or of Section 9054 or 9056 of the Government Code [3] or of related provisions of law.

G. Compelling Attendance of Witnesses

Under subparagraph 4 of Section 9909 the committee is authorized, in making any investigation or in holding any hearing, to take and hear evidence, administer oaths, and compel by subpena the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents.

Comment: The above authority is also given to the committee by the resolution creating it, since the committee has all the rights and powers of legislative investigating committees pursuant to the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly (Rule 36).

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Ward asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Analysis of Law Relating to Influencing or Attempting to Influence Legislation prepared by the Legislative Counsel, printed in the Journal:

ANALYSIS OF LAW RELATING TO INFLUENCING OR ATTEMPTING TO INFLUENCE LEGISLATION, as Contained in Chapter 8 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 2 of the Government Code

Sacramento, California, May 26, 1950

This analysis of the laws relating to influencing or attempting to influence legislation enacted at the First Extraordinary Sessions of the Legislature in 1949 and 1950 covers Chapter 8 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 2 of the Government Code as it will be in effect on and after July 15, 1950, the date on which the amendments and additions to that chapter enacted at the First Extraordinary Session of 1950 take effect. In the appendix is set out the compilation of the text of Chapter 8 as it will be in effect on and after that date.

Our analysis of Chapter 8 as it was originally enacted by Chapter 4 of the Statutes of the First Extraordinary Session of 1949 is printed in the Assembly Journal (1950 Regular Session) for March 8, 1950, at pages 40 to 47.

The only other statute enacted during 1949 and 1950 on legislative representation is Chapter 5 of the Statutes of the First Extraordinary

Session of 1949, which makes it unlawful to wilfully secure the introduction of legislation and thereafter to solicit or accept a valuable consideration to seek its defeat. Our analysis of this measure is in the Assembly Journal (1950 Regular Session) for March 8, 1950, at page 40.

Compilation of Text of Chapter 8 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 2 of the Government Code, as in effect on and after July 15, 1950 157

I. Introduction

Sections 9900 to 9911, inclusive, of the Government Code, as amended and in effect on and after July 15, 1950, prescribe certain regulations regarding attempts to influence the passage or defeat of state legislation or executive approval or veto of such legislation. These requirements include:

(1) With respect to soliciting or receiving funds for the purpose of influencing legislation,

The keeping of detailed accounts of contributions received and expenditures made.

The rendition, to the principal, of detailed accounts of contributions received.

The filing of detailed statements of contributions received and expenditures made.

(2) With respect to persons engaging themselves for pay to influence legislation,

The registration of such persons.

The filing, by such registrants, of reports of money received and expended in carrying on such work.

The meeting of standards imposed by law in carrying on such work.

The certification of such registrants by the houses of the Legislature acting through appropriate committees.

Each report or statement required to be filed must be under oath (Gov. C. 9907). Each filing is with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly and the Secretary of the Senate of California, or such other person as the most recent Rules of the Assembly or the Senate, as the case may be, then designate (Gov. C. 9903 and 9906). Any statement required to be filed may be filed by registered mail, and must be preserved by the clerk and the secretary for two years, as a public record open to public inspection (Gov. C. 9904).

All information filed by a registrant must be compiled by the clerk and the secretary, jointly, as soon as practicable after the calendar month in respect to which filed, and printed in the Senate and Assembly Journals (Subdiv. (b), Gov. C. 9906).

The law, prior to the 1950 amendments and additions, followed quite literally, but with minor variations, the wording of the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act (Act of August 2, 1946, Chapter 753, Title III, Secs. 301-311; 60 U. S. Statutes at Large 839; 2 U. S. Code, Secs. 261-270). The Federal act, it would appear, has only once been judicially construed, but there are several cases pending which involve various features of the Federal act. When those cases reach judicial determination they should be of considerable aid in interpreting the portions of our statute which remain unchanged. The one decision which has come down is United States v. Slaughter, decided April 17, 1950, and digested in 18 L. W. 2479. There the United States District Court of the District of Columbia held that a person who did no more than accept compensation for preparing written statements for use by witnesses before legislative committees came within the exemption from registration granted to such witnesses themselves and hence was not criminally liable for failing to register.

In considering and weighing the several factors that bear upon the proper interpretation of the California law, it seems desirable first to list the definitions of certain terms used which are furnished in Section 9900:

> "Contribution" includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make a contribution.
> "Expenditure" includes a payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make an expenditure.
>
> "Person" includes an individual, partnership, committee, association, corporation, and any other organization or group of persons.
> "Clerk" means the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, or such other person as the most recent Rules of the Assembly then designate, and "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Senate, or such other person as the most recent Rules of the Senate then designate. The Legislative Auditor has been designated by the Assembly to perform the duties of the Chief Clerk for it (H.R. 88, 1950 First Extraordinary Session, Assembly Journal for that session, page 1058).

"Legislation" means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either house of the Legislature, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either house.

"Political committee" includes any committee, association, or organization which accepts contributions or makes expenditures for the purpose of influencing or attempting to influence the election of candidates or presidential and vice presidential electors, or any duly authorized committee or subcommittee of a political party whether national, state, or local.

The California law regulating legislative representation comprises in general two parts, the first governing persons who solicit or receive funds for the purpose of influencing legislation (Gov. C. Sections 9901 to 9903, inclusive, as limited by Gov. C. Sec. 9905), and the second governing persons who engage themselves for pay to influence legislation (Gov. C. 9906 and related sections). These two parts will be analyzed in this order.

II. Provisions Applicable to Persons Soliciting or Receiving Funds

(a) The persons to whom such provisions are applicable and the sections that apply to them are specified in Section 9905, which declares:

"The provisions of Sections 9901 to 9903, inclusive, shall apply to any person, except a political committee, who by himself, or through any agent or employee or other persons in any manner whatsoever, directly or indirectly, solicits, collects or receives money or any other thing of value to be used principally to aid, or the principal purpose of which person is to aid, in the accomplishment of any of the following purposes:

(a) The passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature * * * or the approval or veto by the Governor * * *.

(b) To influence, directly or indirectly, the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature * * * or the approval or veto of any legislation by the Governor * * *."

The meaning of the expressions "money * * * to be used principally to aid" or "the principal purpose of which person is to aid" is not too clear.

According to Webster's New International Dictionary, 2d Edition, Unabridged, the adjective "principal" means:

"Main; leading; outstanding; important; formerly also in comparative and superlative degrees; as, the principal streets; one of his principal arguments."

According to the same work the adverb "principally" means:

"In a principal manner; in the chief place or degree; primarily; chiefly; mainly."

Literally construed, Section 9905 applies the requirements of Sections 9901-9903 to any "person" except a political committee (1) if the money is to be used "primarily; chiefly; or mainly" in the accomplishment of any of the indicating purposes, or (2) if the "main, leading, outstanding or important" purpose of that person (soliciting, collecting or receiving money) is to aid in the accomplishment of any of those purposes.

A less literal interpretation of "principal" and "principally" is possible in view of the history of the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act. When that measure (S. 2177, 1946) was reported out of committee in the United States Senate, the committee report stated in part, "It does not apply to organizations formed for other purposes whose efforts to influence legislation are merely incidental to the purpose for which formed" (Sen. Rep. No. 1400, Seventy-ninth Congress, Second Session, page 27). That was an indication of congressional intent to use the words "principal" and "principally" as denoting a purpose or a use that is "not merely incidental."

We are inclined to favor the less literal interpretation of "principal" and "principally." That seems to be what Congress had in mind in view of the committee report cited. It also seems to be in harmony with the general legislative intent which one derives from a reading of the statute as a whole.

(b) The keeping of detailed accounts of contributions received and expenditures made is required by Section 9901.

This duty is cast upon "every person" who solicits or receives a contribution to any "organization or fund" for the purposes designated in Section 9905.

The account which Section 9901 requires includes (1) all contributions of any amount, (2) name and address of each contributor of $100 or more, and date of contribution, (3) all expenditures made by or on behalf of "such organization or fund," (4) name and address of every person to whom any item of expenditure over $25 is made, and the date thereof.

For every expenditure of "such funds," exceeding $25, a receipted bill, stating the particulars, must be obtained.

These receipted bills and accounts must be kept for two years after the filing of the statement (see paragraph (d), below) in which the items of account are reported.

(c) The rendition, to the principal, of detailed accounts of contributions received is required by Section 9902,

> Every "individual" (a narrower term than "person," used in Section 9901) who receives a contribution of $100 or more for any of the purposes designated in Section 9905,
>
> Must within five days render to the "person or organization" (in contrast to the words "organization or fund" used in Section 9901) for which the contribution was received,
>
> A detailed account thereof, including the name and address of the contributor, and the date received.

(d) The filing of detailed statements of contributions received and expenditures made is required by Section 9903.

Every "person" meeting the description contained in Section 9905 and receiving a contribution or expending money for any of the purposes designated in subparagraph (a) or (b) of Section 9905 (quoted in paragraph (a), on page 152, above) must file a statement complete as of the day of filing between the first and tenth days of each calendar month succeeding a month during any part of which the Legislature was in session and at other times between the first and tenth days of the month next following the close of such calendar quarter, except that the statement filed in January must be cumulative for the next preceding calendar year.

III. Provisions Applicable to Persons Who Engage Themselves for Pay to Influence the Legislative Process, Including the Certification of Such Persons by the Houses of the Legislature

(a) The registration of "any person" engaged, for pay or for any consideration, for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature or the approval or veto of any such legislation by the Governor of California, is prescribed by Section 9906.

Before any such person may do "anything in furtherance of such object," he must register with the Clerk and the Secretary.

When registering, he gives

His name and business address.

Name and address of the person by whom he is employed, and in whose interest he appears and works.

How much he is paid or is to receive, and by whom paid or to be paid.

How much he is to be paid for expenses, and what expenses are to be included.

A written authorization from each person by whom he is authorized to act to influence legislation.

Between the first and tenth days of each month, so long as his activity continues, he must file a report showing:

In detail all money received and each expenditure of $25 or more made by him during the preceding month in carrying on his work; to whom paid and for what purposes.

The total of all expenditures made during the preceding calendar month.

The names of any publications in which he has caused articles or editorials to be published.

The proposed legislation he is employed to support or oppose.

These registration and reporting requirements do not apply to any of the following:

A person who merely appears before a committee of the Legislature in support of or opposition to legislation. (See United States v. Slaughter, discussed above at page 151.)

A public official acting in his official capacity.

A newspaper or other regularly published periodical (including any individual who owns, publishes or is employed by such newspaper or periodical) which in the ordinary course of business publishes news items, editorials, or other comments, or paid advertisements, which directly or indirectly urge the passage or defeat of legislation, if such newspaper, periodical, or individual engages in no further or other activities in connection with the passage or defeat of legislation, other than to appear before a committee of the Legislature.

A person when representing a bona fide church solely for the purpose of protecting the public right to practice the doctrines of such church.

(b) Certain employments must be reported by registered persons under Section 9906.1 as added by Chapter 66 of the 1950 First Extraordinary Session (A. B. 74). (Another distinct Section 9906.1 was added by Chapter 67 of the 1950 First Extraordinary Session (A. B. 104) which is discussed below in paragraph (c).)

A person engaged for pay to influence legislation who employs or requests, recommends, or causes his employer to employ, and such employer does employ, either: (a) a legislator, (b) an attache of the Legislature, or (c) a full-time state employee, must report such employment to the clerk and the secretary, naming the person employed and giving the nature of the employment and amount of compensation to be paid. Such reports are required to be filed within five days after the employment if the Legislature is in session and, if not, within 10 days after the Legislature next convenes.

(c) Certain employments are prohibited by Section 9906.1, as added by Chapter 67 of the 1950 First Extraordinary Session (A. B. 104), stating that:

It is unlawful to employ a person for pay, or pay or agree to pay a person, to attempt to influence legislation unless such person is registered under Section 9906, except upon condition that such person register forthwith.

(d) Influencing legislation on a contingent fee basis is prohibited by Section 9906.5, which provides that:

No person shall undertake, or make an agreement, to promote, advocate, oppose or influence the passage or defeat of legislation or executive approval or veto thereof, or to communicate with legislators where the consideration is to be paid on the contingency that legislation is passed or defeated.

(e) "Legislative advocate" is defined for the purposes of Sections 9909 and 9910 by Section 9911 as including any person registered or required to be registered under Section 9906.

(f) Certain obligations are imposed upon legislative advocates by Section 9910. It is provided that violation of the following obligations is cause for revocation or suspension of a certificate of registration but does not subject the violator to any other civil or criminal liability unless otherwise provided by law:

1. Not to act as a legislative advocate unless registered or accept compensation as such except on condition that he register forthwith.

2. To abstain from purposely placing legislators under personal obligation to him or his employer.

3. Never to attempt to deceive legislators as to material facts pertinent to legislation.

4. Never to cause or influence the introduction of any bill or amendment thereto for the purpose of thereafter being employed to secure its passage or defeat.

5. To abstain from soliciting employment on a basis other than his experience or knowledge in the field of activity of his employer.

6. To abstain from attempting to create a fictitious appearance of public favor or disfavor as to legislation and from causing communications to be sent to legislators, the Lieutenant Governor, or the Governor in the name of fictitious persons or in the name of a real person except with the consent of such real person.

7. With respect to legislation, not to encourage the activities of or deal with a legislative advocate whose registration has been suspended or revoked.

8. Not to represent that he can control the vote or action of legislators or the approval or veto of legislation.

9. Not to represent interests adverse to his employer nor represent employers having adverse interests.

10. To retain for two years papers and documents necessary to substantiate the financial reports required by the regulation.

(g) Enforcement powers and duties are vested in the houses of the Legislature, acting through such appropriate committees as they establish, by Section 9909.

The houses acting through such committees have the power and duty:

1. To grant certificates of registration as legislative advocates to persons registering under this law and supplying the information required to be submitted at the time of registering who, after investigation and submission of proof as the committees deem proper, have been found to be of good moral character. The committees are required to consider whether the registrant has ever been guilty of violating the obligations of a legislative advocate in determining good moral character. Such obligations are set forth in Section 9910 which is discussed above. Filing written authorizations from employers is also made prerequesite to issuance of a certificate.

2. To revoke or suspend registration of legislative advocates convicted of violating any provision of this law, or who, after hearing, are found by either house of the Legislature or its authorized committees to have violated any provision of this law or the obligations of a legislative advocate.

3. To investigate on their own motion or on the verified complaint of any person the activities of legislative advocates or any person believed or alleged to be acting as such.

4. In connection with investigations or hearings, to take evidence, administer oaths, and subpena persons and papers.

5. To require unregistered persons attending legislative sessions and communicating with legislators over a considerable period of time, or any registered person regularly failing to appear at committee hearings on legislation affecting his employer, to appear before the committee or either house of the Legislature and explain their purposes and methods and identify the persons for whom they act.

6. To recommend changes in the provisions of this law condusive of the proper conduct of legislative business and consonant with the right of persons to present their views to the Legislature through agents of their own choosing.

7. To report violations of this law and other provisions of law on related subjects to the appropriate law enforcement officers.

IV. Penal Provisions

Section 9908 provides that violation of any section of the chapter of a number lower than Section 9908 ("any * * * of the foregoing sections of this chapter"), wilfully filing any document required which contains any materially false statement or material omission, or wilfully omitting to comply with any material requirement appearing in a section of the chapter of a number lower than Section 9908, is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than 12 months or both. By limiting the penalties to violations of "the foregoing sections of the chapter" the violations of the obligations of a legislative advocate as set out in Section 9910 are not made criminal unless so made by a section in this law preceding Section 9908 or by some other provision entirely outside of this law.

Conviction of any of the above misdemeanors carries with it a prohibition, for a three-year period, against attempting to influence the passage or defeat of proposed legislation or appearing before a legislative committee in support of or opposition to proposed legislation. A person violating this prohibition is guilty of a felony, punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or both.

PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE
REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Collier asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Analysis of Constitutional Provisions Relating to Initiative Measures Presented to the Legislature prepared by the Legislative Counsel, printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, January 6, 1951

ANALYSIS OF CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO INITIATIVE MEASURES PRESENTED TO THE LEGISLATURE

The provisions relating to initiative measures presented to the Legislature appear in Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution as follows:

> "Upon the presentation to the Secretary of State, at any time not less than 10 days before the commencement of any regular session of the Legislature, of a petition certified as herein provided to have been signed by qualified electors of the State equal in number to 5 percent of all the votes cast for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding general election, at which a Governor was elected, proposing a law set forth in full in said petition, the Secretary of State shall transmit the same to the Legislature as soon as it convenes and organizes. The law proposed by such petition shall be either enacted or rejected without change or amendment by the Legislature, within 40 days from the time it is received by the Legislature. If any law proposed by such petition shall be enacted by the Legislature it shall be subject to referendum, as hereinafter provided. If any law so petitioned for be rejected, or if no action is taken upon it by the Legislature, within said 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit it to the people for approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election. The Legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different one on the same subject by a yea and nay vote upon separate roll call, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to the electors for approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election or at a prior special election called by the Governor, in his discretion, for such purpose. All said initiative petitions last above described shall have printed in 12-point black-face type the following: 'Initiative measure to be presented to the Legislature.'"

So far as we know these provisions have never been judicially construed and only two such measures have been presented to the Legislature.

One measure was presented at the 1937 Regular Session. It was given a heading "Initiative Senate Bill No. 1." The Senate Journal for January 20, 1937, shows that the provision of Section 15 of Article IV of the Constitution requiring that a bill be read on three separate days was suspended, then under the heading "Third Reading of Initiative Senate Bill No. 1," the measure is set out in full in the Journal. Thereupon the Journal shows that a motion was made that no further action be taken on the initiative measure, that the motion was carried and such was the order. (1937 Senate Journal pages 230, 231.)

The other measure was presented at the 1941 Regular Session. It was given a heading "Initiative Petition No. 1." The Senate Journal for January 21, 1941, shows that the measure was read the third time and passage refused (1941 Senate Journal page 157). A motion was made to reconsider the vote whereby the measure was refused passage and reconsideration was eventually refused (1941 Senate Journal page 177).

It will be noted that in each case the Legislature chose the alternative of rejecting the measure and did so during the January part of the session. The legislative precedents, therefore, are of no value when a different course of action is contemplated.

The Constitution clearly authorizes the Legislature the choice of the following alternatives:

1. It may simply fail to take any action on the measure, in which case the measure goes on the ballot at the next ensuing general election.

2. It may formally reject the measure, in which case the measure goes on the ballot at the next ensuing general election.

3. It may reject the measure and propose a different one on the same subject, in which case both measures go on the ballot at the next ensuing general election or at a prior special election called by the Governor for the purpose.

4. It may adopt the measure without change or amendment in which case the measure is subject to referendum but is not otherwise submitted to the voters.

The Constitution does not prescribe the procedure whereby the Legislature takes the action which it chooses. Therefore, the Legislature must devise such procedure. We will, in the following, suggest a procedure which we think would be adequate.

The first step is the presentation of the measure by the Secretary of State. The Constitution requires the presentation of a measure received by him (not less than 10 days prior to a regular session) as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The organization of each house is normally completed shortly after the house convenes at 12 o'clock noon on the first Monday after the first day in January of the odd-numbered years. A printed copy of the petition as circulated should be delivered to the presiding officer of each house.

The precise moment for presenting the petition apparently would be immediately after the adoption of the customary resolution for the appointment of a select committee to notify the other house that the house in which the resolution is adopted is duly organized and ready to proceed with the business of the State. We think, however, that it would be sufficient compliance if the petition were presented at any time during the first day's session.

We think the measure should be handled very much like a bill. An appropriate heading would be "_____ Initiative Measure No. _____," the first blank being filled in with the name of the house and the second with the number given the measures. A bill back could readily be altered for this purpose.

The usual procedure for handling bills could then be followed, except that such a measure may not be amended. Then, the measure could be referred to an appropriate committee and printed, and the record of the course of action on the measure carried in the histories under a separate heading.

We think the constitutional limitations applicable to bills should be applied to such measures. Thus, if the measure makes an appropriation from the General Fund for purposes other than the support of the Public School System, a two-thirds vote would be required for its adoption.

There is room for question whether such a measure, if adopted, must be presented to the Governor for his approval. The Constitution provides that "No act, law, or amendment to the Constitution initiated or adopted by the people, shall be subject to the veto power of the Governor." Such a measure is one "initiated by the people." Since the only purpose of presenting a bill to the Governor is to permit him to exercise his veto power, there would appear to be no necessity of so presenting a measure of this type.

If, however, the time limitations hereinafter discussed permit the presentation of the measure to the Governor after its approval by the two houses and the Governor approves the measure we do not think such approval would vitiate the measure and if it were given it would foreclose any question on the matter.

The Constitution requires that such a measure be either enacted or rejected without change or amendment within 40 days from the time it is received by the Legislature. At the time the constitutional amendment putting this provision into the Constitution was proposed (by Resolutions Chapter 22, 1911 Regular Session) the sessions were continuous. The provisions providing for the bifurcated session and the mandatory recess were proposed by Resolutions Chapter 62, 1911 Regular Session. Both amendments were adopted at the same election on October 10, 1911.

While a somewhat plausible argument can be made that the 40-day period should be calculated so as to exclude the days of the constitutional recess, the only safe construction is that the period is the first 40 calendar day after receipt of the measure.

Inasmuch as the Legislature meets in general session for not more than 30 days and then must recess for not less than 30 days, the fortieth day will fall within the recess, except in the unlikely event that the January session is less than 10 days in duration. Therefore, such a measure must be adopted or rejected during the January part of the session.

If such a measure is to be rejected, the rejection of either of the two houses is sufficient. This could be accomplished by bringing the measure on to third reading and refusing passage.

If, however, the measure is to be adopted, the action of the two houses on the same measure appears necessary. It is conceivable that since the counterparts of each measure, as presented to each house, are and must remain identical, the favorable vote of each house on the measure presented to it would be sufficient. We think, however, that the only safe procedure would be process one of the counterpart measures through both houses in the same manner as a bill.

At this juncture, the question would arise of presenting the bill to the Governor. As stated above, his approval may not be necessary but, since even if not necessary it would be harmless, it would be desirable to obtain it. It is quite likely, however, time will not permit the operation of the 10-day rule before the recess.

A practical solution to the problem would be to prepare duplicate copies of the enrolled measure with the usual signature of the officers of the two houses. One could be submitted to the Governor and if he approves it and files it with the Secretary of State before the adjournment for the recess the other would not be needed. If, however, he did not do so, the other copy could be filed with the Secretary of State immediately before such adjournment.

The Constitution requires that if such a measure is enacted it must be enacted without change or amendment. It also provides that such a measure is subject to referendum. A somewhat plausible argument can be advanced that if enacted such a measure stands on the same footing as any other statute. We think, however, that the courts would hold that the effect of these provisions is that the Legislature may not thereafter, at the same session, further amend or repeal the provisions contained in the initiative measure.

If the Legislature could dispose of all such measures by simply enacting them and promptly repealing them or amending the provisions affected back to their prior form the constitutional provision would be of little benefit to the proponents of the measure. We think the courts would hold that once such initiative were enacted the Legislature could not thereafter at the same session enact conflicting legislation whether or not it directly affected the provisions of the measure as enacted.

We think that the disability to enact conflicting legislation is limited to the session at which it is enacted. While the Constitution provides that a measure so enacted is subject to the referendum, we do not think that the disability endures until the time for filing the referendum has passed, or if a referendum is filed, until the election on the referendum. We think that the provision that such a measure is subject to referendum was inserted for the protection of the people other than the proponents.

Thus, assuming the enactment of such a measure, the Legislature would, we think, have a free hand to amend or repeal the provisions at a subsequent regular session or at a special session at which the subject matter was specified in the proclamation convening the special session.

On the other hand, if the Legislature rejects such a measure, we do not think its power to legislate on the subject matter of the measure at the same session is affected. Such a measure automatically goes on the ballot at the next ensuing general election. If adopted, it would then supersede any conflicting legislation theretofore enacted but in the meantime such legislation, whenever enacted, would be effective.

Since the effect of a failure to act upon the measure is the same as a formal rejection, the power of the Legislature would be the same as in case of rejection.

The Constitution authorizes the Legislature to reject such a measure and propose a different one on the same subject. While the rejection itself must be accomplished within the 40-day period, it is not certain that the 40-day provision applies to the substitute measure. We can see no good reason why it should apply. When a measure is rejected it is put into a state of suspended animation until the next general election and no reason is apparent why the Legislature should hurry the substitute measure.

When a substitute measure is proposed both it and the measure proposed by initiative go on the ballot at the next general election or at a special election called for the purpose. The proposal of a substitute, therefore, may operate to expedite the action of the people on the matter but cannot retard such action.

The safer view, of course, is to assume that the 40-day provision applies to such a substitute measure and to act upon it during the January part of the session. If this cannot be done the next best procedure would be to propose the substitute measure within 40 days calculated by excluding the recess. If this cannot be done, then the only alternative would be to propose it later in the session.

The Constitution does not provide any procedure for proposing a substitute measure. All that it requires is that the proposal shall be by yea and nay vote upon a separate roll call. It might be that such a proposal could be made by resolution and that the Governor's participation is not required.

The Constitution, however, does not specifically require that the substitute be proposed by resolution and the Legislature, therefore, may choose any available vehicle for the purpose.

We think that the most desirable procedure would be to proceed by a regular legislative bill. Such a bill could contain a provision reciting that it was a substitute for the initiative measure (identifying it) and was to be placed upon the ballot as provided in Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution.

While such a proposal would probably not amount to enacting a law within the meaning of the provisions of Section 15 of Article IV of the Constitution that no law shall be passed except by bill, and the limitations applicable to legislative bills may not be applicable to such a proposal, the safer procedure would be to treat the proposal during its course of passage the same in all respects as if it were an ordinary bill.

It is quite probable that the courts would hold that the approval of the Governor is not required for such a proposal and that the approval or rejection of the proposal by the people is a substitute for that of the Governor.

However, the approval of the Governor would not vitiate the proposal and if such approval were given it would foreclose any question on the matter. Much the same procedure for proposing a substitute could be applied as above outlined for handling the enactment of a measure as proposed and if the Governor's approval was not given in time the proposed substitute could be filed without the approval.

If the measure is rejected and a substitute proposed the Legislature is free to act upon the subject matter at the same session, although, of course, such legislation in conflict with the provisions of the measure as adopted by the people would be superseded when the measure so adopted became effective.

If a measure is simply to be rejected and no substitute proposed the time element is of no great consequence because the effect of nonaction is the same as that of rejection. If, however, the measure is to be enacted or if it is to be rejected and a substitute proposed, action on the measure or on the substitute should be completed in the first 40 calendar days of the session, which for practical purposes, means the January part of the session.

Senate Resolution No. 43

Relative to the Final Report of the Senate Interim Committee on Nurse Problems

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, as follows:

1. The Senate Interim Committee on Nurse Problems, created by Senate Resolution No. 146 of the 1949 Regular Session, is hereby authorized to file its final report not later than the date of adjournment.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

By Senators Desmond and Hoffman:

Senate Resolution No. 44

Relative to requesting the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi

WHEREAS, Recent developments on the international front have given rise to an increased tempo in the development of civil defense plans on both the state and federal level; and

WHEREAS, An integral part of all civil defense plans is the development of adequate highway systems to take care of the flow of traffic which will ensue from the evacuation of civilians from stricken areas and the coming and going of emergency aid to and from such areas; and

WHEREAS, It is now mandatory, therefore, to insure that such highway systems will be available when needed so that such increased traffic will not lead to unnecessary congestion; and

WHEREAS, United States Highway Route 99 (State Highway Route 4), between Sacramento and Los Angeles, will quite naturally be one of the major parts of California's civil defense highway systems since it connects two of the State's major cities and numerous probable target areas; and

WHEREAS, It is obvious that this highway should be immediately placed in a condition which will enable it to handle heavy traffic with the least possible congestion and that the construction of four-lane divided highways on those portions of said highway which may most likely become congested will do much to accomplish this purpose; and

WHEREAS, There is at present no such four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi, which portion is one of the most heavily-traveled parts of United States Highway Route 99; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, is urgently requested to take immediate steps toward the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the City of Sacramento and the City of Lodi; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Director of Public Works and the State Highway Engineer.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

By Senator Thompson:

Relative to commending Senator Byrl R. Salsman

WHEREAS, Attorney Byrl R. Salsman, exemplary scholar, attended the public schools of California and graduated from Stanford University, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1928 and his Juris Doctor degree in 1930; and

WHEREAS, Mayor Byrl R. Salsman, able administrator, served the people of the City of Palo Alto as councilman, and for two years as the mayor of Palo Alto; and

WHEREAS, Senator Byrl R. Salsman, distinguished legislator, represented the people from the Thirtieth Assembly District in the State Assembly from 1939 through 1942, and the people of the Eighteenth Senatorial District in the State Senate from 1943 through the 1949 Regular Session; and

WHEREAS, In recognition of the diversified and outstanding abilities of this scholar-lawyer-administrator-legislator, Governor Earl Warren in 1949 appointed Senator Byrl R. Salsman to the Superior Court bench in and for the County of Santa Clara, where he is now recognized as a capable member of the judiciary; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of this Senate hereby commend and congratulate Judge Byrl R. Salsman for his many outstanding achievements; and be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is requested to send a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Judge Byrl R. Salsman.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding the State Capitol Committee printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, January 15, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

State Capitol Committee—No. 3806

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: You have asked for a summary of the powers of the State Capitol Committee as provided by Government Code Sections 9105-9110, and in particular the committee's responsibility for approving the expenditure of funds for remodeling the old Capitol Building and with reference to the Capitol grounds.

The State Capitol Committee, created by Chapter 288 of the Statutes of 1949 (S. B. 25) is composed of a Senate Capitol Committee and an Assembly Capitol Committee.

The only power vested in the committee is to assign or allocate all space, with certain exceptions, in the Capitol Building, including all annexes and additions to the building, in accordance with the committee's determination of the needs of the Legislature. (Gov. C. Sec. 9108.)

It is expressly provided that the maintenance and operation of all of the State Capitol Building continues under the control of the Department of Finance.

Since the use or occupancy of any particular space would to some extent determine the nature of the construction and equipping of such space, the committee, through the exercise of its power to control the use of space, would have an indirect effect on the construction and equipping of the building.

There does not appear to be any direct control over, or responsibility for approving, the expenditure of funds for remodeling the Capitol Building, or grounds.

The powers vested in the committee pertain only to the allocation of space in the "State Capitol Building" which is defined as the building situated in the area bounded by 10th, L, 15th, and N Streets in the City of Sacramento and includes all additions and annexes thereto * * *" (Gov. C. 9105). Thus the power vested in the committee would appear to be limited to the allocation of space in the building itself, as distinguished from the park and grounds surrounding the Capitol Building.

In view of this limitation on the power of this committee the control of the Capitol park and grounds would continue to be under the control of the Department of Finance pursuant to Government Code Sections 13009, 13160, and 13100 to 13114, inclusive, which vest general control over state buildings and grounds in that department.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By BERNARD CZESLA, Deputy

From: Tehachapi District Chamber of Commerce
Subject: Retention of California Institution for Women at Tehachapi

We are enclosing copies of two resolutions pertaining to the retention of the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi. One of these resolutions was adopted at a mass meeting of the Tehachapi District Chamber of Commerce held January 9, 1951. The other resolution of the Kern County Chamber of Commerce was endorsed by the Tehachapi District Chamber of Commerce at the same meeting.

Doubtless you are already keenly aware of the growing opposition to the movement of the California Institution for Women from Tehachapi to a site already purchased near Chino. While the opposition to the move away from Tehachapi is being led by the Kern County Chamber of Commerce, support of this opinion by resolution or letter has been expressed by groups and individuals throughout the State. Among state or district organizations which expressed their opposition to the move are such groups as the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the State Grange, the San Joaquin Valley Supervisors Association and the Valley Empire Association. In addition to these are more than 20 chambers of commerce, 80 granges, 50 women's clubs, 20 organizations of the Native Sons or Daughters of the Golden West, and many other groups who have sent letters of support.

May we urge your support to the legislative proposals concerning this subject as submitted by Senator Dorsey and Assemblyman Kelly, who have studied the matter thoroughly. Kindly accept our thanks for your cooperation in this matter.

Very truly yours,

Offered by: Tehachapi District Chamber of Commerce
Subject: Retention California Institution for Women at Tehachapi
Date: January 9, 1951

WHEREAS, The Department of Corrections of the State of California proposes to construct a new institution for women, near Chino, at a cost of several million dollars; and

WHEREAS, It has been brought to the attention of the citizens of this community that a committee appointed by Governor Warren has made recommendation that the present site and facilities of the California Institution for Women be converted into a prison for men; and

WHEREAS, It has been alleged that the principal objection to the present location is that it is difficult to properly staff the institution; and

WHEREAS, It is of common knowledge that if this alleged objection is true, it would similarly apply and prevail in principle and in part with any other kind or type of institution; and

WHEREAS, That in the event a men's prison is established at this location the lack of police protection gives cause for the citizens of the surrounding area to fear for their safety, in the event of a prison outbreak or an occasional escape; and

WHEREAS, It has been consistently proven and well established over a long period of actual operation that the present location is far superior to any other site in the State of California for an institution for women; and

WHEREAS, The present institution is designed and constructed for the use of women prisoners, and could only be converted into a prison for men at an enormous expense; and

WHEREAS, The 1947 law provides that the Director of Corrections is authorized to transfer the California Institution for Women from its present location as soon as a new site has been acquired and buildings and facilities constructed, the law further provides, that the present location and facilities shall be sold by the Director of Finance, pursuant to Section 10103 of the Government Code; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the 1947 law, Chapter 1051 be repealed and that the California institution be allowed to remain at its present location near Tehachapi, Kern County, California.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 44

Senate Resolution No. 44

Relative to requesting the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the cities of Sacramento and Lodi

WHEREAS, Recent developments on the international front have given rise to an increased tempo in the development of civil defense plans on both the state and federal level; and

WHEREAS, An integral part of all civil defense plans is the development of adequate highway systems to take care of the flow of traffic which will ensue from the evacuation of civilians from stricken areas and the coming and going of emergency aid to and from such areas; and

WHEREAS, It is now mandatory, therefore, to insure that such highway systems will be available when needed so that such increased traffic will not lead to unnecessary congestion; and

WHEREAS, United States Highway Route 99 (State Highway Route 4), between Sacramento and Los Angeles, will quite naturally be one of the major parts of California's civil defense highway systems since it connects two of the State's major cities and numerous probable target areas; and

WHEREAS, It is obvious that this highway should be immediately placed in a condition which will enable it to handle heavy traffic with the least possible congestion and that the construction of four-lane divided highways on those portions of said highway which may most likely become congested will do much to accomplish this purpose; and

WHEREAS, There is at present no such four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi, which portion is one of the most heavily-traveled parts of United States Highway Route 99; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, is urgently requested to take immediate steps towards the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the City of Sacramento and the City of Lodi; and be it further

WHEREAS, We are inescapably, as citizens of a civilized society, interested in securing maximum opportunity for all disabled persons to be physically and economically restored to maximum effectiveness; and

WHEREAS, Infantile paralysis continues to take a larger toll of American life and health each year, with a record epidemic of more than 47,000 cases in 1949 and over 30,000 new cases in 1950; and

WHEREAS, The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has coordinated the efforts of all segments of science and society in a fight against this disease for the past 12 years, with the result that much needless crippling and loss of life has been avoided through intelligent and timely financial and medical assistance to the individual patient who needs, but could not otherwise sustain himself in care; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of California in session commend The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for its humanitarian purposes and function, and endorse its supporting activity, the 1951 March of Dimes; be it further

Resolved, That we collectively and individually pledge our support for the continuation and furtherance of this work toward the objective of freeing our society from the scourge of infantile paralysis and the reclamation of those unfortunate victims of the disease who must have help in their struggle against its ravages.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received and read, and on motion of Senator Powers, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 14, CALIFORNIA, January 15, 1951

Hon. Harold J. Powers
President pro Tempore of Senate
Senate Chamber

DEAR SENATOR POWERS: I am pleased to transmit herewith a copy of the 1951 Report of the Legislative Counsel on Needed Revision of the Statutes.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL ON NEEDED REVISION OF THE STATUTES

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California:

The Legislative Counsel is required by Government Code, Section 10242, to "advise the Legislature from time to time as to needed revision of the statutes," and to present a "statement calling attention to laws which have been repealed by implication or which have been declared unconstitutional by the courts but which have not been expressly repealed." Following practice inaugurated by Hon. Fred B. Wood, I am submitting herewith the current report which includes those suggestions for corrective and clarifying amendments which will better express the legislative intent. These matters have been accumulated in our files during the biennium, from suggestions which have come from members of the staff, public officials and members of the public.

No bills are being submitted to you at this time. Many of the suggestions for clarification included in this report can be provided for during the course of the present session by those interested in the particular statutes involved. If Members of the Legislature desire to have bills prepared for them in order to make any of the suggested corrections, this office will gladly do so.

1. GENERAL SUGGESTIONS

The effect on our statute law of the 1950 Federal Census should be carefully considered by those concerned with local government. The classification of counties, contained in Government Code, Section 28020, will be inconsistent with the actual facts revealed in the census. If this section is amended, however, to reflect the actual facts, great care must be taken in order that other provisions relating to county officers will not be inadvertently affected. (See Gov. Code, Secs. 28101 et seq., relating to salaries of county officers; Education Code, Secs. 400 et seq., relating to county superintendents of schools; Welfare and Institutions Code, Secs. 574 et seq., relating to referees in juvenile court matters.) In some instances, provisions are made in the statutes for compensation of officers based upon actual population, rather than that set forth in the Government Code classification. (See Code of Civ. Proc., Sec. 204a, relating to jury commissioners.) Such provisions will require modification in order that the change in actual population reflected in the census will not produce inadvertent changes in the law relating to such officers.

Much of the Political Code has already been repealed, and its provisions transferred into other codes. The remainder is scheduled by the Code Commission for repeal at this session of the Legislature. Many sections of the Political Code are still referred to in the statutes of the State, however, and these references should be corrected to refer to the proper statutory provisions. Examples are found in Code of Civil Procedure, Section 261 (b); Education Code, Sections 175 and 176; and in Welfare and Institutions Code, Section 109. There are undoubtedly many other such references to be corrected.

2. PARTICULAR SUGGESTIONS

Agricultural Code

Secs.

736.3 (Item 51-1)—Subdivision (a)(4) of this section refers to former Penal Code, Sec. 654a, which is now contained in Bus. & Prof. Code, Secs. 17500 et seq., relating to false advertising.

799 (Item 51-2)—There is an error in the spelling of the word "Kahalili" in this section. The correct spelling is used in Sec. 802 of the code, that is, "Khalili."

Business and Professions Code

9041 (Item 51-3)—This section and several following it are temporary provisions inserted into the law at the time of the creation of the Board of Social Work Examiners. Most, if not all, of these provisions are obsolete and should be repealed.

19480 (Item 51-4)—This section, and a number of others following it, were affected by Stats. 1950 (1st Extra Sess.), Chap. 21, which was intended to provide for the possibility that the Supreme Court might declare the Horse Racing Act unconstitutional. Since the court sustained the constitutionality of the statute in Southern California Jockey Club, Inc. vs. Calif. Horse Racing Board, (1950) 36 Adv. Cal. Rep. 107, it would be desirable to repeal Chapter 21.

Civil Code

60, 69 (Item 51-5)—These sections of the code, relating to intermarriage between white persons and persons of certain other racial groups, were held unconstitutional in Perez vs. Sharp, (1948) 32 C. 2d 711, 198 P. 2d 17, by the Supreme Court of California.

557-566 (Item 51-6)—These sections of the code, relating to homestead corporations, were listed as obsolete in the 1909 Report of the Code Commissioners, p. 86. Repeal was recommended at that time.

Code of Civil Procedure

261b (Item 51-7)—This code section contains numerous references to Section 4300a of the Political Code which was repealed in 1947. The references should be corrected to refer to Gov. Code, Secs. 26820 et seq. In addition, there are two sections bearing this code section number, one of which should be renumbered. Finally, the section should be clarified in order to show its relationship to special statutes such as Labor Code, Sec. 101, exempting particular state agencies from the payment of fees. (See Div. of Labor Law Enforcement vs. Moroney, (1946) 28 C. 2d 344, 170 P. 2d 3.)

Secs.

1268 (Item 51-8)—In the last line of paragraph 5 of this section the court is given power to render an "appropriated" judgment. This should be corrected to read "appropriate."

Education Code

175-176 (Item 51-9)—This section refers to sections of the Political Code which were repealed in 1945, and which became Secs. 11180, et seq., of the Government Code.

4663 (Item 51-10)—This section provides for the filing of a petition by a majority of the "heads of families" residing in the district. This section was overlooked in 1943 when such phrases were changed to a "majority of the qualified electors." (See Stats. 1943, Chap. 696.)

6904 (Item 51-11)—There are two sections in the code bearing this number, the second having been added by Chap. 74, Stats. 1950 (1st Extra Sess.).

7011-7020 (Item 51-12)—This article, added by Stats. 1950 (1st Extra Sess.), Chap. 74, contains erroneous cross-references. Where "7034" is used, the reference should be "7016"; and where "7037" is used, the reference should be "7019."

7109-7109.10 (Item 51-13)—This article, added by Stats. 1950 (1st Extra Sess.), Chap. 74, contains erroneous cross-references which resulted from the fact that the section numbers were taken from the original form of Assembly Bill No. 65 of that session.

19432 (Item 51-14)—This section was declared unconstitutional by the California Supreme Court in Danskin vs. San Diego Unified School District, (1946) 28 C. 2d 536, 171 P. 2d 885.

Government Code

9020 (Item 51-15)—This section is inconsistent with Article IV, Sec. 2(a) of the Constitution (adopted November 8, 1949), which provides that the budget sessions shall commence at 12 noon "on the first Monday in March." The provision in this section ("on the first Monday after the first day of March") should be amended to conform to the constitutional provision.

9906.1 (Item 51-17)—There are two sections bearing this number, added separately by Chaps. 66 and 67 of the Stats. of 1950 (1st Extra Sess.).

Secs.

26529 (Item 51-18)—In the codification of this section in 1947 an error was made in limiting its provisions to county counsels appointed pursuant to state law ("pursuant to Chapter 12 of this part"), thus eliminating those county counsels appointed pursuant to charter provisions from the coverage of the section.

28153 (Item 51-19)—In subdivision (a) of this section the word "for" should be corrected to read "four."

37618, 37658, 37659 (Item 51-20)—These sections contain an erroneous reference to "Article 1, Chapter 5, Division 4" of the Government Code. The correct reference is "Article 1, Chapter 4, Division 4."

Insurance Code

9060 (Item 51-22)—The reference in this section to Sec. 384 should be deleted since Sec. 384 was repealed in 1941.

10115 (Item 51-23)—The word "and" should be "or" in the following clause relating to the death of the insured: "dies on or after the date of the application, on or after the date of the medical examination, if any, and on or after any date specially requested in the application for the policy to take effect, whichever is later * * *."

10651 (Item 51-24)—This section should be repealed; it has ceased to have any meaning since the repeal of Sec. 10650 in 1941.

10880 (Item 51-25)—There are two sections bearing this number. The one added by Stats. 1935, Chap. 283, should have been numbered "10780" and is usually printed at that point in the code.

Health and Safety Code

4765 (Item 51-26)—This section, relating to county sanitary districts, was intended to carry the number "4765." That number is used in the title of Stats. 1949, Chap. 1018, and in the second section of the bill. The inadvertent use of "4675" before the text of the section should be corrected.

18455.5 (Item 51-27)—In subdivision (c) of this section the word "line" should be "live."

Labor Code

1131–1136 (Item 51-28)—These sections were declared unconstitutional by the California Supreme Court in In re Blandy, (1947) 30 C. 2d 643, 184 P. 2d 892.

1596 (Item 51-29)—This section refers to Section 3664aa of the Political Code, which was repealed in 1935, and to Section 50¼ of the Public Utilities Act, which will be repealed if the Legislature adopts the recommended Public Utilities Code at this session. These erroneous cross-references should be corrected.

2102 (Item 51-30)—This section contains an erroneous cross-reference to "Article 3 of Chapter 1 of Part 9." It should refer to "Article 4," relating to labor camps.

Secs.

2411 (Item 51-31)—This section contains the clause "subject to the provisions of this act." The reference should be "subject to the provisions of this article," which is Article 4 (mentioned above) relating to labor camps.

5300 (Item 51-32)—The reference in this section to the jurisdiction of the Industrial Accident Commission includes "Division 5," which relates to industrial safety. This reference has been inaccurate since 1945 when the commission was relieved of responsibility in this field. (See Stats. 1945, Chap. 1431.)

Penal Code

1127 (Item 51-33)—This statute uses the word "may" with reference to a judge's duty to instruct the jury on the law. In People vs. Bender (1945), 27 C. 2d 164, 176, 163 P. 2d 8, the court held that the duty was mandatory and that the statute should be read as though it said "must." It would be desirable to make the statute clearly state that the duty is mandatory.

2040 (Item 51-34)—There are two sections bearing this number. The one added by Stats. 1944 (Third Extra. Sess.) Chap 2, should be renumbered to eliminate the duplication.

4700 (Item 51-35)—In this section dealing with costs incurred by a county where a prisoner in a state prison is tried for escape or attempted escape, the following language was inadvertently omitted when the section was enacted in 1941: "while away from the prison, the transportation of the prisoner to and from the prison, the costs of appeal,". The language should have been included in the list of items for which the counties are entitled to reimbursement.

Public Resources Code

5156 (Item 51-36)—Subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section were impliedly repealed by the enactment of the Collier-Burns Act of 1947, which precludes the use of highway subventions for public parks by the counties. (See Stats. 1947 (First Extra. Sess.), Chap. 11.)

Revenue and Taxation Code

10755 (Item 51-37)—In the phrase "the fee imposed by this part of the year," the word "by" should read "for."

Streets and Highways Code

740.4 (Item 51-38)—This section contains a double-barrelled reference to the Planning Act (Stats. 1929, Chap. 838) and the Conservation and Planning Act (Stats. 1947, Chap. 807). In view of the fact that the former was repealed in 1947, and that the latter is scheduled for codification into the Government Code at this session of the Legislature, this reference should be corrected. (See Code Commission preprint, proposed Gov. Code, Sec. 65250.)

Welfare and Institutions Code

Secs.

109 (Item 51-39)—This section contains a reference to Political Code provisions which were repealed in 1945 and which became Gov. Code, Secs. 11180 et seq.

960 (Item 51-40)—The reference to "Article 5 of Chapter 1" in this section should read "Chapter 2." There is no Chapter 1.

REPORT OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES

The Committee on Local Governmental Agencies investigated the matter of possible illegal distribution by the County of Los Angeles to printers of the printing of legal publications and also the legality of any person, firm or corporation soliciting this business for a fee.

Prior to 1934 the attorneys, administrators of estates, etc., in this area were designating one paper that prints very little other than legal publications as the paper to print practically all the legal notices.

In 1934 the small publishers in suburban areas banded together and formed a nonprofit corporation for the purpose of soliciting from attorneys, etc., and others requiring legal publications printed, thereby distributing this income among the small publishers. Each publisher who subscribed to the service became a member and received a share of stock of the corporation. A percentage fee is made by the corporation to members for any legal publication printed by him. At the close of the year any accumulated profits are distributed among the stockholders.

Los Angeles County requires that any person having a legal notice published, to designate the paper in which it is to be published; therefore, this corporation cannot, and does not, solicit business directly from the county. Any county notice which costs in excess of $500 to be published, is submitted by the county for bids and the lowest bidder receives the business. The court, or the county board of supervisors designates the paper to be used if the amount is less than $500.

Section 1-161, Revenue and Taxation Code, prevents any soliciting by, or commission paid to, this corporation, or any similar organization of any legal publication required to be published by the Revenue and Taxation Code.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hoffman asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following comments regarding the retirement of Senator Bradford S. Crittenden printed in the Journal:

On Crittenden's Retirement

I.

In 1876 or so
A boy was born near Cleveland, O.
His name was Bradford Crittenden—
Well known as "Brad" and "Crit" since then.
In 1890 he came West
And since that time he's lived with zest.
He grew up on San Joaquin's plain
Down near Merced where farms need rain.
His farm crops grew one year in three—'No water' was the cause, says he.
So when a ditch came from the South
Some 80 miles to end the drouth,
Young Brad, impressed, was quick to learn
And make the knowledge serve in turn;
So, water from his early days
Has been important many ways—
And maybe that's why Crit, the man
Proposed the Central Valley Plan,
To furnish down the San Joaquin
The water which will keep it green.

II.

Young Brad the lad found much to do,
He went through high school, college, too;
Then studied law until he passed
The bar exams and now at last
A full-fledged lawyer of the State,
He hung his shingle by his gate.
He practiced law for quite a spell,
And as a lawyer did right well—
He made a living in those days
And now, in retrospect, he says:
Each public servant should have earned
A livelihood before he yearned
For public job, then when he lands,
The public funds are in good hands.
When public service beckoned Brad,
He gave it all the force he had.
He fought for what he thought was right—
And seldom lost a showdown fight.

III.

Crit endorsed much legislation
Good for county, State and Nation
But he earned his reputation
In the fields of conservation,
Water studies, irrigation,
Flood control and reclamation.

IV.

His 1921 fund bill
To study water problems, still
Is held to be the start and van
Of our great State-wide Water Plan.
He followed with demands for dough
That made the state-wide studies go.
When project planning hit a snag
A change of law was in the bag—
'Just get young Brad to put it through'
Became the surest thing to do.

V.

Ten years the state-wide studies ran
And from them came the Project Plan.
The Central Valley Plan emerged
As one for which all speed was urged,
So Crit took up the plan intact,
And put it in his Project Act;
He pushed it through both houses too,
Which was no easy task to do;
And then to get a state-wide vote
To grant the funds for it, he wrote
The argument that, many said,
Was what put "yes" votes 'way ahead.
The plan approved—then hard times came,
And slowed the work, but just the same,
The C V P is now 'most done,
And Crit's the sire or it has none!

VI.

Crit fathered, too, the Water Board,
And many acts—we can't afford
To name them all—nor can we here
Give credit due his fine career
In all the fields that touch our lives,
For time and space at hand deprives
Us of that very pleasant chore—
But let us add a little more.

VII.

Crit's led the pack these many years,
He's solved his problems, conquered fears,
And now he's got some things to say
To help the young folks on their way.
He says to want a public life
You've got to like the toil and strife,
But first, like people, like their deeds,
Take int'rest in their rights and needs;
Respect their thoughts, beliefs, their creeds,
Then if they're wrong, just plant some seeds
To make them think, for thinking tends
To keep folks tol'rant, keep them friends!

VIII.

In legislative halls this year,
We'll miss Crit's smile and ready ear;
We'll miss his fine philosophy,
His friendly personality;
We'll miss his matches-smoking pipe,
We'll miss his energetic type,
We'll miss his counsel and advice,
His wit and wisdom, cool as ice;
We'll miss his Senate speeches, too,
His thoughtful summing up when through;
We'll miss his leadership no end—
But most of all we'll miss a friend.
He'll take a bit of well-earned rest;
For life, we wish him all the best!

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 21, "An act to add Section 19620 to the Education Code, relating to the support of child care centers and making an appropriation therefor and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Harold T. Johnson:

Senate Resolution No. 62

Relative to requesting the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Roseville

WHEREAS, Recent developments on the international front have given rise to an increased tempo in the development of civil defense plans on both the state and federal level; and

WHEREAS, An integral part of all civil defense plans is the development of adequate highway systems to take care of the flow of traffic which will ensue from the evacuation of civilians from stricken areas and the coming and going of emergency aid to and from such areas; and

WHEREAS, It is now mandatory, therefore, to insure that such highway systems will be available when needed so that such increased traffic will not lead to unnecessary congestion; and

WHEREAS, United States Highway Route 40 (State Highway Route 3), between Sacramento and Roseville, will quite naturally be one of the major parts of California's civil defense highway systems since it connects two of the important military target areas in case of war; and

WHEREAS, It is obvious that this highway should be immediately placed in a condition which will enable it to handle heavy traffic with the least possible congestion and that the construction of four-lane divided highways on those portions of said highway which may most likely become congested will do much to accomplish this purpose; and

WHEREAS, There is at present no such four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Roseville, which portion is one of the most heavily traveled parts of United States Highway Route 40; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, is urgently requested to take immediate steps toward the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the City of Sacramento and the City of Roseville; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the State Highway Commission, Director of Public Works and the State Highway Engineer.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Senator McCarthy:

Senate Resolution No. 63

Relative to Judge Thomas F. Keating

WHEREAS, The Honorable Thomas F. Keating rendered great service to the people of the State of California as the representative of the people of Marin County in the Senate from 1936 to 1950 when he resigned to become a candidate for the office of superior court judge; and

WHEREAS, The people of Marin County have manifested their confidence in him by electing Judge Keating to the superior court bench; and

WHEREAS, Judge Keating in devoting his life to public service is following the precedent established by his father, J. J. Keating, who for many years and until his death, well and honorably served the people of Marin County as their sheriff; and

WHEREAS, Judge and Mrs. Keating are now anticipating the arrival of an heir who, the Senate is certain, will bring additional honors to the Keating name; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That Judge Keating is commended for his able and faithful service to the people of the State of California and for the fine contributions he has made to their cause; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of the resolution and that each member of the Senate be requested to sign the same and that the Secretary of the Senate be further directed to transmit the signed copy to Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator McCarthy, unanimously adopted.

By Senator Hatfield:

Senate Resolution No. 64

Relative to distribution of money from the Highway Users' Tax Fund to counties

WHEREAS, Under Section 2110 of the Streets and Highways Code, money from the Highway Users' Tax Fund is distributed to counties on the basis of the number of vehicle registrations in each of such counties as determined by the place of residence of registered owners on the registration card; and

WHEREAS, In many cases a person may actually reside in one county but have a post-office box in another county, and the post-office address is frequently put on the registration card instead of the actual residence of the vehicle owner;

WHEREAS, This practice results in the county of actual residence losing a portion of the money in said Highway Users' Tax Fund which would otherwise be apportioned to it, thereby creating a hardship in said county; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Motor Vehicles be requested to take immediate steps necessary to correct this situation, such as by requiring each vehicle owner to put his actual place of residence on the application for registration, and placing said actual address on the registration card issued; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Director of Motor Vehicles and the Registrar of Vehicles.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Transportation.

By Senator Hatfield:

Senate Resolution No. 65

Relative to amending Senate Standing Rule No. 11 relative to powers of standing committees

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That Senate Standing Rule No. 11 be amended by adding at the end thereof a new paragraph, as follows:

"Until the Budget Bill is finally enacted no standing committee shall report any appropriation bill to the Senate for passage except bills making appropriations for the salaries, mileage, and expenses of the Senate and Assembly, and emergency bills recommended by the Governor, whose letter of recommendation shall be produced before the committee before action is taken by the committee."

Resolution read.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE GOVERNOR

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 120:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 19, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 120, "An act making an appropriation to the Emergency Fund specified in Item 277 of the Budget Act of 1950, relating to the repair and restoration of property damaged or destroyed by storms or floods and the expenditure of money appropriated therefor,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This measure makes an appropriation of $2,000,000 out of the Flood Control Fund of 1946 to be used on a matching basis for repair and restoration of property damaged or destroyed by storm or flood.

The amount available for this purpose at present is not sufficient to meet the expenditures which will be required to repair storm and flood damage due to the recent flood conditions in Northern California. It is necessary therefore that this measure become effective at once.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 120 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

The study of this aid program was undertaken by the committee in addition to the responsibilities assigned to it by Senate Resolution No. 145, 1949 Regular Session of the Legislature, whereby the committee was created. In its inquiry into the Needy Children Program, the committee worked in close cooperation with the Senate Interim Committee on Social Welfare created by Senate Resolution No. 162 adopted by the 1949 Regular Session of the California Legislature. The Interim Committee on Social Welfare concurs in the findings and recommendations of this report.

The report presents a summary of various findings which indicated clearly to the committee the advisability and the necessity of certain changes in the statutes relating to aid to needy children. Specific proposals recommending changes in various provisions of the needy children statutes are also set forth.

The committee acknowledges the assistance and cooperation of the county boards of supervisors, the county welfare directors, and other officials of counties, officials of the State Government and representations of many nongovernmental organizations.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, January 22, 1951

MR. PRESIDENT: The Committee on Old Age Assistance Initiative, to which was referred:

Senate Initiative

Has had the same under consideration, and reports the same back with the recommendation: As outlined in the attached statement.

Committee membership 7; committee vote: Ayes 7.

WEYBRET, Chairman

REPORT OF SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE ON THE OLD AGE ASSISTANCE INITIATIVE MEASURE

Your committee directed communications by letter, telephone, and telegraph to all organizations and individuals that had expressed a desire to be heard on the Old Age Assistance Initiative, notifying them of meetings to be held Monday evening, January 15th, and Tuesday evening, January 16th, at 8 p.m., in the Senate Chamber. These notifications were given on January 12th.

All organizations and individuals present were given a full and complete hearing and no one was called on account of time. The organizations and individuals that gave testimony opposed the passage of this initiative by the Legislature and recommended that in view of the people's mandate expressed 15 months ago the Legislature should refer this initiative to the people to be voted on at the next general election.

In addition to the statements made before the committee, many telegrams and letters were received from organizations and individuals throughout the State of California against the passage of this initiative by the Legislature. These statements received requested referral of the Old Age Assistance Initiative to the people of California.

The committee was informed by the Legislative Counsel that "inasmuch as the Legislature meets in general session for not more than 30 days and then must recess for not less than 30 days, the fortieth day will fall within the recess." Therefore, such a measure as this Old Age Assistance Initiative must be adopted or rejected during the January part of this session.

The committee reports this bill back to the Senate with the recommendation that this initiative not be enacted into law but allowed to go on the ballot in 1952 for the people of California to decide.

Approval by the Legislature would be a direct reversal of the decision voted by the people 15 months ago and would subject the Legislature to deserved criticism.

Testimony received by this committee from competent government and private agencies indicates that increased state taxes of one hundred four million dollars ($104,000,000) will be required by the adoption of this initiative.

In considering the current world situation and the many urgency measures to be presented before this body for civilian defense appropriations, we believe that the decision on this Old Age Assistance Initiative is a decision which should be made by the people of California as they must bear the burden of taxes necessary to pay for this measure.

Greetings:

At the meeting of the Council held March 1, 1950, the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, the Legislature of the State of California will convene in regular session at Sacramento on March 6, 1950, and the best interests of the City of Los Angeles require that this Council have authorized representatives in Sacramento during sessions of the Legislature as authorized by Section 50023 of the Government Code of this State;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Los Angeles, being the legislative body thereof, that Ray L. Chesebro, City Attorney, and Lewis E. Arnold, Engineer of Administration of said City, public officials of said City acting in their official capacity, be and they are hereby appointed and designated as the duly authorized representatives of the City of Los Angeles at Regular and Special Sessions of the Legislature of the State of California to attend the sessions of said Legislature and Committees thereof, and present information to aid the passage of legislation which the City Council deems beneficial to the City of Los Angeles or to prevent the passage of legislation which the City Council deems detrimental to said City, and to attend conferences and meetings in this State where necessary or desirable in the interest of such legislation. The cost and expense incident thereto shall be a proper charge against the funds of said City.

The City Clerk is hereby authorized and instructed to draw demands upon the Council Fund, Item "Legislative Expense", to defray the expenses of said representatives or their designated deputy, upon their request, or the request of either of them, with the approval of the State, County and Federal Affairs Committee of this Council. They and their designated deputies are hereby authorized to use a City automobile for transportation when, in their opinion, it is desirable. Said representatives and their designated deputies shall furnish the Controller itemized statements accounting for all such expenditures.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the said City Attorney be requested to assign William H. Neal, Senior Assistant City Attorney (Legislation), to perform the duties imposed upon him by this resolution."

Respectfully yours,

City Clerk

Dear Sir:

In accordance with provisions of Assembly Bill 74, Chapter 66, an act amending certain sections of the Government Code relating to influencing legislative processes, I am filing herewith under oath information as required under Section 9906.

My name is R. H. Beaton, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the California Fish Canners Association, Inc., a trade organization. I have been employed in my official capacity since September 1, 1943, and devote full time to the work. I am paid a monthly salary plus necessary living expenses while away from the office. I have been the Legislative Representative of the California Fish Canners Association, Inc. since September 1943 and appear before the various committees in the interest of all fish and game measures which are submitted to the State Legislature effecting our industry.

My work consists mainly of advising the committees of the technical details of fish canning and such other matters as may relate to the industry. I represent my employer only and no other person has been promised or receives any portion of my salary or expenses, nor have they been promised any such fee or payment. I have always conducted myself in a legal and ethical manner and propose to continue such conduct.

Separate applications for registration as Legislative Advocate have been filed with the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

MODESTO, CALIFORNIA

January 4, 1951

Mr. A. Alan Post , Legislative Auditor,
and,
Mr. Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of Senate,
State Capitol Building,
Sacramento, California.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed, herewith, find our report to cover the provisions of the State Lobby Law which requires our Legislative Committee to file a report of its receipts and disbursements with respect to legislative matters.

We are submitting this report for the cumulative period of July 15th, 1950 through December 31, 1950. We filed a previous report for the month of September, which was required as the legislature was in session during that month. As we understand it- the legislature not being in session for the balance of the year, our next report would be made as of the end of the year and should be cumulative for the entire period of July 15 (effective date of the law) thru December 31, 1951.

In any event- we have had no receipts and no disbursements to report for the entire period.

If we have made this report out in error in any manner, kindly advise us. We understand, however, that during such time as the legislature is in session, we are required to make a monthly report.

May we have some additional form 3 sheets so that we can use them for our next report? Thank you.

Sincerely,
Jno. C. Cuneo, Chairman

Dear Sir:

I am hereby registering pursuant to Section 9900 of the Government Code.

I am employed as a member of the staff of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry and as such am Director of the Tax Department of that institution. Among my other duties is that of attending upon sessions of the Legislature in connection with legislation upon which the Board of Directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry has taken a position. Except for that employment I do not engage myself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation.

I will report monthly such portion of my monthly compensation as might properly be attributable to my activities in connection with legislation.

My address is: 350 Bush Street, San Francisco, California.

My employment continues so long as it is mutually agreeable with myself and the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry.

I receive no specified amount for expenses but I am reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses upon my rendering vouchers covering the same. I have no agreement or understanding with the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry as to what particular expenses are to be included.

I enclose herewith a written authorization from the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry authorizing me to act in connection with legislation pending or which may be introduced in the Legislature.

Honorable Joseph A. Beek

Dear Sir:

Having heretofore registered with you pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code, I file this statement pursuant to the third sentence of that section.

During the month of September I received my monthly salary as Director of the Tax Department of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry, and $200.00 thereof represents, to the best of my knowledge and belief, compensation for the performance of the type of work referred to in said section.

During the month I made the following expenditures in carrying on said work, for which I expect to be reimbursed in due course.

Miscellaneous expenditures, no one item of which exceeded $25.00 - $110.00

During the months of October and November I did not engage in any legislative activities and therefore did not report expenses for those months.

I am employed to support or oppose such legislation as to which the Board of Directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry may from time to time take a public position.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

I am hereby registering pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code.

I am employed as a member of the staff of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry and as such am Director of the Agriculture Department of that institution. Among my other duties is that of attending upon sessions of the Legislature in connection with legislation upon which the Board of Directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry has taken a position. Except for that employment I do not engage myself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation.

My address is 350 Bush Street, San Francisco 4, California.

My employment continues so long as it is mutually agreeable with myself and the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry.

I receive no specified amount for expenses but I am reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses upon my rendering vouchers covering the same. I have no agreement or understanding with the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry as to what particular expenses are to be included.

I enclose herewith a written authorization from the California State Chamber of Commerce, Agriculture and Industry authorizing me to act in connection with legislation pending or which may be introduced in the Legislature.

Dear Mr. Post:

In accordance with Section 9906 of the government code, this is to advise you that I am employed as the Executive Secretary of The California Society of Certified Public Accountants. My principal duties, to which I devote about 90% of my time, are those concerned with organization affairs, exclusive of legislation.

However, at each regular session of the California Legislature it becomes necessary for me to represent The California Society of Certified Public Accountants in Sacramento in connection with such legislation as may be introduced having to do with the California Accountancy Act or matters of immediate professional interest to certified public accountants. It is estimated that 10% of my employable time is devoted to legislative matters.

I do not at any time represent anyone other than The California Society of Certified Public Accountants, nor do I accept fees or reimbursement of any kind from any other source. My compensation is by a stipulated annual salary from The California Society of Certified Public Accountants and includes only such other out-of-pocket expenses as are provided for in a regular annual budget and for which I am reimbursed upon submission of proper vouchers and supporting evidence.

All of my activities, including attempts to influence legislation of immediate concern to certified public accountants, is at the direction and within the expressed policies of the Board of Directors of The California Society of Certified Public Accountants, acting on behalf of over 2000 members.

I understand that on the 10th of each month following this registration I shall be required to file a statement of that portion

SUITE 701-719 DAVIS HEWES BUILDING

ASSOCIATE COUNSEL
THOMAS M. MULVIHILL

January 2, 1951.

Honorable Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
Sacramento, California

Honorable Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

Gentlemen:

This will supplement my letter of June 9, 1950 with the attachments and statements therein, which statements are incorporated herein by reference particularly insofar as they indicate that the compliance is voluntary and does not appear to be required by the provisions of law applicable to me and the organization which I represent.

It appears that through oversight I have failed to file the monthly statements since June 1950 under the mistaken belief that only quarterly statements were required.

In addition to the $100.00 retainer received by me during the month of July and each month thereafter, I have received no sum other than the sum of $750.00, which $750.00 was received for appearances before the various sessions of the Special Session in September, 1950.

No expenditure made by me has exceeded $25.00 for any amount. Furthermore, most of the expenditures were with respect to Interim Committees of the Legislature, with respect to which appearances I believe I am not required to report under the law.

In order, however, that there may be a full disclosure to the respective bodies, I am writing this communication to you and if it is believed I must complete any required forms in addition to this communication, upon advice from you to this effect I will gladly comply.

It is also my understanding I need not file any cumulative annual report as to my activities even assuming the monthly reports are acceptable. If I am in error in any respect, I would appreciate being advised so I may promptly comply.

RECEIPTS

Monthly retainer (at $100.00 per month July-December, inclusive)	$600.00
Payment of fees pursuant to appearances before Legislative Committees, etc.	750.00

EXPENSES

Total (September, October and November, 1950) (Covering hotels, meals, transportation, telephone calls, etc., no single item of which is in excess of $25.00 and accordingly no itemization of which is enumerated)	$ 277.71

As to both the receipts and expenses above in view of the fact that they were received by me not as a paid lobbyist but as General Counsel for the California State Federation of Labor, no determinate portion of such amounts is referable to work in any way concerned with existing sessions of the California Legislature.

Sincerely yours,

Charles P. Scully.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 743:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 19, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 743, "An act to add Section 762.95 to the Agricultural Code, relating to inspection of canning tomatoes, making an appropriation for the purchase of color-meters for that purpose and providing for the return of the money so appropriated, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Approval of this measure at this time is necessary because the devices mentioned may not be available much longer and should be contracted for as soon as possible if they are to be available for use during the 1951 season.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 743 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1878:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
Sacramento, January 19, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate, Sacramento, California
GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 1878, "An act relating to revenues from tide and submerged lands, including provisions to establish a special deposit fund in the State Treasury for the deposit of revenues from tide and submerged lands, providing for the transfer thereof, and making an appropriation, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Approval of this measure at this time is necessary to continue uninterrupted development and production of oil and gas from the tide and submerged lands along the coast of California until final adjudication of the issues now pending in the United States Supreme Court in the case of United States v. California.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill 1878 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

SOME RESEARCH AND SERVICE PROGRAMS

University of California

Summary

Attached are summaries of progress of some of the University of California activities, including the College of Agriculture, in which Members of the Legislature have shown special interest. This is by no means an effort to summarize all of the projects of the university.

Each of these projects has arisen as a result of very definite needs—the needs of the people of the State as a whole, of an industry or group of industries with special and very difficult problems, or of state and local governments. All of these projects, in their varied ways, are aimed at the improvement of the welfare of the people of the State: the strengthening of our economy and social institutions, the betterment of health.

The cotton mechanization program of the College of Agriculture, for example, shows promise of effecting an enormous reduction in production costs of this industry. The college's research on the Oriental fruit fly greatly reduces the chances that this pest will infest California orchards. The cancer research program has reported progress in this fight to improve the health of our aging population and to reduce costs of hospitalization and loss of productivity. The recently inaugurated Marine Life Research Program has developed leads which may make possible prediction of the size and area of the sardine catch a year in advance. The ACTH and arthritis program has already achieved results which will reduce the cost and increase the quantity of the hormone; this will benefit many ailing citizens and soldiers suffering from burns on the battlefield. Traffic and transportation engineering, sewage disposal, air pollution—these are some of the problems of our expanding population which are being attacked by new research programs.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE—GENERAL

University of California

INTRODUCTION

By legislation, custom and insistent public demand, the University of California College of Agriculture serves the research needs of a $2,000,000,000 industry that embraces virtually every phase of agricultural economy to be found anywhere in the United States. In the classroom it teaches better farming and trains researchers. Through research, the college unearths facts which increase agricultural production and decrease costs. Through agricultural extension and its information services, the college helps to put these facts into practical use, producing ever greater yields on the State's agricultural investment.

The five years since the end of World War II have been notable in the 75-year history of the college. In no comparable period has the public demand upon it been so great. In no comparable period has its effort been so large and varied, its services so extensive. The expanded and accelerated activities in this time of peace have strengthened California agriculture for the years of emergency which the State and Nation now face.

Yet the job of the college is never done and performance is limited only by the resources which the college has available. The magnitude and diversity of its problems as well as its services are shaped by the nature of the agricultural industry it serves: the 200 commercial farm crops; more than 40 livestock products; sharp variations of climate and environment in which crops are raised. This picture is further complicated by the State's position as the sole producer of some 13 important crops, the principal national provider of some 41 agricultural commodities. Whereas in cotton and farm belt states, a number of agricultural colleges can collaborate on a relatively few common problems, California has in addition to special applications of these same problems the full research burden for many commodities in which there is little or no interest or help from other states or the Federal Government. In short, like the industry it serves, the problems of the college are more varied than those faced by any similar American institution.

In a brief summary of achievements of the recently accelerated program of the College of Agriculture, only a few examples of responsibilities, work and performance can be cited. While this summary therefore is by no means complete, the typical examples will indicate something of the scope of the 1,000 research projects, the hundreds of services performed.

RESEARCH PROGRESS

1. Cotton Mechanization. In this important project started two years ago real progress has been made toward the immediate objective: the reduction of huge and increasing labor costs through practical realization of mechanical production and harvesting. Field losses from mechanical picking have been greatly reduced, and losses in grade are being reduced, with savings of about $19 per bale over hand picking being reported. Thicker planting and improved defoliation promise to eliminate the present field superiority of hand picking. Experimentally for the first time mechanical picking equalled hand picking in efficiency on the Experiment Station in 1950 plots. The work to date indicates that similar results can be achieved in the field in the near future.

This project embraces the full cycle of mechanization, including planting, spacing, and weed control, as well as defoliation and picking. This project, while far from complete, points the way to cotton production with about 40 percent of the labor requirements per acre generally required in 1947.

2. Strawberries. During the past five years the Northern California strawberry industry converted to new and superior varieties developed by the college. Five years ago the first publication on five new varieties was issued by the college; and in 1949 these were re-evaluated with two new varieties introduced in a new publication. Today 95 percent of the 15 million dollar annual strawberry crop is from these varieties. Yields have climbed from 1,000 crates per acre in 1944 to over 5,000 per acre in 1950.

3. Flax. New strains of flax highly resistant to fusarium wilt are being readied for release. The present California flax industry, with an acreage of 100,000 and a value of several millions of dollars, is a development of research by the college's agronomy division.

4. Alfalfa. New strains of alfalfa resistant to dwarf and bacterial wilt have been released as a result of cooperative work in agronomy and plant pathology. These diseases have been limiting factors in growing alfalfa.

5. Corn. Growing of hybrid corn, using strains tested by the University of California, is developing into an important industry. In the Antelope Valley alone, 8 to 10,000 acres will be grown this year.

6. Eggs. Work on egg spoilage, which costs the industry hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, now promises to prevent this loss. Two methods are being used: (1) ultraviolet light to detect sour eggs and to intercept those washed eggs likely to spoil in storage; and (2) fumigation of shell eggs with ethylene oxide to kill the invading bacteria. The second method has been successful experimentally.

7. Range Burning. Thousands of acres of almost worthless brush-choked land today are being converted back into profitable range as a result of a long-term research project conducted by an agency of the college, the Range Land Utilization Committee. The project was initiated when it was realized that much of the State's 35,000,000 acres of range were being invaded by brush as a result of state and federal policies prohibiting fire. Experiments have failed to support the fears of those opposed to burning this brush and replacing it with forage plants. These experiments show that under a controlled program of burning, seeding and grazing, run-off and erosion are not accelerated, the water supply actually can be increased, and the economy of the livestock industry can be materially improved.

8. The Veterinary Clinic. Since it opened, an estimated 7,000 to 8,000 head of food-producing animals have been treated or vaccinated by the animal clinic maintained by the School of Veterinary Medicine. With the techniques now available in surgery plus the use of the new antibiotics, it has been possible to save many cases that prior to this time would invariably have terminated fatally. A new technique for fractures of the thigh and hips of large animals has returned horses with such fractures to the race track, and has kept valuable cows in the milking string. The ambulatory clinic is on call to ranchers 24 hours a day, seven days a week. One contribution of this clinic could be the early diagnosis of an outbreak of disease, which, unless handled promptly, could result in severe economic losses to the livestock industry. The small animal clinic has treated some 1,500 domestic pets, many of them hospitalized. The markedly increasing public response to this service indicates the appreciation of the humane handling of these animals. All these phases of the clinic present valuable teaching material to prospective veterinarians enrolled in the School of Veterinary Medicine.

9. Vesicular Diseases. (Including Foot-and-Mouth.) While state and federal regulations will not permit work with the virus of foot-and-mouth disease in this Country, in 1948 and 1949 three members of the staff of veterinary science directly or indirectly participated in the program in Mexico on the problems of the disease. During the past fiscal year Dr. Jacob Traum of the Veterinary Science Department, with Dr. C. U. Duckworth, of the State Department of Agriculture, visited 10 western European countries to survey current knowledge on the origin, prevention and control of this disease of great potential danger to the California livestock industry.

In addition, work has continued on vesicular exanthema, similar to foot-and-mouth disease, which is of considerable economic importance in this State. Research recently was transferred from Berkeley to Davis, where a small building has been constructed solely for the study of this disease. At present emphasis is being put on development of a method of diagnosis, a problem of considerable importance and difficulty in view of the great similarity between vesicular exanthema and foot-and-mouth disease. Other problems include the search for suiable immunizing agents and a greater understanding of how it is transmitted.

10. Cattle Breeding. The value and importance of the dairy cattle inbreeding experiments of William M. Regan, which have continued for more than 30 years, were underlined again by 1949 figures on butterfat production. Records of the U.S.D.A. show that 13 percent of the Nation's proved Jersey bulls whose daughters produced more than their dams and averaged 500 or more pounds of butterfat production in 1949 were developed in the University of California experimental herd. Eighty percent of inbred bulls increased milk production in any herd where they were used.

11. Sheep Breeding. An important project aimed at improving the quality of wool from present California flocks is now being started. As a gesture of good will to the university and the American wool industry, the Australian government for the first time in nearly 30 years lifted its embargo on its fine Merino breeding strains. Three rams and nine ewes are being brought to California to begin the long-range breeding experiments. The ultimate objective is to develop a fine-wooled sheep with the superior body conformation of the Rambouillet now common in California and the fleece quality of the Australian Merino, noted for length of staple, bright color and light shrinkage. While it will be years before the Australian blood strain will be in commercial channels, surplus rams produced in cross-breeding experiments at Davis will be made available to cooperating producers for wool improvement projects.

12. Beet Mechanization. The 16-year-old project to mechanize the beet industry from planting to harvesting has continued. The valuable results of this work are well known. Among more recent developments is the processing of all sugar beet seed used in the United States by machines developed at Davis. The equipment produces decorticated seed, which has a much higher rate of germination than the segmented type of seed previously used.

13. Air Age Rice. Agricultural engineers from the Davis campus have played an important part in the recent development of mechanized equipment and plane attachments which have converted rice growing in California to an air age operation. Four plane trips now are commonly made over a rice field in the planting, spraying and fertilization of one crop. Says Professor Roy Bainer: "Never in the history of the world has as much high quality rice been produced per man-hour as now is produced in California each year."

EXTENSION AND INFORMATION SERVICES

The Agricultural Extension Service is the chief medium through which the College of Agriculture puts new research information to work. A few random samples will indicate the scope, size and growth of this work.

1. Seven thousand farmers participated in the extension program as cooperators in local tests and experiments. These tests establish local adaptability of new discoveries in research and serve for demonstration in the local community.

2. Last year 1,231,082 people attended 47,195 informative meetings sponsored by the extension service. This is almost double the 1945 totals of 29,459 meetings with 734,933 attending.

3. Half a million personnel and telephone calls were received from farmers by the various offices of the extension service.

4. Farm and home advisers of the extension service made 120,877 visits to California farms last year—approximately 33 percent more than in 1945.

5. Membership in 4-H clubs has more than doubled, from 10,273 in 1945 to 22,439 at present.

6. Last year research workers on the staff of the College of Agriculture published 11,999 different printed pages of research information for farmers and other researchers.

7. Since 1946 the College of Agriculture has published 245 booklets on agricultural subjects totaling 4,175,000 copies.

8. An incomplete check of California newspapers and other media serving farm audiences in one month produced 1,500 agricultural news items which originated at the College of Agriculture.

9. The distribution of publications to farmers in San Bernardino County, as an example, has increased from an average monthly total of 18,000 before the war to a current average monthly total of 85,000.

10. There has been a marked increase in the work of volunteer leaders, who help the farm advisor bring new methods to the farm and home. The use of volunteer leaders in home economics work has trebled since 1945. In 1945 home advisors held 740 meetings to train leaders and these meetings were attended by 9,142 people. These leaders, in turn, held 5,600 meetings attended by 65,199 people, adults or 4-H Club girls who came to receive instruction in home economics subjects. In 1950, 1,921 leader training meetings were attended by 31,157 leaders; these leaders held 5,913 meetings to instruct 185,324 people.

ORIENTAL FRUIT FLY

Chances of entry into California by the Oriental fruit fly, a deadly crop pest introduced to the Hawaiian Islands during World War II, have been greatly reduced as a result of research by the University of California College of Agriculture, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Hawaiian research agencies.

The fly attacked nearly every living plant in the islands and crippled the Hawaiian fruit industry. Now good fruit is available in Hawaii and the fruit fly is apparently under control.

This has been accomplished through importation of Malayan parasites, found to be natural enemies of the fly. They were cultured and released in infested fields. As a result, populations of the fly have been reduced to the point where Hawaiian agriculture has materially benefited.

In addition to biological control, the project is organized in the following groups: Commodity treatment to kill insects on mature fruit without impairing flavor or appearance; chemical control with insecticides; area control; and studies of the fly's life history, habits and ability to survive in different climates and environments.

Research is being intensified to eliminate the fly as a serious threat to a big segment of mainland agriculture. It is known to be a pest of deciduous and citrus fruits, avocados, vegetables and walnuts, which in California alone brought farmers a gross income of over 400 million dollars in 1949.

University and U. S. D. A. authorities working on the project say that constant vigilance must be maintained to prevent entry and spread of the fly in the states, and warn against relaxing research efforts, especially in view of the national emergency wherein maximum agricultural production is so important.

ORCHARD HEATING

For citrus growers in Southern California frost protection has always been a major problem. Equally important to the city dweller has been that of air pollution.

To meet these conflicting needs, the University of California College of Agriculture as early as 1939 developed the return stack heater, the only bowl type orchard heater now available that needs no cleaning and operates reliably over long periods of time without objectionable smoke—even in mass heating.

Between 1939 and 1948 winters were so mild that orchard heating was little used, and the new heater could not be tested properly, though a variation of the heater was kept in production and sold nationally for indoor use in warehouses and garages.

The severe freezes of the winters of 1948 and 1949 have demonstrated the ability of the return stack heater to give reliable and virtually smokeless orchard heating under the most severe conditions.

The heater's efficiency is such that it could comply with an ordinance four times as stringent as the one Los Angeles passed in 1949 requiring all heaters to be registered and licensed, and limiting the amount of smoke which can be produced. Whereas the smoky heaters must be cleaned after 10 to 15 hours of use, return stack heaters left in the field for several years without cleaning continue to burn efficiently and without smoke.

Present and future shortage of materials and the limited manufacturing facilities make it physically impossible to replace the millions of smoky heaters in Southern California within a year or two. The air pollution boards recommended the replacement this year of one-third of the present heaters with the improved, return-stack type.

SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

The School of Veterinary Medicine has been open since 1948. The building was completed in the fall of 1949. Three classes are now receiving instruction in this building. The fourth class and the curriculum for its training will start in the fall of 1951 when the complete course will then be underway.

The foremost responsibility of the School of Veterinary Medicine is to teach these 200 or more students. One of its greatest contributions will be to turn out fifty-odd veterinarians each year, who will aid in protecting (1) the livestock industry from disease and (2) the public health from animals acting as reservoirs of diseases transmissible from animal to man.

In addition—and perhaps of equal or even greater importance—is the research work on animal diseases in this State.

This covers such widespread maladies as tuberculosis, brucellosis, the recent invasion of Q fever, and a variety of poultry diseases.

The school also operates a veterinary clinic, which has to do with the ailments of individual animals rather than great infections or scourges. Its functions cover not only the saving of these animals but instruction of students in how to do everyday work that relates to the individual animal's health.

One hundred four undergraduates are now enrolled in the school; 42 are in the first year of graduate study toward the D. V. M. degree. Majoring in the pre-veterinary course are 161 others.

As in the past two years, graduate students holding D. V. M.'s from other institutions also are doing specialized work toward additional degrees in several phases of medicine, such as pathology, pharmocology, and surgery.

ACTH AND ARTHRITIS RESEARCH

The recent use of the hormone, ACTH, in the treatment of disease is one of the most dramatic developments in the history of medicine. While it is effective in many diseases, attention has been particularly focused on its use in rheumatoid arthritis, which perhaps causes more infirmity than any other human affliction. Most recently, ACTH has exhibited almost miraculous powers in restoring persons receiving burns similar to those acquired so commonly on the battlefield.

Serious problems remain to be solved, however, before the benefits of ACTH can be fully and widely realized. In recognition of the University of California's unique potentialities for solving these problems —in view of its pioneering work on ACTH, its advanced position and the presence of key personnel in this field—the Legislature last year appropriated funds for a comprehensive attack on these problems. Although funds under this appropriation became available for actual use only a few months ago, rapid progress has already been made.

Berkeley. Dr. C. H. Li, the scientist who first isolated ACTH a few years ago, is making the biochemical approach to the serious problems of scarcity, high cost and the undesirable side effects of ACTH. Of immediate practical significance is his completion this month of a method by which the hormone can be extracted commercially for the first time from sheep glands. The present sole commercial source is hog glands, which are much more expensive than sheep glands. This development will increase the supply and lower the cost of ACTH.

In addition, Dr. Li has made a discovery which may free science from dependence upon scarce animal supplies. He has found that a small fraction of the ACTH chemical has the same effect on disease as ACTH itself. While synthesis of ACTH in the laboratory is hopeless, the fraction has a small enough molecular structure for possible synthesis. Moreover, the fraction may be free of some chemical factors which in ACTH itself produce harmful side effects.

San Francisco Medical Center. A complimentary project has been established under the general supervision of Dr. William J. Kerr for the study of arthritis and allied diseases. Particular emphasis is being placed on testing Dr. Li's products on human patients. Such testing is essential to give meaning and direction to Dr. Li's work. In the few months since funds become available, six hospital beds have been assigned to this work; a laboratory and special diet kitchen have been equipped and staffed; two buildings adjacent to the campus have been purchased and are in process of conversion to laboratories. Some 14 patients have been treated with ACTH and cortisone, and some preliminary tests have been made with materials from Dr. Li.

The existence of this new facility, its equipment and specialist personnel is also making possible advancement in many allied medical fields. For example, an internist working with the arthritis group recently demonstrated that cortisone will restore the ability of the stomach to absorb food in two rare diseases in which this function is impaired.

Existence of regularly supported facilities and personnel is also attracting outside funds for research. For example, two commercial companies each recently presented $25,000 to Dr. Li in support of his work.

MARINE LIFE RESEARCH PROGRAM

In February, 1949, after a year of preparation, the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography assumed a large share of a program primarily for the benefit of the hard-pressed California Sardine industry. In the brief existence of the project—brief in view of the complexity of the problem and its necessarily long-range nature —more data have been collected and analyzed than by an previous oceanographic expedition.

The most important practical outcome of the work so far is the new information on the upwelling of deep ocean waters to the surface. It has been established that upwelling is closely associated with a good supply of food for sardines; and that there is a clear correlation between upwelling and other physical processes and the weather. This data indicates that further research may make possible the achievement of two practical objectives: (1) prediction of a year in advance of the total sardine catch for the following season; (2) prediction of the areas where the major portion of the catch is likely to be found. Steady accumulation of complimentary data should also result in success in a third practical objective: determination of the sardine population from year to year and the causes of fluctuation, as a basis for intelligent management of this fishery.

A broader, long-range significance lies in the collection of basic data on all potential marine food resources. Such data signals the beginning of scientific management of the ocean larder, with possible economic and production benefits comparable to those derived by Californians from agricultural research.

The potential benefits of research and scientific management of the sardine industry can be visualized by a glance at the fluctuations in production: before the war the sardine catch was over 500,000 tons per year; in 1946-47, the catch was less than 100,000 tons; it is now 250,000.

In the collection of their data, Scripps research vessels have made over 40 scientific exploratory cruises, each 2,000 to 2,500 miles long, in an area extending from the mouth of the Columbia River south to Baja California, and from the shore out 400 miles. The area covered comprises 670,000 square miles. Twenty additional cruises have been made by vessels of the California Division of Fish and Game and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which, together with the California Academy of Sciences, are allied with Scripps in the "California Cooperative Sardine Research Program." From some 1,500 hydrographic stations each year important data have been collected on such subjects as: (1) the distribution of sardine eggs and larvae; (2) the temperature at which sardine spawning occurs; the temperature, or "climate," variations in the ocean; (3) the availability and distribution of basic foodstuffs: the nutrient chemicals which nourish marine plant life; the simple marine animals which feed upon the plants and in turn provide food for sardines and other fish; (4) data on other fishes which compete with sardines for food and living space in the ocean. Outstanding in these early stages of the program has been the invention and development of new instruments, instruments which promise to collect oceanographic data more quickly and sometimes with greater accuracy than any ever before devised.

In the event the current emergency, with its effect on manpower, forces curtailment of operations at sea, the most vital seagoing operations nevertheless will be continued. In addition, greater stress will be laid on essential biological work in shore laboratories.

RESEARCH ON MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

With a special fund of $10,000 appropriated last year by the Legislature the department of neurology in the School of Medicine, San Francisco, has initiated a project of research on this elusive disease. Some progress has been made, but a brief summary of the problem of this baffling affliction will show why noteworthy advances can be made only under a long and arduous research program.

So far multiple sclerosis has defied thorough explanation or treatment which is consistently effective and lasting. Currently scientists believe it is caused by a chemical breakdown which starves the spinal cord of oxygen. The disease is quixotic. It strikes almost any single or several sets of nerves. The muscles of the optical system or those used in walking thus may be damaged. The disease sometimes is progressive, with death resulting. Spontaneous recovery occurs frequently, which makes difficult both diagnosis and evaluation of treatment. Sometimes recovery is permanent, sometimes new attacks occur.

Dr. Robert B. Aird, in charge of the project, has done experiments on about a dozen patients with a chemical called sodium succinate. This chemical makes the blood vessels work harder, and theoretically brings more oxygen to the spinal cord. Real benefit seems to have resulted in about half of the cases, although, because spontaneous recovery must be considered, all cases must be followed for years to be sure.

Beyond the immediate goal of alleviating the condition with tools and knowledge we have, Dr. Aird has initiated a program which may give more fundamental knowledge of the disease, and better criteria for diagnosis and treatment.

SANITARY ENGINEERING RESEARCH PROJECT

Just as the problems of traffic and transportation become more acute with population and industrial growth so also do those relating to the collection and disposal of garbage and refuse and the treatment and disposal of sewage and industrial wastes. Increase in population density, particularly in California, in recent years has altered the basic concepts of refuse-disposal economics. Land areas suitable for fills are becoming increasingly scarce and must be located at greater distances from the community. Incineration has become more expensive as a result of measures for protecting the atmosphere from pollution. The possibilities of reclamation are receiving new consideration.

The Sanitary Engineering Research Project, initiated during 1949-50, has already made significant progress in studies of a number of major problems in this field.

The largest study, being conducted at the Lodi, California, Sewage Treatment Plant, is yielding data which will determine the feasibility and economics of spreading water reclaimed from sewage on porous ground or irrigating crops with it for the ultimate replenishment of ground waters. This method is being investigated for possible use in areas in which depletion of ground-water basins has become a serious problem.

Another study concerns over-all practices involved in the collection and disposal of garbage and refuse in 10 California cities. The extensive studies will provide precise engineering data which may be instrumental in improving garbage disposal practices.

In the Los Angeles area studies are yielding important performance data on various types of incinerators. Better design criteria are being sought, with attention to reduction of air pollution.

Other research includes a study of the role of algae in sewage purification and laboratory research on the digestion and composting of organic refuse, boron removal from waste water, measurement of sewage flow, and use of ultrasonic waves for treatment of sewage.

INSTITUTE OF TRANSPORTATION AND TRAFFIC ENGINEERING

In the three years since its establishment, the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering has initiated extremely valuable services for the people and government of California.

Undergraduate Training. Its modernized undergraduate program each semester turns out substantial numbers of men trained in traffic engineering, men for whom there is a ready need in the Division of Highways, county and city engineering departments, and construction companies.

Graduate Work. Its postgraduate training program, the only one of its kind in the Country, is attracting topnotch men who may well be the transportation engineering leaders of tomorrow.

Extension Training. There were some 2,500 enrollments in the institute's extension courses, conferences, and institutes. Through this inservice-training program police, engineers, vehicle operators and others associated with transportation problems were able to improve their knowledge of construction materials, highway design, traffic problems, parking, driver training, airport design, etc.

Community Service. The institute has established a valuable advisory service for public officials and agencies. A recent example is aid to Humboldt County in establishing a county-wide road rating system. Staff members continuously visit counties and cities to acquaint themselves with local problems.

Staff members actively participate in programs of chambers of commerce, municipal and county associations, service clubs, etc., bringing unbiased factual information to the public.

Research. A productive program of research is aimed at both the practical solution of immediate problems; and the amassing of analytical information which will have long-term beneficial results. Examples of problems on which significant progress has been made include cheaper methods of stabilizing earth subgrades, more scientific methods of designing asphaltic pavement mixtures, skid-resistance and roughness of pavements, off-street parking, airport pavement design, actual stresses in bridges under heavy truck loadings, driver behavior and accident causes, speed characteristics on highways, vehicle noise, night visibility, airport use and financing.

RICHMOND FIELD STATION, COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

The establishment last year of the Richmond Field Station represents the culmination of a long period of planning to meet the increasing demands of California's expanding population and industries for more trained engineers and a larger and more diversified program of engineering research services. While the station has been established for only a short time, activities are being moved as rapidly as possible to the new site.

This program at present involves an annual expenditure of over one and one-quarter million dollars, supported largely by industrial and government sponsors. California's growing industrialization and our accelerating defense needs indicate that the program will continue to grow.

Universities throughout the Country with strong engineering colleges are finding it necessary to establish off-campus stations like the new 100-acre Richmond site. Modern research needs for facilities ranging from small laboratories to large-scale pilot plants simply cannot be adequately met on crowded campuses.

The station is ideally suited as headquarters for such projects as the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, the Explosions Research Project, sanitary engineering work on sewage and industrial waste disposal, the wind tunnel for aerodynamic research, the contemplated model basin for river and harbor studies, ship towing tank, and forest products laboratory.

The Richmond Field Station will enlarge the scope of engineering education offered by the university, improve the university type of engineering services to government and industry, and eventually should become one of the great engineering research centers of the Country.

CANCER RESEARCH PROGRAM

Largely as a result of the annual appropriation by the State Legislature, the University of California's integrated state-wide cancer research program in just three years has become one of the largest and most vigorous efforts of its kind in the United States. General progress has been continued during the past year all along the broad cancer front. A few examples of achievement will indicate the scope and depth of the work being done by some 70 projects.

Diagnosis. Many scientists agree that the most important cancer advance in the United States in 1950 was the development at the university's school of medicine, San Francisco, of a simple and effective method of early diagnosis of stomach cancer. This is particularly significant because in the past the majority of stomach cancer cases have not been detected until they become hopeless. As results of this pilot study become widely applied, many lives will be saved.

Treatment. (a) A rotating chair, a device which may result in more effective radiation of certain tumors, has been completed and placed in operation. (b) An improved method for injecting cancer-fighting chemicals, by means of a long tube inserted into the arteries, has been developed. (c) Radioactive colloids have been found to be as effective as radioactive phosphorus in treating some types of leukemia, and studies are now under way to determine if they are superior. (d) A nation-wide study by university scientists of cancer teaching has revealed information that will bring improvements in treatment through better preparation of medical students.

Fundamental Research. Such work is directed at learning the causes of cancer, to help combat and possibly even prevent cancer. (a) Research with the growth hormone has raised the possibility that the pituitary gland produces a cancer-promoting chemical. (b) Body organ and skin grafting experiments have been initiated, to explore possibilities for replacing diseased organs; and to treat skin cancer, which may become more common in atomic attack. (c) A new group of chemicals have been found to interfere with tumor growth in animals, and tests in man will be made this year. (d) The newly activated Cancer Genetics Laboratory has founded mouse colonies from which university scientists all over the State may draw. This laboratory also has initiated a study of hereditary factors in cancer in man, and hereditary resistance to cancer in mice.

The eminence and vigor of the extensive University of California cancer program can be attributed in large measure to the appropriation by the State Legislature of a regular budget for cancer. This provides basic funds for a minimum stable program, assuring continuity essential to progress. It secures unflagging interest in cancer of an outstanding group of scientists, and helps to attract the ablest young scholars with fresh minds and new ideas.

Finally, the continuity and able staff inspire the confidence of outside contributors—private individuals, foundations and federal government agencies. Funds from such sources have more than doubled since the first state appropriation was made.

An additional $159,539 for traineeships, teaching grants and 30 fellowships, brings the 1950 nonstate support to $939,003 in a total cancer budget of $1,208,883. It is estimated that for every dollar invested by the State for cancer research, more than two dollars is attracted from other sources.

These figures do not include large grants attracted by the program for construction, such as: the U. S. Public Health contributions of $1,000,000 for a cancer research area in the new medical center in San Francisco and $700,000 for a similar area in Los Angeles; and the approximately $500,000 from the Atomic Energy Commission for a cancer-fighting synchrotron in San Francisco.

As the toll from cancer increases with the advancing age of the State's population, in the years ahead we may hope for real profits from this program in the form of better health in old age, lower hospitalization and medical costs, and reductions in losses of productivity.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WELFARE, LOS ANGELES

U. C. L. A.'s School of Social Welfare, established as a department in 1947, as a school in 1950, represents the successful culmination of 10 years of planning by faculty members and interested groups in the community. More than that, it offers the same facilities to Southern California that have existed in Northern California since about 1919.

Social welfare is one of the new professions of the 20th century. In some cases it is government supported, in others privately supported.

Its chief aim, in both instances, is to maintain and promote the well-being of all members of society. To do this job efficiently, professionally-trained experts are needed—such as those who are graduated from U. C. L. A.'s School of Social Welfare.

The experience of the great depression of the '30's and the dislocation of families by World War II demonstrated the need of special knowledge and skill for planning and management of welfare services. These needs are likely to grow—not diminish—in the future.

Professional workers are in demand for federal, state and municipal agencies, employment services, mental hygiene societies, child guidance and psychiatric clinics, hospitals, health centers, housing authorities, juvenile and adult courts, correction institutions, probation and parole services, and community chests.

Experience in California, the home of fanciful pension schemes, has demonstrated the value of having university-trained people administer welfare services rather than promoters and opportunists without practical experience.

U. C. L. A.'s School of Social Welfare consists of a two-year graduate course leading to the degree of master of social welfare. It is directed by Dr. Donald S. Howard, formerly of the Russell Sage Foundation in New York City, one of America's most famous philanthropic organizations. His staff consists of 13 top-flight experts in social welfare.

INSTITUTE OF REAL ESTATE

The Legislature appropriated to the University of California as a special item in the 1950 Budget Bill the sum of $150,000 from the surplus in the State Real Estate Fund—available at the rate of $50,000 annually for three years—for the support of an institute of real estate to carry on education and research in the improvement of the real estate profession.

As a result, and with the cooperation of the California Division of Real Estate, the Educational Committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the California Real Estate Association, a coordinated program has been developed under which university extension will organize and carry on area institutes and other off-campus instructional programs. In addition, provision will be made for instruction and research in real estate and urban land economics on the Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses.

With classes scheduled to start in February, 1951, in the Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Diego and San Francisco Bay areas, a comprehensive program of professional education in real estate will bring an even higher degree of working knowledge to one of California's largest professional groups, real estate brokers and salesmen. This program of continuing education leading to a certificate in real estate has been designed for the further improvement of individual brokers and salesmen, and, through them, to raise the standards of the real estate business. The program also offers an opportunity to keep abreast of economic trends and legislation affecting real estate transactions, as well as to act as refresher training. While the program is designed for personnel in the real estate business, it is open to those planning to enter the field. In addition, the program will be of great value to those in related fields.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 22, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate,
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 38, "An act making an appropriation for the purpose of increasing salaries of state employees, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This measure makes an appropriation from the General Fund of $3,679,652 and and estimated appropriation of $939,154 from special funds to provide a one-step salary increase for state employees effective January 1, 1951. This increase has been recommended by the State Personnel Board as being equitable and justified because of increased costs of living.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 38 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

The roll was called.

Motion re Quorum Call

At 3.15 p.m., Senator Desmond moved that the quorum call of the Senate be applied to the final passage of Assembly Bill No. 38.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE ANTICROSS FILING INITIATIVE MEASURE PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 42

SENATE CHAMBER,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 23, 1951

MR. PRESIDENT: The Special Senate Committee to Study Senate Initiative Petition No. 1 has had same under consideration and reports back as follows:

Your committee believes that the adoption of this measure would be a backward step and eliminate the freedom of choice that the voters now have in selecting public officials. California for many years has been free from the blight of party bossism. This is in striking contrast with the situation in many other states. Your committee feels that the freedom of cross-filing now existing in California has been the principle contributor to freeing California from party dictatorship and discipline.

Your committee conducted two hearings upon the subject and listened to arguments from both sides. Those appearing in behalf of the initiative were Mr. John Despol, State CIO, former State Senator, Ed Tickle, Mrs. Richard Kahn, League of Women Voters, San Francisco, Grace Faulkner, California Council of Republican Women, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, Democratic Women's Study Club, Los Angeles. Their entire argument was predicated upon a desire to bring about "party responsibility." At no time was there any emphasis upon the rights and privileges of the voters, nor an indication that the voters would prefer to vote for the individual candidate and what he stands for. One witness, a Mr. George Shellenberger, of Los Angeles appeared against the initiative. His statement in brief was as follows: "I believe the stature of the man himself is the important thing, not whether he is a democrat, a republican, or a member of any particular party. No man should be subject to the omnipotent rule of a party boss."

We believe that cross-filing has been beneficial in its influence upon California politics and political affairs. We believe that it has successfully prevented the establishment of personal or party political machines in the State. We believe that it has enabled the people really to choose officials, who otherwise would have been selected or rejected by professional politicians. At no time did anyone holding public office appear before the committee in support of this measure, but rather, individuals expressing the attitude of party officials who desire to have a greater voice in the selection and the election of candidates to public office.

The committee further points out that practically all civic and labor organizations make their recommendations and endorsements of candidates regardless of party. Your committee realizes that cross-filing has not accomplished all that its originators hoped, but it has on the whole fully justified the labor and the broad hopes of those who were responsible for its adoption, which was considered a progressive step at the time.

The committee believes that the repeal of the cross-filing system will not insure any greater political morality, any higher standards of political leadership, or any increase in political intelligence. On the contrary, in the wake of repeal might arrive the political boss, the political machine and all of its inherent evils.

At the present time the California State Senate operates the business of the Senate, including assignments as chairman of committees and committee membership, strictly on a nonpartisan basis, and committee memberships and chairmanships of committees are based upon seniority and the ability of the individual senator to serve in the capacity in which he is appointed, regardless of his party affiliations. The political complexion of the present Senate is 28 Republicans and 12 Democrats. Should cross-filing be abolished and the Senate be forced to operate strictly on party labels, it would destroy a harmonious and cooperative spirit now prevailing in the State Senate and would seriously endanger what we believe to be a high standard of efficiency maintained by the State Senate in enacting legislation for the benefit of the people.

Therefore, The committee reports back with the recommendation that it be not adopted and the committee recommends that the voters reject this proposal.

Committee Membership:

AYES—Senators Burns, Chairman; Donnelly, Gibson, Jespersen, Harold T. Johnson, Mayo, and Sutton.

NOES—None.

Motion to Adopt Report

Senator Tenney moved that the Senate adopt the report of the Special Senate Committee to Study the Anticross Filing Initiative Measure.

Motion carried.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

INTER-DEPARTMENTAL COMMUNICATION
Date: January 18, 1951

To: Mr. Anson Boyd, State Architect, Office
From: State Department of Public Works—Division of Architecture

Subject: Status and Progress of Division of Fish and Game Projects

Attached for your information is a report relative to the current status of projects for the Division of Fish and Game, which indicates also the progress by the Division of Architecture in handling Fish and Game projects during the past calendar year.

(Signed) HUBERT S. HUNTER
Deputy Chief

STATUS AND PROGRESS OF DIVISION OF FISH AND GAME PROJECTS, JANUARY 18, 1951

The Division of Architecture has made some very satisfactory progress in the prosecution of the design and construction of projects for the Division of Fish and Game. Very frequently there has been an apparent administraitve disorganization within the Division of Fish and Game as evidenced by the necessity for the Division of Architecture to follow upon requesst for transfer of funds. Administratively speaking, it has been difficult for the Division of Architecture to obtain preliminary decisions from the Division of Fish and Game to permit the orderly design of projects.

At the request of the State Architect, the Deputy Chief of the Division of Architecture has devoted considerable time since June, 1950, to expediting Fish and Game projects. It appears that these additional efforts on the part of the State Architect's administrative staff have achieved results, since the Division of Architecture is presently either constructing or has in final stages of design all projects which have been assigned to it.

A report on the current status of all assigned projects of the Division of Fish and Game follows:

1. Improvement Project at Mount Shasta—Work Order No. 2294

Two projects are currently under construction at the Mount Shasta Fish Hatchery. Project No. 1, contract price $68,402, is currently in the construction phose and is approximately 80 percent completed. Construction at the present time has been temporarily stopped due to adverse weather conditions.

Project No. 2, contract price $131,457, involves the construction of a hatchery building and a refrigeration building. This project has been under construction since October 30, 1950. At the present time the construction work has been stopped due to adverse weather conditions at the site.

2. Darrah Springs Fish Hatchery Development—Work Order No. 2387

Funds in the amount of $209,404 have been budgeted for this project. Field surveys and preliminary plans have been completed. However, the property acquisition board has not yet acquired the property, and according to information received from the Division of Fish and Game on January 8, 1951, the property acquisition will not be completed until April or May.

3. Fish Springs Hatchery Development—Work Order No. 2388

The Fish Springs Hatchery Development is a $400,000 project which has been divided into two projects. The first project, consisting of pond and ground developments, contract amount $120,000, is under construction and is approximately 68 percent completed.

Project No. 2 provides for the construction of residences, garage, office building and refrigeration buildings. The design has been completed by the Division of Architecture and will be advertised for bids in January, 1951. Approved of $220,000 for the second portion of Fish Springs Hatchery Development was given by the Public Works Board on January 15, 1951.

4. Moccasin Creek Fish Hatchery

The 1950-51 Budget provides funds in the amount of $246,700 for this development. The site has been surveyed and a preliminary plan satisfactory to the Division of Fish and Game has been prepared. The hatchery will be constructed on leased land and at this time a lease has not been negotiated for the site.

5. San Joaquin Hatchery

No program for this hatchery development has been submitted to the Division of Architecture by the Division of Fish and Game.

6. Crystal Lake Fish Hatchery—Work Order No. 1788—Project No. 3

Funds in the amount of $241,500 have been provided in the 1950-51 Budget for this project. However, design of the project has been held up pending the control of certain fish disease connected with this site. The Division of Architecture has prepared a preliminary layout based on a program received from the Division of Fish and Game during the past month. Because of the similarity of other hatcheries, a minimum of planning and design will be required for this project.

7. Tahoe Rearing Ponds

Funds in the amount of $210,000 have been provided in the 1950-51 Budget. No development program has been received from the Division of Fish and Game. However, a property survey has been made for the site. On January 15, 1951, the Public Works Board gave approval to purchase additional property adjacent to the present site.

8. Whittier Fish Hatchery

No funds have been budgeted for this project and no program has been received from the Division of Fish and Game.

9. Cedar Creek Fish Hatchery

The 1950-51 Budget provides funds in the amount of $119,565 for this project. The Division of Fish and Game has classified this as a pending project and states that the funds will probably be used in the construction of a stream improvement and maintenance depot rather than for a fish hatchery.

10. Mojave River Fish Hatchery—Work Order No. 2226 and No. 2405—Raceway Rearing Ponds

Construction of the additional ponds was completed during the latter part of 1950 at a contract price of $29,383.

The Division of Architecture has practically completed plans for three residences and appurtenant utilities and this work will be submitted for bidding during January, 1951. Funds in the amount of $36,000 have been budgeted for this latter work.

11. Burnt Ranch Falls Improvement—Work Order No. 2396

This project was for the improvement of facilities to permit fish to pass channel barriers. The work was completed by day labor forces in October, 1950, at an approximate cost of $8,000.

12. Canyon Creek Dam Fishway

This is a fishway project near Del Loma for which the division submitted preliminary plans to the Division of Fish and Game several months ago. No further work has been requested of the Division of Architecture.

13. Bennett and Smith Dam Fishway

Complete working plans for this fishway at the forks of the Salmon River were sent to the Division of Fish and Game on September 29, 1950, with the recommendation that the work be performed by the Division of Fish and Game. No further assistance has been requested of the Division of Architecture.

14. Sutter Butte Dam Fishway—Work Order No. 2376

A contract in the amount of $41,796 was awarded for the construction of this fishway. The project is presently 12 percent complete and at the present time is shut down due to adverse weather conditions.

15. Daguerre Point Dam Fishway—Work Order No. 2333

This project consists of the construction of two fishways for which funds in the amount of $100,000 were initially set up. Advantageous bidding and economical design resulted in an award for the work of a contract in the amount of $45,990. Consequently the Division of Architecture was enabled to return $35,360 to the Division of Fish and Game over and above all expenses for A & E contingency, etc. At the present time, construction work is 82 percent complete, but is now closed down for the winter.

16. Cape Horn Dam Fishway—Work Order No. 2350

Funds in the amount of $5,000 have been budgeted for the project. The division has completed some preliminary studies and has made recommendations to the Division of Fish and Game. There has been no definite program established for this project, and no further work has at the present time been requested of the Division of Architecture.

17. Construction of Hangar at Sacramento Airport—Work Order No. 2193

Funds in the amount of $25,000 were established for the construction of an aircraft hangar at Sacramento Municipal Airport. Work is presently 95 percent complete. Some delays were encountered in the design program of this facility in the offices of the contract architect.

18. Laboratory Project—Berkeley—Work Order No. 1781

At the present time, the Division of Architecture is not progressing with this project inasmuch as the Division of Fish and Game has advised of a contemplated change in the design program.

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Printing of Information Concerning Legislative Representatives in the Senate Journal, No. 5549

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, January 23, 1951

HON. GEORGE J. HATFIELD,
Senate Chamber

QUESTION

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: You have asked whether a Senate Resolution which limits the amounts of information to be published in the Journal of the Senate concerning legislative representatives would be in conflict with Section 9906 of the Government Code, and if so, what would be the effect of the resolution.

OPINION

A resolution limiting the information to be published in the Senate Journal to less than that specified in Section 9906 of the Government Code would apparently conflict with Section 9906, but the Senate is not bound by Section 9906 and the resolution would prevail over the statute.

Section 9906 of the Government Code reads in part:

"(b) All information required to be filed under the provisions of this section with the Clerk of the Assembly and the Secretary of the Senate shall be compiled by said clerk and secretary, acting jointly, as soon as practicable after the close of the calendar month with respect to which such information is filed and shall be printed in the Journal of Senate and the Journal of the Assembly if the Legislature is in session and if it is not in session as soon as practicable after the Legislature next convenes."

The information specified by this section includes the detailed statement made by the legislative representative upon registration, the letters of authorization of the legislative representative, and the monthly reports of the legislative representative.

A Senate resolution which limited the publication in the Journal of the Senate of any less information than this would apparently conflict with the statute. Section 10 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California provides that each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and specifies certain information to be included therein. In the normal course of events, each house of the Legislature has complete control over its journal, and all entries therein, subject to constitutional provisions not applicable in this situation.

The question thus becomes whether or not the 1951 houses of the Legislature are divested of the power to prescribe by rule what is to be included in their respective journals by the enactment of Section 9906 by the 1950 Legislature.

We think that the case of Tayloe v. Davis (1924), 212 Ala. 282, 40 A. L. R. 1052, is ample precedent for the proposition that the 1951 Legislature has not been deprived of such power. In this case, the Alabama legislature had incorporated in a statute a rule of procedure as to passage of certain types of acts. The court, in considering the validity of the rule, said:

"The rule is incorporated in the statute. Future legislatures are invited though not bound to readopt and to adhere to it in dealing with budget bills * * *. Being a rule of procedure it expires with the legislature adopting it unless readopted by future legislatures."

We, therefore, are of the opinion that Section 9906 of the Government Code, insofar as it purports to direct the publication of matter in the Journal of the Senate, merely establishes a rule of procedure which is not binding upon the present Legislature. It follows then that a Senate resolution specifying what information is to be published in the Senate Journal would prevail over the provisions of Section 9906 of the Government Code.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS
Legislative Counsel

Senator George J. Hatfield, Chairman
Interim Committee on Livestock and Agriculture

MY DEAR SENATOR: Attached herewith you will find a resolution covering the action taken by the annual meeting of the Livestock Department of California Farm Bureau Federation at Long Beach on November 14th. We feel very strongly the urgency of leaving no possible stone unturned in order to effectively close the door to any potential outbreak of foot and mouth disease on our side of the Mexican border.

We feel the action taken by the Senate Committee on Livestock and Dairies proposing to send Dr. Duckworth and Dr. Traum to Europe for further study and observation an essential move in this direction.

On behalf of the Livestock Department of California Farm Bureau Federation therefore, we urge that this action be supported by other livestock groups in California as well as our own.

Sincerely yours,

Effect of Rule Amendments on Functions of Legislative Auditor in Registering Legislative Representatives—No. 5562

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD:

Question

You have asked us to analyze the effect of rule amendments on the functions of the Legislative Auditor in registering legislative representatives, and particularly whether the duty of compiling and publishing information and reports rests on the Legislative Auditor or the Secretary of the Senate.

Opinion

The effect of the rule amendments during January of this year is to place the duty of filing and keeping the information submitted by legislative representatives, on the Legislative Auditor, and to place the duty of compiling such reports and information and having them printed, upon the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Analysis

Section 9900 of the Government Code provides in part:

"9900. When used in this chapter * * *

(d) The term "clerk" means the Chief Clerk of the Assembly of the State of California or such other person as the most recent Rules of the Assembly then designate, and the term "secretary" means the Secretary of the Senate of the State of California or such other person as the most recent Rules of the Senate then designate."

During January the Senate adopted Senate Resolution No. 11 which added a new rule to the Standing Rules of the Senate, which reads:

"9.7. Pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 9900 of the Government Code, the Legislative Auditor is hereby designated as the person embraced by the definition of "Secretary" set forth in that section." (Senate Daily Journal, January 23, 1951, p. 489.)

The Assembly adopted a similar rule as Rule 12.5 of the Permanent Standing Rules of the Assembly for the 1951 Regular Session. (Assembly Daily Journal, January 10, 1951, p. 186.)

Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 2 of the Government Code imposes two duties upon the "clerk" and "secretary," namely, (1) receiving, filing and keeping information and reports from persons soliciting and receiving funds and from persons acting as legislative representatives, and (2) compiling for printing information and reports filed by legislative representatives.

The Senate and Assembly Rules cited above, standing alone, would have designated the Legislative Auditor as the person to perform these duties. However, Rule 37.5 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly provides:

"37.5. In addition to the duties hereinabove prescribed the Legislative Auditor is directed, so long as he is designated to be "clerk" or "secretary" pursuant to Section 9900(d) of the Government Code, to assign one or more members of his staff to carry out the filing duties imposed by Sections 9900 through 9907 of the Government Code, but he shall undertake no duties which are not specifically authorized by the Joint Rules, by contracts entered into pursuant to such rules, or by direction of the Legislative Budget Committee." (Senate Daily Journal, January 23, 1951, p. 449.)

Rule 37.5 appears to serve two purposes. First, it supplements the powers of the Legislative Auditor by authorizing him to assign members of his staff to carry out the filing duties required by Sections 9900 to 9907 of the Government Code, and second, restricts the duties of the Legislative Auditor as such in carrying out the duties of the "clerk" and "secretary" under said sections, to the ministerial task of filing the information.

We do not think the term "filing" as used in Rule 37.5 is broad enough to cover the compiling required of the "clerk" and "secretary," and we are aware of no joint rule, contract pursuant to the Joint Rules, or direction of the Legislative Budget Committee, which would authorize the Legislative Auditor to make the compilation.

It is our opinion, therefore, that the rules of the houses of the Legislature do not specify any person to carry out the duties of compiling the reports and information, and therefore such duties remain in the Chief Clerk of the Assembly and the Secretary of the Senate, acting jointly.

Insofar as the printing of the compiled information is concerned, Section 9906 of the Government Code does not place the duty of printing upon any specific person. The manner of inclusion of the information in the journals then, is left to the respective houses of the Legislature. (Sec. 10, Art. IV, California Constitution.)

Rule 9 of the Standing Rules of the Senate provides that the Secretary of the Senate shall keep a correct journal of the proceedings of the Senate, and places the duty on the Secretary of superintending all printing done for the Senate. Rule 52 of said rules directs the said Secretary to order the necessary printing for the Senate.

From these rules it would appear that the duty of having the compiled information printed in the Journal of the Senate is on the Secretary of the Senate.

Rules 12 and 14 of the Standing Rules of the Assembly appear to place a similar duty upon the Chief Clerk of the Assembly in regard to printing the compiled information in the Assembly Journal.

Very truly yours,

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, March 12, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Reapportionment—No. 5810

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: You have asked whether Congress has the authority to place restrictions on the manner in which a state is divided into congressional districts.

In our opinion it has.

Section 4 of Article I of the United States Constitution provides in part as follows:

> "The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each state by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators."

It is well established by decisions of the United States Supreme Court that the above-quoted constitutional provision gives Congress general supervisory power over the subject of elections of Representatives in Congress, including the manner in which a state is divided into congressional districts (Smiley v. Holm, 285 U. S. 355; Ex parte Siebold, 100 U. S. 371; Ex parte Yarbrough, 110 U. S. 651).

From time to time there have existed requirements in the federal law that congressional districts be as nearly equal as possible in population. There is no such federal law at the present time (Wood v. Broom, 287 U. S. 1; Colegrove v. Green, 328 U. S. 549).

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, August 22, 1950

Analysis of Laws Relating to Reapportionment—No. 2241

Congressional Districts

The provisions of law relating to reapportionment of congressional districts are Sections 2 and 4 of Article I of the United States Constitution, Section 2 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, the federal apportionment act (2 U. S. C. Sec. 2a), and Section 27 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

Sections 2 and 4 of Article I of the United States Constitution and Section 2 of the Fourteenth Amendment provide that representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, excluding Indians not taxed. The enumeration of population must be made once each 10 years. The number of representatives cannot exceed one for every 30,000 people, but each state is entitled to at least one representative. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for representatives is to be prescribed by each state legislature, but Congress may also make regulations relating thereto.

The House of Representatives consists of 435 members (Sections 2 and 2a of Title 2 of the United States Code). This number may be increased or decreased by act of Congress.

Section 2a of Title 2 of the United States Code provides for the time and manner of reapportionment of representatives.

Under that section, the President will deliver to the Eighty-second Congress a statement of the number of representatives to which each state will be entitled under an apportionment based on the 1950 census. This statement will be delivered to Congress within a week after it convenes in 1951. This date will probably be within one week after January 3, 1951, as Congress customarily convenes on January 3d in accordance with the provisions of the Twentieth Amendment to the Federal Constitution. The governor of each state will then be notified within 15 days of the number of representatives to which that state will be entitled in the Eighty-third Congress which will convene in 1953.

We have been unable to find any express direction in either the Constitution or laws of this State as to when the reformation of congressional districts shall be made. Section 27 of Article IV of our Constitution prescribes how congressional districts shall be formed but it does not specify when. Presumably, however, the reformation of congressional districts will be made by the Legislature during the 1951 General Session at the same time that the reformation of senatorial and assembly districts takes place, since Section 10500 of the Elections Code provides that one representative shall be elected for each congressional district at each general election and makes no provision for the election of representatives at large.

Section 27 of Article IV of our Constitution which governs the formation of congressional districts provides:

1. When a congressional district is composed of two or more counties, it shall not be separated by a county belonging to another district.

2. No county, or city and county, shall be divided in forming a congressional district so as to attach one portion of a county, or city and county, to another county, or city and county, except in cases where one county, or city and county, has more population than the ratio required for one or more congressmen.
3. The Legislature may divide any county, or city and county, into as many congressional districts as it may be entitled to by law.
4. Any county, or city and county, with a population greater than the number required for one congressional district shall be formed into one or more districts according to its population. Any residue left after the formation of such congressional district or districts, shall be attached by compact adjoining assembly districts, to a contiguous county or counties, to form another congressional district.
5. In dividing a county, or city and county, into congressional districts, no assembly district shall be divided so as to form a part of more than one congressional district.
6. Every congressional district shall be composed of compact contiguous assembly districts.

Until the congressional districts are reformed after the reapportionment, the election of representatives will be governed by subsection (c) of Section 2a, of Title 2 of the United States Code, which provides in part:

"(1) If there is no change in the number of representatives, they shall be elected from the districts then prescribed by the law of such state, and if any of them are elected from the state at large they shall continue to be so elected;

(2) If there is an increase in the number of representatives, such additional representative or representatives shall be elected from the state at large and the other representatives from the districts then prescribed by the law of such state;

(3) If there is a decrease in the number of representatives but the number of districts in such state is equal to such decreased number of representatives, they shall be elected from the districts then prescribed by the law of such state;

(4) If there is a decrease in the number of representatives but the number of districts in such state is less than such number of representatives, the number of representatives by which such number of districts is exceeded shall be elected from the state at large and the other representatives from the districts then prescribed by the law of such state; or

(5) If there is a decrease in the number of representatives and the number of districts in such state exceeds such decreased number of representatives, they shall be elected from the state at large."

The present division of the State into congressional districts is made by Section 470 of the Government Code.

Senatorial and Assembly Districts

Section 6 of Article IV of our State Constitution governs the formation of senatorial and assembly districts.

Under that section, the Legislature will adjust the districts and reapportion the representation at the 1951 Regular Session of the Legislature. The 1950 Federal Census will serve as the basis for such adjustment. In making such adjustments no persons who are not eligible to become citizens of the United States under the naturalization laws, shall be counted as forming a part of the population of any district.

In the event that the Legislature fails to adjust the districts at the 1951 Regular Session, a Reapportionment Commission, consisting of the Lieutenant Governor (Chairman), the Attorney General, the State Controller, the Secretary of State, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will forthwith make the adjustment, subject, however, to the same provisions of referendum as apply to acts of the Legislature.

A. Senatorial Districts. With particular reference to senatorial districts, Section 6 of Article IV provides:

1. The State shall be divided into 40 senatorial districts.
2. The senatorial districts shall be composed of contiguous territory.
3. Each senatorial district shall choose one Senator.
4. The senatorial districts shall be numbered from 1 to 40, inclusive, in numerical order, commencing at the northern and ending at the southern boundary of the State.
5. In the formation of senatorial districts no county, or city and county, shall be divided, nor shall a part of any county, or city and county, be united with any other county, or city and county.
6. No county, or city and county, shall contain more than one senatorial district.
7. The counties of small population shall be grouped in senatorial districts of not to exceed three counties in any one district.

The present division of the State into senatorial districts is made by Section 480 of the Government Code.

B. Assembly Districts. With particular reference to assembly districts, Section 6 of Article IV provides:

1. The State shall be divided into 80 assembly districts.
2. The assembly districts shall be composed of contiguous territory.
3. Each assembly district shall choose one member of Assembly.
4. The assembly districts shall be numbered from 1 to 80, inclusive, in numerical order, commencing at the northern and ending at the southern boundary of the State.
5. Assembly districts shall be as nearly equal in population as may be.
6. In the formation of assembly districts no county, or city and county, shall be divided unless it contains sufficient population within itself to form two or more districts.
7. No part of any county, or city and county, shall be united with any other county, or city and county, in forming any assembly district.

The present division of the State into assembly districts is made by Section 491 of the Government Code.

MY DEAR MR. BEEK: The receipt is acknowledged of your letter dated January 23, 1951, and of the copy of Senate Joint Resolution No. 6 enclosed therewith, relating to the All American Canal project.

The subject of the above mentioned resolution has received careful consideration previously by this department.

It is the view of this department that the functions of making the physical deliveries of water to Mexico and of operating and maintaining the facilities used in that connection are among the domestic obligations of this government under the United States-Mexican Water Treaty of 1944. The question of whether these functions are required to be performed by a federal agency or whether they may be performed by a state or a local agency was considered to be a matter for determination by the Secretary of the Interior since they are directly related to the matter of control of the facilities. The Department of the Interior is the federal agency which is charged with retaining ownership and control of the facilities. The operation and maintenance of the facilities are not matters with which the department is concerned beyond being assured of the fulfillment of the treaty or other international obligations of this government to Mexico.

Sincerely yours,

RE: H. R. No. 77, 1950 First Extraordinary Session

Hon. Joseph A. Beek
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BEEK: Under date of January 3, 1951, we forwarded to you six copies of a report which had been prepared in accordance with the request contained in House Resolution No. 77. By this resolution the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, was requested to make a survey to establish the most feasible location for a state highway route from State Highway Route 2 in the vicinity of Reseda Boulevard to State Highway Route 60 in the vicinity of Santa Monica and Sunset Boulevard, and to report thereon to the Assembly not later than January 15, 1951.

By reason of typographical errors in the report forwarded to you on January 3, 1951, it has been necessary to make certain corrections. There are attached hereto six copies of the corrected report. Will you please substitute these six copies for the ones that were forwarded on January 3d and destroy the copies forwarded to you at that time.

Very truly yours,

C. H. PURCELL, Director of Public Works

Mr. Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BEEK: This will acknowledge your memo of January 23, 1951, with accompanying copy of Senate Resolution No. 81, relative to expediting the production and distribution of legislative measures introduced prior to recessing on January 23d.

In 1947, 4,425 measures were introduced in 23 legislative days and 10 additional days were required to complete the printing of the bills, or 33 days in all. In 1949, 4,939 measures were introduced in 21 legislative days and 10 additional days again were required to complete the printing of the bills, or 31 days in all. The record breaking total of 5,320 measures were introduced at this 1951 session in 12 legislative days. We are hopeful we can again clean up the printing of this great quantity of bills in a 10-day period, making a total of only 22 working days to handle a much greater volume of work, as contrasted with the efforts of the 1947 and 1949 general sessions.

Yours very truly,

PAUL E. GALLAGHER, State Printer

Construction Program.

Mr. Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
The Senate, California State Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: I transmit herewith, as directed, copy of the action taken by the Los Angeles City Council on February 20, 1951, and a copy of a resolution adopted by the council on the same date relative to the construction of freeways in the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area.

The action of the council refers to a report of the city engineer concerning this matter. Accordingly, a copy of this report dated January 19, 1951, is also included herewith. The report explains in detail the background of the action taken by the council.

It is requested that you take appropriate steps to bring this action and resolution to the attention of the Members of the Senate.

Yours very truly,

LLOYD ALDRICH, City Engineer

FRESNO COUNTY AND CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, February 21, 1951

Lt. Governor Goodwin J. Knight
President, California State Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. KNIGHT: Because the proposal to increase the federal taxes on wines by 150 percent to 233 percent is so entirely out of line with other tax increase proposals with which you are familiar, our chamber has voiced its opposition to the proposed tax by adopting the attached resolution.

Also, because the proposed tax would amount to the startling sums of $80 to $120 per ton on grapes, it becomes immediately apparent that the entire grape and wine industry of California would be thrown out of balance and the wine industry could not survive under such a tax load. Therefore, may we suggest that the California Legislature prepare a protest and memorialize the Congress of the United States not to enact a tax bill that is so unwisely conceived that it would endanger the whole economy of California's great grape industry.

Thanking you in advance, we remain

Very truly yours,
FRESNO COUNTY & CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
CARL A. DOUGHERTY, Secretary

RESOLUTION

Fresno County and City Chamber of Commerce

WHEREAS, The economic welfare of Fresno County and of the entire State of California depends primarily on agriculture; and

WHEREAS, The growing of grapes, raisins and wines is a key part of the State's economy and the most important division of the great California fruit growing industry, alone providing employment for 111,000 workers and returning over $156,000,000 to growers in 1950; and

WHEREAS, The capital investment of the grape and wine industry, which includes 167,429 acres of vineyards and 33 bonded wineries and bonded storerooms, in Fresno County alone amounts to $145,078,000; and

WHEREAS, The average annual farm value of the grape crop of California for the past four years has been $33.88 per fresh ton and during recent years the grape crop of Fresno County has had an annual farm value of $49,675,000 with wine production in the county being valued at $37,404,000 annually; and

WHEREAS, The grape and wine industry of the county affords year-round employment to 19,400 persons who annually receive some $39,885,000 in wages; and

WHEREAS, The grape and wine industry has been placed in danger of economic ruin by recent recommendations to Congress that the present excise tax on table and dessert wines be increased by 150 percent to 233 percent, increases far exceeding those proposed for other beverages; and

WHEREAS, This would mean an increase in the federal tax burden on grapes from the present $24 to $48 per ton to the prohibitive figures of $80 to $120 a ton, which would be far out of proportion to the taxes borne by other farm commodities; and

WHEREAS, These tax increases, if enacted, would place wine in a luxury category and out of the reach of middle and low income groups now constituting 80 percent of the wine market and would completely disrupt orderly marketing of wine and destroy the largest single commercial outlet for grapes, thereby forcing a large part of the wine tonnage onto the raisin segment of the grape industry which in turn would face ruin because of over production of raisins; and

WHEREAS, Such increases by destroying the grape and wine industry's ability to survive economically would lead to diminishing returns and not contribute to the national welfare, but rather they would eliminate an important present source of federal tax revenues; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Fresno County and City Chamber of Commerce goes on record as opposing the unfair, discriminatory and excessive increases in federal excise taxes on wines proposed February 5, 1951; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the House of Representatives Committee on Ways and Means, to all members of the State's congressional delegation, to the California Farm Bureau Federation and to the presiding officers of the California Senate and Assembly, which latter officials shall be requested to encourage the Legislature to memorialize the United States Congress to oppose the proposed discriminatory federal tax increases on wine.

Adopted by the Agricultural Committee on February 14, 1951, and approved by the Board of Directors of the Fresno County and City Chamber of Commerce on February 16, 1951.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WAY

Mr. President:

It is a pleasure and an honor, on behalf of the citizens of the Redwood Empire—San Francisco and Northbay Counties—and their Redwood Empire and Shoreline Highway Associations—to present to you this redwood burl gavel.

It is fashioned from a burl taken from a 2,000 year old giant redwood tree, standing in one of many redwood forests, covering an area of 2,100,000 acres—52 billion board feet of standing timber (97 percent of the world's redwood stand) more than one-fifth of all remaining timber in California.

With this gavel goes the best wishes of the Redwood Empire Builders—for a profitable and successful second session of the 1951 State Legislature—and with the hope that the State Highway System may be brought to adequate and safe standard at the earliest possible moment.

My colleagues—the legislators representing Redwood Empire counties—Northbay and San Francisco—join me in extending heartiest greetings.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Dillinger:

Senate Resolution No. 89

Relating to lobby activities

WHEREAS, There has appeared in numerous newspapers, magazines and other publications articles, couched in varying language, but all intimating that at some unspecified time in the past some unnamed and unspecified State Senator has crawled on the floor in a most abject and cringing manner before a certain lobbyist or legislative representative, also unnamed but apparently the representative of certain liquor interests, the reason therefor apparently being, as suggested in said articles, that said Senator had offended said lobbyist; and

WHEREAS, It is generally believed by those in position to know that these sensational stories are based only on a freak election bet, and that no such action by any Senator ever took place; but

WHEREAS, This situation unjustly leaves a cloud upon each and every Member of the California Senate; and

WHEREAS, If the publications publishing such articles, or any persons, have any knowledge of the actual occurrence of such a reprehensible act, it is their plain duty to name such Senator, so that he may be properly dealt with and the good name of the remaining members cleared; and

WHEREAS, These articles have been quoted or published by the St. Louis Dispatch, the Sacramento Bee, press releases of the Kefauver Committee, and many others, all having great influence and a public following; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That we call upon them and all others, to make known the name of such State Senator, if they actually know of any such, or if the whole thing be only a hoax or a bit of sensational journalism, to make that known, so that the entire membership of the California State Senate may not be smeared unjustly.

WHEREAS, It has already brought great joy to Judge and Mrs. Thomas F. Keating in the birth of a son on March 13, 1951, at San Rafael; and

WHEREAS, Young Master Thomas F. Keating, Junior, is heir to a name distinguished in this State by his father's service as an able and conscientious Member of this Senate, and his continuance in the public service on the superior court bench in Marin County; and

WHEREAS, The arrival of the youngest Keating should be duly noted and rejoiced in by this Senate; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate of the State of California extend a hearty welcome to young Thomas F. Keating, Junior, and sincere congratulations to Judge and Mrs. Keating on the happy reception of this new member into their family; and be it further

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Union, through its one hundred years of existence has earned for itself a wealth of fine traditions and the gratitude of the people of the Pacific Coast for faithful service in the field of collecting and dispensing information; and

WHEREAS, Among other claims to fame the Sacramento Union was an active supporter of the Federal Government, at the time of the Civil War, and took the lead in keeping the State of California in the column of loyal states rather than permitting it to yield to the pressure of friends from the south who urged that it join the Confederacy; and

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Union has numbered among other distinguished contributors that famous American humorist, Mark Twain and has been commended by numerous distinguished writers and persons of note, among them General Douglas MacArthur and Winston Churchill; and

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Union has served its readers not only in the matter of the purveyance of information but has exercised courageous leadership for those public causes which it has deemed worthy of support; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Sacramento Union be congratulated upon its one hundredth birthday, and that the members of this body extend to it their heartiest good wishes for the future; and be it further

Relative to requesting the Legislative Counsel to appear in certain prospective litigation involving the power of the Legislature in relation to fish and game

WHEREAS, The Attorney General of the State of California has recently rendered three opinions which call into question the extent and nature of the power of the Legislature to legislate upon matters relating to fish and game; and

WHEREAS, In one of said opinions the Attorney General concludes that the Wild Life Conservation Act of 1947 is unconstitutional in all of its essential features and in another opinion concluded that Senate Bill No. 223 now pending before the Legislature is also unconstitutional in all of its essential features; and

WHEREAS, These opinions would, if valid, seriously impede the efforts of the Legislature to provide for a comprehensive program of recreation and wild life conservation and restrict the power of the Legislature to regulate and control the administration of the fish and game laws; and

WHEREAS, These matters are of vital interest to the people of the State and to the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, It is contemplated that litigation will be instituted to test the validity of the Attorney General's conclusions in these respects and it is necessary that in such case the interests of the Legislature and of this Senate be fully presented to the courts in order that the issues be properly determined; and

WHEREAS, In one of said opinions the Attorney General has questioned the validity of the provisions of the Wild Life Conservation Act of 1947 providing for a legislative investigating committee to conduct a continuing survey of the operations under said act, thus calling into question the power of the Legislature to provide for such committees; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Legislative Counsel is hereby requested to appear in any litigation which might arise concerning the validity of the opinions of the Attorney General hereinabove referred to in such capacity as the situation may seem to him to warrant.

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to reject H. R. 2982; and be it further

Relative to the augmentation of funds of the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That in addition to any money heretofore made available to the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities (created by Senate Resolution No. 75, 1947 Regular Session and continued by Senate Resolution No. 137, 1949 Regular Session), the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Senate for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said contingent fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Brown asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up Senate Resolution No. 95, at this time, for consideration.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 95

Senate Resolution No. 95

Relative to requesting the Legislative Counsel to appear in certain prospective litigation involving the power of the Legislature in relation to fish and game

WHEREAS, The Attorney General of the State of California has recently rendered three opinions which call into question the extent and nature of the power of the Legislature to legislate upon matters relating to fish and game; and

WHEREAS, In one of said opinions the Attorney General concludes that the Wild Life Conservation Act of 1947 is unconstitutional in all of its essential features and in another opinion concluded that Senate Bill No. 223 now pending before the Legislature is also unconstitutional in all of its essential features; and

WHEREAS, These opinions would, if valid, seriously impede the efforts of the Legislature to provide for a comprehensive program of recreation and wild life conservation and restrict the power of the Legislature to regulate and control the administration of the fish and game laws; and

WHEREAS, These matters are of vital interest to the people of the State and to the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, It is contemplated that litigation will be instituted to test the validity of the Attorney General's conclusions in these respects and it is necessary that in such case the interests of the Legislature and of this Senate be fully presented to the courts in order that the issues be properly determined; and

WHEREAS, In one of said opinions the Attorney General has questioned the validity of the provisions of the Wild Life Conservation Act of 1947 providing for a legislative investigating committee to conduct a continuing survey of the operations under said act, thus calling into question the power of the Legislature to provide for such committees; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Legislative Counsel is hereby requested to appear in any litigation which might arise concerning the validity of the opinions of the Attorney General hereinabove referred to in such capacity as the situation may seem to him to warrant.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Brown, adopted.

Sacramento, March, 1951

To HON. GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, President of the Senate and HON. SAM L. COLLINS, Speaker of the Assembly

Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 28 of the 1949 Regular Session of the Legislature, creating an Interim Committee on the State Program for the Adult Blind, we hand you herewith our report covering the activities of the committee, which you will find contains under Section I information gathered by the committee and listed in seven separate subheads in the table of contents of this report, and likewise the conclusions and the recommendations of the committee.

We believe the work of the committee has furthered the principle contained in the resolution creating the committee; namely, the assisting in developing a program of (1) the proper orientation of the blind, particularly the newly blind, and (2) the training of blind adults to the end that they may become self-supporting citizens and not dependent upon state aid, and (3) the adoption of new policies that are necessary to permit the full use of any methods and techniques to achieve these ends. The committee has various recommendations to carry out this program via two methods: one, by an improved method of administration practices by the various state departments dealing with blind adults; the other, certain legislation clarifying state policies relative to the program for the adult blind.

We trust this report will be of assistance to the Legislature and all interested citizens in understanding the adult blind program in California.

Respectfully submitted,

JOINT INTERIM COMMITTEE ON STATE PROGRAM FOR THE ADULT BLIND, S. C. R. No. 28

JACK B. TENNEY, State Senator
HAROLD T. JOHNSON, State Senator
KATHRYN T. NIEHOUSE, Member of the Assembly

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 89, AS AMENDED

Senate Resolution No. 89, as Amended

Relating to lobby activities

WHEREAS, There has appeared in numerous newspapers, magazines and other publications articles, couched in varying language, but all intimating that at some unspecified time in the past some unnamed and unspecified State Senator has crawled on the floor in a most abject and cringing manner before a certain lobbyist or legislative representative, also unnamed but apparently the representative of certain liquor interests, the reason therefor apparently being, as suggested in said articles, that said Senator had offended said lobbyist; and

WHEREAS, It is generally believed by those in position to know that these sensational stories are based only on a freak election bet, and that no such action by any Senator ever took place; but

WHEREAS, This situation unjustly leaves a cloud upon each and every Member of the California Senate; and

WHEREAS, If the publications publishing such articles, or any persons, have any knowledge of the actual occurrence of such a reprehensible act, it is their plain duty to name such Senator, so that he may be properly dealt with and the good name of the remaining members cleared; and

WHEREAS, These articles have been quoted or published by the St. Louis Post Dispatch, the Sacramento Bee, press material of the Kefauver Committee, and many others, all having great influence and a public following; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That we call upon them and all others, to make known the name of such State Senator, if they actually know of any such, or if the whole thing be only a hoax or a bit of sensational journalism, to make that known, so that the entire membership of the California State Senate may not be smeared unjustly.

Resolution read, and passed on file at the request of Senator Dillinger.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE OF SENATE BILL NO. 1465

Senator Mayo moved that Senate Bill No. 1465 be withdrawn from Committee on Governmental Efficiency for purpose of amendment, and be re-referred to committee.

Senate Resolution No. 89, as Amended

Relating to lobby activities

WHEREAS, There has appeared in numerous newspapers, magazines and other publications articles, couched in varying language, but all intimating that at some unspecified time in the past some unnamed and unspecified State Senator has crawled on the floor in a most abject and cringing manner before a certain lobbyist or legislative representative, also unnamed but apparently the representative of certain liquor interests, the reason therefor apparently being, as suggested in said articles, that said Senator had offended said lobbyist; and

Sec. 16. Restrictions. No licensee or other person shall advertise, print, display, publish, distribute, or broadcast or cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, or broadcast, in any manner whatsoever any statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms, or conditions for making or negotiating loans, which is false, misleading, or deceptive, or, in the case of a licensee, which refers to the supervision of such business by the State of California or any department or official thereof. The commissioner may order any licensee to desist from any conduct which he shall find to be a violation of the foregoing provisions.

The commissioner may require that rates of charge, if stated by a licensee, be stated fully and clearly in such manner as he may deem necessary to prevent misunderstanding thereof by prospective borrowers.

If any licensee or other person engaged in the business regulated by this act shall in any advertising refer to rates of interest or charges or cost of loans, the commissioner shall require that such rates or costs be stated fully and clearly in such a manner as he may deem necessary in order to give adequate information to prospective borrowers; and if the rates or costs advertised do not apply to loans of all classes made or negotiated by such licensee or other person, this fact shall be clearly indicated therein. No such advertising copy shall be used after the use thereof has been disapproved by the commissioner and the licensee notified in writing of such disapproval. The commissioner may require licensees to maintain a file of all advertising copy for a period of 90 days from the date of its use, to be available to the commissioner upon request.

No licensee shall take a lien upon real estate as security for any loan made under this act, except such lien as is created by law upon the recording of an abstract of judgment.

No licensee shall conduct the business of making loans under this act within any office, room or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in, or in association or conjunction therewith, except as may be authorized in writing by the commissioner upon his finding that the character of such other business is such that the granting of such authority would not facilitate evasions of this act or of the rules and regulations lawfully made hereunder. An authorization once granted shall remain in effect until revoked by the commissioner.

No licensee shall transact such business or make any loan provided for by this act under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license. No licensee shall take any confession of judgment or any power of attorney, except a power of attorney taken to effectuate the transfer of the ownership of any motor vehicle at the time of making the loan. No licensee shall take any note, promise to pay, or security that does not accurately disclose the actual amount of the loan, the time for which it is made, and the agreed rate of charge nor any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after execution[.]; provided, that nothing contained in this section or in Section 18 (a) (5) of this act shall be construed to deny to any licensee hereunder the right of taking and using a chattel mortgage which, in addition to securing an original obligation, may secure the repayment of sums that may be advanced to, or expenditures that may be made at the direction of, the borrower subsequent to the execution of such mortgage and prior to the satisfaction thereof up to a maximum to be expressed in said mortgage.

SEC. 3. Section 22615 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22615. The commissioner shall suspend or revoke any license, upon notice and reasonable opportunity to be heard, if he finds any of the following:

(a) That the licensee has failed to pay the annual license fee, to maintain in effect the bonds required under this division, or to comply with any demand, ruling, or requirement of the commissioner made pursuant to and within the authority of this division.

(b) That the licensee has violated any provision of this division or any rule or regulation made by the commissioner under and within the authority of this division.

(c) That any fact or condition exists which, if it had existed at the time of the original application for such license reasonably would have warranted the commissioner in refusing originally to issue the license.

SEC. 4. Section 22475 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

22475. Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to deny to any licensee hereunder the right of taking and using a chattel mortgage which, in addition to securing an original obligation, may secure the repayment of sums that may be advanced to, or expenditures that may be made at the direction of, the borrower subsequent to the execution of such mortgage and prior to the satisfaction thereof up to a maximum to be expressed in said mortgage.

SEC. 5. Sections 3 and 4 of this act become operative only if Division 9 of the Financial Code is enacted by the Legislature at its 1951 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as said Division 9 takes effect, at which time Sections 13 and 16 of the Personal Property Brokers Act, as amended by this act are repealed."

COMMUNICATIONS

MASAN, KOREA, 18 March 1951

Senate, California Legislature
Joseph A. Beek, Secretary

DEAR SIRS: I gratefully acknowledge the receipt of the Bear Flag of the State of California; presented to me by the Senate and take this means to thank you. A great number of Native Sons make up our company of Air-Naval Gunfire teams. Many proud boys saw our State Flag fly over the soil of Korea today.

This letter of acknowledgment comes a little late. I was wounded, up north, in the middle of February and evacuated to the hospital ship U. S. S. Repose. Upon arriving back to my company, now in a rear area, the flag was delivered to me. We shall continue to fly the Bear Flag as long as we Marines are in Korea.

Again I thank you for the truly wonderful gift.

Very gratefully yours,

CPL. CECIL A. RAMSEY
857870, U. S. M. C. R.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, March 21, 1951

ANALYSIS OF PUBLIC LAW 734, Eighty-first Congress
(Amendments to Social Security Act)
No. 2447

Public Law 734, Eighty-first Congress, Chapter 809, Second Session, (H. R. 6000), is known by the short title "Social Security Act Amendments of 1950." This new law makes extensive changes in Titles I, II, IV, V, and X of, and adds Title XIV to, the Social Security Act (Act of August 14, 1935, 49 Stat. 620, 42 U. S. Code, Ch. 7, Supp., as amended) and changes those provisions of the Internal Revenue Code which deal with employment taxes. (Act of February 10, 1939, 53 Stat. 1, Title 26, U. S. Code, as amended.) Those portions of the Social Security Act which are amended deal with the subjects of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Benefit Payments, Unemployment Compensation, Public Assistance, and Maternal and Child Welfare.

In this analysis no attempt has been made to set out or explain changes in the law which are merely technical, clerical, clarifying, or for the purpose of conformity in reference and cross reference.

AMENDMENTS TO TITLE II OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Benefits

Extensive amendments are made to the system of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Benefits by Title I of the bill.[1] Corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code are amended to conform to such changes by Title II of the bill. These amendments generally increase the benefit amounts payable, add new classes to those eligible for benefits, and extend the coverage of the act to employees not previously covered by the act and to self-employed individuals.

Eligibility for Benefits

A. Section 202 of the act is amended to change the heading from "Primary Insurance Benefits" to "Old-Age Insurance Benefits," and to redefine the types of benefits payable and the classes eligible therefor with the following changes:

a. Primary Insurance Benefits

The term "Primary Insurance Benefit" is changed to "Old-Age Insurance Benefit" without change in the qualifications required, i.e., fully insured status, attainment of retirement age (age 65) and filing application.

b. Wife's Insurance Benefits

Provision is made for payment to wife under age of 65 if she has in her care a child entitled to benefits based on the wages and self-employment income of her husband; otherwise, qualifications are not changed.

c. Husband's Insurance Benefits

A new eligible class is established to provide for payment of benefits at age 65 to the husband of a woman who was currently insured when she became entitled to old-age insurance benefits if he had received at least one-half his support from her and filed proof thereof within two years after she became entitled to old-age insurance benefits. The amount of benefits payable is one-half the old-age insurance benefit (primary insurance benefit) as in the case of a wife's benefit based on the husband's wage record.

d. Child's Insurance Benefits

Increases child's benefits where insured parent dies, from one-half to three fourths of the old-age insurance benefit (primary benefit), but if more than one child such increase (one-fourth) is divided by the number of children.

No change is made in the circumstances under which a child is deemed to be dependent upon his father or adopting father. Under the former law, however, a child was deemed dependent upon a stepfather only if no father or adopting father had been living with, or contributing to the support of, such child. As amended, the child is deemed dependent upon his stepfather if the child was living with, or was receiving at least one-half of his support from, the stepfather. The amendments would also permit the payment of benefits to a child on the basis of his natural or adopting mother's wage record if she was currently insured when she died or became entitled to an old-age insurance benefit. Under the former law the presence of a father or adopting father in the household would prevent the finding of dependency of a child on his mother.

e. Widow's Insurance Benefits

Provision is made to permit a wife entitled to wife's insurance benefits to receive widow's insurance benefit upon death of her husband without filing a new claim.

f. Widower's Insurance Benefits

A new class is established to provide for the payment of benefits at age 65 to the widower of a woman who died after August, 1950, and who was both fully and currently insured at her death or entitlement to old-age insurance benefits, if he had been receiving at least one-half his support from her and filed appropriate proof within two years of either her death or entitlement to old-age insurance benefits. The benefit amount is three-fourths of the old-age (primary benefit) insurance amount.

g. Mother's Insurance Benefits

The title of Widow's Current Insurance Benefits is changed to Mother's Insurance Benefits. Such benefits are extended to a former wife divorced.

h. Parent's Insurance Benefits

Such benefits are increased from one-half to three-fourths the primary insurance amount. The test for dependency is changed to require at least one-half of support from, rather than "chiefly dependent" upon, the child.

i. Lump-sum Death Payments

The amount of the lump-sum death payment is changed to three times the primary insurance amount rather than six times the primary insurance benefit. Where the worker dies after August 1, 1950, a lump sum will be payable whether or not the worker left a survivor eligible for a monthly benefit for the month of the worker's death.

j. Application for Monthly Insurance Benefits

Increases, from three to six, the number of months for which benefits may be paid retroactively to individuals who failed to file their applications as soon as they were otherwise eligible, and continues provision of the former law (Sec. 205 (m)) which makes ineffectual any application filed more than three months before entitlement, and adds the provision that an application filed during the three-month period before the month in which the individual is first eligible for benefits shall be deemed to have been filed in the first month in which he is eligible.

k. Simultaneous Entitlement to Benefits

Consolidates former provisions which provide that whenever a group of children could all be entitled, upon application, to child's insurance benefits based on the same two or more wage records, all of them (entitled on at least one of the records) will be deemed entitled on all of such records with respect to which at least one of such children has filed an application. Also provides that a child entitled to a child's insurance benefits on more than one wage record will be entitled only on the record which produces the highest primary insurance amount. Provides that the child entitled to more than one monthly insurance benefit for any one month shall be paid only the largest of such benefits.

1. Entitlement to Survivor Benefits Under Railroad Retirement Act

A new provision is added to provide that if any person could become entitled to an annuity under Section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937 or a lump-sum payment under subsection (b) (1) of that section with respect to the death of an employee, no lump-sum death payment or monthly survivor's benefits shall be payable under the Social Security Act on the basis of the wages or self-employment income of that individual. (Since Section 205 (o) of the act as amended contains provisions for counting railroad compensation in computing survivor's benefits under the Social Security Act this provision is necessary to specify that eligibility for survivor's benefits under one program will preclude the payment of survivor's benefits under the other program.)

B. The above amendments to Section 202 of the act are effective September 1, 1950, except the provision in Section 202 (j) (2) [See (j) above] relating to the effective date of filing application, which takes effect upon the date of enactment of the bill.

C. As under the former law, a savings clause is provided to protect the rights of persons already entitled or who would be entitled to benefits under the former law so that they would not lose such rights on account of the enactment of the bill.

D. The former law is continued with respect to lump-sum death payments on the wage records of persons who died prior to September, 1950, and the amendments extend to September, 1952, the period for claiming lump-sum death payments in the case of death of insured persons who died outside the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia between December 6, 1941, and prior to August 10, 1946.

Maximum Benefits

A. The heading of Section 203 of the act is changed from "Reduction and Increase of Insurance Benefits" to "Reduction of Insurance Benefits—Maximum Benefits," and the following changes in the text of the section are made:

a. Maximum Benefits

Under former law benefits payable on the basis of an individual's wages, if they exceed $20 for any month, are reduced for such month to $85, to twice his primary benefit, or to 80 percent of his average monthly wage, whichever is smallest but not below $20. The amendments increase the figure of $85 to $150, eliminate the limitation of twice the primary insurance benefit and raise the figure of $20 below which the total of benefits may not be reduced to $40. Where the beneficiary group includes children who would be entitled to child's benefits on the basis of more than one wage record (but for the provisions concerning simultaneous entitlement to benefits in Section 202 (k) (2) (A)) the total benefits payable shall be reduced to the lesser of $150 or 80 percent of the sum of the average monthly wages of all the insured individuals on whose wage records such benefits would otherwise be payable but in no case to less than $40. The bill eliminates as unnecessary the former provision of Section 203 (b) that benefits payable on any wage record shall not be less than $10 per month.

b. Deductions from Benefits

Under former law deductions from benefits were made regardless of age of beneficiary for any month in which the beneficiary rendered services for wages of $15 or more. Under the amendments deductions are to be made from benefits for any month in which a beneficiary is under the age of 75 and either renders services for wages of more than $50 or is charged with net earnings from self-employment of more than $50. The provision in the former law that deductions are to be made for any month in which a widow entitled to a mother's insurance benefit does not have in her care a child of her deceased husband entitled to a child's insurance benefit is continued, and provisions are added providing for deductions where a wife under age 65 does not have a child beneficiary and where a former wife divorced entitled to a mother's insurance benefit does not have in her care a child of her deceased former husband who is her son, daughter, or legally adopted child and is entitled to a child's insurance benefit on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of her deceased former husband.

c. Deductions from Dependents' Benefits Because of Work by Old-Age Insurance Beneficiary

Provision was formerly made for deductions from dependents' benefits for any month in which the old-age beneficiary suffered a deduction because of employment. The amendments continue this provision with the additional provision that a deduction is also applicable when the worker suffers a deduction because of self-employment.

d. Occurrence of More than One Event

It was formerly provided that if more than one of the events upon which a deduction is based occurred in any month which would occasion deductions equal to a benefit for such month, only an amount equal to such benefit would be deducted. The amendments continue this provision and also provide that the charging of net earnings from self-employment to any month shall be treated as an event occurring in the month to which such net earnings are charged.

e. Months to Which Net Earnings from Self-Employment Are Charged

A new provision is added to provide a method for charging net earnings from self-employment to particular months of the taxable year for the purpose of determining the deductions from benefits:

(1) If the beneficiary's net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year do not exceed $50 times the number of months in the taxable year, no month in the year will be charged with more than $50 of net earnings from self-employment and no deductions will be imposed even though all of the net earnings from self-employment may have been earned during a period of a few months in such year at a rate in excess of $50 per month.

(2) If the net earnings for the taxable year exceed $50 times the number of months in the taxable year, $50 shall first be charged to all months in the taxable year. The remainder of net earnings will be charged at the rate of $50 (or fraction if remainder after charging is less) to the last month of the taxable year and each preceding month of the taxable year. However, no part of the excess shall be charged to any month (a) for which the individual was not entitled to any benefit, (b) in which a deduction is imposed for another reason, (c) in which the individual was age 75 or over, (d) in which no substantial services in self-employment were rendered by the individual. The "last month of the taxable year" is the latest month of the taxable year to which the charging of excess net earnings is not prohibited under (a), (b), (c), and (d) above. Net earnings will not be combined with wages in order to impose a deduction.

f. Penalty for Failure to Report Certain Events

An exception is made in the provisions providing for a penalty for failure to report events on which deductions are based with respect to deductions for excess earnings from self-employment, the requirement for reporting such earnings being treated separately in Section 203 (g) [See (g) below].

g. Report to Administrator of Net Earnings From Self-Employment

A new provision is added to prescribe the circumstances under which beneficiaries with net earnings from self-employment are required to file reports with the administrator.

(1) If an individual entitled to any benefits under Section 202 has net earnings from self-employment in excess of the product of $50 times the number of months in his taxable year he is required to file a report within 2½ months after the close of his taxable year. The report must include the amount of his net earnings from self-employment and such other information as the administrator may by regulation require. Such reports are not required for any taxable year during all of which the individual was 75 years or over.

(2) Where an individual fails to report within the time prescribed and any deduction is imposed under Section 203 (b) (2) (which relates to the charging of a month with net earnings of self-employment of more than $50) one additional deduction equal in amount to a monthly benefit is imposed as a penalty if the report is no more than 1½ months late. An additional penalty deduction is imposed for each subsequent calendar month during all or any part of which the failure to report continues. It is provided, however, that the number of penalty deductions may not exceed the number of benefit payments which the individual received and accepted during the taxable year and for which deductions are imposed under Section 203 (b) (2). It is also provided that for the first failure to file a timely report not more than one penalty deduction may be imposed regardless of the length of the period between the due date of the report and its actual filing.

(3) The administrator is authorized to make current suspensions from benefits to which an individual is entitled when there is reason to believe that after the report of net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year is available deductions will be imposed by reason of the individual's net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year. The suspensions so made are in the nature of temporary deductions; after the report for the year becomes available and the deductions to be imposed are finally established any necessary adjustment for the difference between the current suspensions and the deductions imposed will then be made. The administrator is authorized to request, before the end of the individual's taxable year, a declaration of the individual's estimated net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year and other pertinent information with respect to his net earnings from self-employment. Failure to comply with such request is justification for a determination by the administrator that it may reasonably be expected that the individual will suffer deductions by reason of his net earnings from self-employment for such year.

h. Circumstances Under Which Deductions Not Required

In any case where benefits are reduced because of the maximum benefit provision, a deduction is made from the benefit of a member of the household only to the extent that it reduces benefits otherwise payable to members of the same household.

i. Deductions with Respect to Certain Lump-Sum Payments

The former provision which required the amount of any lump-sum paid to be deducted from any benefits payable on that individual's wage record is continued without charge.

j. Attainment of Age 75

It is provided that for the purposes of Section 203 relating to the reduction of the insurance benefits an individual shall be considered as 75 years of age during the entire calendar month in which he attains such age.

B. Section 103(b) of the bill provides that all changes made in Section 203 of the act are effective September 1, 1950, except that the provisions of subdivisions (d), (e), and (f) deductions for work and failure to have "child in her care" as in effect prior to the enactment of the bill shall be applicable for months prior to September, 1950.

Definition of Wages

The 1950 amendments do not change existing law with respect to remuneration paid prior to 1951. With respect to remuneration paid after 1950 the following changes are made:

(a) Increases from $3,000 to $3,600 the amount of wages paid in any calendar year which a worker may be credited with, regardless of the year in which it was earned.

(b) Continues the provisions of existing law which exclude from wages payments made to or on behalf of an employee under a plan or system providing for payments on account of (1) retirement, (2) sickness or accident disability, (3) medical or hospitalization expenses, or (4) death but provides that such payments made for death benefits shall be excluded from wages regardless of whether the employee has certain options or rights (as formerly required). The amendments also exclude from wages any such payments made to or on behalf of any dependents of an employee under such a plan or system providing for the employee and his dependents.

(e) Excludes from wages any payment made to an employee (including any amount paid by an employer for insurance or annuities or into a fund to provide for any such payment) on account of retirement irrespective of whether such payment is made pursuant to a plan or system.

(d) Excludes payments on account of sickness, accident disability, or medical or hospitalization expenses, which are made to or on behalf of an employee without there being a plan or system where such payments are made after the expiration of six calendar months following the last calendar month which the employee worked for such employer.

(e) Excludes payments to or on behalf of an employee from a trust or annuity plan if the trust is exempt from tax under Section 165(a) of the Internal Revenue Code or if the annuity plan meets the requirements of Section 165(a) (3), (4), (5), or (6) of such code at the time the payment is made.

(f) Continues without change the exclusion from wages of payments by an employer of the employee's social security tax and employee contribtuion under state unemployment compensation laws.

(g) Excludes from wages the remuneration paid in any medium other than cash to an employee for services not in the course of the employer's trade or business or for domestic service in the private home of the employer. Remuneration paid by an employer in any calendar quarter to a home worker (if such home worker is an employee under the definition of "employee") will constitute wages only if cash remuneration of $50 or more is paid during the calendar quarter to such worker regardless of whether the $50 is in payment of services rendered during the quarter of payment or during a previous quarter.

(h) Excludes from wages remuneration paid in any medium other than cash for agricultural labor.

(i) Excludes from wages any payments (other than vacation or sick pay) received by a retired worker from his employer in a month after the month in which he attains age 65 for which he did not actually work (but merely held himself available to render services at his employer's request).

(j) Excludes from wages remuneration paid by an employer to an employee in any quarter for services performed as a home worker if the cash paid in the quarter is less than $50.

Any payment of cash remuneration to an employee performing domestic service in the private home of the employer which is more or less than a whole dollar amount may be computed to the nearest dollar under such conditions and to such extent as may be prescribed by regulation.

The provision in the former law which excluded from wages dismissal payments which the employer was not legally required to make is deleted.

Definition of Employment

a. Employment Generally

American Aircraft or Vessel

The definition of employment is extended to include service on or in connection with an American aircraft to the same extent as service already included in the definition of, or in connection with, an American vessel. Service performed on or in connection with an American vessel or American aircraft where the contract of service is entered into outside the United States is employment if the employee is employed on the vessel or aircraft when it touches at a port within the United States at some time during the performance of the contract of service.

Service Outside the United States

Employment is also extended to include service performed outside the United States by a citizen of the United States as an employee of an American employer. Under the former law, the citizenship and residence of the employer or employee had no effect upon the determination of whether or not service constituted employment except as the citizenship or residence of the employer may have had a bearing in determining whether a vessel was an American vessel.

Specific Exemptions and Inclusions

1. Agricultural labor

(A) Agricultural labor is covered employment under the act as amended if the cash remuneration paid for such labor, performed in a calendar quarter, is $50 or more, and such labor is performed for an employer by an individual who is "regularly employed" by such employer.

An individual is deemed to be "regularly employed" if (1) he performs agricultural labor for the employer on a full time basis on at least 60 days during the quarter, and (2) the quarter was immediately preceded by a "qualifying quarter." A "qualifying quarter" means any quarter during all of which the individual was continuously employed by the employer, or any subsequent quarter in which the individual performed services on a full time basis on at least 60 days during the quarter, if after the last quarter during all of which the individual was continuously employed by the employer, each intervening quarter met the test of full time employment on 60 days. An individual shall also be deemed to be regularly employed if in the preceding calendar quarter he met the above test.

Agricultural labor, as used in the definition of employment, is redefined to exclude the following:

(a) Off-the-farm services in the production and harvesting of maple sirup or maple sugar.

(b) Off-the-farm services in the raising or harvesting of mushrooms.

(c) Off-the-farm services in connection with the hatching of poultry.

(d) Under the former definition, services performed in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways used exclusively for supplying or storing water for farming purposes, constituted agricultural labor. As amended, the definition includes such services as agricultural labor only if such ditches, canals, etc., are not owned or operated for profit.

(e) Under the former definition services (after harvesting) in handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, crating, storing, or delivering to storage or to market, or to a carrier for transportation to market, any agricultural or horticultural commodity, constituted agricultural labor if such services were performed as an incident to ordinary farming operations or, in the case of fruits and vegetables, as an incident to the preparation of such fruits and vegetables for market. Under the definition as amended, such services are agricultural labor only when performed in the employ of the operator or operators (other than a cooperative) of farms, when the products are handled in their unmanufactured state, and if the operator produced more than one-half of the commodities handled. For the purposes of this provision any unincorporated group of operators are deemed a cooperative if the number of operators comprising such group is more than 20 at any one time during the calendar quarter in which the services are performed.

(f) A new provision is added including as agricultural labor, service not in the course of the employer's trade or business, or domestic service in the private home of the employer, if such service is performed on a farm operated for profit.

(B) The definition of employment also excludes service performed in connection with the production or harvesting of any commodity defined as an agricultural commodity in Section 15(g) of the Aricultural Marketing Act, or in connection with the ginning of cotton. (The exception under this provision applies to service performed in connection with the production or harvesting of crude gum (oleorosin) from a living tree, or the processing of such crude gum into spirits of turpentine and gum rosin, provided such processing is carried on by the original producer of such crude gum.)

2. No change is made in the exemption of domestic service performed in a local college club or by a student regularly attending school.

3. Under the former definition of employment, casual labor not in the course of an employer's trade or business was excluded from coverage. As amended, such service is covered if the cash remuneration for such service in a calendar quarter is $50 or more, and such service is performed by an individual who is "regularly employed" by the employer to perform that service. An employee is "regularly employed" if he performs on each of 24 days during the quarter, for some portion of the day, service not in the course of the employer's trade or business, or if he met such test during the preceding calendar quarter.

4. Continues without change former exemption of service performed by an individual in the employ of a member of a family.

5. Continues without change the former exclusion of service performed on or in connection with a vessel not an American vessel, but extends the exclusion to service performed by an individual on or in connection with an aircraft not an American aircraft, if such individual is employed on or in connection with such aircraft when it is outside the United States.

6 and 7. The former definition excluded services performed in the employ of the United States Government or of an instrumentality of the United States which is (A) wholly owned by the United States, or (B) exempt from the tax imposed by Section 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code by virtue of any other provision of law. As amended, the following services for the Federal Government or its instrumentalities are excluded:

(a) Service performed in the employ of an instrumentality of the United States which is exempt from the employer's tax by special action taken by Congress specifically referring to Section 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code in granting such exemption.

(b) Service performed in the employ of the United States or of any instrumentality of the United States if such service is covered by a retirement system established by law of the United States. Determinations as to whether the particular service is covered by a retirement system of the requisite character are to be made on the basis of whether such service is covered under a law enacted by Congress which specifically provides for the establishment of such retirement system.

(c) Service performed in the employ of an instrumentality of the United States if such instrumentality was exempt from the tax imposed by Section 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code on December 31, 1950. This exception, however, does not apply to

(1) Service performed in the employ of a corporation wholly owned by the United States.

(2) Service performed in the employ of a national farm loan association, a production credit association, a Federal Reserve Bank or a Federal Credit Union.

(3) Service performed in the employ of a state, county, or community committee under the Production and Marketing Administration.

(4) Service performed by a civilian employee who is not compensated from funds appropriated by Congress, in the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service, Navy Exchanges, Marine Corps Exchanges, or other activities, conducted by an instrumentality of the United States subject to the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense, at installations of the Department of Defense for the comfort, pleasure, contentment, and mental and physical improvement of personnel of such department.

(d) Service performed in the employ of the United States or in the employ of an instrumentality of the United States if the service is of the character of any of the following special classes:

(1) The President, Vice President, or as a member, delegate, or resident commissioner of or to the Congress.

(2) Service in the legislative branch of the United States Government.

(3) Service by employees in the field service of the Post Office Department unless the employee is excluded from the operation of the Civil Service Retirement Act of 1930 by executive order because he is serving under a temporary appointment pending permanent or indefinite appointment.

(4) Those temporarily employed for the taking of any census for the Bureau of Census.

(5) Individuals excluded from coverage under the Civil Service Retirement Act of May 29, 1930, because of payment on a contract or fee basis.

(6) Employees who worked for nominal compensation of $12 or less per year.

(7) Service in a United States hospital, home or other institution by a patient or inmate.

(8) Consular agents.

(9) Student nurses, medical or dental interns, residents-in-training, student dieticians, student or occupational therapists attached to a United States hospital, criminal or medical or dental laboratory.

(10) Service performed by an individual or employee serving on a temporary basis in case of fire, storm, earthquake, flood, or other emergency.

(11) Service under a federal relief program to relieve the individual from unemployment.

(12) Members of a state, county, or community committee under the Production and Marketing Administration or of any other board, council, committee, or other similar body unless such board, council, committee or other body is composed exclusively of individuals who are otherwise in the full-time employ of the United States.

(13) Individuals to whom the Civil Service Act of 1930 does not apply because they are subject to another retirement system (either established by law of the United States or by the agency for which the services are performed).

8. The exemption of services performed in the employ of a state is continued, except for services covered under voluntary agreements between the state and the administrator, and services covered under provisions relating to employees of transportation systems. [See (1) below] [2].

9. The exemption of the services of ministers and members of religious orders is continued without change.

The former exemption for services performed in the employ of a religious, charitable or other organization exempt from income tax under Section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code is limited by providing that such service is excluded from employment unless the employer organization certifies that it desires to have coverage extended to services performed by its employees and that it waives exemption from the employer tax and at least two-thirds of its employees concur in the filing of such a certificate. Employees not concurring are not covered. However, all employees hired after the effective date of the certificate are covered on a compulsory basis. The certificate is effective for a minimum period of 10 years. If the employer organization wishes to terminate its exemption it must give two years' notice after the waiver has been in effect for eight years.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may terminate the waiver period upon his own initiative if he finds that an organization has failed to comply substantially with the provisions of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or is no longer able to comply with such provisions. The commissioner can give such organization 60 days' advance notice in writing that the period covered by the certificate will terminate at the end of the calendar quarter specified in the notice. Such notice may be revoked by the commissioner by giving prior to the close of the calendar quarter specified in his notice of termination written notice of the revocation. The commissioner cannot give notice of termination or revocation thereof without prior concurrence of the Federal Security Administrator. If the period covered by the certificate is terminated by the organization itself it may not thereafter file a certificate waiving the exclusion from employment of its employees.

10. The exemption of railroad employees and their representatives is continued.

11. (A) Service performed in any calendar quarter in the employ of an organization exempt from income tax under Section 101 of the Internal Revenue Code was formerly exempt if remuneration for such services was less than $45. As amended, such services are exempt if the remuneration is less than $50.

(B) Services performed by students in the employ of a school, college or university are excepted from employment. Under the previous law such services were excepted only if the amount received was $45 or less.

12, 13. The former exclusion of service performed in the employ of a foreign government is continued without change.

14. The exclusion of service performed by certain student nurses and interns is continued without change.

15. The exclusion of certain fishing services is continued without change.

16. The exclusion of services performed in the delivery and distribution of newspapers, shopping news, and magazines under certain prescribed conditions is continued without change.

17. The exclusion of services performed for an international organization is continued without change.

b. Included and Excluded Service

The previous provision relating to the rule for determining employment where services are performed in both included and excluded service is continued without change.

c. American Vessel

The definition of "American vessel" is continued without change.

d. American Aircraft

A provision is added to define "American aircraft" as an aircraft registered under the laws of the United States.

e. American Employer

The definition of "American employer" is added which defines an American employer as (1) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (2) a state or any political subdivision or instrumentality thereof, (3) an individual who is a resident of the United States, (4) a partnership if two-thirds or more of the partners are residents of the United States, (5) a trust if all trustees are residents of the United States, or (6) a corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any state.

f. Agricultural Labor Defined

The definition of "agricultural labor" is revised (see above).[3]

g. Farm

The definition of "farm" is continued without change but the application of such definition is extended to all provisions of Title 2 of the act rather than limited to the definition of agricultural labor as under the former law.

h. State

The definition of "State" is expanded to include the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico on and after the effective date of their coverage.

Section 107 of the bill, adding Section 219 to the act, provides that if the Governor of Puerto Rico certifies to the President of the United States that the Legislature of Puerto Rico has by a concurrent resolution resolved that it desires the extension to Puerto Rico of the provisions of Title 2 of the Social Security Act, the effective date referred to in the provisions thereof shall be January 1, of the first calendar year which begins more than 90 days after the date on which the President receives such certification.

i. United States

The Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico are included in the definition of the United States.

j. Citizen of Puerto Rico

A provision is added to provide that an individual who is a citizen of Puerto Rico but not otherwise a citizen of the United States and who is not a resident of the United States shall not be considered a citizen of the United States for the purposes of this section prior to the effective date specified in Section 219.

k. Employee

Under the former law an employee was defined as including an officer of a corporation but excluding (1) any individual who under the usual common law rules applicable in determining the employer-employee relationship had the status of an independent contractor, or (2) any individual who was not an employee under such common law rules.

The 1950 amendments rewrite this definition to provide three separate, independent, tests for determining who are employees as follows:

(1) Continues without change the provision that the term "employee" includes any officer of a corporation.

(2) Provides that the usual common law rules for determining an employer-employee relationship will be applied.

(3) Provides that any individual who does not qualify as an employee under (1) or (2) above, will be deemed to be an employee if he performs services for remuneration for any person of one of the following types:

(a) As an agent-driver or commission-driver engaged in distributing meat products, vegetable products, fruit products, bakery products, beverages (other than milk) or laundry or dry cleaning purposes for his principal;

(b) As a full-time life insurance salesman;

(c) As a home worker performing work according to specifications furnished by the person for whom the services are performed on materials or goods furnished by such person which are required to be returned to such person or a person designated by him if the performance of such services is subject to licensing requirements under the laws of the state in which such services are performed; or

(d) As a traveling or city salesman other than as an agent-driver or commission-driver engaged upon a full-time basis in the solicitation on behalf of and the transmission to, his principal (except for sideline sales activities on behalf of some other person) of orders from wholesalers, retailers, contractors, or operators of hotels, restaurants, or other similar establishments for merchandise for resale or supplies for use in their business operations.

With respect to services within one of the above four groups the following conditions must be met:

(a) The contract of service must be such that substantially all of the services are to be performed personally by the individual, and

(b) The individual must not have a substantial investment in facilities for doing the work except facilities for transportation, and

(c) The services must not be in the nature of a single transaction but must be performed as a part of a continuing relationship.

1. Covered Transportation Service

Defines "covered transportation service" which is included in coverage as an exception to the exclusion granted to state or political subdivision employees under Section 210 (a) (8) [See above] [4].

As defined, "covered transportation service" includes:

(1) In the case of transportation systems (or parts of systems) acquired between 1936 and 1951, all service performed in the employ of a state or political subdivision in connection with the operation of a public transportation system, if any part of the system was acquired after 1936 and before 1951, unless the state or political subdivision has in effect on December 31, 1950, a general retirement system covering substantially all services performed in connection with the operation of the transportation system which provides benefits which are protected from diminution or impairment under the state constitution.

(2) In the case of parts of systems acquired after 1950 (where the rest of the system was acquired before 1937) if the state or political subdivision is operating a transportation system of which no part was acquired between 1936 and 1951, any employee who became an employee of the state or political subdivision in connection with and at the time of its acquisition after 1950, and who also prior to the acquisition rendered service in employment in connection with the operation of the part of the transportation system required by the state or subdivision, will be covered beginning with the first day of the third calendar quarter following the quarter in which the acquisition took place, unless the service of such employee is covered by a retirement system which does not contain special provision applicable only to the employees who became employees of the state or subdivision at the time of and in connection with the acquisition.

(3) In the case of systems or parts of systems first acquired after 1950, if a transportation system was not operated by a state or subdivision before 1951 and if after 1950 the state or subdivision acquires a transportation system or a part of one, all employees performing services in connection with its operation will be covered unless at the time of the first acquisition the state or subdivision has a general retirement system covering substantially all services in connection with the operation of the transportation system.

Self-employment

Under the 1950 amendments many individuals having an income from an unincorporated trade or business who are not employees are covered by the act as self-employed persons. To this end the terms "net earnings from self-employment" which serves as the basis for making deductions, and "self-employment income" which serves as a basis for entitlement (benefit) and tax purposes are defined.

a. Net Earnings from Self-employment

Net earnings from self-employment is defined to mean the gross income derived by an individual from any trade or business carried on by such individual, less the deductions allowed under Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code (Income Tax) which are attributable to such trade or business, plus the distributive share of such individual (whether or not distributed) of the ordinary net income or loss (as computed under Section 183 of the Internal Revenue Code) from any trade or business carried on by a partnership of which he is a member.

In computing such gross income and deductions and such distributive shares of partnership ordinary net income or loss the following provisions are applicable:

(1) There shall be excluded rentals from real estate including personal property leased with the real estate and deductions attributable thereto unless such rentals are received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer.

(2) Also excluded are the income and deductions attributable to such income, derived from any trade or business in which, if the trade or business were carried on exclusively by employees, the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor as defined in the code.

(3) There shall be excluded dividends on any share of stock and interest on any bond, debenture, note, certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation (including one issued by a government or political subdivision thereof) unless such dividends and interest are received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities.

(4) There shall be excluded (i) gains or losses which are considered as gains or losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets, (ii) gains or losses from the cutting or disposal of timber if Section 117(j) of the code is applicable to such gains or losses, and (iii) gains or losses from the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business.

(5) The deduction for net operating losses under Section 23(s) of the code shall not be allowed.

(6) If any of the income derived from a trade or business (other than a trade or business carried on by a partnership) is community income under community property laws applicable to such income all of the gross income and deductions attributable to the trade or business shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the husband, unless the wife exercises substantially all of the management and control of such trade or business, in which case the gross income and deductions shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the wife.

If any portion of a partner's distributive share of the ordinary net income or loss from a trade of business carried on by a partnership is community income or loss under the community property laws applicable to such share, all of such distributive share shall be included in computing the net earnings from self-employment of such partner and no part of such share shall be taken into account in computing the net earnings from self-employment of the spouse of such partner.

(7) In the case of any taxable year beginning on or after the effective date specified in Section 219 the term "possession of the United States" as used in Section 251 of the Internal Revenue Code shall not include Puerto Rico and a citizen or resident of Puerto Rico shall compute his net earnings from self-employment in the same manner as a citizen of the United States and without regard to the provisions of Section 252 of the code.

b. Self-Employment Income

"Self-employment income" is defined to mean the net earnings from self-employment derived by an individual other than a nonresident alien individual during any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, except for the following exclusions:

(1) That part of the net earnings from self-employment which exceeds $3,600 reduced by the amount of wages paid to the individual during the taxable year;

(2) The net earnings from self-employment if such net earnings for the taxable year are less than $400.

In the case of any taxable year beginning prior to the effective date specified in Section 219 an individual who is a citizen of Puerto Rico (but not otherwise a citizen of the United States) and who is not a resident of the United States during such taxable year shall be considered for the purpose of computing self-employment income as a nonresident alien individual. An individual who is not a citizen of the United States but who is a resident of the Virgin Islands, or after the effective date specified in Section 219, a resident of Puerto Rico, shall not for the purposes of computing self-employment income be considered to be a nonresident alien individual.

c. Trade or Business

"Trade or business" when used with reference to self-employment income or net earnings from self-employment has the same meaning as when used in Section 23 of the Internal Revenue Code except that such term shall not include:

(1) The performance of the functions of a public office.

(2) The performance of service by an individual as an employee (other than service in the sale or distribution of newspapers or magazines performed by an individual who has attained the age of 18).

(3) The performance of service by an individual as a railroad employee or employee representative as defined in Section 1532 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) The performance of service by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry, or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order.

(5) The performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, Christian Science practitioner, architect, certified public accountant, accountant registered or licensed as an accountant under state or municipal law, full time practicing public accountant, funeral director, or professional engineer, or the performance of such service by a partnership.

d. Partnership and Partner

The terms "partnership" and "partner" are given the same meaning as when used in Supplement F of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code.

e. Taxable Year

"Taxable year" as used in these provisions is given the same meaning as when used in Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code (Income Tax). An individual with self-employment income computes and reports this income for the same period he computes and reports his income tax.

Crediting of Self-employment Income to Calendar Quarter

For the purposes of determining average monthly wage and quarters of coverage the amount of self-employment income derived during any taxable year shall be credited to calendar quarters as follows:

(a) In the case of a taxable year which is a calendar year, the self-employment income of such taxable year shall be credited equally to each quarter of such calendar year;

(b) In the case of any other taxable year the self-employment income shall be credited equally to the calendar quarter in which such taxable year ends and to each of the next three or fewer preceding quarters, any part of which is in such taxable year.

Quarters and Calendar Quarters of Coverage

a. Quarter and Calendar Quarter

"Quarter" and "calendar quarter" are defined, as in the former law, as a period of three calendar months ending on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th, or December 31st.

"Quarter of coverage" refers to the minimum amount of wages which the individual must receive or self-employment with which he must be credited in a calendar quarter in order to receive credit toward his insured status for that period. In the case of wages a worker must receive $50 or more during a quarter to be credited with a quarter of coverage. A self-employed individual must be credited with self-employment income of at least $100 during a quarter to have a quarter of coverage. As under the former law an individual will not be credited with a quarter of coverage for any quarter after the quarter in which he died and no quarter shall be counted as a quarter of coverage prior to the beginning of such quarter. Effective with 1951 the act will permit crediting a quarter of coverage for each quarter of the year (subject to the above exceptions) whether before or after the first earned quarter of coverage, if the total of the individual's wages and self-employment income credited for the year equals or exceeds $3,600.

b. Crediting of Wages Paid in 1937

Provisions for the crediting of wages paid in 1937 are continued without change.

Insured Status for Purposes of Old-age and Survivors Insurance Benefits

a. Fully Insured Individual

Under the former law an individual was fully insured if he had at least one quarter of coverage for each two quarters elapsing after 1936 (or after attainment of age 21 if later) and before death or attainment of age 65, but in no case less than six quarters of coverage, or had 40 quarters of coverage.

The 1950 amendments retain these requirements for those individuals who died prior to September 1, 1950. For individuals living on September 1, 1950, these requirements are modified so that the worker must have at least one quarter of coverage (whether acquired before or after such date) for each two of the quarters elapsing after 1950 or after the quarter in which he attained age 21 if later, and up to, but excluding, the quarter in which he attained retirement age or died, whichever first occurred, but in no case less than six quarters of coverage. As under the former law the number of elapsed quarters is reduced by one if it is an odd number; and an individual who has 40 quarters of coverage remains fully insured even though he does no more work in covered employment.

The effect of this change in the eligibility requirement was to enable many individuals not insured under the former provisions, but who have at least six quarters of coverage, to be fully insured immediately after the effective date of the provision. Thus, those individuals having six quarters of coverage and already past retirement age could apply for and receive benefits immediately. In addition all newly covered workers age 62 or over become fully insured if they earn as few as six quarters of coverage after the effective date of coverage extension.

b. Currently Insured Individual

"Currently insured individual" is defined to mean any individual who had no less than six quarters of coverage during the 13-quarter period ending with the quarter in which he died (as provided under the former law), the quarter in which he became entitled to old age insurance benefits, or the quarter in which he became entitled to primary insurance benefits under the provisions of the former law.

Computation of Primary Insurance Amount

a. Primary Insurance Amount

Under the 1950 amendments the primary insurance benefit is increased as follows:

(1) A new schedule is provided where the individual attains age 22 after 1950 and acquires six quarters of coverage after that date. This amount will be 50 percent of the first $100 of his average monthly wage plus 15 percent of the next $200 of the average monthly wage or fraction thereof. The minimum primary insurance amount is $25 unless the worker's average monthly wage is $34 or less in which case the minimum primary insurance amount is as follows:

Average Monthly Wage	Primary Insurance Amount
33	23
32	22
30 or less	20

(2) Where the individual attained age 22 prior to 1951 and has six quarters of coverage after 1950 the primary insurance amount is whichever of the following is the larger: the amount computed under the new schedule in (1) above, or the amount determined by use of the new conversion table [See (c) below] [5].

b. Average Monthly Wage

Average monthly wage for the purpose of the new compensation schedule is redefined to mean the quotient obtained by dividing the total wages and self-employment income after the starting date, and prior to the wage and income closing dates, by the number of months elapsing after the starting date and prior to the divisor closing date, excluding any month in any quarter prior to the quarter of attainment of age 22 which is not a quarter of coverage. If the number of elapsed months is less than 18 the divisor will be raised to 18.

For the purposes of making the above computations the following definitions are provided:

(1) Starting date. December 31, 1950, or, if later, the day before the quarter in which worker attained age 22, whichever gives the higher average monthly wage.

(2) Closing dates.

(a) "Wage closing date" is the first day of the second quarter before the quarter of death or entitlement to an old-age insurance benefit, whichever first occurs.

(b) "Self-employment income closing date" is the day following the calendar quarter in which the applicant's last taxable year ended and in which he derived some self-employment income. The last taxable year means the latest taxable year ending prior to the month the worker died or became entitled to an old-age insurance benefit, whichever first occurred.

[5] Page 779.

(c) "Divisor closing date" is the later of the wage closing date and self-employment income closing date (subject to the minimum divisor of 18).

If the worker dies or becomes entitled to an old-age insurance benefit after the first quarter in which he was both fully insured and 65 or over, the closing dates are figured as if the worker had been entitled to an old-age insurance benefit in the quarter he was first fully insured and 65 or over.

c. Conversion Table

A table is provided to convert the primary insurance benefit, computed for cases not coming under the new formula set forth above, to an increased primary insurance amount, together with a corresponding assumed average monthly wage to be used for purposes of computing maximum benefits.

d. Primary Insurance Benefit for Purposes of Conversion Table

A method is provided for computing the primary insurance benefit of individuals whose primary insurance amount is to be obtained through the use of the conversion table.

(1) In the case of an individual who was entitled to a primary insurance benefit for August, 1950, his primary insurance benefit, except as provided in the following paragraph (2), shall be his benefit under the former law.

(2) A beneficiary to whom paragraph (1) (above) is applicable and who is a World War II veteran or who rendered services for wages of $15 or more in August of 1950, shall have his primary insurance benefit recomputed automatically. The recomputation will be made as provided in former Section 209(q) of the act, except that if he is a World War II veteran, the recomputation will be made after inclusion of wage credits on account of military service under Section 217(a) (relating to wage credits for World War II service). If the recomputed amount is larger than the benefit to which he was previously entitled, that larger amount will be the primary insurance benefit to be used in determining the new benefit under the conversion table. If it is not, the primary insurance benefit prior to the recomputation will be used.

(3) In the case of an individual who died prior to September 1950, the primary insurance benefit is to be computed as under the former law except that for veterans of World War II the provisions of the new Section 217(a) are to be applicable instead of the provisions of the former law relating to presumed average monthly wage of $160 per month for veterans dying within three years after discharge if it yields a larger benefit.

(4) The primary insurance benefits of all other individuals who may have their benefits computed under the conversion table would be computed as provided in the former law except that the new definition of average monthly wage would be applicable. For purposes of the computation, the date on which the individual became entitled to old-age insurance benefits would be deemed to be the date he became entitled to primary insurance benefits. Individuals whose primary insurance benefits are computed under this paragraph would be given the 1 percent increment provided in the former law, but only with respect to calendar years prior to 1951. The provisions of subsection (e), excluding certain wages and self-employment income, would be applicable in making such computations.

e. Certain Wages and Self-employment Income Not to Be Counted

In computing any individual's average monthly wage, there shall not be counted, in the case of any calendar year after 1950, the excess over $3,600, of the sum of the wages paid to him and the self-employment income derived by him. This is comparable to the former provision for not counting the excess over $3,000 of wages in any year. Provision is also made for the rounding of the average monthly wage to the next lower multiple of $1.

f. Recomputation of Benefits

The conditions under which an individual's primary insurance amount will be recomputed to provide higher benefits on the basis of wages or self-employment income not included in the original computation or in previous recomputations are specified.

(1) Recomputation of benefit amounts is authorized only as provided in this subdivision (f), except that the primary insurance amount of a World War II veteran who dies prior to July 27, 1954, will be recomputed in accordance with the provisions of Section 217 (b) of the act as amended.

(2) A recomputation shall be made upon application by an individual entitled to an old-age insurance benefit, to take account of wages paid to, and self-employment income derived by, the individual since his last computation or recomputation, but only if, because of the receipt of such wages or income he has earned six quarters of coverage after 1950 and before the calendar quarter in which he requests a recomputation, and his benefits have been subject to deduction for earnings under Section 203 (b), (1) or (2) for 12 months within a period of 36 months occurring after September, 1950, and after his last recomputation. An individual's benefit will be recomputed only under the new formula and the new benefit amount will be effective as of the month of application for recomputation.

(3) Provision is made for recomputation, upon application by an old-age insurance beneficiary six months or more after the month of his retirement, to take into account wages and self-employment income received before the quarter in which he became entitled, which were omitted from his initial computation. If the recomputed benefit is larger, the excess is payable retroactively to the month of retirement and the larger benefit amount is payable from and after the month of filing the application for recomputation.

Provision is also made for a similar recomputation of the primary insurance amount of an individual who died after August, 1950, upon the filing of an application at least six months after such death or after the deceased's entitlement to old-age insurance benefits, whichever first occurs, by a survivor entitled to monthly benefits on the deceased's record. Such recomputation will not affect the amount of the lump-sum death payment, but the larger benefit amount for the survivors will be effective retroactively through the month in which the survivor who filed the application for recomputation became entitled to benefits on the deceased's wage record.

(4) Provision is made for a recomputation in certain cases of the primary insurance amount upon which survivors' benefits for a lump-sum death payment is based, when an individual entitled to old-age insurance benefit dies. This recomputation may be made only if the deceased individual would, upon application in the month of his death, have been entitled to a recomputation under paragraph (2) above, or if he had been paid compensation for employment under the Railroad Retirement Act, which is treated as wages under Title II of of the Social Security Act for purposes of survivors' benefits. If the recomputation is permitted for the first reason, it will be made as though the individual had applied for it under paragraph (2) above, in the month in which he died, except that any compensation for employment under the Railroad Retirement Act claimed before the closing date applicable to such computation will be included. If the recomputation is permitted for the second reason (receipt of railroad compensation), it will include only the wages and self-employment income considered in the last previous computation of his primary insurance amount and any railroad compensation paid to the individual before the closing date applicable to such computation. If a recomputation is permitted for both reasons, only the one that results in the larger primary insurance amount will be made.

(5) No recomputation is to be effective unless it results in a higher primary insurance amount.

g. Rounding of Benefits

Provision is made for the rounding of any monthly benefit which is not a multiple of 10 cents to the next higher multiple of 10 cents.

Other Definitions

a. Retirement Age

"Retirement age" is defined as age 65, as in the former law.

b. Wife

Under the former law, an individual was considered to be the wife of a primary beneficiary only if she had been married to him for at least 36 calendar months before the month in which her application was filed, unless she was the mother of his son or daughter. The amendment changes this time limit to three years.

c. Widow

Under the former law, a woman to be considered the widow of an insured individual must have been the mother of his son or daughter or must have been married to him for not less than 12 calendar months before the month in which he died. The amendment changes the time period to one year and also provides that if a widow had legally adopted her husband's son or daughter before that child attained age 18, or if she and her husband together had legally adopted a child under age 18, she need not have been married to him a year before his death to qualify for benefits.

d. Former Wife Divorced

This new definition is added to provide that a woman divorced from a deceased individual is considered to be a former wife divorced only if she meets one of the following conditions:

(1) She is the mother of a son or daughter,

(2) She legally adopted his son or daughter while she was married to him and while such son or daughter was under 18, or

(3) She was married to the deceased individual at the time both of them legally adopted a child under 18.

e. Child

The definition of said child is amended to express the time required to establish a parent-child relationship in cases of adopted children or stepchildren in terms of years rather than months. The amendment also permits the adopted child of a deceased individual to qualify as a child without regard to the length of time elapsing after the adoption and before the adopting parent's death.

f. Husband

A new definition is added because of the addition of benefits for dependent husbands. The definition of husband is comparable to that of wife and provides that to be a husband a man must be either the father of the woman worker's son or daughter, or have been married to her for at least three years before filing his application for benefits.

g. Widower

A new definition of widower is added to effectuate the provision for benefits for dependent widowers of insured women workers. To be a widower, a man must be the surviving husband of the woman and have been married to her for at least a year before her death unless he was the father of her son or daughter, or while married to her he had legally adopted her son or daughter who was under the age of 18, or they had both legally adopted a child under age of 18 while they were married.

h. Determination of Family Status

The provisions of the former law applicable to the determination of family status are continued. In addition, the amendments provide for determining when a man is the husband or widower of an insured woman and for determining whether the husband or widower was living with his wife. The conditions are the same as those for the wife or widow.

Effective Dates

The amended Sections 209 to 215, inclusive, become effective January 1, 1951, except that Sections 214, 215, and 216 of the act are applicable (1) in the case of monthly benefits for months after August, 1950, and (2) in the case of lump-sum death payments with respect to deaths after August, 1950.

Benefits in Case of World War II Veterans

A new Section 217 is added to the act, which replaces the former Section 210, which guaranteed temporary survivor protection to certain World War II veterans. The new section provides veterans with wage credits for World War II military service and continues without change or extension the survivor protection contained under the former Section 210.

A. World War II veterans (including, with certain minor exceptions, individuals who died in the service) are provided with wage credits of $160 for each month, any part of which was spent in military or naval service during World War II, except where the military service is the basis for the payment of benefits under any other federal system other than Veterans Administration payments. The wage credits would be used in determining the monthly benefits payable to a veteran and his dependents or survivors for any month after August, 1950, and in determining the lump-sum death payment payable to the survivors of a veteran who dies after August, 1950. This provision would not be applicable to any benefit or payment if a larger benefit or payment would be payable without its application or if another federal benefit, based in whole or in part on active World War II military or naval service other than a benefit determined by the Veterans Administration to be payable by it, is payable.

The administrator is required to determine the benefits of veterans upon application without regard to whether other federal benefits based upon military service are payable unless he is so notified by some federal agency. Thereafter the administrator, if not so notified, must ascertain the facts with respect to other federal benefit payments directly from the agency involved. If such other benefits are payable, the administrator must stop further benefit payments or recompute the amount of further benefits.

Federal agencies authorized to pay benefits based upon military service are required to certify such information with respect to any veteran to the administrator as he deems necessary.

B. The former provisions for the special three-year survivor protection for veterans are carried over into the amended law with appropriate changes to take account of other amendments in the act.

C. It is provided that the parent of a World War II veteran entitled to wage credits under subdivision A. above shall have until July, 1951, or two years after the veteran's death, whichever is later, to file proof of support.

For the purposes of this section, "World War II" is defined as the period beginning with September 16, 1940, and ending at the close of July 24, 1947. "World War II veteran" is defined as any person who served in the active military or naval service during World War II and who, if discharged, was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable either after 90 days of service or because of a service-connected disability. It does not, however, include any individual whose death while in the active military or naval service was inflicted (other than by an enemy of the United States) as lawful punishment for a military or naval offense.

Coverage of State and Local Employees

The 1950 amendments add a new Section 218 to the act under which the protection of the Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance program may be extended to employees of states and their political subdivisions and instrumentalities by means of agreements negotiated between the states and the Federal Security Administrator.

a. Purpose of Agreement

The administrator is required to enter into an agreement at the request of a state for the purpose of extending the Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance coverage to the employees of the state or of any political subdivision or instrumentality of the state. The agreement is to include such provisions not inconsistent with those specified in the act as the state may request. It is also provided that notwithstanding the general exclusions of agricultural labor, domestic service, or service performed by a student, such service may be covered at the option of the state if it is included under an agreement.

b. Definitions

(1) The term "state" does not include the District of Columbia.

(2) "Political subdivision" includes instrumentalities of a state, of a political subdivision, or of any combination of either or both.

(3) "Employee" includes an officer of a state or political subdivision.

(4) "Retirement system" is defined as any pension, annuity, retirement, or similar fund or system established by a state or political subdivision.

(5) "Coverage group" means

(a) Employees of the state other than those engaged in performing service in connection with a proprietary function;

(b) Employees of a political subdivision of a state other than those engaged in performing services in connection with a proprietary function.

(c) Employees of a state engaged in performing service in connection with a single proprietary function.

(d) Employees of a political subdivision engaged in performing services in connection with a single proprietary function.

If an employee would be included in more than one coverage group by reason of the fact that he performs services in connection with two or more proprietary functions or in connection with both a proprietary function and a nonproprietary function he will be included in only one such coverage group, determination of which is to be made in such manner as may be specified in the agreement.

c. Services covered

(1) It is required that the agreement cover one or more coverage groups designated by the state.

(2) As to each coverage group covered by an agreement all services performed by employees as members of that coverage group (except for services in certain classes which may be excluded) must be included under the agreement.

(3) The state may exclude from the agreement all services in any class or classes of elective or part-time positions or positions compensated on a fee basis in any coverage group, and any services of an emergency nature.

(4) The state is granted the right to have the agreement amended to cover additional coverage groups or services not inconsistent with the provisions of the act.

(5) The state is permitted to exclude from any coverage group, agricultural labor, or service performed by a student, if such service would be excluded from compulsory coverage under the act if performed for an employer other than a governmental unit.

(6) The agreement must exclude:

(a) Service performed by an individual who is employed to relieve him from unemployment.

(b) Services performed in a hospital, home, or other institution by a patient or inmate thereof.

(c) Covered transportation service [See Section 210 (1)] [7]

(d) Service which is excluded from employment if performed for an employer other than a governmental unit (other than as provided in (5) above).

d. Exclusion of Positions Covered by Retirement Systems

No agreement may include any services performed by employees as members of any coverage group in positions covered by a retirement system on the date such agreement is made applicable to such coverage group.

e. Payments and Reports by States

The state must agree to pay amounts equivalent to the sum of the employee and employer taxes which would be imposed under Sections 1400 and 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code if the services covered under the agreement constituted employment under Section 1426 of such code. The state must also agree to comply with regulations of the administrator relating to payments and reports.

f. Effective Date of Agreement

An agreement or modification of an agreement may be made effective as to services performed after a date specified in the agreement but not prior to January 1, 1951, and in no case (other than in the case of an agreement or modification agreed to prior to January 1, 1953) prior to the first day of the calendar year in which such agreement or modification is agreed to by the administrator and the state.

g. Termination of Agreement

(1) The state is authorized to terminate an agreement in its entirety or with respect to any coverage group. However, an agreement cannot be terminated in its entirety until the agreement has been in effect for at least five years nor can it be terminated for any coverage group until the affected coverage group has been covered for at least five years. Any such termination is conditioned upon receipt by the administrator, after the end of the five-year period, of two years' advance notice in writing.

(2) The administrator is authorized to terminate an agreement either in its entirety or with respect to any coverage group if it appears after reasonable notice and an opportunity for hearing that the state has failed or is not able legally to comply substantially with the terms of the agreement or of the law.

The administrator may give the state as long as two years to rectify the deficiency.

(3) If an agreement is terminated in its entirety no agreement with such state may be made again. If the termination affects only particular groups those groups may not be again included under an agreement.

h. Deposits in Trust Fund—Adjustments

It is required that all payments received by the Secretary of the Treasury under state agreements be deposited in the trust fund. Overpayments or underpayments of amounts due are adjusted without interest in accordance with regulations prescribed by the administrator. Where overpayments cannot be so adjusted the amounts overpaid will be paid out of the trust fund to the state.

i. Regulations

The administrator is authorized to promulgate regulations designed to make the requirements imposed on the states similar so far as practicable to requirements imposed on employers for similar coverage.

j. Failure to Make Payments

For failure by a state to pay the amounts due under the agreement on time, interest at the rate of 6 percent per year is added. The administrator may deduct the amount of such delinquent payments plus interest from grants to the state under any other provisions of the Social Security Act.

k. Instrumentalities of Two or More States

At the request of any instrumentality of two or more states, the administrator may enter into an agreement with that instrumentality for coverage of its employees.

l. Delegation of Functions

The administrator is authorized to delegate any of his functions relating to such agreements to any officer or employee of any other federal agency and to utilize the services and facilities of such other agency pursuant to an agreement.

Effective Date in Case of Puerto Rico

A new Section 219 is added to the act which provides that Puerto Rico will be covered under Title 2 of the act (Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Benefits) if the Governor certifies to the President of the United States that the Puerto Rican Legislature has adopted a concurrent resolution to the effect that it desires coverage. Coverage is to be effective on January 1st of the first calendar year beginning more than 90 days after receipt by the President of such certification.

Records of Wages and Self-employment Income

(a) Because of the addition of benefits for a husband, widower, and former wife divorced, such individuals are added to the persons listed in Section 205 (b) of the act who are to be given a hearing by the administrator on any decision he makes which may prejudice their rights.

(b) Subsection (c) of Section 205 of the act is amended:

(1) The term "year" is defined as a calendar year in the case of wages and a taxable year in the case of self-employment income. The term "time limitation" is defined as three years, two months, and 15 days (this change will conform the statute of limitations on changes in the administrator's records with the new statute of limitations in the Internal Revenue Code).

The term "survivor" is defined to mean a spouse, former wife divorced, child, or parent, who survives the wage earner or self-employed person.

(2) and (3). The provisions formerly contained in Section 205 (c) (1) of the act which direct the administrator to establish and maintain records of the earnings of individuals and upon request to inform them, their survivors or their agents designated in writing of the amounts in such records are continued and made applicable to self-employment income.

The records are also made evidence of the earnings of individuals and the absence of entries for any period is evidence that no wages were paid or self-employment income derived during such period.

(4) Conditions are prescribed under which the administrator's records may be revised. As under the former law, the administrator may revise his records if any error in them is brought to his attention prior to the expiration of the time limitation. The provisions relating to the effect of the records and to the revisions which may be made in them after the expiration of the time limitations, however, have been revised. As amended, such provisions provide that after the expiration of the time limitation following a year (1) the amounts of wages or self-employment income as shown on the records for any period in that year shall be conclusive, (2) the absence of anything contrary in the records as to the wages alleged to have been paid by an employer during any period in that year shall be presumptive evidence that no such wages were paid to the individual during such period, and (3) the absence of an entry as to self-employment income in that year is conclusive unless it is shown that a tax return of such income was filed before the expiration of the time limitation following the year.

(5) Certain corrections are specifically permitted after the end of the time limitation. Corrections may be made:

A. If an application for monthly benefits or a lump-sum death payment is filed within the time limitation and no final decision has been made on it. (The former provision of Section 205 (c) (3) of the act permitting revision of the records after the time limitation, if the administrator was on notice of an error before the end of the period.)

B. If a written request for a revision of the records is made within the time limitation, but no such revision may be made after final decision upon such application or upon such request.

C. To correct any mechanical, clerical, or other errors apparent on the face of the records.

D. To transfer items to or from records of the Railroad Retirement Board if such items were reported to the wrong agency.

E. To delete or reduce any items entered through fraud.

F. To conform the administrator's records with specified tax returns or informational statements (as provided under former law). However, in the case of a tax or information return in respect of self-employment income filed after the end of the time limitation following the taxable year, corrections of the administrator's records will not be made except to include self-employment income for such year in an amount not in excess of the amount which has been deleted as payments erroneously included in such records as wages paid to such individual during such taxable year.

G. To correct errors resulting from the employer's report of wages for an incorrect period or from his reporting wages for one individual under the name and account number of another individual or similar errors in the report of self-employment income.

H. To include wages paid by an employer to an individual during any period in a year where there is complete absence of any entry in the record of wages having been paid by such employer to such individual during such period.

I. To enter certified items transferred by the Railroad Retirement Board in cases in which survivor's benefits under the Social Security Act are to be based on a computation of social security wages and railroad compensation.

(6) The requirement in the former law that written notice of any deletion or reduction of wages be given to the individual whose record is involved where he had previously been notified by the administrator of his wages for the period involved is continued.

(7) The administrator is given discretion to prescribe the period after any change or refusal to change his records within which an individual or his survivor may be granted a hearing upon request. Under the former law, the hearing must have been requested before the running of the time limitation or within 60 days thereafter.

(8) The provision for judicial review of the administrator's decision under subdivision (c) of this section is continued.

(c) The following new provisions are added to Section 205 of the act:

m. Crediting of Compensation Under the Railroad Retirement Act

Provides that if no person exists who could upon application become entitled to a monthly survivor's annuity under Section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937, or to a lump-sum payment under subsection (f) (1) of that section with respect to the death of an employee, railroad compensation shall be counted on the same basis as old-age and survivor's insurance wages or self-employment income in determining the rights of the employee's survivors to a lump-sum payment or to monthly survivors' benefits under the Social Security Act.

n. Special Rules in Case of Federal Service

It is provided that the Federal Security Administrator shall not make determinations as to employment or wages with respect to service in the employ of the United States or its wholly owned instrumentalities, but shall accept the determinations of the head of the appropriate federal agency or instrumentality. This provision extends the provisions of the former law applicable to services for the Maritime Commission and the Bonneville Power Administrator. Heads of agencies or instrumentalities are authorized to make necessary certifications to the Federal Security Administrator with respect to services under their jurisdiction. These provisions are made applicable to service in certain activities conducted by an instrumentality of the United States subject to the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Defense is designated as the head of such instrumentalities for such purposes.

o. Effective Dates

The amendments made by (a) and (c) of this section of the bill (108) take effect on September 1, 1950. The amendment made by subdivision (b) of this section of the bill takes effect January 1, 1951, except that, effective on September 1, 1950, the husband or former wife divorced of an individual shall be treated the same as a parent of such individual and the legal representative of an individual or of his estate shall be treated the same as the individual for purposes of Section 205(c) of the act as in effect prior to the amendments.

Services for Cooperatives Prior to 1951

Under the 1950 amendments employees of certain farm cooperatives which have paid social security taxes in the past in the belief that their employees were covered under the Old Age and Survivors Insurance Program may be given credit for the wages upon which the social security taxes were paid provided no refunds of those taxes have been made. The specific circumstances under which these credits will be given are:

(1) The individual was employed by the organization prior to 1951.

(2) The employer organization is one of the types enumerated in Section 101(12) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The services rendered by the individual during the time he was employed were agricultural labor as defined in Section 209(1) of the Social Security Act and Section 1426(h) of the Internal Revenue Code prior to 1951 and except for those provisions would have been employment for the purposes of Title II.

(4) The social security taxes have been paid with respect to any part of the remuneration paid to such an individual by such an organization for such services, and the payment of the taxes by the organization has been made in good faith on the assumption that such service was not agricultural labor.

(5) No refund of such taxes has been obtained.

Amendments to the Internal Revenue Code

Rate of Tax on Wages

Sections 1400 and 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code (Federal Contributions Act) provide an existing rate of tax on employees and employers of 1½ percent of wages received for the calendar years 1950 and 1951 and 2 percent thereafter. As amended, the increase to 2 percent does not become effective until 1954, to continue until 1960, and for 1960 to 1964 the rate will be 2½ percent; for 1965 to 1969, 3 percent; and thereafter the rate will be 3¼ percent.

Federal Service

A. A new Section 1412 is added to the Internal Revenue Code to make ineffectual as to the tax imposed by Section 1410 of the code (with respect to remuneration paid after 1950) those provisions of any statute which grant to any instrumentality of the United States an exemption from taxation unless such statute grants a specific exemption from the tax imposed by Section 1410 by an express reference to such section.

B. Section 1420 of the code is amended by adding a new subsection (e) entitled "Federal Service." With respect to the employees' and employers' taxes imposed on certain services performed in the employ of the United States or a wholly owned instrumentality thereof, the head of the federal department or instrumentality having control of the services performed or his agent shall determine whether an individual has performed services which constitute employment as defined in Section 1426 of the code and determine the amount of remuneration which constitutes wages as defined in Section 1426 and shall make the required return and payment of the taxes imposed by Sections 1400 and 1410. The person making such return may make payments of the employer's tax without regard to the $3,600 limitation in Section 1426(a) (1) and shall not be required to file a claim for refund or obtain a refund of any amount paid as tax under Section 1410 of that part of the remuneration not included in wages by reason of the $3,600 limitation. This provision is made applicable to services performed by civilian employees who are not compensated from funds appropriated by the Congress in designated departments and instrumentalities of the United States subject to the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense who, for purposes of this section, is deemed to be the head of any such instrumentality.

C. Section 1411 of the Internal Revenue Code which relates to adjustments of the employers' tax imposed by Section 1410 of the code is amended by adding a special provision with respect to remuneration received from the United States or a wholly owned instrumentality thereof during any calendar year after the calendar year 1950. The amendment provides that for the purposes of such section, each head of a federal department, agency or instrumentality who makes a return pursuant to Section 1420 (e) of the code, and each agent designated by the head of a federal department, agency or instrumentality who makes a return pursuant to Section 1420 (e) shall be deemed a separate employer.

a. Wages

Section 1426 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code which defines the term "wages" is amended to conform to the definition of that term contained in Section 209 of the Social Security Act (see above).[8]

b. Refund of Tax on Excess Wages

(1) Section 1401 (d) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code which relates to the refund of wages received after 1946 is amended to limit the provision for refund of employees' tax paid on aggregate wages in excess of $3,000 received by an employee from more than one employer during any calendar year after 1946 through the years 1946 to 1950, inclusive.

(2) A new subdivision (3) is added to Section 1401 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the refund of wages received after 1950, to conform the special refund provisions to the increase in limits on wages from $3,000 to $3,600 for 1951 and subsequent years.

(3) A new subdivision (4) is also added to Section 1401 (d) to provide special rules relating to refunds and adjustments of employee tax in the case of federal and state employees.

c. Effective Dates

The amendment relating to the revision of the definition of wages becomes applicable only with respect to remuneration paid after December 31, 1950. It is provided that in the case of remuneration paid prior to January 1, 1951, the determination under Section 1426 (a) (1) of the code prior to its amendment, of whether or not such remuneration constituted wages, shall be made as if that section had not been amended, and without inferences drawn from the fact that the amendment made is not applicable to periods prior to January 1, 1951.

Definition of Employment

a. Employment

Effective January 1, 1951, Section 1426 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code defining the term "employment" is amended to conform to the revised definition of that term in Section 210 (a) of the Social Security Act (see above) [9].

b. State, United States, and Citizen

Effective January 1, 1951, Section 1426 (e) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to conform to the definition of "State" contained therein to the definition of that term as amended in Section 210 (h) of the Social Security Act, and to include the definition of "United States" and "citizen" as those terms are defined in Section 210 (i) and (j) of the Social Security Act. (See above) [10].

c. American Vessel and Aircraft

Section 1426 (g) of the code relating to the definition of "American Vessel" is amended to conform to the definitions of "American Vessel and Aircraft" contained in Section 210 (c) and (d) of the Social Security Act. (See above) [11].

d. Agricultural Labor

Administration or the United States Maritime Commission, and to certain services performed for the Bonneville Power Administrator (which provisions are superseded by the new Sections 1420 (c) and 1426 (b) of the code) are deleted, and a new subdivision (i) is added defining the term "American Employer" to conform to the definition of that term contained in Section 210 (e) of the Social Security Act (see above) [13].

f. Computation of Wages in Certain Cases

A new subdivision (j) is added to Section 1426 of the code to provide that in the case of domestic service any payment of cash remuneration for service shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

g. Covered Transportation Service

A new subdivision (k) is added to Section 1426 of the code to define "covered transportation service" to conform to the definition of that term contained in Section 210 (l) of the Social Security Act (see above).[14]

h. Exemption of Religious, Charitable, etc., Organizations

Subdivision (l) is added to provide for the filing of a waiver of exemption by an organization exempt from income tax under Section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code, and for the termination of the waiver period by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. This procedure is required to effect coverage of the employees of such organizations pursuant to Section 210 (a) (9) (B) of the Social Security Act (see above).[15]

Definition of Employee

Section 1426(d) of the Internal Revenue Code which defines the term "employee" is amended to conform to the definition of that term as contained in Section 210 (k) of the Social Security Act (see above).[16]

The above amendment is applicable only with respect to services performed after 1950.

Receipts for Employees: Special Refund

a. Receipts for Employees

A new Section 1633 is added to the code which supersedes Sections 1625 and 1403 of the code, relating to employee receipts for Social Security Tax withheld with respect to wages paid after December 31, 1950, and provides for one receipt which would give the employee information as to his wages subject to employee Social Security Tax and the amount deducted and withheld from him as such tax, and as to his wages subject to income tax withholding and the amount deducted and withheld as such tax.

b. Penalties

Section 1634 is also added to the code to provide penalties for fraudulent statement or failure to furnish statement. This provision corresponds to the existing Section 1626 (a) and (b) of the code and is applicable only with respect to wages paid after December 31, 1950.

[15] Page 770.

c. Credit for "Special Refunds" of Employee Social Security Tax

Section 322 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by adding a new subdivision (4) to authorize the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to prescribe regulations which would permit the employee taxpayer to claim credit against his income tax liability for employee Social Security Tax withheld on his wages in excess of $3,600 received during the calendar year by reason of his employment by two or more employers. This provision is only applicable with respect to special refunds of employee Social Security Tax on wages paid after December 31, 1950.

Periods of Limitation on Assessment and Refund of Certain Employment Taxes

Under the former law the periods of limitation on the taxes imposed under Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to employment taxes, were prescribed in Section 3312, relating to assessments and collections, and Section 3313, relating to refunds and credits. In general, those sections provide a four-year period of limitation on both assessments and refunds, and a five-year period for bringing a proceeding in court for collection without assessment. However, the general rule with respect to income tax is that assessment must be made and refund must be claimed in the three-year period after the return is filed, except that if no return is filed, refund must be claimed within two years after the tax is paid, and in any event may be claimed within such two-year period. Under the 1950 amendments new Sections 1635 and 1636 are added to Chapter 9 of the code to provide special periods of limitation which are applicable to such of the taxes under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and the income tax withholding provisions as are collected and paid under a return system. These provisions supersede Sections 3312 and 3313 with respect to those taxes. However, the provisions of Sections 3312 and 3313 will be applicable to any taxes imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and subchapter D of Chapter 9 of the code (relating to income tax withholding) which the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may require to be collected and paid, not by making and filing returns but by stamp or other authorized methods.

The periods of limitation prescribed by Sections 1635 and 1636 are measured from the date the return is filed which date is subject to the following conclusive presumption: Returns for any period in any calendar year which are filed before March 15th of the succeeding calendar year are deemed filed (and tax paid at the time of filing such returns is deemed paid) on March 15th of the succeeding calendar year, so that the period of limitations with respect to the tax for any part of a calendar year will run uniformly from a date in the succeeding year which corresponds to the filing date for income tax returns.

These periods of limitation will be applicable only to taxes imposed with respect to remuneration paid during calendar years after 1950. Taxes with respect to remuneration paid during any calendar year before 1951 will continue to be subject to Sections 3312 and 3313.

Self-employment Income

A new subchapter E, "Tax on Self-employment Income," is added to Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code (income tax) to impose a tax on self-employment income for coverage under the old-age and survivors' insurance benefit provisions of the Social Security Act.

Section 480 levies a tax effective January 1, 1951, on the self-employment income of every individual as follows:

For the taxable years 1951 to 1953, incl.	2¼%
For the taxable years 1954 to 1959, incl.	3 %
For the taxable years 1960 to 1964, incl.	3¾%
For the taxable years 1965 to 1969, incl.	4½%
For the taxable years after 1969	4⅞%

Section 481 defines the terms "net earnings from self-employment," "self-employment income," "trade or business," and "employee and wages" to conform to the definitions of such terms as contained in Title II of the Social Security Act (see above).[17]

Section 482 requires every individual (other than a nonresident alien) having net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more for the taxable year, to file a return containing such information for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this subchapter imposing the tax on self-employment income as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury shall by regulation prescribe. Such a return would be considered a return required under Section 51(a), and the provisions applicable to returns under Section 51(a) would be applicable to such return. However, the tax on self-employment income in the case of a joint return of husband and wife is the sum of the taxes computed on the separate self-employment income of each spouse.

This section also contains a provision which entitles the new subchapter E, the "Self-Employment Contributions Act," prescribes its effective date in the case of Puerto Rico (Sec. 3810) and provides for the collection of taxes in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico (Sec. 3811).

Section 3812 is added to the code to provide for the mitigation of the statute of limitations and other provisions in case of related taxes under this chapter by providing that where an amount is erroneously treated as wages or as self-employment income and the correction of such error is authorized as to one such applicable tax but is prevented as to the other by any law or rule, then the adjustment under the one act will reflect the adjustment which would have been made under the other act but for such law or rule.

Section 1607(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, which defines the term "wages," is amended to conform to the definition of that term contained in Section 209 of the Social Security Act (see above).[18]

Failure of Employer to File Return

Section 1631 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended. The section formerly provided a $5 minimum addition to the tax for failure to pay the tax timely as well as for failure to file the return timely unless the failure was due to reasonable cause and not to wilful neglect. The amendment deletes the $5 minimum addition to the tax for failure to pay, thus providing only one $5 minimum addition to the tax for failure to file a return, irrespective of whether one or more taxes are required to be reported on such return. Under the former section, a $5 minimum addition is provided for each class of tax required to be reported on the return. This amendment is made applicable only with respect to returns filed after December 31, 1950.

It is provided that when during the period 1946 to 1951 a corporation succeeds another corporation, incorporated under the laws of a different state, and (1) the business is identical, (2) the proportionate interests of the respective shareholders are the same, (3) the old corporation is dissolved or merged with the successor corporation, and (4) if both corporations are employers under the Federal Contributions Act and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, they will both be considered as one employer for the year of change with respect to the $3,000 wage limitation, and credits or tax refunds will be granted.

AMENDMENTS TO TITLES I, IV, V, X, AND XIV OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

(Public Assistance Provisions)

Old Age Security

The provisions of the Social Security Act relating to Old Age Security grants-in-aid (Act, Sections 2, 3, and 6) are amended in certain respects by Sections 301, 302, and 303 of the bill.

The new law provides that state plans for old age security, in order to qualify for federal participation, must provide for granting an opportunity for a fair hearing before the state agency which administers the plan to any individual whose claim for old age assistance is denied or is not acted upon with reasonable promptness. The law formerly provided only for a hearing for the individual whose claim was denied. This provision is effective July 1, 1951.

State plans must provide, effective July 1, 1951, that all individuals wishing to make application for old age assistance shall have opportunity to do so, and that old age assistance shall be furnished with reasonable promptness to all eligible individuals.

Effective July 1, 1953, if a state plan includes payments to persons in private or public institutions, the plan must provide for the establishment or designation of a state authority or authorities which shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining standards for such institutions.

The formula for computation of the federal portion of old age assistance remains unchanged, except that provision is made for payment of matching funds to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, in the amount of one-half of the assistance granted, not counting so much with respect to any individual for any month as exceeds $30. The total amount certified by the Federal Security Administrator under the public assistance provisions of the Social Security Act for payment to Puerto Rico with respect to any fiscal year shall not exceed $4,250,000, and the total amount certified for payment to the Virgin Islands with respect to any fiscal year shall not exceed $160,000 (Bill, Section 1108).

The definition of the term "old age assistance" is changed to include medical care in behalf of, or any type of remedial care recognized under state law in behalf of, needy individuals 65 years of age or older, as well as money payments to such individuals, excluding payments to or care in behalf of individuals who are inmates of public institutions other than as patients in medical institutions, and excluding payments to or care in behalf of individuals who are patients in institutions for tuberculosis or mental disease, or who have been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis and are patients in medical institutions as a result thereof.

With respect to individuals who are inmates of private institutions, the exclusion of individuals who are patients in institutions for tuberculosis or mental disease or are persons who have been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis and are in medical institutions as a result thereof was effective October 1, 1950, as to medical or remedial care, but does not take effect until July 1, 1952, as to money payments.

Aid to the Needy Blind

Those provisions of the act relating to grants-in-aid for aid to the needy blind (Sections 1002, 1003, and 1006) have been amended by Sections 341, 342, and 343, of the bill.

State plans for aid to the needy blind also must provide for granting an opportunity for a fair hearing before the state agency administering the plan to any individual whose claim for aid to the blind is denied or is not acted upon with reasonable promptness. This amendment is effective July 1, 1951.

Effective October 1, 1950, state plans must provide that no aid will be furnished any individual under the plan with respect to any period with respect to which he is receiving old age assistance or aid to dependent children under the state plan approved for federal aid.

Between October 1, 1950, and June 30, 1952, state plans must provide that the state agency administering the program shall, in determining need, take into consideration any other income and resources of an individual claiming aid to the blind, except that the state agency may, in making such determination, disregard up to $50 per month of earned income. After July 1, 1952, it is mandatory that the state agency shall, in making such determination, disregard the first $50 per month of earned income.

Effective October 1, 1950, state plans must provide that, in determining whether an individual is blind, there shall be an examination by a physician skilled in diseases of the eye or by an optometrist. After October 1, 1952, the individual may select either a physician or an optometrist.

Effective July 1, 1951, state plans must provide that all individuals wishing to make application for aid to the blind shall have opportunity to do so, and that aid to the blind shall be furnished with reasonable promptness to all eligible individuals.

Effective July 1, 1953, if a state plan includes payments to individuals in private or public institutions, the plan must provide for the establishment or designation of a state authority or authorities which shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining standards for such institutions.

The formula for computation of the federal portion of aid to the blind also remains unchanged, except for the inclusion of a provision for payment of aid to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the amount of aid to be paid to equal one-half of the total expended as aid not counting so much of such expenditure with respect to any individual as exceeds $30.

The definition of aid to the blind is changed in exactly the same manner as that of old age security. That is, to provide for medical care, or any type of remedial care recognized under state law, as aid in behalf of qualified needy blind persons. The Federal Government will participate in payment of assistance to otherwise eligible individuals who are inmates of public medical institutions, except to individuals who are patients in public institutions for tuberculosis or mental disease, or who have been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis and are patients in public medical institutions as a result thereof. Also, the disqualification of tubercular or psychotic persons in private medical institutions (after July 1, 1952, for money payments, and after October 1, 1950, for medical or remedial care) is effective as to needy blind persons exactly as is provided as to recipients of old-age security.

The 1950 amendments provide (Sec. 344) that in the case of any state, excepting Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, which did not have on January 1, 1949, a state plan for aid to the blind approved under the Social Security Act, the Federal Security Administrator shall approve a plan of such state for such aid, even though the plan does not meet the requirements that the state agency in determining need shall take into consideration other income and resources of the individual claiming aid, if the state plan meets all the other requirements of the Social Security Act for an approved plan. In the case of any such plan, grants-in-aid would be made only with respect to expenditures which would be authorized under a plan which would fully conform without regard to this saving provision. This amendment is effective from October 1, 1950, to June 30, 1955.

Aid to Dependent Children

Those portions of the act which relate to grants-in-aid for dependent children (Sections 402, 403, and 406) are amended by Sections 321, 322, and 323 of the bill.

The Social Security Act presently provides that a state plan must provide for ganting to any individual, whose claim with respect to aid to a dependent child is denied, an opportunity for a fair hearing before the state agency administering the plan. Effective July 1, 1951, the plan must provide for granting an opportunity for a fair hearing to any individual whose claim is denied or is not acted upon with reasonable promptness.

Effective July 1, 1951, a state plan must provide that all individuals wishing to make application for aid to dependent children shall have the opportunity to do so, and that aid to dependent children shall be furnished with reasonable promptness to all eligible individuals.

Effective July 1, 1952, a state plan must provide for prompt notice to appropriate law enforcement officials of the furnishing of aid to dependent children in respect to a child who has been deserted or abandoned by a parent.

State plans must provide, effective October 1, 1950, that no aid will be furnished any individual under the plan with respect to any period with respect to which he is receiving old age assistance under a federally approved state plan.

After July 1, 1952, a state plan shall not impose as a condition of eligibility for aid a residence requirement which denies aid with respect to any child residing in the state who was born within one year immediately preceding the application, if the parent or other relative with whom the child is living has resided in the state for one year immediately preceding the birth of the child.

Provision is made in the new law for federal participation in payments of aid by Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Federal matching funds are to equal one-half of the total aid expended, not counting so much as exceeds $18 with respect to one child and $12 with respect to each of any other children in the same home.

The definition of aid to dependent children is changed to include medical or remedial care, in behalf of, as well as money payments with respect to, eligible children, and (except in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands) to provide for money payments or medical or remedial care to meet the needs of the relative with whom any dependent child is living if money payments are made under the state plan with respect to such child for the same month. The term "relative with whom any dependent child is living" means the parent, grandparent, brother, sister, stepfather, stepmother, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, or aunt, with whom the child is living in a place of residence maintained by such individual or individuals as his or their own home.

Aid to Permanently and Totally Disabled

A new title (Title XIV) is added to the act by Section 351 of the bill to provide for grants-in-aid to the states for aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

Section 1405 of the act defines aid to the permanently and totally disabled as meaning money payments to, or medical care in behalf of, or any type of remedial care recognized under state law in behalf of, needy individuals 18 years of age or older who are permanently and totally disabled, but does not include any such payments to or care in behalf of any individual who is an inmate of a public institution (except as a patient in a medical institution) nor any individual

(1) who is a patient in an institution for tuberculosis or mental diseases, or

(2) who has been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis and is a patient in a medical institution as a result thereof.

Under the amendments (Act, Sections 1401, 1403, and 1404) just as in the case of grants-in-aid for old age, needy blind, and needy children purposes, a state must prepare and submit for approval by the Federal Security Administrator a comprehensive plan for granting aid to the permanently and totally disabled, in order to secure the federal funds available to it. State plans that qualify for grants must continue to conform to federal requirements in order for the eligibility of the state to receive the grants to continue.

Section 1402 of the act provides that a state plan for aid to the permanently and totally disabled must:

(1) Provide that it shall be in effect in all political subdivisions of the state, and, if administered by them, be mandatory upon them;

(2) Provide for financial participation by the state;

(3) Either provide for the establishment or designation of a single state agency to administer the plan, or provide for the establishment or designation of a single state agency to supervise the administration of the plan;

(4) Provide for granting an opportunity for a fair hearing before the state agency to any individual whose claim for aid to the permanently and totally disabled is denied or is not acted upon with reasonable promptness;

(5) Provide such methods of administration (including methods relating to the establishment and maintenance of personnel standards on a merit basis, except that the administrator shall exercise no authority with respect to the selection, tenure of office, and compensation of any individual employed in accordance with such methods) as are found by the administrator to be necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the plan;

(6) Provide that the state agency will make such reports, in such form and containing such information, as the administrator may from time to time require, and comply with such provisions as the administrator may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;

(7) Provide that no aid will be furnished any individual under the plan with respect to any period with respect to which he is receiving old age assistance under the state plan approved under Section 2 of the act, aid to dependent children under the state plan approved under Section 402 of the act, or aid to the blind under the state plan approved under Section 1002 of the act;

(8) Provide that the state agency shall, in determining need, take into consideration any other income and resources of an individual claiming aid to the permanently and totally disabled;

(9) Provide safeguards which restrict the use or disclosure of information concerning applicants and recipients to purposes directly connected with the administration of aid to the permanently and totally disabled;

(10) Provide that all individuals wishing to make application for aid to the permanently and totally disabled shall have opportunity to do so, and that aid to the permanently and totally disabled shall be furnished with reasonable promptness to all eligible individuals; and

(11) Effective July 1, 1953, provide, if the plan includes payments to individuals in private or public institutions, for the establishment or designation of a state authority or authorities which shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining standards for such institutions.

In addition to the requirements set out above, a state plan may not impose any residence requirement which excludes from eligibility for aid any resident of the state who has resided therein five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application, and who has resided therein continuously for one year preceding his application. Nor may a state plan impose any citizenship requirement which excludes from eligibility any citizen of the United States.

The Federal Government will provide funds for the states equal to three-fourths of the aid paid to an individual, not counting so much for any month as exceeds $20, plus one-half of the amount by which the grant (up to $50) exceeds $20. Funds are also available for aid in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Grants to States for Maternal and Child Welfare

Those portions of the act by which grants-in-aid are made to the states for maternal and child welfare (Sections 501, 502, 511, 512, and 521) are amended by Section 331 of the bill.

Federal grants to the states for maternal and child welfare services provided for in Title V of the Federal Social Security Act are increased by the 1950 amendments. The authorization for appropriation of federal funds for maternal and child-health services is increased from $11,000,000 per year to $16,500,000 per year. For the current fiscal year, $15,000,000 is authorized.

For services for crippled children, authority for federal grants is increased from $7,500,000 per year to $15,000,000 per year. For the current fiscal year $12,000,000 is authorized.

The amendments have increased the appropriation for child welfare services from $3,500,000 per year to $10,000,000.

Unemployment Insurance

a. Conformity with Federal Requirements

Section 1603 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to provide that the Secretary of Labor may not find a state law that has once been approved by the Federal Government out of conformity with federal requirements unless the state law has since been amended by the legislature. A finding that a state law is out of conformity does not become effective until the ninetieth day after the Governor of the State has been notified of such finding unless the state has, before such date, so amended its law that it will comply substantially with the Secretary of Labor's interpretation of the conformity requirements. It is also provided that no finding that a state is failing to comply substantially with the provisions in its law required by Section 1603 (a) (5) of the federal act may be based upon an application or interpretation of the state law if further administrative or judicial review of such application or interpretation is provided for under the laws of the state.

Section 303 of the Social Security Act is amended to provide that if, after notice and opportunity for hearing of the state agency, the secretary finds that there is a denial of unemployment benefits in a substantial number of cases to individuals entitled thereto under the law of the state, he may not withhold federal grants for administration of the state unemployment insurance program until the question of entitlement has been decided by the highest judicial authority given jurisdiction under the state law.

The fact that the name of a person who has filed as legislative advocate agreeably to Government Code Section 9906 does not appear on the foregoing list means no more than that it has not been included because of some technical defect or deficiency in the papers on file, which can be corrected when the deficiency is called to the registrant's attention. It is the intention of the committee to give all registrants notice and an opportunity to correct technical defects.

PROGRESS REPORT OF THE SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION

Your committee, in order more properly and efficiently to perform its functions under Government Code Section 9909, in order that you may understand how it intends to perform its functions and to proceed, and in order that persons affected by and interested in the action which your committee will take in performing its functions under Government Code Section 9909 may know how your committee will proceed and, when necessary, may adjust their own conduct accordingly, has adopted Rules of Procedure dealing with the issuing, suspension or revocation of Certificates of Registration as Legislative Advocate, and respectfully reports that it has adopted Rules as follows:

Resolved by the Special Senate Committee on Legislative Representation, That, until revoked, altered, or amended, these Rules are adopted and shall guide the committee in conducting proceedings, conducting investigations, and holding and conducting hearings, when hearings are held, to determine whether the committee shall issue, revoke, or suspend a Certificate of Registration as Legislative Advocate under Section 9909 of the Government Code:

PART 1—GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Unless the provision or the context otherwise requires, the definitions and general provisions set forth in this part govern the construction of these Rules.

2. "Committee" means the Special Senate Committee on Legislative Representation.

3. "Registrant" means any person required to file any statement or report under Section 9906 of the Government Code, and any person who has filed any statement or report referred to in Section 9906 of the Government Code.

4. "Certificate" means a Certificate of Registration as Legislative Advocate, issued pursuant to Section 9909 of the Government Code.

5. Rule or Part headings contained in these Rules shall not in any manner affect the meaning or intent of these Rules.

PART 2—ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATES

20. Applications for Certificates. The committee may consider any statement, report, or authorization filed by a registrant pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code, as an application for a certificate.

21. Processing Applications. The committee will review each application for a certificate filed by registrants to whom any certificate has been issued, as soon as practicable after the filing of the application. If upon a review of the application, the committee is not satisfied that a certificate should issue, the committee may require the registrant to supply and submit such additional information and proof as the committee deems proper.

If upon a review of the application, and the review of any additional information and proof, and after such other investigation as the committee deems proper a majority of the committee finds that the registrant is of good moral character, has complied with the provisions of Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 2 of the Government Code, and is entitled to a certificate, the committee will make a preliminary determination to that effect.

22. Report of Preliminary Determination. The committee shall, as soon as practicable, report to the Senate its preliminary determination. The report shall contain the name of each registrant to whom the committee proposes to issue a certificate, the name or names of the persons by whom each registrant is employed and from whom the registrant has on file an authorization, a brief statement that the committee proposes to issue a certificate to each person named not less than five days after the making of the report unless good cause for denying the certificate is presented, and a request that the report be printed in the Senate Journal.

23. Issuance of Certificate. At the first meeting of the committee held not less than five days after the making of the report of the committee's preliminary determination, the committee will issue a certificate to each registrant named in the report, unless there has been filed with the committee a verified complaint conforming with the provisions of Part 4 of these Rules, or because of matter brought to its attention since the filing of the report, the committee on its own motion determines to conduct further investigation.

24. Report of Denial, Suspension, or Revocation of Certificate. If upon review of an application and the review of any additional information and proof, or after such other investigation as the committee deems proper, the committee finally determines that the application should be denied and that the registrant should not receive a certificate, or if a certificate is suspended or revoked, the committee shall make an order to that effect and report its action to the Senate.

If the determination and order are made without an opportunity for the registrant to appear at a hearing, the Executive Secretary of the committee shall mail a copy of the order to the registrant at his last address shown on his registration papers. The order shall be mailed, together with a statement that upon proper application pursuant to Part 4 of these Rules, a hearing will be afforded the registrant.

If the order is made after a hearing or after the registrant has been afforded an opportunity to appear at a hearing of which he has failed to avail himself, no notice of such order need be given to the registrant.

PART 3—CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

30. Duration of Certificate Certificates remain in effect until they expire by their terms or by operation of law, or until surrendered, suspended, or revoked as provided in Section 9909 of the Government Code and in these Rules.

31. Service of Papers. Any notice, request, demand, subpena, or other paper or process shall be deemed personally served on the registrant if it is enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to registrant at the last business address shown in his registration statement or other papers filed pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code, and deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid.

32. Surrender of Certificate. Each registrant shall forthwith surrender his certificate to the committee when the certificate expires, or when the committee has suspended or revoked it.

33. Additional Information to Be Filed. Each registrant shall promptly file from time to time, as provided for in Section 9906 of the Government Code, the following information:

(a) A statement of any additional employment.

(b) A statement of any change in his business address.

(c) A statement of any change in the terms of employment as a legislative representative, or other employment referred to in any papers filed pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code, including, but not limited to, the name and address of the employer, term of employment, compensation or other consideration to be paid.

34. Surrender of Certificate for Modification. Each registrant shall, upon request, promptly surrender his certificate in order that it may be appropriately changed or modified, where a change or modification is required, or canceled, if all of the registrant's authority has been terminated.

35. Reports. Each person registering pursuant to Section 9906 of the Government Code, and each registrant to whom a certificate has been issued, shall, between the 1st and 10th day of each calendar month, so long as his activity continues, file the detailed reports under oath as required by Section 9906. A failure to do so shall not be deemed reason for suspending or revoking a certificate, if in any month for which a report is not filed the registrant or holder of a certificate has not engaged in any activity referred to in Section 9906 of the Government Code, and registrant so states in the first monthly report filed by him thereafter. Such statement shall be sufficient to continue his certificate in good standing if there are no other grounds or reasons that the certificate should be suspended or revoked. This Rule shall not be construed to prevent any person from filing a monthly report for the months during which he has not engaged in any activity covered by Section 9906, for the purpose of making it appear currently of record that his registration and certificate are in good standing.

36. Statement of Compensation. The failure of a registrant to include in his registration a statement of how much he is paid, and is to receive, shall be deemed sufficient ground for refusing to issue a certificate. If the registrant's employment is on a regular monthly or annual basis and is for services other than activities specified in Section 9906 of the Government Code, the committee will deem that he has complied with this Rule if he does either of the following:

(a) States his annual or monthly compensation.

(b) States that he is paid on a monthly or annual basis for various services, some of which do not constitute activities under Section 9906, and further states that he will make appropriate allocation of his compensation for activities covered by Section 9906 when such services are performed. If the registrant thereafter fails to make such allocation of his compensation in any monthly report, this failure shall be deemed sufficient ground for refusing a certificate or suspending or revoking a certificate.

The committee shall not consider that the requirements of this Rule are met if the registrant merely states that he is to be paid a reasonable fee or a fee to be agreed upon, but where the fee or compensation is to be fixed or agreed upon only as or after services have been rendered, the basis upon which the fee is to be determined shall be fixed and stated with precision and upon a unit time basis, and the monthly reports filed thereafter which state the amount of the fee earned in the preceding month and the amount thereof which has been paid.

If the basis for fixing a fee for compensation is one which would increase or decrease the compensation depending upon the result of the services and whether the same were successful in whole or in part or unsuccessful in whole or in part, it shall be considered for the purposes of these Rules, an agreement for contingent compensation, and shall be deemed sufficient ground for denying, suspending, or revoking a certificate.

PART 4—PROCEDURE FOR DENIAL, REVOCATION, OR SUSPENSION OF CERTIFICATES

40. General. Certificates will be suspended or revoked as provided in subdivision 2 of Section 9909 of the Government Code and in these Rules, upon proceedings, investigations, or hearings initiated by the committee on its own motion or by verified complaint.

41. Periodic Review of Registration Statements. The committee, from time to time, will review all statements, reports, and authorizations filed by any registrant to whom a certificate has been issued and is outstanding, and will review such other information or proof as it may from time to time require, to determine if the registrant is in good standing as such and is complying with the provisions of law. If the committtee finds upon such review that good cause exists for the suspension or revocation of a certificate, it may on its own motion, with or without a hearing as it determines, take such steps as it deems appropriate.

42. Filing of Complaints. The committee will receive and file with its records any verified complaint against any registrant. The committee may disregard any complaint filed and summarily dismiss the same if it fails to comply with the provisions of Rule 43, or fails to state any charge which, if true, would warrant the denial, suspension, or revocation of a certificate.

43. Form of Complaints. The complaint shall be signed by the persons making the charges. If filed by other than a natural person, the complaint shall be signed and verified by a duly authorized officer thereof. The complaint shall be verified in the manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of complaints in civil actions. A verified complaint shall clearly and distinctly show the following:

(a) The name and address of the persons by whom or on whose behalf the complaint is filed.

(b) The name of the persons against whom the complaint is made.

(c) A statement of the charges made. The statement of charges shall specify the statutes, Rules, or other provisions of law with which the person charged (respondent) is alleged to have violated, together with a statement in ordinary and concise language of the acts or omissions with which the respondent is charged. If any statement is on information and belief, it shall be accompanied by a statement of the source of the information and the grounds for the belief, which shall be a statement of fact and not conclusions.

44. Charges in Complaints. The committee will consider only the following charges in any verified complaint:

(a) The charge that the respondent is not a person of good moral character.

(b) The charge that the respondent has violated a provision or provisions of Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 2, of the Government Code.

(c) The charge that respondent has violated his obligations under Section 9910 of the Government Code.

(d) The charge that respondent has violated Section 35 of Article IV of the State Constitution.

(e) The charge that respondent has violated Sections 85 or 86 of the Penal Code, or Sections 9054 or 9056 of the Government Code.

45. Notice of Complaint. If a verified complaint complying with the requirements of these Rules is filed with the committee, the committee may make such investigation as it deems appropriate. Before a hearing is held on the complaint, notice thereof shall be served on the person or persons charged in the complaint, together with a copy of the complaint. The notice may be served personally or in the manner provided by Rule 31. The notice shall state that a verified complaint has been filed with the committee, that the respondent named in the complaint has 10 days after service of the notice within which to file a verified answer with the committee and demand a hearing, and that unless such verified answer and demand for hearing are filed within that time, or such further time as the committee may grant, the committee will proceed to deal with the charges in the verified complaint in such manner as it deems proper.

46. Filing of Answer. The respondent named in the complaint may within 10 days after service of the notice and copy of the complaint, file with the committee a verified answer to the charges and demand a hearing. The committee may, for good cause, grant further time in which to answer. The answer may consist of denials or the statement of any material by way of defense, or both.

If an answer and demand for hearing is filed as provided for in these Rules, a hearing shall be had as provided by these Rules. If no answer and demand for hearing is filed, the committee may proceed to deal with the charges in the complaint as it deems proper, and may hold hearings on the charges, at which hearings the committee may require the attendance of the respondents, the complainants, or any other person the committee desires to hear.

47. Certificate Not Suspended by Filing Complaint. If at the time of the filing of a complaint, a respondent named in the complaint holds a valid certificate, it shall remain in effect until the committee determines the charges made in the complaint and dismisses the charges or suspends or revokes the certificate.

48. General Rule on Hearing. Except as otherwise provided by law and by these Rules, the committee in determining whether to issue, suspend, or revoke a certificate may proceed with or without hearings. If hearings are held, they shall be open to the public.

49. Hearing When Complaint Filed. If a verified complaint has been filed with the committee, and the respondent has filed an answer and demand for hearing, a hearing shall be had before a certificate is issued, suspended, or revoked.

50. Hearing When Certificate Has Been Denied. If the committee has refused to issue a certificate without a hearing, the registrant shall be notified of the committee's action. The notice shall be served as provided in Rule 31. Within 10 days after the mailing of the notice the registrant whose application has been denied may demand a hearing.

51. Investigations. All investigations, other than hearings, shall be conducted by the committee at such times, at such places, and by such means as the committee deems proper.

52. Scheduling Hearings. The chairman shall schedule such hearings as are deemed advisable or as are provided for by these Rules. The time and place of all hearings shall be such as the chairman may fix, except that the time shall not be earlier than the expiration of the time within which a respondent or registrant may file a demand for a hearing.

53. Notice of Hearings. The committee shall give reasonable notice in writing of time and place of all hearings either personally or by mail, to the complainant or complainants in any verified complaint, to the respondent or respondents charged in any verified complaint, and to any registrant entitled to a hearing as provided in Rules 49 and 50. The committee may give notice of the hearings to any other persons they deem proper, and in such manner as they deem proper. When hearings are held on the committee's own motion, only such notice shall be given as the committee deems proper in the circumstances.

54. Conduct of Hearings. At any hearing a person shall be heard only with the consent of the committee, except that on hearings held pursuant to demands for a hearing filed in accordance with these Rules the complainant, respondent, and registrant shall be entitled to the following:

(a) To be represented by a member of the State Bar of California.

(b) To produce evidence which is material and relevant, and to cross-examine witnesses.

(c) To have subpenas issued by the committee upon reasonable request therefor. If a request for a subpena duces tecum is filed, the subpena will issue only if the request specifies with particularity the records, documents, papers, or other material desired, and is accompanied by a showing required for the issuance of subpenas duces tecum in civil actions in the superior courts of the State of California.

55. Scope of Inquiry. In all hearings oral evidence shall be taken only by oath or affirmation. No testimony or evidence required shall be taken or received unless it is material and relevant to a charge made in the verified complaint, or a matter under investigation. In hearings had under the committee's own motion, the committee may determine the scope of the hearing, and on hearings had pursuant to a demand under Rules 49 and 50, the inquiry shall not be confined to any reasons which the committee may have stated upon the denial, suspension, or revocation of a certificate.

56. Amending Complaint or Answer. The committee in its discretion may permit amendment to any verified complaint, answer, or other material filed with it, upon a showing to the committee of cause which the committee deems sufficient.

57. Order of Hearings. On any hearing the committee shall determine the order of procedure and the order of proof, and on its own motion may enlarge the scope of the inquiry. The hearing need not be conducted according to any technical rules.

58. Evidence. The hearing need not be conducted according to any technical rules relating to evidence, testimony, or witnesses, used in courts of record. Any evidence which is relevant and material shall be admitted if it is the sort on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs, without regard for any common law or statutory rule under which it might be excluded in the trial of any civil action.

On all investigations and hearings the committee will consider, and take notice of, so far as relevant and material, all proceedings and all matters appearing in any proceeding, at any time had by either house of the Legislature or any committee of either house of the Legislature or any joint committee of the houses of the Legislature.

59. Affidavits. The committee may receive proof on any matter by affidavit. If any affidavit is received in any hearing held pursuant to a demand for a hearing, the complainant, respondent, or registrant shall be afforded an opportunity, upon a request made within a reasonable time after notice that the affidavit will be received, to cross-examine the person making the affidavit. If an opportunity to cross-examine the person making the affidavit is not afforded after a request therefor, the affidavit may be introduced in evidence, but shall be given only the same effect as other hearsay evidence.

60. Failure to Appear Before Committee. If any complainant who has filed a verified complaint, or any registrant or respondent fails to appear before the committee pursuant to notice served upon him, or fails to appear at any hearing of which he has notice, the committee may forthwith proceed as though such person had filed his complaint, answer, or demand for a hearing as the case may be. The committee may take such other action, with or without a hearing, as the committee deems proper, insofar as the person in default is concerned.

61. Findings of Fact. The committee shall not be required to make findings of fact or state its reasons or conclusions for any action taken by it, but may do so if it deems proper.

62. Finality of Committee's Action. The committee will not entertain any charge in a verified complaint or any demand for a hearing or other application to the committee upon any subject on which the committee has acted after a hearing pursuant to these Rules, except on the committee's own motion.

Respectfully submitted,

F. PRESLEY ABSHIRE, Chairman

Claims Against the Wildlife Restoration Fund—No. 6263

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD:

Question

Assuming that the Wildlife Conservation Act of 1947 (Chapter 1325, Stats. 1947) is unconstitutional, may the Fish and Game Commission ratify contracts made by the Wildlife Conservation Board created by the act so that the Controller may properly pay claims arising under such contracts from the money appropriated from the Wildlife Conservation Fund to carry out the provisions of the act?

Opinion

In our opinion the Fish and Game Commission has no authority to ratify such contracts and if the Wildlife Conservation Act of 1947 is unconstitutional, the money appropriated to carry out its provisions may not be expended. The ratification, if any, must come from the State.

Analysis

The contracts in question were entered into by the Wildlife Conservation Board pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Wildlife Conservation Act. There is nothing in the act or in the contracts to indicate that the board acted or purported to act as the agent of the Fish and Game Commission. The board was acting as the agent of the State of California.

> "The doctrine is well settled that in order that an act or contract may be subject to ratification by one other than the one who performed the act or entered into the contract, the latter must have, at the time of performing the act or entering into the contract, professed, represented, purported, assumed, or undertaken to be acting as agent for, or on behalf of, the one alleged to have subsequently ratified the act or contract." (124 American Law Reports, Annotated, p. 893, citing numerous cases to that effect.)

Section 85 of the American Law Institute's Restatement of the Law of Agency reads: "Ratification does not result from the affirmance of an act unless the one acting purports to act on account of another."

It seems quite apparent that when it entered into the contracts in question the Wildlife Conservation Board purported to do so under the authority conferred upon it by the Wildlife Conservation Act of 1947. If the Legislature could not constitutionally confer such authority, the contracts were invalid for want of capacity in the board to enter into them. Since any purported ratification by the Fish and Game Commission would lack an essential element of ratification — that the board purported to act for the commission— the ratification would be ineffective.

In entering into the contracts the Wildlife Conservation Board purported to act on behalf of the State of California. If any ratification is to be effected it must be the ratification of the State. We know of no provision of law whereby the Legislature has conferred upon the Fish and Game Commission the power to ratify contracts purported to have been made on behalf of the State of California and are confident that no such provisions exist.

Inasmuch as the State Controller has been put upon notice that the Wildlife Conservation Act of 1947 may be unconstitutional by Opinion of the Attorney General No. 51/25, February 27, 1951, it seems to us that the payment of any claims arising under that act would be at the peril of the State Controller until the matter is judicially determined or the Attorney General reverses said opinion. If the act is unconstitutional, no purported ratification of the Wildlife Conservation Board's action by the Fish and Game Commission or any other action by said commission would have any effect whatever on claims arising under the act.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

STATE OF IOWA, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
DES MOINES 19, March 20, 1951

President of the Senate
Capitol Building
Sacramento, Calif.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed is a copy of a bill that the Ways and Means Committee of the Iowa legislature passed out with recommendation that it do pass.

We think it is a good bill. We think it is a fair bill; and we think it ought to be enacted into law here so that we can reciprocate with other states. But, unless other states also have this type of legislation, it cannot work to the mutual benefit and best interests of all, so we would appreciate your bringing this to the attention of the appropriate committee, if it does not already apply, and to consider legislation of this type for the interest of your state and ours.

Sincerely yours,

DEWEY E. GOODE, Chairman
Ways and Means Committee

Bill ordered referred to the Committee on Interstate Cooperation.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding the Disposition of Used Furniture in Senate Offices, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, March 26, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Disposition of Used Furniture in Senate Offices—No. 6039

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD

Question

You have asked if there is any method by which the Members of the Senate may purchase, or obtain free of charge, the old furniture from the Senate offices which is being replaced.

Opinion

We know of no provision of law which would prohibit a Member of the Senate from purchasing such furniture from the State of California through the Director of Finance, but we are unaware of any method by which a member could obtain such furniture free of charge without violating Section 31 of Article IV of the Constitution, which prohibits the Legislature from making gifts.

Analysis

Section 13111 of the Government Code provides:

"13111. With the consent of the state agency concerned, the director [of Finance] may authorize the sale or exchange of any personal property which belongs to the State, if he deems the sale or exchange in the best interests of the State."

Pursuant to this statutory authority it would be feasible for the Senate to resolve that the Director of Finance is authorized to sell the furniture in question if he deems it in the best interests of the State. By proceeding in this manner, however, an individual member would not be assured that he would be able to purchase the furniture which he had previously used, or that the furniture would be sold at all, as it is left to the discretion of the Director of Finance whether such sale is in the best interests of the State.

In connection with the purchase of such furniture, we direct your attention to Section 1091 of the Government Code, which reads:

"1091. State, county, township and city officers shall not be purchasers at any sale nor vendors at any purchase made by them in their official capacity."

We have found no cases in California construing this code section in connection with a Member of the Legislature, but there are numerous decisions applying the prohibition to county and other local officers.

In the case of Title Guarantee and Trust Co. v. Woody (1944) 63 Cal. App. 2d 209, 213, the court in construing Section 921 of the Political Code, on which Section 1091 of the Government Code was based, said:

"It is further contended that it is against sound public policy to permit the county auditor or his deputy to buy property at a tax sale held by the tax collector of the same county. * * * Section 921 of the Political Code provides that county officers must not be purchasers at any sale made by them in their official capacity. The sale here in question was made by the tax collector and this statutory provision would apply to him. In thus providing, the Legislature refrained from extending the prohibition to the county auditor or his deputy, who do not in their official capacity conduct the sale."

Assuming that a Member of the Legislature is a state officer within the meaning of Section 1091 of the Government Code, by applying the reasoning of the cited case we think the prohibition would be inapplicable to a purchase of the furniture by a Member of the Senate from the executive branch of the State Government, as the sale would not be conducted in the Legislator's official capacity.

On the other hand, if the Senate itself were to be the vendor of the furniture to the individual members, such sale would apparently come squarely within the prohibition of Section 1091 of the Government Code.

Insofar as obtaining the furniture free of charge, we know of no method by which this could be accomplished without violating Section 31 of Article IV of the California Constitution, which prohibits the Legislature from making any gift or authorizing the making of any gift "of any public money or thing of value to any individual, municipal or other corporation whatever."

For the purposes of this analysis we feel that we must assume the furniture in question has some intrinsic value. Therefore, it is our opinion that this section would prohibit the Legislature from enacting legislation transferring the furniture to Members of the Legislature, or any other person, free of charge.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By LOUIS A. BOLI III, Deputy

WHEREAS, He became City Attorney of the City of Placerville soon after and guided the city through some especially critical litigation to the very great credit and advantage of the city; and

WHEREAS, He became District Attorney of El Dorado County in 1906 shortly after which time the courthouse burned, destroying most of the county records; and

WHEREAS, During all the years he was superior judge he served not only El Dorado County, but many other counties of the State with diligence and distinction, being known throughout the State for his broad and profound knowledge of the law, for his fairness and courage in applying it, for his courtesy and kindness to young lawyers in his court, and for his interest in and knowledge of juvenile problems, his wise and patient counsel to youth being worthy of note; and

WHEREAS, Despite his heavy judicial duties he was always ready to serve and did serve with equal diligence and distinction in community, civic, charity, and war work of all kinds; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That we hereby express our appreciation of the long and outstanding service of this truly distinguished jurist, and our hope that his retirement may be a long and pleasant vacation; and be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be requested to send a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to said George H. Thompson.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

[illegible] asked for and was granted, unanimous consent to have the Attorney General of the Legislature Counsel regarding the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. [illegible] (Mr. Cargo), as amended in Senate, March 21 [illegible], printed in the Journal.

[illegible]

Office of Legislative Counsel
Sacramento 2, California, March 26, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Senate Bill No. [illegible]— As Amended

Dear Senator Hatfield:

Question

You have asked for an opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. [illegible] as amended in Senate, March 21, 1951.

Opinion

In our opinion that bill, if enacted, would be unconstitutional.

Analysis

Briefly, the bill would repeal Chapter 4 of Part 3, Division 2 of the Labor Code, which was declared invalid by [illegible] 30 Cal. 2d 414, and add a new Chapter in lieu thereof. The new chapter would declare that the public policy of this State is opposed to the use of employer strike and secondary boycotts (Sec. [illegible]), it would also prescribe unfair and unlawful practices by employers and employees (Sec. [illegible]), whereby both employer and employee would be prohibited from engaging in certain activities, with similar employer, because the latter is engaged in a labor dispute (Sec. [illegible]). Contracts and agreements between employers and labor organizations whereby such employers agree, in effect, to withdraw lawful business relationships with another employer because the latter may be a party to a labor dispute, are prohibited (Section [illegible]). Finally, the bill would permit [illegible] to recover from persons who, with knowledge of the existence of a contract between employers, intentionally cause or induce one of them to breach the contract because the other is party to a labor dispute (Sec. [illegible]). Persons injured as the result of violations of the bill by [illegible] of Sections [illegible] or [illegible] would be allowed the right to injunctive relief and the right to recover damages resulting from such violations (Sec. [illegible]).

It will be seen that the proposed constitutional problems are those posed by Sections [illegible] and [illegible] of the bill.

The most obvious ground of attack upon Section [illegible] is that it violates the Thirteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution which prohibits "slavery" and "involuntary servitude" as the exercise of this power under Section [illegible] of Article I of the California Constitution.

[illegible]

In addition to Senate Bill No. [illegible], [illegible] Senate, printed in the Senate Journal, March 26, 1951, pp. [illegible] and following, we also append a brief setting forth our reasons for concluding that the very similar provisions of that bill did not violate the constitutional provisions mentioned above. What we said in that opinion, on this point, is equally applicable here.

In addition, the bill here under consideration specifically provides that no court shall issue, under the chapter, any process or compel the performance by an individual employee of labor to service without his consent. In view of this, and the fact that nothing in the bill would prevent an employee, individually or in concert with others, from completely terminating the employment relationship and quitting his job, either with or without notice, we see no reasonable possibility of a court holding that this provision imposes slavery or involuntary servitude upon any person.

Section 1133 proscribes agreements between employers and labor organizations under which the employer agrees, roughly, to cease or refrain from doing business with another employer because the latter is a party to a labor dispute, or to cease or refrain from handling goods declared "unfair" by a labor organization, or by which an employer agrees not to require his employees to handle or work on goods produced by or shipped to an employer who is engaged in a labor dispute, or goods declared unfair by a labor organization.

The section, by its terms, is applicable only to contracts or agreements made, entered into or renewed after the effective date of the statute, and no question concerning the impairment of obligations of a contract can be raised. In our opinion the validity of this section is established by Lincoln Federal Labor Union v. Northwestern Iron and Metal Co., 335 U. S. 525, and American Federation of Labor v. American Sash and Door Company, 335 U. S. 538, in which the United States Supreme Court upheld state legislation declaring unlawful contracts between employers and labor unions under which the employer agrees to exclude persons from employment because of membership or nonmembership in a labor union.

Additionally, since it is possible that injunctions might be issued to restrain picketing conducted for the purpose of compelling employees to strike in violation of Section 1132, or to restrain picketing for the purpose of requiring or compelling an employer to enter into a contract or agreement proscribed by Section 1133, the contention could be made that those sections infringe on the right to free speech, guaranteed by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and protected from infringement by the states through the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

However, assuming for the purpose of argument only that such a contention would be upheld, it would invalidate the injunction, not the statute. Furthermore, we do not believe the contention would be upheld.

In an opinion printed in the Senate Journal, March 29, 1949, p. 724 et seq., this office expressed the belief that in spite of the element of communication in picketing, picketing for unlawful purposes could be restrained by state action. Since that date the United States Supreme Court has decided several cases which make it plain that picketing in the violation of a valid state law or state public policy designed to protect important interests of society, may be enjoined. (Giboney v. Empire Storage and Ice Co., 336 U. S. 490; Hughes v. Superior Court, 339 U. S. 460; Building Service International Union v. Gazzam, 339 U. S. 532; International Brotherhood of Teamsters v. Hanke, 339 U. S. 470).

We conclude that Sections 1132 and 1133 do not violate the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

Section 1134 declares that under the public policy of the State labor's interest in improving working conditions does not justify acts specifically intended to cause a breach of contractual relations between employers, and makes any person answerable in damages who, with knowledge of a contract between employers, intentionally causes or induces one of those employers to breach such contract because the other employer is party to a labor dispute.

In our opinion this section is valid.

Most jurisdictions, including California, hold that an action for damages will lie for inducing a breach of contract by the use of moral, social or economic pressures in themselves lawful, unless there is sufficient justification for such inducement. (Imperial Ice Co. v. Rossier, 18 Cal. 2d 33, 35 and authorities there cited.) The California courts have declared that under the public policy of the State the interest of labor in improving working conditions is of sufficient social importance to justify peaceful labor tactics, otherwise lawful, even though they have the effect of inducing breaches of contract. (See Imperial Ice Co. v. Rossier, supra, and cases therein cited. In effect Section 1134 merely overrules this judicially declared public policy and makes labor unions liable in damages to the same extent as other persons and organizations, for intentionally inducing a breach of contract. Primarily it is for the lawmakers to determine the public policy of the State. (Building Service Employers International Union v. Gazzam, 339 U. S. 532, 538, 539.)

The only other constitutional objection which could reasonably be advanced would be based on Section 2 of Article VI of the United States Constitution which provides in part that "This Constitution, and the laws of the United States made in pursuance thereof * * * shall be the supreme law of the land * * *." Under this provision state legislation in conflict with valid federal legislation is invalid.

The extent to which the Taft-Hartley Act (Labor Management Relations Act, 1947) and its predecessor the Wagner Act, has precluded the states from legislating in the field of labor activities has not been definitely decided by the United States Supreme Court.

The court has sustained state action proscribing mass picketing and intermittent work-stoppages (Allen Bradly Local v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, 315 U. S. 740; International Union v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board) and state legislation proscribing maintenance of membership contracts unless two-thirds of the employees voted therefor (Algoma Plywood Co. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, 336 U. S. 301) against the contention that such state action conflicted with the federal legislation mentioned above.

On the other hand a state statute requiring agents of labor unions to prove to the satisfaction of a state officer that they meet state qualifications before receiving a state license required of union agents under state law was declared invalid as in conflict with the above-mentioned federal law (Hill v. Florida, 325 U. S. 538) as was state action recognizing a foreman's union as bargaining agent (Bethlehem Steel Co. v. New York Labor Relations Board, 330 U. S. 767), state legislation to determine the appropriate bargaining representative of employees of an employer engaged in interstate commerce (La Crosse Telephone Corp.

v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, 336 U. S. 18), state legislation regulating peaceful strikes for higher wages and, unlike the federal law, requiring majority vote of the employees as a condition precedent to the right to strike (International Union v. O'Brien, 339 U. S. 454) and state legislation prohibiting peaceful strikes for higher wages and substituting compulsory arbitration for the right to strike (Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (Feb. 26, 1951) 19 U. S. Law Week 4167, U. S.).

The above represent all the cases in which the Supreme Court has written full opinions involving the question whether state labor legislation is in conflict with the Taft-Hartley Act or the Wagner Act (above).

It will be seen that state action in this field has been invalidated only when (1) it sets up a complete scheme of regulation of labor-management relations, and, more particularly, such scheme involves different provisions relating to bargaining and bargaining representatives than the federal law, or (2) it attempts to regulate or infringe upon the right to engage in a peaceful strike for higher wages, better working conditions and related matters, guaranteed by the federal law.

Neither Section 1132 nor any other provision of the bill sets up machinery for the regulation of labor management relations, nor does the act deal with bargaining, the selection of bargaining representatives, or the regulation of peaceful strikes for higher wages.

Section 1132 does prohibit strikes where the purpose thereof is to compel an employer to stop doing business with another employer because the latter is a party to a labor dispute, or for similar reasons. Such strikes are not peaceful strikes for higher wages, but are, and have been recognized in many jurisdictions as being, secondary strikes which the states may, in the public interest, declare beyond the boundaries of tolerable industrial conflict. In any event, Section 1140 specifically provides that the chapter shall not be construed to prohibit a strike or other concerted activity protected by the federal legislation mentioned above. This makes it abundantly clear that peaceful strikes for higher wages and other primary forms of concerted action are not within the ambit of the statute.

We are therefore of the opinion that Section 1132 does not infringe upon the right to engage in peaceful strikes for higher wages, or any other right conferred upon employees by the federal legislation mentioned above. We believe the section is valid.

Sections 1133 and 1134 deal with contractual obligations which are not dealt with, directly or indirectly by the federal legislation. In our opinion these sections are valid, irrespective of the validity of Section 1132. An otherwise valid statute enacted under a state police power will not be invalidated by federal legislation in the same field unless the conflict between the statutes is so direct and positive that the two acts cannot be reconciled or consistently stand together. (Kelley v. Washington, 302 U. S. 1)

Based on the above, we believe that Senate Bill No. 1228, as amended in Senate, March 21, 1951, is valid.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, DEPUTY

Hon. Goodwin J. Knight
President of the Senate

DEAR MR. KNIGHT: Section 9354.3 of the Government Code provides that a copy of the annual report of the Legislators' Retirement System shall be transmitted to each house of the Legislature not later than March 15th. Each member of the system was sent a report in January.

In conformity with the requirement of law, a copy of the annual report for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1950 is transmitted herewith to the Senate.

Yours truly,

EARL W. CHAPMAN, Executive Officer

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATORS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1950

The financial statement which follows reflects an income of $20,885 and disbursements for the year ending June 30, 1950, of $7,776.28, leaving assets on hand of $24,606.87. Of this amount $17,000 has been invested in United States Government bonds, Series G, and the balance was in cash receivables or in interest accrued on the bonds.

There are six members on the retired roll on June 30, 1950, and as shown by Item 19 of the financial statement there is a shortage in the amount contributed by the State to pay these allowances, in the amount of $1,990.01. It should be noted that the Legislators' Retirement System is on a "cash" basis with respect to employer contributions. The unfunded share of state contributions is part of an appropriation included in the 1951-52 Fiscal Year budget.

A brief summary of the principal provisions of the law follows:

The contribution required is 4 percent of the compensation.

The benefits provided are:

Retirement—Five percent of the compensation for each year of credited service with a maximum of 75 percent for Legislators, and 35 percent for elected constitutional officers, available at age 63 or, if 20 years of service is credited, at any age, payable for life. "Compensation" is defined in the law as "compensation payable, at the time payments of the allowance fall due, to the officer holding the office which the member last held prior to his retirement." Disability retirement carries the same benefit, but is available at any age.

Death Benefit—Death before retirement—one month's salary for each year of service, to a maximum of six months, plus the return of the contributions of the member with interest. Death after retirement—$300, payable to the beneficiary.

Prior Service—Any member who rendered service prior to the date he became a member may elect, at any time prior to retirement, to contribute to the Legislators' Retirement Fund for each year or fraction thereof for which he desires to receive credit, four percent (4%) of the compensation received by him in respect to such service.

Under the law, the administration of the Legislators' Retirement System is placed under the Board of Administration of the State Employees' Retirement System and accordingly, the facilities of that office are used for both systems. This results in economy and provides experienced personnel.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
SACRAMENTO, March 26, 1951

Hon. Joseph A. Beek
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BEEK: Reference is made to my letter, dated January 26, 1951, in which I acknowledged receipt of your letter of January 23, 1951, transmitting a copy of Senate Resolution No. 44 by Senator Desmond, adopted by the Senate of the State of California on January 16, 1951, requesting the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi.

Attached, in response to the above-mentioned resolution, is a copy of a memorandum, dated February 1, 1951, from Mr. G. T. McCoy, State Highway Engineer, regarding this same matter, together with Senate Resolution No. 44.

Yours very truly,

C. H. PURCELL
Director of Public Works and Chairman, California Highway Commission

Attach.

February 1, 1951

Mr. C. H. Purcell, Chairman and Members of the California Highway Commission

Reference is made to the attached copy of Senate Resolution No. 44, Senator Desmond, requesting the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, to take immediate steps toward the construction of a four lane divided highway between the City of Sacramento and the City of Lodi.

From Lodi in San Joaquin County to the Florin Road south of Sacramento, the length of rural highway on Route 4 is 27 miles, all of which requires development to four lanes. It will be developed as a freeway, and on that basis the total cost will be approximately $86,200,000 for construction and $1,350,000 for rights of way.

Surveys have been made on this entire section as far north as the Florin Road, a short distance south of the Sacramento city limits. Plans have been sufficiently completed to be used for the acquisition of rights of way and have been carried almost to completion for construction on the section from Galt to the Florin Road. From the Florin Road to and through the City of Sacramento the route is subject to relocation and future surveys.

From the Florin Road to the connection with the street system in Sacramento at Broadway, a distance of five miles, the additional cost will be $3,000,000 for construction and $2,500,000 for rights of way.

At the present time, no construction funds have been budgeted on the Lodi-Sacramento project, but the acquisition of rights of way is being made on the Galt to Florin Road section. There has been provided to date an amount of $610,000 for rights of way between Galt and the Florin Road.

It can be expected that there will be many deficient highways in California which will come under consideration as integral parts of civil defense plans. Unless other arrangements are made for financing highway development, projects will continue to be considered with limitations set on county allocations. The new deficiency report show Sacramento County critical deficiencies to be $86,910,000 and San Joaquin County critical deficiencies to be $50,801,000.

G. T. McCoy
State Highway Engineer

Attach.

Senate Resolution No. 44

Relative to requesting the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi

WHEREAS, Recent developments on the international front have given rise to an increased tempo in the development of civil defense plans on both the state and federal level; and

WHEREAS, An integral part of all civil defense plans is the development of adequate highway systems to take care of the flow of traffic which will ensue from the evacuation of civilians from stricken areas and the coming and going of emergency aid to and from such areas; and

WHEREAS, It is now mandatory, therefore, to insure that such highway systems will be available when needed so that such increased traffic will not lead to unnecessary congestion; and

WHEREAS, United States Highway Route 99 (State Highway Route 4), between Sacramento and Los Angeles, will quite naturally be one of the major parts of California's civil defense highway systems since it connects two of the State's major cities and numerous probable target areas; and

WHEREAS, It is obvious that this highway should be immediately placed in a condition which will enable it to handle heavy traffic with the least possible congestion and that the construction of four-lane divided highways on those portions of said highway which may most likely become congested will do much to accomplish this purpose; and

WHEREAS, There is at present no such four-lane divided highway between the Cities of Sacramento and Lodi, which portion is one of the most heavily-traveled parts of United States Highway Route 99; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, is urgently requested to take immediate steps towards the construction of a four-lane divided highway between the City of Sacramento and the City of Lodi; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Director of Public Works and the State Highway Engineer.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Desmond, adopted.

"SEC. 2. Section 14737.1 is added to said code, to read:

14737.1. Whenever the United States Government or any department or agency thereof offers to exchange bonds or other interest bearing notes and obligations of the United States for other bonds or interest bearing notes and obligations of the United States of a different series or issue, the district retirement board may exchange any bonds or other interest bearing notes and obligations of the United States in which funds of the district retirement fund are then invested for bonds or other interest bearing notes and obligations of the United States, in accordance with the terms of such offer.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Many of the school district employees to whom credit in the district retirement plan is extended by this act must terminate their district employment at the end of the current fiscal year. Unless this act takes immediate effect, such employees cannot participate in the retirement benefits extended by this act, and in consequence thereof will be occasioned great hardship and distress because such retirement allowances as they may receive will be inadequate for their needs. Substantial amounts of district retirement fund moneys are now invested in United States Government bonds of a series for which Treasury Department has offered to exchange other United States bonds bearing a higher interest rate. That offer will expire on or about April 7, 1951. To enable the district retirement boards of California school districts to exchange those United States bonds in which district retirement fund moneys are now invested for United States bonds bearing higher interest, and so to reduce the amounts which must be raised by district taxation in already heavily taxed districts, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

"SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Under the existing law it is not clear whether the governing boards of all school districts have the power to increase the salaries of certificated employees of the district at any time. This act would authorize the governing boards of all districts to do so if the board so provides in its rules or by provision in the contracts of employment. Certificated employees must be notified by the governing boards of their re-employment for the next school year not later than May 15th. In order to encourage certificated employees to continue their employment with the school districts next fall rather than seeking jobs in defense industries which are rapidly expanding as a result of the national emergency, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

WHEREAS, The Freedom Foundation awarded to him one of the highest awards, along with those given to General Eisenhower and Dr. Fred D. Fagg, Jr., President of the University of Southern California, for rendering to a Los Angeles assemblage the following speech:

WHAT IS OUR CONSTITUTION FOR?

By HON. NELSON S. DILWORTH

"Mr. Chairman, Friends, and Patriots:

In alertness to the perils of the hour, you are to be commended; and not only your California chapters, but your entire national organization. You have rendered no greater patriotic service than in your appreciation of the institutions that have created the freedoms we all enjoy in America, your land and mine. Freedom is not the natural state of man, it is an achievement. It came hard and was purchased by the free shedding of the blood of its champions on the hard fought battlefields of history. Only because our forebears, forgetful of life and pain, have bravely carried the banners of liberty against the minions of tyrants, can we, today, choose our own leaders and work out our own national destiny.

There is a great race of hard working people in eastern Europe. They are few in number, comparatively, but they loved their land and loved their liberty. Abandoned by the diplomacy of the western nations, they were engulfed in the oriental tide of despotism that masquerades as communism. We have, here in America, preserved some of their culture and ideals. The very words we use have been influenced by their literature. Our word talk originated in Lithuania and by the way of Sweden and England became an everyday tool of our conversation.

Today, the bravest families in eastern Europe are fleeing from their homes by land or sea, by plane, by boat and on foot. The heel of the communist tyrant grinds deeply in freedom-loving hearts. Many sturdy families are fishermen on their native shores of the Baltic Sea. When life under the lash of the commissars became not worth living, one resolute and courageous fisherman prepared his fishing craft for sea as best he could. With two other families, he loaded his few possessions and his wife and babies into their small sailing boat and in the early hours of evening darkness, put out to sea.

There were many days of hiding in rocky inlets and long dangerous nights of careful sailing before these refugees could feel free of recapture by Russian patrols and boldly set sail westward by day and by night. They traversed the length of the great Baltic inland sea. They passed through the straits between Denmark and Sweden, and between Denmark and Norway, down the English channel and boldly southward and westward in the Atlantic. Their meager food supply dwindled, the days were long, the nights were longer and the winds were chilling and cold. The children cried for food, for exercise, for play time. There was much sickness and hardship.

Do you think they were sailing for America? Yes, South America. Brazil was their hoped-for haven. They knew if they dared to land on North American soil, they would be deported and sent back under our immigration quota laws.

The winds were uncertain, and adverse storms delayed them. Their small craft was ill-equipped for so great a voyage. The time grew longer than they expected. The mother was especially ill—childbirth was approaching.

Finally, in order that the mother of his children might have food and care and a chance to live, the father decided to go ashore with his wife and children, on the Virgin Islands, the mid-Atlantic outpost of our Country and face return to life under the hammer and sickle. To his companions, he gave the boat so they and their families might continue on to Brazil where they would be sure of a safe refuge.

The sick mother and her family with a few belongings were put ashore and the little craft put out to sea and turned southward. The landed family, seeking help, found themselves arrested for immigration without a quota visa, confined in detention quarters and the smaller children and mother immediately hospitalized. Deportation awaited the time when the sick ones would be able to travel. The future was dark beyond our ability to understand, but this courageous family continued to hope for asylum somewhere.

Good food and medical care provided by the United States Government wrought rapid progress by the mother toward recovery in time so that her baby was born alive and she lived. In time, she was discharged from the hospital to the immigration authorities, and they prepared to send the family back to Europe. But wait! How could they send the baby back? He was a citizen of the United States of America. The Constitution of the United States said so. He was born on our soil, born under the Stars and Stripes. No deportation was possible here. That child of a refugee mother has every right that you and I have under our government. Must they leave the child behind? What could they do?

But remember this, a citizen of America has the right to the loving care of his father and mother and under our laws, as authorized by our Constitution, the rights of that child, that helpless babe of a few days old, his rights included the right to have his family remain with him. So, what the adult family could not do, the baby did do—gain entry and the right to remain under our Flag. So great is the right of citizenship in America, under the Stars and Stripes.

The Constitution may just be faded parchment, but it commands officials and lawmakers throughout our land and on the islands of the sea to protect the helpless citizen of America.

There are other boats out on the Atlantic tonight, other small refugee craft. They are crowded with families, with fretful children and anxious mothers as the sailor fathers gravely scan the western and southern horizon. Are any eastward bound? Is any one fleeing America tonight in small refugee boats to escape oppression? You know the answer is no. This land is the hope of the oppressed the world over. All the refugees are westward bound.

Only the Eislers flee America, foul criminals who are caught in the attempt to destroy our Country. I wish we could get enough action, official and judicial action, careful but firm, that would run out a lot more of these conspirators that plot to destroy all that we hold dear.

Evidently our Constitution makes a great deal of difference to many people. What sort of a document is it? Why was it adopted?

First, it is not an iron clad system of laws. That is left to popular decision to provide and change. It is, primarily and speaking in general terms, the Constitution is a form of government. A rules of the game whereby government may be fairly and justly operated. We can, and do, have a measure of socialism under our Constitution. We can, and do, have a very great deal of individualism under our Constitution, but it provides a fair method of procedure by which the decisions of government are arrived at honestly and justly with ample protection to the individual citizen and limited powers to the government official.

We have a system of checks and balances so that no governmental agency can be dictatorial and successfully refuse to serve the will of the people. Acts of the Legislature are subject to veto by the Governor. Vetoes may be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature or Congress. Presidential appointees are subject to confirmation by the Senate. All acts are subject to judicial review in the courts. Judges, Governors, Presidents, and their appointees may be impeached, tried and put out of office by the Congress or Legislature.

We have no commissars, no secret police, no supreme politburo, but we do have opposition political parties and the right to criticize and oppose our government politically. However, I do not believe that these political rights include or ever were intended to include any right so-called to conspire to overthrow our government. Liberty does not include any right to conspire to destroy that same liberty. Until the courts of our land quit shielding traitors under the pretext of free speech, and conspirators who follow the direction of enemy totalitarian leaders, there will be great peril to our Constitution and Nation.

You have no freedom of speech to enter a crowded theater and shout "fire." You have no freedom of speech to slander a fellow-citizen, to destroy his good name. Neither should freedom of speech be extended to those attempting to destroy the form of government that provides the freedom of speech.

Political freedoms are intended for loyal opposition to the policies of the present government, not for conspirators to destroy it. Opposition to existing government by loyal dissenters to government policy, is a just political right. It is under this cloak that our dangerous, foreign-led propagandizers attempt to hide. To identify them is never easy. The F. B. I. does a great work, but leaves the public in the dark and uninformed. Our legislative committee reports let you, the people, know what is going on.

Our Constitution was adopted to set up a system of rules to govern political controversy and fairly determine the will of the people and enable that will to be put into effect by the officials freely selected by the citizens.

Under this system of government which is now the oldest continuous government in the world, 162 years without a major substantive change, our people have reached a standard of living that is the envy of the world. We are one-fifteenth of the population of the world, but we buy and consume one-third of the meat of the world, and one-half the shoes, yes, and four-fifths of the automobiles. Clothing is purchased with one-third the hours of labor that are required in the most favored country of the eastern world. American homes are four times as large in square footage per family member as any European people's homes, and our homes are filled with labor-saving equipment unknown elsewhere. Also we have achieved the widest distribution of good living standards among more of our people.

In every way our political liberties exceed those of any other country. Governmental services in education for all our youth, public highways free to all for pleasure and business, all are on a scale never approached in any other land. American industry, the teamwork of capital, management and labor produces in such abundance for American markets as to make our Nation the financial banker of the whole world. American industry did not grow big by regulation, but by service rendered. Competition is the most stimulating regulator ever found. In our leisure time the cultural activities of the American people have grown beyond all precedent. Fraternal lodges, service and luncheon clubs, recreational clubs, charitable organizations; all have developed to new heights of service and enjoyment.

All this is the fruit of our governmental institutions which have released the energy and ingenuity of the American people. Political liberty is the foundation of all other liberties including religious liberty. Now what is the peculiar process of American political affairs that makes this difference? There are several. First, and basic, is the guarantee of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness to every citizen. A guarantee of life unless guilty of capital offense against other citizens. A guarantee of liberty, unless proven guilty of serious offense against law and order. A guarantee of the opportunity to provide for one's own happiness in establishing a home and improving it, in marketing the products of personal labor for personal gain and to keep and enjoy this gain.

Both the investor and the laborer are guaranteed the right to organize and cooperate together to increase their gains. Everyone who will grant these rights to others and loyally support the government, freely enjoys these privileges.

We hear it said that the American system is on trial. Trial before whom, I ask, and trial for what? Do they propose as a substitute, the wretched existence in Russia?

Another distinctive thing that our Constitution has done is that it has attracted as immigrants to this land, over 20,000,000 people. This is unique in all the history of mankind. They have left their loved native lands and the homes of their childhood, parted from kindred and friends to cross the seas and come here to swear allegiance to our Constitution and to leave their families and children, their posterity in the keeping of the American people under our Constitution. To do this, to make such a drastic change in their life's surroundings means two things; life under our Constitution had great attractions for them and life away from the benefits of our Constitution was one of privation, hardship, and lack of opportunity.

Under free enterprise, the people, all of the people, of the United States have a greater purchasing power—have more, buy more, possess more, and use more, more food, clothing and housing and everything else—than all the people of all of Europe and Asia combined. In the face of these obvious achievements of the American people, communist advocates of the all-powerful state must be afraid of life under freedom. Why, I ask? Are they lazy? Do they fear work?

Russia has more than half the standing timber of the whole world; but the Russian people, after 30 years of communism have only an average of 40 square feet of shelter per person.

We have, here in America, a per capita average of 400 feet of good quality housing for each man, woman, or child. Yes, and we have 12 square feet more than 400. This will provide a good closet apiece for our extra clothes. The Russians don't need closets, for they can't afford extra clothes.

There is one thing we do not have that the Russians have to have in their homes; a large picture of the big man with the fierce mustache. From escaped refugees, we have learned of one Russian who was arrested for not having a picture of Stalin on the wall of his home. His plea in defense was that his family was one of several occupying one large room and his allotted space was in the center of the room with no wall space. Nevertheless, he was sent off to a labor camp.

No Russian is permitted to own land. He cannot have a jury trial.

The Russian cannot choose his own job. He dares not absent himself from work, nor does he ever strike and live to tell of it.

There are no picket lines. The Russian is not allowed to employ labor. He has no right to travel. He is not allowed to own jewelry. He has nothing to buy it with, and, besides, it is a crime.

A Russian is forbidden to ring a church bell and dares not to converse freely with a foreigner. He has no freedom of speech, no freedom of assembly, nor freedom of religion.

In spite of all these known facts, the new and novel propaganda from Russia has so infected the thinking of great numbers of our citizens that our basic institutions of law and order are now questioned, yes and even ridiculed and held up to hatred and contempt.

Our Constitution and our Republic have so amply proved their worth and value that their obvious merits stand supreme and without any real competition to any one who will give serious thought to their benefits. Just because of this outstanding merit, great numbers of our American citizens refuse to believe that our free institutions are threatened or in danger. The citizens of a score of other nations felt this same false security until the boot of the conspirators suddenly appeared as secret police and kicked down the doors of their homes in the dead of night, carrying patriots away to oblivion.

If we remain careless, apathetic and indifferent, the agents of foreign despotism will have the opportunity to repeat their oft accomplished conquests in this, the last stronghold of freedom militarily able to successfully resist.

This apathy is my greatest problem in the Senate or at home. The schools and medical profession are the favorite first objective of these conspirators. Leaders of these conspiracies call themselves great liberals as would be and actual tyrants always do, and always have done, 'liberals' the world over in every age.

Of course, we have the example of many other countries. In England, for instance, the professions are part of the state machine with political bosses giving them rules to obey and prescribing their salaries. Yet, we are asked to save England. It is not England that is failing. That would be a different matter, far different. What is collapsing in England is socialism. That is what we are asked to save. As a matter of fact, we are as a government supporting every other system in foreign aid funds; every other system but our own.

That is all right in an emergency where the need is urgent, but only an economically sound America can be a helping America. Only a free and competitive America can be productive and strong. While we spend billions in foreign lands to fight communism, it is almost impossible to get $10,000 to fight communism here.

It was hard to build America and America's productive institutions. It is often true that many things which, in the end, bring benefits and satisfaction are very hard to get started in the beginning. So it is going to be hard to save America from those who are pushing us and taxing us downhill into a form of state socialism. And there is no time to lose.

The professions of education and medicine are especially under attack. That is not news. You all know it. But, we cannot intelligently fight our battle without knowing the details and strategy of the larger world conflict of which our battle is such an important part.

The cruel, calculating semioriental despot in the Kremlin now controls the minds and bodies of about half the world population, all of those behind the iron curtain and some in our midst who voluntarily serve him. Only in America, one-fifteenth of the world's population, is there a militant will to resist by a group able and large enough to resist.

Freedom, your freedom, is easily lost. Like a house or a temple that is laboriously builded by many years of painstaking toil, freedom may be leveled into the dust of slavery by a moment's explosion of conspiratorial schemes, or it may decay from lack of use and failure to care for and preserve its institutions. You have your daily papers. You have read about this very thing happening in two score or more of the political nations of this world. Only one great temple of liberty remains strong and founded on the great rock of American loyalty amid a world of socialist debris and communist dust. It is the Republic of the United States of America, and it will take more than military power to preserve it.

The story is told of Colonel Weatherby, a Union cavalry officer, who when in command of a hungry regiment, dispatched a company to round up and sabre some hogs running loose. They failed, but some equally hungry infantry men constructed a rude pen and succeeded in driving the juicy porkers into it.

'So,' exclaimed Colonel Weatherby, 'the pen is in reality mightier than the sword.'

Today, communist Stalin is conquering great nations with the pen of propaganda; nations he could never take with the sword.

We Americans may maintain all the forms and formulas of a democracy having lost its essential spirit and principles. One writer has well said: 'The encroachment upon our liberties may not be overt—by repeal of any of the constitutional guaranties—but they may be insidious and no less potent through encroachment upon the checks and balances which make its security. More particularly does the weakening of the legislative arm lead to encroachment by the executive upon the legislative and judicial functions, and inevitably that encroachment is upon individual liberty.

'If we examine the fate of wrecked republics over the world, we shall find first a weakening of the legislative arm * * * It is in the legislative halls that liberty commits suicide, although legislative bodies usually succeed in maintaining their forms. For 200 years, the Roman Senate continued as a scene of social distinction and noisy prattle after it had surrendered its responsibilities and the Roman state had become a tyranny.'

Liberty is never lost to a nation until it is lost in the souls of the men who compose that nation.

I feel safe in asserting that it is both obvious and apparent that we, today, are the beneficiaries of the courageous past achievements of our forefathers in political liberty and political institutions. But not only are we the present beneficiaries, we are the trustees of the future. In our hands rests all that is precious in America. Shall we let this priceless privilege of living in a land of freedom and opportunity be snatched from our fingers by old world conspirators with a cruel lust for world power? Shall we, I ask? The answer is yours to make. Will you continue to be more alert than your enemy, better informed and aggressively support our constitutional institutions? All your enemy needs is apathy and indifference and he will succeed.

We are, you are, the trustees of the future. It is your high privilege to preserve the best in America, to improve it, and to pass it on to posterity, your children and mine. We can, in honor and integrity, do no less. No sacrifice is too great to accomplish this.

The central theme in the present Communist Party line attack on our American government is to agitate for every possible expense, to goad us into spending America into bankruptcy. Like it or not, that is the record wherever communists and their pupils gain office in America. They propose that we should knock ourselves out in our own training center. In 1924, Lenin boasted 'One day we will force the United States to spend itself into destruction.' A bankrupt government is easy prey to a foreign foe. The communists know this from experience. It has always been in a financial crisis that they have succeeded in overthrowing republics. You have read the story in your papers and magazines repeatedly. Financial troubles in government, weakness of defense, confusion and dissension among the people and the 'Reds' take over.

I have heard the argument advanced that perhaps we should try communism and see if it is better or worse. That is something you can't do. You can't try communism any more than you can try arsenic or cyanide. Communism is permanent; it is fatal to freedom. It represents the total loss of your right to change your mind.

Imagine, with me if you can, a Russian workman stepping up to Big Joe and saying, 'I've had enough of you. I've changed my mind. I'm going to try a change in administration.'

The Russian workman would get a change, and quick, but not the kind you or I would be looking for. It is this right to change your mind that is safeguarded and provided for in the great American Constitution.

Currently, the Communist Party is operating in America through front organizations. In communist textbooks that American Communist Party members are required by party discipline to study and follow, Lenin and Stalin both repeatedly have instructed their followers to always keep the greater portion of their numbers concealed and not apparent to the public. Only 5 percent are to be known in the public communist organization. It is puerile to fear driving communists underground. They are underground already and always have been. They are determined never to be above ground until they rise to strike us all down.

Some 5,000 of these front organizations have been set up in America under communist direction and control. Hundreds of the larger ones have been identified and published by the Attorney General of the United States and by congressional and state investigating committees. Publicity is our greatest weapon of defense. The American people have always decided wisely, when correctly informed, but they must have information to combat the deceit of the conspirators.

It has been noncommunists organized under the control of communists that have overthrown Czechoslovakia and a long list of Old World republics. Communists faithfully follow the dictates of Stalin to keep the Communist Party small in numbers by frequent purges, small but well disciplined. There was a large purge in California in 1948. Hundreds were expelled. The Communist Party is only the handle of the dagger that draws the life-blood of free governments. The long, sharp blade is made up of noncommunists stupidly participating in communist controlled front organizations.

Communists boasted that they would make noncommunists overthrow the liberties of the Czech people and they did. Not only that, but they have the same organizations communist controlled in this Country. Patiently they are building them and seeking places of power in government.

Many groups in America are becoming alert to the menace and expelling known communists. Large segments of labor have cleaned house and put only Americans in control.

The literary works of Stalin, and he is a prolific writer, teach communists to hide in noncommunist organizations and to seek controlling positions against the day of revolution. Communists would make of the liberal political organizations of this Country a screen and camouflage for their work. When our committee has attempted to expose communists, too many liberals have served the communist cause by rising to defend the communists. With everything to lose if the communists take over, the intelligent liberal cooperates with our committee and helps to expose the communist termites in their midst.

This is no time to restrict political liberty, but the time of all times to strengthen and preserve it. However, political liberty is intended for loyal people, dissenters and supporters alike of our government who purpose in their hearts to preserve liberty if they come to power. It is not for revolutionary conspirators that would destroy it.

Listen to this! William Foster, Chairman of the Communist Party of America, has written, and I quote, 'nevertheless the working class itself cannot come into power without civil war.'

I quote from the communist manifesto itself, 'communists openly declare that their ends can only be obtained by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions.'

Communists preach and advocate civil war. Communists are war mongers. I quote Vladimir Lenin, 'the replacement of the bourgeois by the proletarian state is impossible without a violent revolution.'

I quote from Joseph Stalin's own book, 'the dictatorship of the proletariat is a revolutionary power based on violence against the bourgeoisie. To put it briefly: the dictatorship of the proletariat is the domination of the proletariat over the bourgeoisie untrammeled by law and based on violence.' The Chinese republic and liberty fell in civil war instigated and supplied by the Soviets. The same civil war tactic would have conquered Korea except for our intervention. The pattern fits perfectly.

Again I quote another of Stalin's books, '*The dictatorship of the proletariat * * * can come only as the result of the destruction of the bourgeoisie state, of the bourgeoisie army * * * and of the bourgeoisie police.*'

I quote Stalin again, '*We must therefore regard the dictatorship of the proletariat, the transition from capitalism to communism * * * as an entire historical epoch full of civil wars * * * *'. W-A-R-S.

These are the marching orders of world communism. They have no place in free America. Neither have communists any constitutional rights to conspire to bring about civil war in America and the destruction of our free government. We must not allow America to be confused. We cannot afford to be mistaken. Eight hundred million enslaved people in this world are a strong argument against being mistaken. It is long past time that the judges of our Nation in the court rooms, and in their decisions, quit confusing political liberty with conspiratorial revolution and civil war. By contrast our Constitution is the greatest peace document in history. I quote:

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

This is not the language of a suicide pact. It is the declaration of resolute men determined to defend their freedom at any cost. These constitutional liberties were not intended for those who are conspiring to destroy them.

It is also long past time that all Americans get out of these communist-front organizations, and come out clearly and unequivocally for America and American institutions. I can see how some loyal Americans can be induced by the liberal bait of the communists to join some of these front organizations ignorantly, out of sympathy for the underdog they claim to want to help. But if they remain in these fronts after their true character is exposed and published by the Attorney General, and by the national and state investigating committees, they are without excuse. A citizen of America who will not take a clear cut stand in defense of America against the war-mongering communists is just no good. Those who support the communists are just aiding, and abetting, treasonable conspiracy against our liberties.

In this perilous situation our chief danger lies within America itself. Some admittedly well intentioned people have done the communists more service and more good than the communists could possibly have accomplished for themselves. We must persuade Americans to be loyal, or we perish.

The road to safety lies in keeping our freedom of speech for loyal American political groups, liberal and conservative, left or right; but, also, in aggressive popular education and persuasion on the merits of American institutions.

I call upon you as my witnesses here tonight that there is no place in the Constitution, nor in the immortal Declaration of Independence that guarantees any results. These documents only safeguard an opportunity for the American people to establish and maintain liberty and to provide national defense against all attack, within or without. They will not work themselves. We cannot have liberty and peace without effort any more than we can have bread without labor, and toil. Our Constitution is entirely in the language of opportunity, a chance to achieve for the people of America.

In the hands of the people is lodged the supreme power to preserve or to neglect. Along with power also goes the work and worry of responsibility. This responsibility must be borne by human shoulders cost what it may in sacrifice and effort. It has been well said that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and it might have been added continual effort and service.

We must have citizens; we must have officials; we must have popular leaders willing to make the sacrifices of both time and ease, willing to give up their pleasures and comforts to continually defend our institutions and to aggressively champion in the market place of public opinion our American ideals. There must be a continuous process of public education by public leaders, unselfishly given, to persuade each new generation of citizens to keep America free, and strong.

Of course, if the time comes that American men will no longer willingly die to defend the Constitution, it will fall. It is equally true that if the time comes that American men and women will no longer give of their lives, their substance and their time to defend and serve the Constitution in peace, it will be ignored and overthrown.

There must always be an adequate number of citizens willing to accept the obligations, the responsibilities and the hardships of public office to make our government work. These must be men and women above the base motives of the spoilsmen, who cannot be intimidated by organized self seekers nor corrupted by stealthy manipulators.

This neglect of duty has led to the breakdown of government in many countries. The indolent Italian citizen, rather than face the criticism and strife of public life, was willing to accept a 'leader.' In the cruel service of that leader, the peace loving Italian gave a thousand times the labor that maintenance of his free constitutional government would have required of him. In addition, he paid in pools of the blood of his sons and unchecked tears of his family.

And what shall I say of the Germans who neglected to keep their constitutional republic and voluntarily chose a fuhrer. In exchange for their freedom they got poverty, destruction of homes and loss of livelihood, wounds without number, death and a national and racial condemnation and dishonor on the unchangeable pages of history. All because they would not accept the petty duties and responsibilities of free government. Freedom will not work itself. It is but an opportunity. We must grasp it and use it or become slaves.

There are potential Hitlers, Stalins, and Mussolinis in every country. I ask you seriously today where is there an adequate and forceful textbook to teach our youth the comparative rights and privileges of American citizenship? Loyal teachers are working without tools. In our law schools the subject of larceny is taught, but they do not get thieves to teach it. In our schools we must aggressively teach the evils of totalitarian forms of government. We must aggressively teach the perils of communism, but we need not, we must not, have communists teach it, any more than we would have criminals teach in our law schools.

The thing to be afraid of today in America is that we do not give an effective testimony to our youth of the value of American institutions and what they have cost in the history of our race. We should be afraid that communist and socialist material and propaganda is not matched, answered and exposed. If it isn't, our way of life here in the wonderland of the world will go by default, through a series of persistent half-truths and outright lies against the American institutions we hold dear.

Single communist periodicals have a paid circulation exceeding the combined circulation of anticommunist periodicals. Communist propaganda is big business. It is profitable business in America today.

Today, this world cold war has so intensified that it has included a fight to have a religion of our own. Both Christianity and Judaism are under the attack of this great onslaught on liberty. When the history is written of the present day Jewish people, the communist cruelties to them will rank with all others.

If America is ever betrayed, it will be by intellectuals. The hearts of the great bulk of the common people are sound and loyal. Where is the danger today? Let me ask you some questions about our public information.

Has Chiang Kai-shek changed in China? As lately as 1944 he was a hero. Chiang was still publicized by press and commentators as the George Washington of China. Now he is corrupt, heaped with contempt even by officials. What has he done?

In 1944 he was fighting Japan. Now he is resisting Russian Communism; with many this is an unpardonable sin.

Why is the heroic leader of our Federal Bureau of Investigation roundly criticized? He was a hero in picking up Nazi agents. Now he has committed the unpardonable sin of ferreting out the agents of Russian espionage. This makes a difference with some people who have the power to set the styles in thought.

Has there been a change in the meaning and use of the phrase One World? In the early forties we were told that loss of liberty to any Chinese or Filipino affected us. Cruelty to the eastern Europeans or to the Belgians by the Nazis affected us. Freedom was indivisible we were told over and over again.

Today, there are no such speeches. Freedom is no longer indivisible. It is now bad form to be concerned about the slave laborers in Russia, Hungary, or Czechoslovakia.

Rockefeller millions have investigated our American legislative committees. Tenney, Burns, Canwell, Broiles, are trailed and sleuthed, perhaps Dilworth. Our staff has acquired some of the low down on these investigators.

You say the communists will never win a majority of the American people. America will never go communist. Of course not. But where did the communists ever get a majority? They do not expect to get a majority nor do they seek it. All they want is apathy. Majorities have been proven powerless to protect themselves time and again. Majorities lose their liberty in times of unguarded weakness when attacked by well disciplined small communist conspiracies.

I hope you are in this fight to the end whether that end be a Soviet prison or American honor and freedom.

Now, it is also another common mistake to insist on perfection in everyone who challenges communism. You will not find that perfection this side of the Gloryland. The men who are staking their all in the fight to protect American freedom are human men, and sometimes their errors are shown up. But remember, they are errors made on your behalf, they are on your team. They would protect your home and life.

Don't you realize we are at war, a war of ideas but just as effective and deadly a war as one of bullets. Czechoslovakia, conquered by political conspiracy, has no more liberty than Poland, conquered by the marching Red Army.

To match the communist-front organizations, I would urge every service club, every lodge, and every civic and veteran organization to select an Americanism chairman and committee, and make them responsible for an alert and thorough study of the duties of American citizens to prepare themselves to meet the alien conspirators' arguments in the meeting place of public opinion and free speech and trust that the truth and the great facts of America will win out in the contest for the control of the lives and hearts of America.

Join up in this, the greatest fight of the age. Get into action to preserve your homeland from this enslaving despotism, pretending to offer benefits to make suckers of us.

The best answer to the communist-front organizations is to activate every club and lodge for Americanism, make of all our civic, fraternal and veterans' groups front organizations for loyal Americanism and a sincere devotion to unselfish service of our Republic in peace as well as in war.

Just typical American neighborly helpfulness to each other in business, trade, and employment, and governmental activity with outspoken loyalty to our Constitution will prevail before the bar of public opinion.

Free speech is for use. Put on the uniform of courage and close up our ranks. Challenge the alien propaganda whether in politics, social, or religious circles. Gratefully be loyal to our incomparable heritage of freedom and opportunity. Free speech is yours to use. Speak out for home and native land.

Let us each here and now pledge ourselves to pass down to our sons and daughters, the great American birthright of freedom." Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of this Senate do hereby extend the most cordial and appreciative congratulations to Senator Dilworth for the bringing of such recognition, esteem and honor upon a Member of this Senate in the national award above mentioned and for giving such an interesting, incisive and unusual speech.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 126:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 2, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 126, "An act making an appropriation in augmentation of the appropriation in Item 130 of the Budget Act of 1950 for support of Local Allocations Division, Department of Finance, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This is an appropriation in augmentation of the appropriation in the current budget for the support of the Local Allocations Division. The increasing of the allocation of bond money for the construction of schools authorized by the last special session of the Legislature has increased the work of the Division of Allocations and necessitates this additional appropriation.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 126 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

The roll was called.

Call of the Senate

Pending the announcement of the vote, Senator Hulse moved a call of the Senate.

i. V Boards shall be used beneath binders where they pass over the top edge of the load. V Boards shall consist of two (2) paralleling pieces of lumber not less than thirty-six inches (36") in length and one inch by three inches (1" x 3") in thickness and width, respectively, attached together with flexible material near each end with spacing between boards of approximately eight inches (8"). It is strongly urged that V Boards extend over the entire length of the edge of the load over which the binders pass.

2. Inspections.

Binders securing loads of baled hay shall be tightened and locked immediately prior to a vehicle entering upon a public highway and frequent inspection shall be made en route to assure that the load is stable and that the binders are tight and locked. If the load becomes unstable due to shifting or otherwise, or when necessary to retighten binders, the vehicle shall be driven from the main traveled portion of the public highway and shall not be again moved upon the main traveled portion of a public highway until corrective load or binder adjustments are made except as specified in Rule 7e. 6. Loads of baled hay shall be limited to seven (7) bales in height when bales are loaded flat and six (6) bales in height when bales are loaded otherwise. Nothing in this section shall be construed as an exemption from the load height provisions of the Vehicle Code.

7. Binding Loads.

a. Loads of baled hay shall be secured to the vehicle by not less than two (2) longitudinal binders which shall be securely attached to the vehicle bed at the front and rear ends near each corner.

b. When ratchets are employed as binder tighteners on loads of baled hay, the binders shall be crossed at the approximate top center of the load to attach from left front to right rear and right front to left rear of vehicle bed.

c. When ratchets are not employed as binder tighteners on loads of baled hay, the binders shall extend longitudinally over the load and shall be tightened by drawing the binders together at the approximate top load center using pulleys, double blocks, fence stretcher, or equally effective mechanical means.

d. Loads of baled hay consisting of two (2) rope bales shall be secured to the vehicle by not less than four (4) cross binders in addition to the longitudinal binders otherwise prescribed unless the load is retained on four (4) sides by racks.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 4, 1951

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California

In my message to the Legislature on January 8th, I discussed with you the need for an adequate program for civil defense and the recommendations of the Federal Government as to the cost of such a program. In the course of that discussion I reported to you as follows:

"Congress last week passed, and the President signed, a bill establishing the national policy for civil defense. This legislation authorized a $3,000,000,000 program, its cost to be borne by federal, state and local government. Congress has yet to appropriate the federal share and to determine the rules under which it will be administered in the states. It is estimated it will be necessary for the State of California and its subdivisions to contribute an aggregate of $140,000,000 to $150,000,000 to the program. The proportion in which this burden must be shared by the state and local governments will have to be determined by the Legislature."

The situation as I represented it at that time has not changed materially, either so far as need for our state program is concerned or from the standpoint of the development of a federal program. However, on March 27, 1951, General George Marshall, Secretary of National Defense, was quoted as follows in the press:

"The world situation now as I see it is more serious than it was last November."

This means that the time left to us for preparation is diminishing day by day whether the deadline against which we are working is a third world war or a mobilization of the free countries of the world, sufficient in strength to avoid such a war.

During these interim months, the federal policy on civil defense has not been further clarified nor has the announced program been advanced to keep pace with the National Defense Program and the military situation.

No federal legislation on civil defense has been enacted since last December and no appropriation for the purpose has been made. As a result, the Federal Civil Defense Administration has given little guidance except to recommend the appropriation of state matching funds based on its proposed budget which is awaiting congressional action.

This, however, does not affect our responsibility to prepare for the civil defense of our State to the very best of our ability, and I do not propose that it shall. It does, however, affect the accuracy of my reporting to you and precludes any breakdown of the amounts required for specific purposes. Notwithstanding, the Legislature is entitled to know at this time not only what progress we are making but also what funds are needed in the next fiscal year for the development of our program.

When I reported to you in January it was estimated under federal policy that California and its local governments would be required to contribute an aggregate of $140,000,000 to $150,000,000. It was understood the major portion of the amount was to be expended for bomb shelters recommended by the Federal Government.

After attending the Governor's Conference with the Federal Director of Civil Defense, and further studying the matter, I believe I should say to you now that no money should be appropriated for bomb shelters at this time.

It is obvious that the Federal Government has no well-defined plans on the subject. No specifications or even types of communal shelters have been recommended for construction; no criteria have been established for the alteration of existing structures to fit them for use as bomb shelters and no federal appropriations have been made for either purpose.

The Federal Government is the only agency that can possibly have sufficient knowledge to determine what kind of mass shelters, if any, can be made effective, or that can appropriate the basic funds to make a mass shelter program a reality. Unless and until it does these things it would be folly for the State to initiate a shelter program.

There are certain things, however, that the State must do if we are to have an adequate civil defense program. We must have both state and regional command posts, a communications system connecting us with every city and county in the State, mobile support and rescue equipment. We know also that there are other things involving both organization and equipment that must be contributed by the local governments. I have given careful consideration to the matter of equitable distribution of the cost of civil defense expenditures between the State and local units of government, and submit the following for your consideration:

1. Where the purposes are clearly for state-wide usage, the fiscal responsibility should unquestionably be borne by the State. I consider the following items in this category:
   a. Fire-fighting equipment retained under state control for general reserve.
   b. Mobile support equipment, designed for general use under state control.
   c. State-wide communications down to cities and counties.
   d. Medical supplies. These are for first aid stations and for immediate supplies for the first four to six hours for emergency hospitals.
2. Where the expenses incurred are purely for local purposes, the local governments should defray the entire cost exclusive of such federal funds as may be provided on a matching basis. Major items in this category are:
   a. Local administrative costs, including civil defense personnel and installations such as intelligence centers.
   b. Individual uniforms and equipment for auxiliaries, reserves and other Civil Defense Corps volunteers.
   c. Local communications equipment including air raid warning equipment such as sirens.
   d. Rescue equipment other than in mobile support units.

What the cost of these items will be to the State is more or less a matter of conjecture, but the best estimates available are that it will be somewhere between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000. I therefore recommend that the Legislature appropriate a sum within the range of the estimates. In fixing the amount you will undoubtedly take into consideration the formula you have in mind for dividing the cost of civil defense between the state and local governments. At all events this should be a nonrecurring expenditure unless we are subjected to attack, because it is designed to provide the bulk of supplies and equipment required to meet the basic needs in organizational equipment and supplies for the State's share of the civil defense program so far as they can be foreseen at this time. Because for a matter of several weeks it will still be impossible to determine whether our surplus at the end of this fiscal year will be able to meet such an appropriation, I recommend that whatever amount the Legislature agrees upon shall be appropriated from the $75,000,000 Revenue Deficiency Reserve Fund, commonly known as the Rainy Day Fund. As you will remember, the Legislature in the Third Extraordinary Session held during September of last year made this fund available for expenditure in the event of extreme emergency as defined in Section 1505 of the Military and Veterans Code. Under the provisions of this act, transfers may be made to the Emergency Fund upon direction of the Governor, the State Controller and the Director of Finance and pursuant to the recommendations of the California State Disaster Council for expenditure in the relief and alleviation of conditions during a period of extreme emergency. By this action, the reserve became not only a savings account against a "rainy day" in state revenues but also a genuine emergency fund. I believe it is proper to draw upon this reserve to meet our present need for civil defense equipment such as that herein contemplated, because it is certainly in preparation for a "rainy day." However, I believe that the Rainy Day Fund is not too large for the established purpose and should be reimbursed from any excess General Fund revenue which may be received over and above the amounts estimated for the 1950-51 Fiscal Year as shown in the Governor's Budget for 1951-52.

During the present period of uncertainty regarding emergency needs and revenue receipts, the revenue deficiency reserve could be made a stabilizing feature in the management of state fiscal affairs. To this end I recommend that the Legislature give consideration to the transferring of any surplus General Fund revenues which may develop in future years in excess of the budget estimates to the Revenue Deficiency Reserve Fund. If this should be done, the reserve would become a reservoir to hold unneeded funds until adjustments could be made in the State's finance program or be drawn upon when revenue receipts fall below budget expectations.

I regret that I cannot be more specific in my recommendation for appropriations for civil defense. But the future of our international relations cannot be foreseen and we are largely dependent upon federal policy and programs. I have recommended what appears to me to be an adequate but conservative amount because I realize that the Legislature will be in session next March, and if necessary a deficiency appropriation can be made at that time. At all events if conditions change and further appropriations are needed, I will immediately report the matter to you and seek your cooperation.

I believe we must be serious about civil defense. Halfway measures will not suffice because a partial defense program is no program and our preparation of necessity is only partial at the present time. In order that you might know what has been done up to the present time, I submit the following brief report:

Summary of Civil Defense Operation

In conformity with the Civil Defense Act of 1950, the Office of Civil Defense was established October 2, 1950, and immediately undertook the civil defense program for California.

Although it has been in operation only six months, and has been handicapped by lack of guidance and assistance at federal level, it has laid a comprehensive and sound foundation for further progress. Its accomplishments have been material and have placed California among the leading states in the civil defense program.

Among those accomplishments are:

Organization of the Office of Civil Defense itself, with a comprehensive, diversified, and efficient staff.

Production of an over-all state plan, including 10 operational annexes for guidance of lower political governments.

Completion of organization and initiation of regional planning in five of the ten regional offices. The remaining five are in process of organization at this time.

Supplying of current guidance and assistance to state-wide civil defense agencies through some 23 bulletins and 11 newsletters.

Provision through original publication and reprint, for local use, civil defense guides, manuals, and instructional material, including reprint of 3,000,000 copies of the pamphlet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack," and printing and distribution of 500,000 registration forms for volunteer workers.

Organization of a state-wide educational program on civil defense through newspapers, periodicals, radio, and television. Every radio station in the State (150) is undertaking a weekly broadcast.

Furnishing of guidance and assistance to local governments in the organization of disaster councils, (58 counties and 256 cities now accredited) the setting up of planning staffs at all levels and the initiation of local operational plans. Plans are estimated 50 percent complete state-wide. Secured adoption by 53 counties and 255 incorporated cities of the Master Mutual Aid Agreement.

Organization, with the assistance of the Department of Education, of eight law enforcement training schools which have trained 214 instructors now engaged in training 10,000 auxiliary officers in 30 counties.

Training of 38 nurses in radiation fundamentals.

Organization of the first school for radiological monitoring.

Cooperation with the American Red Cross in training 56,025 graduate first aiders, including 4,133 instructors, plus 500,000 first aiders now being trained. California now has more than 8,000 instructors and 700 instructors to train instructors.

Enlistment of the State's 715 daily and weekly newspapers in printing more than 6,000,000 words on civil defense and its radio stations in broadcasting more than 700 hours.

Initiation of survey of facilities available for shelter purposes in all critical target areas.

Completion of survey on all fire and heavy engineering equipment state-wide Organization of aircraft warning service state-wide, with regular alerts held bi-weekly. Recruitment of observers and establishment of posts for Ground Observer Corps.

Initiation of the recruitment, organization and training of Civil Defense Warden Service. Estimated 60 percent complete.

This report is to April 1, 1951, and the work is progressing daily.

Finally, I believe I can fairly report to you that no State has accomplished more to date, and that most of them have accomplished less.

We will try at all times to keep among the leaders of the states, anticipating as best we can the program of the Federal Government and the needs of the people of California.

Respectfully yours,

EARL WARREN, Governor

"11750. The purpose of this article is to promote the public welfare by permitting concert of action between insurers in collecting and tabulating rating information and other data that may be helpful in the making of adequate minimum workmen's compensation insurance rates for all admitted insurers and in submitting them to the commissioner for issuance or approval; to authorize the existence and cooperation of qualified rating organizations to which all workmen's compensation insurers shall belong; to authorize cooperation between insurers, rating organizations and advisory organizations in rate making and other related matters to the end that Article 3 and the purposes of this chapter may be complied with and carried into effect.

11750.1. As used in this article, unless a different meaning is manifest, the term "insurer" means every insurer authorized to transact workmen's compensation insurance in this State, including the State Compensation Insurance Fund; rating organization means any rating organization which has as its primary object or purpose the collecting of rating information, the making of rates, rating plans and rating systems and presenting them to the commissioner for issuance or approval; insurance means workmen's compensation insurance; member means any insurer which joins or participates in a rating organization; and "wilful" or "wilfully" in relation to an act or omission which constitutes a violation of this article means with actual knowledge or belief that such act or omission constitutes such violation and with specific intent to commit such violation.

In this article advisory organization means every person, group or organization, other than an insurer, whether located within or without this State, which prepares policy forms or underwriting rules incidental to or in connection with workmen's compensation insurance rates, classification of rates of rating systems or which collects and furnishes to admitted insurers or rating organizations rating experience, loss or expense statistics or other statistical information and data relating to workmen's compensation insurance and acts in an advisory capacity as distinguished from a rate making capacity and does not present such rates, classifications and systems to the commissioner for approval. No duly authorized attorney at law acting in the usual course of his profession shall be deemed to be an advisory organization.

11750.2. The provisions of this article shall apply to all workmen's compensation insurance in this State, except reinsurance.

11750.3. A rating organization may be organized pursuant to this article and maintained in this State for the following purposes:

a. To provide reliable statistics and rating information in order to carry into effect Article 2.

b. To collect and tabulate information and statistics for the purpose of establishing minimum adequate premium rates.

c. To formulate rules and regulations for the administration of issued or approved rates and the administration of classifications and rating systems and to present same to the commissioner for approval.

d. To inspect risks for classification or rate making purposes and to furnish to the insurer and upon request of the employer and after notice to the insurer, to furnish to any employer full information concerning the computation of rates applicable to his insurance.

e. To make test audits of insured pay rolls and insurers' audits of such pay rolls to check the accuracy and reliability of such audits so that collection of premium at approved rates can be assured.

f. To exchange information and experience data with rating organizations, advisory organizations, and insurers in this and other states, in respect to rate making.

g. To become a member or subscriber of any lawfully authorized rate making or advisory organization whenever membership in such organization is necessary or helpful to the rating organization.

11750.4. Nothing in the preceding provisions of this article shall be construed as a limitation on the power of a rating organization to perform all acts necessary, incidental or convenient relating to the rating organization rate making or the administration of rates, rating plans or rating systems or statutes affecting them or relating thereto.

11751. On and after January 1, 1952, no rating organization shall conduct its operations in this State without first filing with the commissioner a written application for and securing a license to act as a rating organization. Any rating organization may make application for and obtain a license as a rating organization if it shall meet the requirements for license set forth in this article. Every such rating organization shall file with its application:

a. A copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement or association, and of its by-laws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business, all certified by the custodian of the originals thereof.

b. A list of its members who shall not number less than 10 insurers authorized to write and writing workmen's compensation insurance in this State and whose combined experience shall be determined by the commissioner to be reasonably adequate for rate-making purposes.

c. The name and address of a resident of this State upon whom notices of the commissioner or process affecting such rating bureau may be served.

d. A statement of its qualifications as a rating bureau. The fee for filing an application for license as a rating bureau is twenty-five dollars ($25) payable in advance to the commissioner.

11751.1. To obtain and retain a license, a rating organization shall provide satisfactory evidence to the commissioner that it will:

a. Permit any insurer to become a member at a reasonable cost and without discrimination, or to withdraw therefrom.

b. Neither have nor adopt any rule or exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to require any member as a condition to membership to adhere to rates, greater than the minimum adequate rates approved by the commissioner.

c. Neither adopt any rule nor exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders or members.

d. Neither practice nor sanction any plan or act of boycott, coercion or intimidation.

e. Neither enter into nor sanction any contract or act by which any person is restrained from lawfully engaging in the insurance business.

f. Notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution or articles of incorporation, agreement of association, or in its by-laws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business; its list of members; and the name and address of the resident of this State designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served.

g. Agree that the commissioner or his representative may attend all meetings of the organization or any of its committees.

h. Maintain reasonable records, of its experience and the experience of its members and of the data, statistics or information collected or used in connection with the rates, classifications, rating plans, rating systems, manual rules, and policy and endorsement forms used by it so that such records will be available at all reasonable times to enable the commissioner to determine whether the rating organization complies with the provisions of this article applicable to it. Such records shall be maintained in an office within this State. The commissioner may prescribe a uniform system for the keeping of such records which shall be reasonably adapted to the rating organization's method of operation and which shall be applicable to all rating organizations licensed under this article.

11751.2. The commissioner shall examine each application for license to act as a rating organization and the documents filed therewith and may make any further investigation of the applicant, its affairs and its proposed plan of business, as he deems desirable.

The commissioner shall issue the license applied for within 60 days of its filing with him if from such examination and investigation he is satisfied that:

a. The business reputation of the applicant and its officers is good.

b. The facilities of the applicant are adequate to enable it to furnish the services it proposes to furnish.

c. The applicant and its proposed plan of operation conform to the requirements of this chapter.

Otherwise, but only after hearing upon notice, the commissioner shall in writing deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision and his reasons therefor.

Licenses issued pursuant to this section shall remain in effect until suspended or revoked.

11751.3. Subject to the approval of the commissioner, a rating organization licensed under this article may adopt any reasonable constitution, articles of incorporation or agreement of association, and may make reasonable rules for the regulation of its members and the conduct of its business by by-laws or otherwise. In a rating organization of which the State Compensation Insurance Fund is a member, it shall be entitled without election to membership on the managing or governing committee and on the classification and rating committee thereof.

11751.4. From and after the taking effect of this act, it shall be the duty of every insurer to be a member of a rating organization. No insurer may at the same time belong to more than one rating organization licensed under this article.

The commissioner shall designate a rating organization licensed under this article as the official rating organization to collect and receive the experience collected and tabulated by any other rating organization licensed under this article or which that it may be able to combine such experience with its total state experience for the assistance of the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. The rating organization designated as the official rating organization may make a reasonable charge to other rating organizations for the expense incurred by it in combining and tabulating the experience of any other rating organization with the total state experience.

11752. The commissioner may, as often as reasonable and necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of each rating or advisory organization to ascertain whether such organizations comply with the legal requirements applicable to it under this article.

In lieu of any such examination the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the insurance supervisory official of another state or the report of a representative designated by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11752.1. The officers, members, agents and employees of any such organization may be examined at any time as to their affairs and business, and shall exhibit all books, records, accounts, documents or agreements governing its method of operation together with all data, statistics and information of every kind and character collected or compiled by such organization of the operations to which the examination relates.

11752.2. The reasonable cost of any examination authorized by this article of any rating or advisory organization shall be paid by the organization examined.

11753. No advisory organization shall conduct its operations in this State unless and until it has filed with the commissioner:

c. The name and address of a resident of this State upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process may be served.

Every such advisory organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement of association, and of its by-laws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this State designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organizations may be served. No such advisory organization shall engage in any unfair or unreasonable practice with respect to its activities.

11753.1. Any person may request any rating organization to reconsider its ruling or decision if aggrieved thereby. If the request for reconsideration is not acted upon within 30 days by the rating organization the person requesting reconsideration may treat the request as rejected. Within a reasonable time thereafter the requester may appeal from the ruling or decision of the rating organization to the commissioner by filing a written complaint and request for a hearing specifying the grounds relied upon. If the commissioner has information on the matter appealed from or if he believes that probable cause for the appeal does not exist or if he believes that the appeal is not made in good faith, he may deny the appeal without a hearing; otherwise, he shall hold a hearing to consider and determine the matter presented by the appeal.

11754. If the commissioner has good cause to believe that a rating or advisory organization does not comply with the requirements of this article applicable to it, he shall, unless he has good cause to believe that such noncompliance is wilful, give notice in writing to such organization, stating therein in what manner and to what extent such noncompliance is alleged to exist and specifying therein a reasonable time, not less than 10 days thereafter, in which such noncompliance may be corrected. Notices under this section shall be confidential as between the commissioner and the organization unless a hearing is held under Section 11754.1.

11754.1. If the commissioner has good cause to believe such noncompliance to be wilful, or if within the period prescribed by the commissioner in the notice required by Section 11754 the organization does not make such change as may be necessary to correct the noncompliance specified by the commissioner or establish to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such noncompliance does not exist, then the commissioner may hold a public hearing in connection therewith, provided that within a reasonable period of time, which shall not be less than 10 days before the date of such hearing, he shall mail written notice specifying the matters to be considered at such hearing to such organization. Such notice shall conform to the requirements for an accusation as prescribed by Section 11503 of the Government Code. If no notice has been given as provided in Section 11754 such notice shall state therein in what manner and to what extent noncompliance is alleged to exist. The hearing shall not include any additional subjects not specified in the notices required by Section 11754 or this section.

11754.2. If, after a hearing pursuant to Section 11754.1, the commissioner finds:

a. That any rating or advisory organization or other organization authorized by this article has violated the provisions of this article applicable to it, he may issue an order to such organization which has been the subject of the hearing, specifying in what respect such violation exists and stating when, within a reasonable period of time, the violation shall cease.

b. That the conditions under which a license was granted to a rating organization no longer exist, he may issue an order to such organization which has been the subject of the hearing specifying the condition which has ceased to exist and stating when within a reasonable time the condition shall be complied with. If the condition is not complied with within the time specified the commissioner may suspend or revoke the license of such organization, in addition to any other penalty provided in this article.

c. That any rating organization has wilfully engaged in any fraudulent practice or practices he may suspend or revoke in whole or in part the license of any organization under penalties provided for in this article.

d. In addition to other penalties provided in this code the commissioner may suspend or revoke the license of any rating organization which fails to comply within the time limited by any order or extension thereof which the commissioner may grant with an order of the commissioner lawfully made by him pursuant to Section 11754.1 and effective pursuant to this section.

11754.3. Except as otherwise provided in this article, all proceedings in connection with the denial, suspension or revocation of a license of a rating organization under this article shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code and the commissioner shall have all the powers granted to him therein.

11754.4. Any finding, determination, rule, ruling or order made by the commissioner under this article shall be subject to review by the courts of the State and proceedings on review shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. In such proceedings on review, the court is authorized and directed to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence and unless the weight of the evidence supports the findings, determination, rule, ruling or order of the commissioner, the same shall be annulled.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a petition for review of any such finding, determination, rule or order, may be filed at any time before the effective date thereof. No such finding, determination, rule, or order shall become effective before the expiration of 20 days after notice and a copy thereof is mailed or delivered to the person affected, and any finding, determination, rule, or order of the commissioner so submitted for review shall not become effective for a further period of 15 days after the petition for review is filed with the court. The court may stay the effect thereof for a longer period.

11755. No person, insurer, rating or advisory organization shall wilfully withhold information from, or knowingly give false or misleading information to, the commissioner or to any rating organization, which will affect the rates, rating systems or premiums for workmen's compensation insurance.

11756. (a) Any person, insurer, or organization, who fails to comply with a final order of the commissioner under this article shall be liable to the State in an amount not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) but if such failure be wilful, he or it shall be liable to the State in an amount not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) for such failure. The commissioner shall collect the amount so payable and may bring an action in the name of the people of the State of California to enforce collection. Such penalties may be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

(b) A wilful violation of the provisions of this article by any person is a misdemeanor.

11757. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers shall not be deemed a rating plan or system.

11758. No act done, action taken or agreement made pursuant to the authority conferred by this article shall constitute a violation of or grounds for prosecution or civil proceedings under any other law of this State heretofore or hereafter enacted which does not specifically refer to insurance.

11759. The administration and enforcement of this chapter shall be governed solely by the provisions of this chapter. Except as provided in this chapter, no other law relating to insurance and no other provisions in this code heretofore or hereafter enacted shall apply to or be construed as supplementing or modifying the provisions of this chapter unless such other law or other provision expressly so provides and specifically refers to the sections of this chapter which it intends to supplement or modify.

11760. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this article or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, shall for any reason be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of such sections and the application thereof to other persons or circumstances, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved.

SEC. 2. Section 1282 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1282. Code Provisions Governing Reciprocal or Interinsurance Exchanges. The provisions of the following sections, articles and chapters shall be applicable to reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges:

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding the Status of Hatcheries Under Unemployment Insurance Act, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 5, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Status of Hatcheries under Unemployment Insurance Act, No. 5817

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD:

You have asked us to outline the changes in the status of poultry hatcheries under the provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Act for the past five or six years.

At the outset it must be recognized that poultry hatcheries are nowhere mentioned in the statute. Section 7 of the act provides in part:

"The term 'employment' does not include:

(a) Agricultural labor."

This provision has remained unchanged in the statute since its original enactment in 1935. However, the term is not defined in the statute. Over the years the department has adopted various regulations defining the term.

Since 1945, these regulations have been published in the California Administrative Code. The current regulation (22 C.A.C. Sec. 43), reads as follows:

"43. Extent of Agricultural Labor Exemption. Agricultural labor exempted from 'employment' by the act includes all services performed:

(a) On a farm, in the employ of any person, in connection with cultivating the soil, or in connection with raising or harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodity; the raising, feeding, and management of livestock, poultry and bees; which includes among others, the spraying, pruning, fumigating, fertilizing, irrigating and heating which may be necessary and incident thereto.

(b) In the employ of the owner or tenant of a farm on which the materials in their raw or natural state were produced, in connection with the drying, processing, packing, packaging, transporting, and marketing of such materials.

(c) In the employ of the owner or tenant of a farm with respect to ordinary farming operations in connection with the operation, management, conservation, improvement, or maintenance of such farm and its tools and equipment, if substantially all of such services are performed on a farm.

(d) In the employ of a bona fide owner or tenant of a farm in connection with the operation of hay baling equipment if such equipment within the same calendar year is used either (1) exclusively on such farm or (2) both on such farm and on the farms of other owners or tenants of farms.

(e) The provisions of subsections (b) and (c) are not applicable with respect to the services referred to unless such services are carried on as an incident to ordinary farming operations as distinguished from manufacturing or commercial operations. Nor are the provisions of said subsections applicable to services performed in commercial canning or commercial freezing.

(f) As used herein, the term 'farm' includes, among others, stock, dairy, poultry, fruit and truck farms; plantations, ranches, ranges, nurseries, orchards and vineyards.

(g) Forestry and lumbering are not included within the exemption of agricultural labor."

Subdivision (d) of the rule quoted above was added by an amendment effective November 24, 1949. That amendment obviously has no relation to the question of poultry hatcheries. There have been no other changes in the regulation since its original publication in the code on April 1, 1945.

It may therefore be stated that, insofar as the status of poultry hatcheries is concerned, there has been no change in the statute or in the regulation purporting to define the pertinent exemption contained in Section 7 (a) of this statute.

However, over the years the department has construed the published construction of the statute which is embraced in its Regulation 43 quoted above. These changes by the department in its interpretation of its published interpretation of the statute become apparent from an examination of the Manual of Tax Liability maintained by the department for the guidance of its auditing staff. With respect to the status of poultry hatcheries the following changes have been made in the Manual:

I.

Manual Provision in Effect November 10, 1944

"While service performed in the raising, feeding, and management of poultry is exempt by Rule 7.1 as agricultural labor, where an employer operates a hatchery consisting of heaters, brooders, incubators, and other mechanical apparatus common to all commercial hatcheries and also sells the products at wholesale and retail, all labor performed in and around the hatchery is in connection with a commercial enterprise and is not exempt as agricultural labor."

It is to be observed that under this interpretation the only tests to be applied in determining whether services performed for a hatchery are exempt as "agricultural labor" are (a) does the hatchery consist of heaters, brooders, incubators, and other mechanical equipment common to a commercial hatchery, and (b) does the owner sell the products at wholesale and retail? If the answer to both questions is yes, the fact that the hatchery is located on a bona fide farm and the fact that all eggs hatched are produced on the farm is apparently irrelevant—the services would not be deemed "agricultural labor." Furthermore, it is not apparent whether the department considers subdivision (a) or subdivision (b) of its rule the pertinent provisions.

II.

Manual Provision Effective April 23, 1946

"While service in connection with the raising, feeding, and management of poultry is exempt agricultural labor, services in connection with the operation of a hatchery consisting of heaters, brooders, incubators, and other mechanical apparatus common to all commercial hatcheries, is exempt only with respect to the processing of the eggs produced on the farm; hatching eggs purchased from outside sources would be a commercial enterprise and is not exempt as agricultural labor."

Under this provision the test is (a) does the hatchery consist of heaters, brooders, incubators, and other mechanical equipment common to a commercial hatchery, and (b) were the eggs produced off the farm on which the hatchery is located? If the answer to both questions is yes, the services would not be deemed "agricultural labor." The previous test as to whether the products are sold at wholesale or retail apparently becomes irrelevant, since "hatching eggs purchased from outside sources would be a commercial enterprise." However, since under subdivision (d) the commercial character of the operation is irrelevant to services falling within the provisions of subdivision (a), it now becomes apparent that the department regards hatching eggs as something other than raising poultry or that it regards a hatchery as something other than a farm.

III.

Manual Provision in Effect June 22, 1948

"Service in the raising, feeding and management of poultry is exempt as agricultural labor. This includes all service performed on a farm in the employ of any person in connection with the raising, feeding and management of poultry. Tax Decision No. 333 holds that a hatchery, together with the land on which it is located and the appurtenance thereto, is a farm within the meaning of Regulation 43, and that the hatching of eggs is a fundamental part of the 'raising of poultry'. The fact that hatchery employees do not supervise the raising of poultry to maturity does not exclude the services they perform from the term 'raising of poultry'. The services performed in the operation of a hatchery are therefore agricultural labor."

This provision flatly declares that (a) a hatchery together with the land on which it is located and the appurtenances (presumably the equipment common to all commercial hatcheries mentioned in the previous versions) is a farm, and (b) the hatching of eggs constitutes "raising of poultry," and (c) services performed in the operation of a hatchery are agricultural labor.

In effect, this departmental interpretation holds that hatcheries fall within the provisions of subdivision (a) of Regulation 43 of the department, and that since a hatchery is a farm and since hatching eggs is the raising of poultry, the question as to whether or not the venture has "commercial" aspects is immaterial.

IV.

Manual Provision Effective October 5, 1950, and now in effect

"A poultry hatchery considered by itself is not a farm. In accordance with Tax Decision No. 838, if the principal purpose of an employing unit is to sell newly-hatched baby chicks, then the incubation and hatching of eggs by a mechanical process constitutes a processing of agricultural produce rather than the 'raising, feeding and management' of poultry. Services performed in connection with such hatchery operations are within the scope of paragraph (b) of Section 43, Title 22, California Administrative Code. Therefore, they are exempt agricultural labor only if they are performed in connection with the processing of eggs produced on a farm owned or tenanted by the hatchery operator. These services are in subject employment when performed in connection with the hatching of eggs produced on a farm owned or tenanted by one other than the operator of the hatchery.

"When the eggs processed are produced both on farms operated by the hatchery and on farms operated by others, services of an employee performed in such processing operations are either wholly taxable or wholly nontaxable for each pay period depending upon whether more than 50% of the services in the pay period are exempt. Adequate records must be maintained to show this segregation of services in accordance with Section 7.1 of the Act and Section 42 of Title 22, California Administrative Code. (See paragraphs 6005.00 to 6005.05 inclusive.)

"Notwithstanding the fact that regular hatchery operations are held to be a processing of agricultural produce, certain services performed for the employing unit may be in connection with the raising, feeding and management of poultry within the meaning of paragraph (a) of Section 43, Title 22, California Administrative Code. Services performed on hatchery owned farms are in this category. Likewise, employees who perform services on a farm in the blood testing of breeding stock or in the supervision of the feeding and sanitation of poultry are in exempt agricultural employment even though such services are performed partially or wholly on farms owned or tenanted by other than the hatchery operator.

"When the operator of the hatchery also raises poultry and the principal purpose of hatching eggs is to produce baby chicks to be raised by him to maturity, then the hatching process is in connection with and incident to the raising of poultry. All services performed in such operations constitute agricultural labor as contemplated by paragraph (a) of Section 43, Title 22, California Administrative Code. Whether the eggs hatched under these circumstances are produced on hatchery-owned farms or are purchased from outside sources is immaterial. If, however, eggs are hatched both for the purpose of raising poultry and for the purpose of selling baby chicks, then the portion of the hatching operation connected with the sale of chicks would constitute a processing operation. If the eggs so used are purchased from outside sources, segregation rules must be applied."

This constitutes a complete reversal of the department's construction of its regulation construing the statute. Under this provision (a) a "hatchery" is no longer a "farm" and (b) the hatching of eggs loses its character as the "raising of poultry" and becomes "a processing of agricultural produce."

As a "processing" operation the hatching of eggs now is governed by subdivision (b) of the department's Regulation 43. The result is that unless the services are performed in the employ of the owner or tenant of a farm on which the eggs were produced they are not deemed to constitute "agricultural labor." Furthermore, the question as to whether the hatchery constitutes a "commercial operation" again becomes pertinent.

The above constitutes the history of the status of poultry hatcheries under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

We have secured a copy of Tax Decision No. 838 of the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board upon which the last change in the Manual provisions mentioned above was based. We enclose that copy for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Deputy

"20345.5. A student body organization may be established at any state college under the supervision of the college officials for the purpose of providing essential activities closely related to, but not normally included as a part of, the regular instructional program of the college. The activities conducted by such an organization shall be designed to contribute to the development of skill and facility in human relations, the development of leadership ability, and the recreational and social needs of students. The activities may include but shall not be limited to the operation of campus publications, musical organizations, speech and dramatics activities, student government activities, intramural and intercollegiate sports, and the sponsorship of clubs and organizations which are designed for students specializing in various major subject matter areas offered by the college. Such an organization may also operate a campus store, a cafeteria, and other projects not inconsistent with the purposes of the college.

Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary if a student body organization is established at any state college the State Director of Education shall fix a membership fee which shall be required of all regular students attending such college. The director may also fix student body organization membership fees for limited and summer session students attending such college. Such fees shall not be charged to students registering solely in extension classes offered by the college. Each state college student shall pay the required membership fee as a prerequisite to enrollment in the college. No student shall be required to pay student body membership fees in an aggregate amount exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) annually.

SEC. 2. Section 20345.6 is added to said code, to read:

20345.6. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, student body organization membership fees authorized under the provisions of Section 20345.5 hereof shall be collected by the officials of the college, together with all tuition and material and service fees, at the time of registration. Moneys collected on behalf of student body organizations shall be transmitted by the business manager to the student body treasurer and such moneys may be deposited by said treasurer in local bank accounts under the jurisdiction of the student body organization.

All moneys received by a state college from any agency of the State or Federal Government for the payment of student body organizations membership fees of students attending the college shall be in a like manner transmitted by the business manager to the treasurer of the student body organization and deposited in local bank accounts as provided above.

SEC. 3. Section 20345.7 is added to said code, to read:

20345.7. All moneys collected by a state college on behalf of a student body organization under the provisions of this article shall be available for such purposes of the student body organization as are approved by the State Director of Education. These funds may be drawn against by the appropriate officers of the student body organization for expenditures necessary to carry out the purpose of the organization.

SEC. 4. This act shall be in operation on September 1, 1951.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Unless student body organization fees are required by a college, the veteran student does not receive the amount of the fees in the education aid which the Federal Government extends to veterans. There are many veterans enrolled in state colleges who are financially unable to pay such fees unless the amount is included in the federal aid; if this act is adopted the Federal Government will pay the fees for such student veterans. Under the existing law, many state colleges will find it necessary to discontinue the student activities which are supported by student body organization fees and which are a necessary and integral part of an adequate program for college education. In order to enable the state colleges to continue the offering of student activities at the commencement of the fall term, it is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 5

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 3 to 10, inclusive.

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Education.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Judah asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding "Motor Vehicle Overloads" printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 8, 1951

Hon. Clarence C. Ward
Senate Chamber

Motor Vehicle Overloads—No. 6888

DEAR SENATOR WARD: You have asked the following questions with respect to the effect of Senate Bills No. 108 and No. 1051.

Questions

1. Is there any possible conflict between the bills?

2. Should subdivision (j) of Section 737 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Senate Bill No. 1051, make any reference to Section 718 of that code, as added by Senate Bill No. 108?

3. If Senate Bill No. 108 is enacted could a magistrate fix bail, in overloading cases, at an amount sufficient to cover the fine which might be assessed under Vehicle Code Section 718, as added by the bill?

Opinion

In our opinion the answers to your questions are:

1. There is no conflict between the bills.

2. We see no useful purpose that could be served by such a reference.

3. Under existing provisions of law bail could be fixed in an amount sufficient to cover the fine assessed under Vehicle Code Section 718, as added by Senate Bill No. 108.

Analysis

Senate Bill No. 1051 gives the arresting officer, in cases involving violation of Vehicle Code Sections 704, 705, and 715, the option of (1) taking a person arrested for violation of the vehicle-weight provisions of the code before a magistrate immediately or (2) giving such person five days notice to appear in court. Under existing law generally only the second course may be followed by the officer. In effect then, the bill if enacted would change existing law by allowing the arresting officer to immediately take persons arrested for weight violations before a magistrate.

Senate Bill No. 108 prescribes a mandatory fine of a specified amount per pound of overload to be imposed on every person convicted of a violation of the weight provisions of the Vehicle Code.

Senate Bill No. 108 does not change in any way the existing procedure to be followed by the officer who stops an overloaded vehicle, nor does it change the procedure which is to be followed by the officer or magistrate when a complaint is filed charging the owner of the truck, or the truckdriver's "boss," with compelling a truckdriver to drive the overloaded truck on the highways.

All that Senate Bill No. 108 does is to fix a mandatory fine schedule which magistrates are required to observe in imposing fines in overload cases, after a conviction.

We are therefore of the opinion that there is no conflict between the two bills, and that either bill could be passed or defeated without affecting the provisions of the other bill.

In response to your third question, Section 739 of the Vehicle Code now requires the magistrate to "fix the amount of bail which in his judgment, in accordance with Section 1275 of the Penal Code, will be reasonable and sufficient for the appearance of the defendant." Section 1275 of the Penal Code requires the magistrate, in fixing bail, to consider "the seriousness of the offense charged, the previous criminal record of the defendant, and the probability of his appearing at the trial or hearing of the case."

These provisions amply demonstrate that, under existing provisions of law, a magistrate could require bail, in overload cases in an amount equal to the fine which would be imposed if Senate Bill No. 108 were enacted.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Deputy

Two copies to Hon. H. R. Judah, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 259:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 2, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 259, "An act making an appropriation to reimburse the Emergency Fund, Item 277, Budget Act of 1950, and providing for the reimbursement of the State Highway Fund, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This appropriation from the Highway Fund is necessary to reimburse the Emergency Fund for a loan made from the Emergency Fund to cover the cost of studying the need for an additional toll bridge crossing for San Francisco Bay.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 259 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

TRACY PUMPING PLANT CELEBRATION

TRACY, April 4, 1951

To the Honorable Member of the California State Legislature

GREETINGS:

The dedication of the Tracy Pumping Plant in early August will herald a new era in California. Officially it will put in motion in its entirety the first phase of the vast Central Valley Project.

Our celebration to be staged in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation will be in keeping with the immensity and meaning of this history making enterprise.

Top officials of the Country whose genius brought this greatest engineering feat to a successful culmination will be with us. Also we look forward to a visit from President Truman and members of his cabinet.

It is a real pleasure for us to call this event to your attention and will look forward to having you with us to see water from the Shasta-Cascades lifted and sent on down to the semitropical Lower San Joaquin Valley.

Very sincerely yours,

TRACY PUMPING PLANT CVP CELEBRATION INC.
ROBERT MONAGAN, Executive Secretary

BRUCE HOTCHKISS, R. J. MARRACCINI, Co-chairmen
ART CRANER, General Manager
GEORGE H. JARRETT, Co-ordinator, U. S. Bureau of Reclamation

TRACY PUMPING PLANT
DEDICATION CELEBRATION
TRACY, AUGUST 3, 4, 5, 1951

The last half of the century will hold its first major festival to write history on August 3, 4, 5. It will be the Tracy Pumping Plant Celebration that will set in motion in its entirety the vast California Central Valley Project that took the first half of the century to visualize and build.

While the celebration proper will attract more than 100,000 people to Tracy which expects a personal visit from President Truman on August 4th, the significance of the occasion will be heard around the world. It will mark the completion of another mammoth water project that is destined through its application to make California the number one State in the Union.

While the statistical data on the Central Valley Project is astronomical, it remains for the Tracy Pumping Plant to be known as the "heartbeat of the project," raising 200 feet as it does, the water from the Shasta-Cascades over 300 miles away, and pumping its life stream of over 2,000,000 gallons a minute on down into the semi-tropical South San Joaquin Valley.

Visitors, who on August 3, 4, 5, attend the Tracy celebration, will not only participate in a program of merriment in keeping with the vastness of the C. V. P., but will see history in the making; the new West beginning to live.

COMMUNICATIONS

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., April 3, 1951

Please refer to this file No. 56190/22

DEAR MR. BEEK: Thank you for your letter of March 21, 1951 with which you enclosed for the information of this service copy of Senate Joint Resolution No. 16 of the California Legislature. The resolution urges that steps be taken to permit the admission of certain Basque sheepherders in accordance with Public Law 587 of the Eighty-first Congress, notwithstanding certain restrictive provisions of the subsequently enacted Internal Security Act of 1950.

As you are no doubt aware the President on March 28, 1951 signed Public Law No. 14 which is an outgrowth of Senator McCarran's bill S. 728 mentioned in the Senate Joint Resolution No. 16. There appears to be little doubt but that the enactment of Public Law No. 14 will serve to relieve, to a large extent at least, the problems mentioned in the enclosure to your letter.

Sincerely yours,

L. PAUL WINNING

Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 9, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Constitutionality and Effect of Senate Bill No. 23, as Amended in Senate March 23, 1951—No. 6801

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD:

Question

1. You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 23, as amended in Senate March 23, 1951.

2. You have also asked whether, if Senate Bill No. 23 is enacted, it will be necessary for the salary bills adopted pursuant to Senate Bill No. 23 to expressly state that the increased salary "shall be paid to incumbents," and that, in the event the validity of Senate Bill No. 23 is doubtful, the increases "shall be paid when legally competent."

While it appears to us that on its face the bill is constitutional, we cannot say positively whether the courts would uphold it in every case in which it is sought to suspend the prohibition against increases in the salary of local officers, contained in Section 5, Article XI of the State Constitution, because the armed forces of the United States are engaged in military operations against any foreign power when war has not been formally declared by Congress.

We believe that in each such case it would be necessary for the court to determine whether the conflict prevailing at the time the limitation is sought to be suspended constitutes "war" in the popular sense which the voters intended when they adopted the amendment to Section 5 of Article XI.

If Senate Bill No. 23 is adopted, it would nonetheless be necessary for each salary bill providing for an increase to state that the increase shall be paid to incumbents. Since in our opinion it is possible that Senate Bill No. 23 may not be validly applicable to all situations it is intended to cover, it would also be advisable for each such salary bill to further provide the increases shall be paid to incumbents when it is legally competent to do so.

Senate Bill No. 23, as amended in Senate March 23, 1951, would define war to mean that period of time commencing when Congress declares war, or:

> "When the armed forces of the United States are engaged in active military operations against any foreign power whether or not war has been formally declared; and ending one year after the termination of hostilities therein as proclaimed by the President of the United States."

The bill would further provide for the suspension of the prohibition against increases in the compensation of incumbent local officers pursuant to Section 5 of Article XI of the State Constitution.

Section 5, Article XI of the State Constitution provides:

> "The compensation of any county, township or municipal officer shall not be increased after his election or during his term of office, nor shall the term of any such officer be extended beyond the period for which he was elected or appointed.
> "The Legislature by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house may suspend the provision hereof prohibiting the increase of compensation of any county, township or municipal officer after his election or during his term of office for any period during which the United States is engaged in war and for one year after the termination of hostilities therein as proclaimed by the President of the United States." (Emphasis added.)

The constitutional question is whether the Legislature, for the purposes of Section 5 of Article XI, may define the "period during which the United States is engaged in war" to include the period when the armed forces of the United States are engaged in active military operations against any foreign power whether or not war has been formally declared.

We are unaware of any California decisions holding that a state of war necessarily exists under such circumstances.

Whether war exists in a legal sense at any given time is a matter to be determined solely by the political department of the government (Burke v. Miltenberger (1873), 86 U. S. 519, 22 L. Ed. 158). The Federal Constitution vests in Congress the power to declare war, but the President may recognize the existence of a state of war and take necessary action. A state of war may exist without a formal declaration (Prize Cases (1862), 67 U. S. 635, 17 L. Ed. 459). It is, however, essential that some form of public act proceeding from a competent cause shall announce to the people their new relations and duties growing out of a state of war (Marks v. United States (1895), 161 U. S. 299, 40 L. Ed. 706).

The amendment to Section 5 of Article XI, providing for the suspension of the limitation, was adopted by the electors in November, 1944.

When a statute or constitutional provision has been adopted by vote of the electors, the courts have recognized the probability that the voters understand and intend such an expression in the popular rather than the technical sense. This rule has been applied in determining whether a war has terminated (Kaiser v. Hopkins (1936), 6 Cal. 2d 537 and Burger v. Employees Retirement System (1951), 101 A. C. A. 808).

In the Kaiser case it was held that a veteran who enlisted and served after the Armistice of November 11, 1918, was not entitled to the tax exemption for residents who had served in the armed forces of the United States "in time of war," provided for by Section 1½, Article XII. The court stated that, in the popular sense, the war was ended with the Armistice and referred to a statement to that effect made by the President to Congress.

We cannot say positively whether, under a particular factual situation, the courts would hold that the United States is engaged in war—in a popular sense—when there has been no formal declaration of war or any other formal acts or pronouncements from Congress or the President indicating that a state of war exists, even though the United States armed forces are engaged in active military operations against any foreign power.

As a general rule, a statute increasing the salary of a county, city, or township officer will not be presumed to apply to incumbents unless the Legislature expressly so declares. (Crockett v. Mathews (1910), 157 Cal. 153). Hence, if Senate Bill No. 23 is adopted, it would be advisable to insert in any law increasing the salary of such an officer a provision making the increase payable to incumbents.

Since in our opinion it is possible that Senate Bill No. 23 may not be validly applicable to all situations which it is intended to cover, there should also be inserted in any such law a provision making the increase payable to incumbents when it is legally competent to do so.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
